LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

A MYSTERIOUS CASE.—Achille St. Dizier, Coroner at Iberville, wrote to a gentleman of this city, informing him that he had been an inquest on the body of a young woman which had been found floating in the river a mile above Iberville. She was about five feet high, had on a purple calico dress, cotton undershirt, good shoes, red silk handkerchief around her neck, a handkerchief in her pocket contained six dollars and twenty-five cents.

POLICE CHANGES.—The Board of Police Commissioners, in its usual "inpartial" manner, has made the following changes:

Sergeant T. H. Wynne from the first precinct to the sixth; William Douglas from the fourth to the second; E. Chaumette from the seventh to the second; F. Bancke from the second to the fourth; J. Skerrett from the second to the seventh; Thomas Flanagan from the seventh to the first; P. Kennedy from the sixth to the seventh.

CLOSED FOR REPAIRS.—A shopshop on Gravier, between Baronne and Rampart streets, in consequence of many moral complaints, has closed its doors for religious repairs, by invitation of Superintendent Badger.

DIVORCED HIMSELF.—About two years ago Mr. Rosenthal, shoe dealer on Poydras street, through charitable motives, took into his employ a young man who used the name of S. Lichtenstein.

RECORDED CAMPBELL'S COURT.—The Sixth District is not prolific in items, but it occasionally happens that the recorder is called on to forward papers to the Criminal Court.

DOWNY, constable in the Third Justice Court, was examined on charges of obtaining money under false pretences and extortion in office, made by Mr. Marks.

A QUEER CASE.—About the fifteenth instant three responsible persons, in the store of J. L. Dunnican, No. 50 Thiboutaud street, made complaint to the police, that a man had a few days previous returned to the place, and while there had stolen a small sum of money from a pair of pantaloons hanging in a rear part of the building.

THE KIDNAPED INFANT.—At length Mr. Digby has obtained some slight information of his stolen child, although the news is, as yet, very indirect. It is possible that his darling will be given to him to-day.

CANADA BILL.—A very curious young man, who is known by the above odd name was locked up in the Third District for trying an indirect stranger to the tune of one thousand dollars.

A BRING DOG.—G. M. Zerris, No. 238 Poydras street, is owner of a dog that tried his teeth in the flesh of Daniel Costello, Daniel was incensed at both dog and owner, therefore caused their arrest.

NOR ARSON.—On the twentieth of March a disastrous fire occurred at the corner of Morales and Annette streets, and certain attending circumstances led to the belief that Joseph Schein, keeper of the grocery, was directly or indirectly implicated.

A RECREANT LOVER.—Early yesterday morning, black-eyed Mary Brown placed herself in Special Officer Sinclair's path, at the first precinct station, and hurriedly informed him that her intimate friend, Ernest Wilson, had robbed her of money and goods, while she was absent from their mutual home, on Hospital street.

RECORDED WEBER'S COURT.—James Freeman, a belligerent marine, who went cruising about the Fourth District in a "heavy gale," a considerable quantity of which he shipped, was overhauled by the cutter Reid, and the bold mariner would not "heave to," ordered, so as to allow an officer to board him.

THE METROPOLITAN.—The metropolitan was attempting to board his prize, and as he got into port, the juggler of benzine got into his upper and lower deck guns and fired several solid shot taking effect, and considerable damage between wind and water.

was finally captured and put in safe keeping. Ennas Meyers, charged with keeping a vicious dog which bit a child, was discharged, he having killed his dogship at the request of the prosecutor.

Felix Alexander, a little boy, charged with peddling without a license, was discharged as his stock in trade consisted of some half a dozen fairs, a necessary luxury in these sweltering times.

finally consented to return all that remained of the stolen money, two hundred and six dollars; the balance had been liquidated in St. Ann street and dug out the unspent money, which is now in Mary Brown's pocket. The couple had been dwelling together like doves, nor would the harmony have been disturbed had not the youth been weak in morals.

A FEMALE BURGLAR.—Marie Gabrielle Loblanc was yesterday before Recorder Stages accused of burglary. Last Thursday night the occupants of Mr. Tibbler's residence, corner Esplanade and Chartres streets, were made aware that a thief was on the premises, and one shot was fired. Instituting a search, Marie was found in the garden, her face blacked, quite nude, and afterward a portion of her dress was found in an upper room of the house.

A LIME FIRE.—The brig Theresa Butler, Captain Butler, just arrived with a cargo of lime from Thomaston, Maine, is, or was on fire in her hold. When this discovery was made the hatches were well battened with thick layers of mud, in order to prevent a flow of air. The Captain thinks he can starve the fire, if any remains, and he can stand the pressure for a week or two, now that he is safely in port.

PRESENTATION AT WATERMAN CONCLAVE No. 9, ORDER OF S. W. M.—There was a large meeting of Waterman Conclave No. 9, held last night at the Hall of Shakespeare Conclave on Poydras street, for the purpose of electing officers for the ensuing term. Previous to the election Frederick B. Earle, Esq., arose and stated that he had been selected by the Conclave to perform a pleasant duty, and that he was proud of the honor, and after complimenting in the most appropriate terms Judge Atcha, who had faithfully discharged his duties as chief of this conclave during the past year, presented him, on behalf of the members, a beautiful silver service comprised of a large salver, with pitcher and two goblets. Judge Atcha was taken by surprise, and returned his thanks for this token of esteem, in a most feeling manner.

The following officers were elected: A. A. Atcha, chief (re-elected); Frank J. Lewis, chancellor; A. Strasser, provost; M. Stump, treasurer (re-elected); William Endell, scribe; Julia P. Guerin, inspector; Ernest Wetzel, herald.

Deborah Conclave, which met the same evening, visited, in a body, Waterman Conclave, and was cordially received.

A man named James Beville, while quarrelling with his brother-in-law, Martin Gallagher, got cut in the neck with a knife about eleven o'clock last evening in a grocery store, at the corner of Foucher and Delord streets. The quarrel originated in a family dispute. Beville was taken to the Second Precinct Station, and Dr. Mackay, police surgeon, sent for to examine the wound. It is supposed by the officer of the station that the wound is dangerous, as he complains very much about his neck. Gallagher made his escape, but the officers are confident that they can secure his arrest if the doctor pronounces the man in danger.
