GERMAN UNITY-A WAR SONG. For this our invader we thank; He has showed us a new and a better way.

Dear France, dear sister of all; A right from thy forehead is beaming; We mark it, we fly to thy holy heart; Are Germans-are Germans forever.

We join in the waves of a flood; In more than a million have been given; One people, one God and one blood; For Germany now is a nation.

A whisper comes up from the south; We too, are your kindred, O brothers! The songs and the speech of your mouth; We learned from the lips of our mothers.

O dream of the young and the old; O labor of station and sage; O end by our poets foretold; O glory for ages and ages to come.

We smile at the thought of the foe; At his hosts in barbaric disorder; We swear that our khaki shall yet show; Our own from her soldiers to be better.

Before our great river we stand; A rampart of soldiers undaunted; Before peacefully, kindly, through the land; Nor mind what the Frenchman has vaunted!

I see, as the prophets have said; Our country a star in the nations; I see her wise, pitiful hand; Best forth to the far generations.

March onward, Germany's steel; O God's truth to thy hand have been given; On the ruins of thrones set thy heel; Thy brow in the sunlight of heaven.

CHORUS-March, march! and whoever may part; We swear that we never will sever; Lead, France, for we with one heart; Are Germans-are Germans forever!

HE GOVERNOR'S TRIP THROUGH NORTH LOUISIANA. [From the Monroe Intelligencer.]

From the press, from private letters, from gentlemen whom we meet, in fact from all sides, come the news of the great, good and happy effect which the mere fact of Governor Warmoth's trip through this section of our State has had.

The means used by the Democratic party to oppose Governor Warmoth's administration were of the very lowest; not only did his organs vilify his acts as Governor, but in many cases did they abuse him as a man.

When he took the fearless stand against Wickliffe, and succeeded in ousting him from office, his organs were so far from being won to the honest motives, when he approved the acts now known as the registration, militia and election laws, threats were openly made but now we find that owing to these very laws, we are having a quiet canvass in this State as there ever was known.

We might name other instances where the Governor has done his duty, but, as we said before, the Democratic press not only gave him credit, and Republican papers many of our people refused to read; hence, a prejudice existed against him of which, but few people have any idea.

When this Government was organized, it came through our section and speak to the people, the idea to go and hear him was at first tabooed. Afterward curiosity became excited, and every body wished to listen to what he had to say.

When we consider that all these things have been done in the short space of two years, in addition to the organization of our State government, we can but withhold our admiration from the man who held the reins of government, and carried us safely through.
