

OFFICIAL. TREATY AND CONVENTIONS

A STARTLING PROJECT.

England and Germany to Restore the French Empire—Napoleon IV. to be Proclaimed—The House of Hohenzollern and Bonaparte to be United.

MY DEAR M.—Of our present troubles and our prospective anxieties, I really say as yet no probable end.

Already the combinations forced upon the government by the Emperor for its own preservation, if not for its own sake, are such as to—what I say, as even six months ago we would have been suggesting to the Emperor for so much as suggesting.

Second—The postage to be charged and collected in the United States on each letter or parcel, not exceeding half an ounce.

Third—The postage to be charged and collected in the United States on newspapers, pamphlets, circulars, and other printed matter.

Fourth—The postage to be charged and collected in the United States on letters, cards, and other printed matter.

Fifth—The postage to be charged and collected in the United States on letters, cards, and other printed matter.

SIXTH—The postage to be charged and collected in the United States on letters, cards, and other printed matter.

Seventh—The postage to be charged and collected in the United States on letters, cards, and other printed matter.

POSTAL CONVENTION between the United States of America and the Republic of Salvador.

An exchange of mails shall hereafter take place between the United States of America and the Republic of Salvador by the ordinary routes of communication, via the Atlantic Ocean.

All mail matter transmitted in either direction between the respective countries shall be forwarded in closed bags, or in sealed and addressed envelopes.

No accounts shall be kept between the Postoffice Departments of the two countries on the correspondence exchanged between them; but each country shall levy, collect, and retain its own postage only.

First—The postage to be charged and collected in the United States on each letter or parcel, not exceeding half an ounce.

Second—The postage to be charged and collected in the United States on newspapers, pamphlets, circulars, and other printed matter.

Third—The postage to be charged and collected in the United States on letters, cards, and other printed matter.

Fourth—The postage to be charged and collected in the United States on letters, cards, and other printed matter.

Fifth—The postage to be charged and collected in the United States on letters, cards, and other printed matter.

SIXTH—The postage to be charged and collected in the United States on letters, cards, and other printed matter.

found on board the detained vessel, he shall be held liable for the same, and the vessel shall be liable for the same.

The jurisdiction to be exercised by the said mixed courts in pursuance of the provisions of the said treaty shall, after the exchange of the ratifications of the present additional convention, be exercised by the courts of the high contracting parties according to their respective modes of procedure in matters of maritime prize.

It is agreed that in the case of an American merchant vessel, or a vessel of a British colony, being detained as having been engaged in the African slave trade, or as having been fitted out for the purposes thereof, she shall be sent to New York or Key West, whichever shall be most accessible for adjudication, or shall be handed over to a United States cruiser, if one should be available in the neighborhood of the capture.

All negroes or others (necessary witnesses excepted) who may be on board of a vessel, or in the neighborhood of the capture, shall be sent to the nearest British authority.

It is mutually agreed that the instructions for the ships of the navies of both nations, destined to proceed to either of the said ports, shall be annexed to this convention, and shall form an integral part thereof.

It is mutually agreed that the instructions for the ships of the navies of both nations, destined to proceed to either of the said ports, shall be annexed to this convention, and shall form an integral part thereof.

It is mutually agreed that the instructions for the ships of the navies of both nations, destined to proceed to either of the said ports, shall be annexed to this convention, and shall form an integral part thereof.

It is mutually agreed that the instructions for the ships of the navies of both nations, destined to proceed to either of the said ports, shall be annexed to this convention, and shall form an integral part thereof.

It is mutually agreed that the instructions for the ships of the navies of both nations, destined to proceed to either of the said ports, shall be annexed to this convention, and shall form an integral part thereof.

It is mutually agreed that the instructions for the ships of the navies of both nations, destined to proceed to either of the said ports, shall be annexed to this convention, and shall form an integral part thereof.

together with a registration fee of five cents on each letter, be pre-paid at such mailing office as the postmaster shall designate.

All such letters mailed in the United States or Vancouver's Island or British Columbia, respectively, shall be received, registered, and recognized for as directed in the general regulations issued in each country in regard to the registration of valuable letters, and shall be sent to the respective exchange offices for the purpose of being forwarded there by the first mail.

The respective exchange offices shall make a separate list for each registered letter or parcel of registered letters originally mailed at said exchange offices, or sent to them, to be forwarded, as prescribed by the regulations referred to in the preceding article.

On the receipt of registered letters for delivery or distribution at either of the respective exchange offices, the postmaster of such receiving office will compare the letters with the bill, and indorse it "Correct" if found so; will note the error, if there be one, in the manner prescribed with regard to registered letters received from an inland postoffice.

Registered letters received at either of the exchange offices, and destined for an inland postoffice, shall be delivered to the same manner as other registered letters originally mailed at such office.

The registration fee of five cents shall accrue to the United States Postoffice Department in the United States, and to the British Columbia, and in like manner the registration fee of five cents shall accrue to the postoffice department of Vancouver's Island and British Columbia to the United States.

The two departments may, by mutual consent, make such detailed regulations as shall be found necessary to carry out the provisions of this convention, and to modify the same from time to time, as the exigencies of the service may require; such regulations to terminate at any time on a reasonable notice by either department.

This convention shall be in operation on the first of July, 1870, and it may be annulled at the desire of either department upon six months' previous notice.

This convention shall be in operation on the first of July, 1870, and it may be annulled at the desire of either department upon six months' previous notice.

This convention shall be in operation on the first of July, 1870, and it may be annulled at the desire of either department upon six months' previous notice.

together with a registration fee of five cents on each letter, be pre-paid at such mailing office as the postmaster shall designate.

All such letters mailed in the United States or Vancouver's Island or British Columbia, respectively, shall be received, registered, and recognized for as directed in the general regulations issued in each country in regard to the registration of valuable letters, and shall be sent to the respective exchange offices for the purpose of being forwarded there by the first mail.

The respective exchange offices shall make a separate list for each registered letter or parcel of registered letters originally mailed at said exchange offices, or sent to them, to be forwarded, as prescribed by the regulations referred to in the preceding article.

On the receipt of registered letters for delivery or distribution at either of the respective exchange offices, the postmaster of such receiving office will compare the letters with the bill, and indorse it "Correct" if found so; will note the error, if there be one, in the manner prescribed with regard to registered letters received from an inland postoffice.

Registered letters received at either of the exchange offices, and destined for an inland postoffice, shall be delivered to the same manner as other registered letters originally mailed at such office.

The registration fee of five cents shall accrue to the United States Postoffice Department in the United States, and to the British Columbia, and in like manner the registration fee of five cents shall accrue to the postoffice department of Vancouver's Island and British Columbia to the United States.

The two departments may, by mutual consent, make such detailed regulations as shall be found necessary to carry out the provisions of this convention, and to modify the same from time to time, as the exigencies of the service may require; such regulations to terminate at any time on a reasonable notice by either department.

This convention shall be in operation on the first of July, 1870, and it may be annulled at the desire of either department upon six months' previous notice.

This convention shall be in operation on the first of July, 1870, and it may be annulled at the desire of either department upon six months' previous notice.

This convention shall be in operation on the first of July, 1870, and it may be annulled at the desire of either department upon six months' previous notice.

together with a registration fee of five cents on each letter, be pre-paid at such mailing office as the postmaster shall designate.

All such letters mailed in the United States or Vancouver's Island or British Columbia, respectively, shall be received, registered, and recognized for as directed in the general regulations issued in each country in regard to the registration of valuable letters, and shall be sent to the respective exchange offices for the purpose of being forwarded there by the first mail.

The respective exchange offices shall make a separate list for each registered letter or parcel of registered letters originally mailed at said exchange offices, or sent to them, to be forwarded, as prescribed by the regulations referred to in the preceding article.

On the receipt of registered letters for delivery or distribution at either of the respective exchange offices, the postmaster of such receiving office will compare the letters with the bill, and indorse it "Correct" if found so; will note the error, if there be one, in the manner prescribed with regard to registered letters received from an inland postoffice.

Registered letters received at either of the exchange offices, and destined for an inland postoffice, shall be delivered to the same manner as other registered letters originally mailed at such office.

The registration fee of five cents shall accrue to the United States Postoffice Department in the United States, and to the British Columbia, and in like manner the registration fee of five cents shall accrue to the postoffice department of Vancouver's Island and British Columbia to the United States.

The two departments may, by mutual consent, make such detailed regulations as shall be found necessary to carry out the provisions of this convention, and to modify the same from time to time, as the exigencies of the service may require; such regulations to terminate at any time on a reasonable notice by either department.

This convention shall be in operation on the first of July, 1870, and it may be annulled at the desire of either department upon six months' previous notice.

This convention shall be in operation on the first of July, 1870, and it may be annulled at the desire of either department upon six months' previous notice.

This convention shall be in operation on the first of July, 1870, and it may be annulled at the desire of either department upon six months' previous notice.

together with a registration fee of five cents on each letter, be pre-paid at such mailing office as the postmaster shall designate.

All such letters mailed in the United States or Vancouver's Island or British Columbia, respectively, shall be received, registered, and recognized for as directed in the general regulations issued in each country in regard to the registration of valuable letters, and shall be sent to the respective exchange offices for the purpose of being forwarded there by the first mail.

The respective exchange offices shall make a separate list for each registered letter or parcel of registered letters originally mailed at said exchange offices, or sent to them, to be forwarded, as prescribed by the regulations referred to in the preceding article.

On the receipt of registered letters for delivery or distribution at either of the respective exchange offices, the postmaster of such receiving office will compare the letters with the bill, and indorse it "Correct" if found so; will note the error, if there be one, in the manner prescribed with regard to registered letters received from an inland postoffice.

Registered letters received at either of the exchange offices, and destined for an inland postoffice, shall be delivered to the same manner as other registered letters originally mailed at such office.

The registration fee of five cents shall accrue to the United States Postoffice Department in the United States, and to the British Columbia, and in like manner the registration fee of five cents shall accrue to the postoffice department of Vancouver's Island and British Columbia to the United States.

The two departments may, by mutual consent, make such detailed regulations as shall be found necessary to carry out the provisions of this convention, and to modify the same from time to time, as the exigencies of the service may require; such regulations to terminate at any time on a reasonable notice by either department.

This convention shall be in operation on the first of July, 1870, and it may be annulled at the desire of either department upon six months' previous notice.

This convention shall be in operation on the first of July, 1870, and it may be annulled at the desire of either department upon six months' previous notice.

This convention shall be in operation on the first of July, 1870, and it may be annulled at the desire of either department upon six months' previous notice.

Cordials and liquors of every variety, at W. H. Henning's, 75 Camp Street.

Everything contained in the treaty concluded at Washington, on the seventh of April, 1862, between the United States of America and Her Majesty the Queen of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Edward Thornton, Esquire, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States of America, who, after having communicated to each other their respective full powers, found in good and due form, have agreed upon and concluded the following articles:

Whenever a ship of either of the two navies, duly authorized as aforesaid, shall meet a merchant vessel liable to be searched under the provisions of the treaty of the seventh of April, 1862, and the additional convention, which shall exhibit the state in which he found the detained vessel; such declaration shall be signed by himself, and shall be given or sent in with the detained vessel, and produced as evidence in the proper court.

He shall deliver to the master of the detained vessel a signed and certified list of the names of the persons on board, as well as a certificate of the number of negroes or other persons detained for slavery, who may have been found on board at the moment of detention.

In the case of a British vessel searched and detained as aforesaid by a United States or other vessel, which shall be handed over to a British cruiser, if one should be available in the neighborhood of the capture.

Whenever a ship of either of the two navies, duly authorized as aforesaid, shall meet a merchant vessel liable to be searched under the provisions of the treaty of the seventh of April, 1862, and the additional convention, which shall exhibit the state in which he found the detained vessel; such declaration shall be signed by himself, and shall be given or sent in with the detained vessel, and produced as evidence in the proper court.

He shall deliver to the master of the detained vessel a signed and certified list of the names of the persons on board, as well as a certificate of the number of negroes or other persons detained for slavery, who may have been found on board at the moment of detention.