

New Orleans Republican. OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE UNITED STATES OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF NEW ORLEANS. NEW ORLEANS, JANUARY 19, 1871.

THE NEW ORLEANS REPUBLICAN LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ANY PAPER IN THE SOUTH. THE DAILY REPUBLICAN May be had of the following dealers: George Ellis, opposite the Postoffice.

Edwards' New Orleans City Directory for 1871 can be obtained at all the principal stationers.

A Maine paper asserts that "National Stetson, of Durham, recently lost a valuable cow by having swallowed a diamond needle."

Kansas has but $200,000 of outstanding debt, which will be paid during the month, and have a considerable balance in the treasury.

We have received complimentary tickets for Oregon Wilson's great painting, now on exhibition at Wagner & Meyers' looking glass depot, No. 161 Canal street, opposite Christ Church.

Mr. George E. Payne may be found at the banking-house of Messrs. Pike, Brother & Co., every day from twelve to two o'clock P. M., where they may be consulted in reference to Chinese labor.

The thermometer yesterday morning at seven o'clock was 38° at New Orleans, 34° at Augusta, 41° at Charleston, 29° at Cincinnati, 63° at Key West, 31° at Mobile, 31° at Nashville and 38° at Savannah.

The firm of Boyd, Wilmot, & Co., iron dealers, is dissolved by mutual consent. Messrs. W. G. Wilmot, Thomas Fawcett and James T. Fawcett will continue the business under the firm of W. G. Wilmot & Co.

Messrs. Henry Claws & Co., bankers of New York city, have favored us with a copy of their financial circular letter of the 15th instant, containing their remarks on monetary matters and the public debt.

A member of Congress has commenced a libel suit for fifty thousand dollars, and expects to win it. His chances for winning fifty thousand dollars would have been much better in the Louisiana State Lottery.

We are indebted to H. L. Stern, president, and Samuel J. Hart, secretary, for complimentary tickets to the first grand ball of the Harmony Social Club, to be given at Old Fellows' Hall on Wednesday night, January 25.

A large lot of unclaimed property, consisting of revolvers, colts, watches, stoves, shot-guns, etc., will be peremptorily sold by the Mayor of the Metropolitan Police Board, on Saturday next, at R. M. & E. J. Montgomery's auctioneers.

United States Senator Kellogg sends us a copy of the report of Mr. Carpenter from the Committee on Judiciary, who were instructed to inquire into and report the effect of the fourteenth amendment upon the Indian tribes of the country.

A Milwaukee dispatch of the 18th inst. states that the heaviest snow storm within the recollection of the oldest inhabitant has raged for the last twenty-four hours. Small houses are completely covered up. Drifts ten feet high may be seen in many parts of the city.

This is the last week of the Lydia Thompson troupe at the St. Charles Theatre this season; and the last day of this week the single number drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery takes place, when a very large number of very valuable prizes will be drawn.

The next single number drawing of the Louisiana State Lottery takes place on Saturday next, when four hundred and forty prizes will be distributed among four hundred and forty very happy individuals who have been wise enough to purchase tickets.

A grand fancy dress, masquerade and ball will be given by Perseverance Fire Company No. 13, for the benefit of their relief fund, on Saturday evening next, at Old Fellows' Hall. We have received complimentary invitation tickets, for which we thank the managers.

A fireman's ball for the benefit of Pioneer Hook and Ladder Fire Company, No. 1, will be given at Masonic Hall, Brookhaven, Mississippi, on the twenty-seventh instant. The committee of arrangements have complimented the editorial staff of the Republican with an invitation to join the revelers on that occasion.

We learn from the St. Louis Democrat that the damage done by the heavy hail storm of Friday is much more serious than was first supposed. The hail was almost as heavy as wet sand, and collecting in large quantities on the roofs of houses, it caused many of the weaker ones to break under the weight.

The collection of the State tax collector for the first district of this city will be given on the first of February, for the collection of taxes for 1870, and licenses for 1871. All parties falling to settle within twenty days after that time, will be proceeded against as the law directs. See notice of George A. Sheridan, tax collector.

The planters of the coast parishes have formed a company, and have raised by subscription, seven thousand dollars, to charter a steamer to carry their freight at low rates, in opposition to the regular boats that charge about ten per cent of what the goods cost, and sometimes as high as twenty-five per cent. They have already secured the fine steamboat Hannock City, which runs up to the View Beach three times a week. Sundays, Tuesdays and Fridays. She is taking freight about half the regular rates. Captain William Taylor commands her, while Mr. H. N. Smith is her clerk. Captain Alexander LeMont supervises the whole, and makes all as comfortable as possible who take a trip on her.

UNITED STATES SENATORS. Massachusetts has re-elected Hon. Henry Wilson (Republican), to the United States Senate; Minnesota has re-elected Hon. Henry Winnow (Republican); Maine has re-elected Hon. Lott M. Morrill (Republican); Delaware has re-elected Hon. Willard Saulsbury (Democrat); Missouri has elected Hon. Frank Blair (Democrat) to succeed Hon. Charles E. Drake, (Republican); New Jersey has elected Hon. Frederick T. Frelinghuysen (Republican), to succeed Hon. Alexander G. Cattell (Republican); Illinois has elected General John A. Logan (Republican), to succeed Richard Yates (Republican); and Louisiana has elected General J. R. West (Republican), to succeed Hon. J. S. Harris (Republican). The Republicans lose one in this count from Missouri, which we can not excessively deplore, since the election of Frank Blair at once affirms the revolutionary character of the Missouri Democracy, and the defeat of Mr. Henderson is only the loss of a very weak man, whose vote on the impeachment question may have paved the way to his present disaster. And referring to the subject of the impeachment vote, it is a matter of reflection that all the Republicans who refused to displace Andrew Johnson have either disappeared from public life, or are steadily moving toward ultimate retirement. Henderson is now shelved; Fowler no longer exercises the political word; Fessenden died before he was defeated; Ross, of Kansas, is on his last legs, supporting himself and his hopes at present on Democratic gratitude, which is of no quotable value in the political world; and Andy Johnson himself can testify; Peter G. Van Winkle faded entirely from earthly recollection, and James W. Grimes is now wandering in Europe, wrestling with a broken spirit.

Looking at the list as presented by the Senators returned to the next Congress, the Republican party has no particular reason to be otherwise than well pleased. If we have lost a member, the superior energy and ability of the gentlemen who have displaced the old members will more than compensate for this decrease of physical force. General Logan is worth half a dozen such men as Senator Yates, and General West is admitted to be possessed of better elements as a Senator than our present representative. Frank Blair will find his hands full when he meets the new Senators from Illinois and Louisiana. In the return of Mr. Frelinghuysen from New Jersey, the Republican party has exchanged a railroad king for a lively and aggressive statesman. The leaves of our new men will be beneficial, because it will put Congress more in harmony with the people, and the sentiment of liberality will be encouraged by seeing that it is strengthened by recruits from the great source of political power. We shall look to see General Blair do the opposition more learn than good, which is Governor Seymour's experience in that quarter.

THE APPOINTMENT BILL. Until an act providing for a new apportionment, based upon the census of 1870, is passed by the Legislature, no law on any other subject can be enacted. A large amount of important and necessary legislation is therefore delayed in consequence of the constitutional prohibition. A bill has, however, been drafted and introduced into both houses by a joint committee, and published in the official register of the House. There is some objection to the proposed arrangement of the senatorial districts which may require to be removed before the bill can be passed. A yet no one in either house has publicly proclaimed his reasons for disapproving the report of the joint committee, but now that the subject is squarely before the General Assembly, it is expected work will begin. Both Senate and House adjourned yesterday in respect for the memory of Dr. Harrison Jordan, a member of the latter.

In the meantime, the several committees are engaged in preparing and perfecting work to be presented as soon as the apportionment bill is out of the way. The number of Senators provided for in the new bill is the same as at present, thirty-six; but the number of Representatives has been increased to one hundred and fifteen, or thirteen more than there are in the present House. So far as we can learn, the chief cause of opposition to the bill arises from changes in the Senatorial districts. Some of the parishes now included in certain districts are deemed especially desirable, both by the present Senators, and also for the purpose of giving the proper strength to contiguous parishes now included in districts with less favorable constitutions. The parish of Orleans will remain pretty nearly the same as now constituted. The only change will be to give the Tenth Ward a Senator, and join the Eleventh Ward and the late City of Jefferson (created by the bill into the Tenth Representative District, in a Senatorial District, and give it one Senator. Messrs. and Messrs. form a district. The more desirable changes made in the country parishes. It is probable that the main features of the bill will be retained, and that the law will be substantially as framed by the report of the committee. At all events, the members all appear to be anxious to dispose of the matter as soon as may be compatible with the desire to have a satisfactory apportionment. So that we may look for the Legislature to enter upon the current business of the session by the beginning of next week.

REMNORATION OF HON. JOHN L. LEWIS. We are pleased to learn that the Governor has recommended Colonel John L. Lewis, of Minden, as District Judge. The appointment is an excellent one, and will no doubt be sustained by every Republican Senator who desires the prosperity of the State.

That some of the Democratic Senators will oppose his confirmation is not unreasonable, because in his advocacy of the union of States and of the principles of the Republican party during the latter political controversies of the past few years, he has of necessity antagonized the leaders of the old Democratic party. The course pursued by Governor War-moth, in this selection of persons for the important offices in his appointment, has been most judicious and praiseworthy. He has endeavored to place no one in position whose record, as an upright citizen and advocate of equal justice, has not been clear and unimpeached; and while in most instances his selections have proved themselves worthy, there have been a few appointments in the city and State of persons not possessed of the requisite qualifications.

It is to be hoped that these defects will be remedied as soon as opportunity offers. Men in office who are unworthy and incapable will, we doubt not, be removed and assigned to that oblivion from which their own resources will never bring them forth again upon the stage of action. Accidentally, too, as might be expected by such a multitude of offices to be filled, some persons have been commissioned who were and are ineligible. This, too, we trust, will be speedily remedied. No one has the right to hold office for an hour, in plain violation of the fundamental law; but upon these matters we will speak more at length.

We congratulate Judge Lewis and the Republicans of his district that the struggle began by them in the spring of 1868 is at length brought to a successful termination. We believe that no better or more satisfactory appointment could possibly be made. Judge Lewis is fortunately one of those men who is able and willing to do honor to the high office and trust to which he has been called.

GENERAL THOMAS IN VIRGINIA. The telegraph assures us that the Virginia Senate very distinctly refused to purchase a picture of General Thomas for public display in the State Capitol, but by a strictly party vote decided to buy a picture of General Lee, with which to inspire the enthusiasm of its members. This may possibly be considered as another victory for the Leno of Chocomauga and Brownsville, since some eulogium of the Capitol building might have explained the picture to future generations as being that of an officer second to Lee, when history will mark him as the peer, if not the superior, of the present Virginia favorite.

Mr. Beecher's salary is regulated by statute, five per cent on the sale of any or every splendid percentage. Mr. Beecher differs in opinion from a former professor of Christianity, who did not believe in paying a preacher on earth. - New York Times.

ON CARONDELET STREET. The last few days have witnessed a resurrection of something like animation in Carondelet street. Quite a number of stocks have been brought forward for consideration of the street, and have been subjected to the operations of the bulls and the bears. Foremost on the list, as usual, is Slaughterhouse. The "bull" movement of a few days ago seems to have been a complete success, as the price has remained up to yesterday, almost at the extreme limit to which it had been advanced. This steadiness is probably owing to the struggle of opposing parties for the direction of the company. It is known that a rivalry for the control of the board exists among the stockholders, and the street has, for sometime prepared to see a brisk competition for the purchase of stock, in view of the approaching election. Some sanguine holders anticipated that this contest would cause an advance to at least 30; but these gentlemen have been disappointed in their calculations. It is whispered in some circles that the differences in the company have been accommodated, while others pretend to believe that one of the parties has been quietly unloading on the other. Yesterday morning 1000 shares were sold at 25. Later in the day the stock advanced, and a few shares were sold at 24, and this may now be considered the current rate.

Within the last few days the street has been rife with rumors about Lottery stock. The attempt to put it down, and conspicuously failed, but the bears again became jubilant when they got hold of a report that somebody had commenced a big suit somewhere, claiming the whole company, fixtures, appurtenances, books, franchises, privileges and stock. This report was circulated with great assiduity by parties who fully expected that the frightened shareholders would rush into the street and offer their stock for nothing, or a trifle under. But the parties interested concluded to make inquiries before falling into the snare, and the result of the inquiries was that the whole business, as far as the stock is concerned, does not amount to anything. Consequently nobody offered to sell, and yesterday the stock was stronger than the day before. There were offers to buy at 45, but no responses were made to this liberal proposal.

The break in Sanitary and Perishing stock is now too well established to be disputed. A few days ago this stock sold at 30, and even we believe as high as 40. Yesterday it was sold at 25. In the board five shares were sold at that figure, and fifteen at 25.

Leave scrip has had a good many fluctuations within the last few days, and it seems now to have no settled price. Should the bill pass some persons who have purchased at the low prices now current, will make a large sum of money, and this expectation is enough to make many speculative persons invest in the stock.

The following were the offers and bids at the board last night:

Table with 2 columns: Item and Price. Includes items like Louisiana Cotton Press, Louisiana State Bank, and various other stocks and bonds.

TO THE PUBLIC. THE NEW ORLEANS SANITARY AND FERTILIZING COMPANY. OFFICE: 128 DUVALINE STREET, NEW ORLEANS, LA.

For nearly two years the company has been quietly pursuing its business, and has steadily increased its property, large proportions, and has accumulated a large amount of its investments on the old system.

Containing in popularity each day, the new system established, here by the company, has been recommended by all those of our population who are interested in the health of the city.

The system adopted and recommended by this company is not new. The use of New York, Boston, and many other large cities, where the ground is high and dry, and rapidly increasing in population, has been the same.

The Board of Directors of the company has been recommended by all those of our population who are interested in the health of the city.
