NATIONAL THEATRE.

THE FLOWER QUEEN.

NEW ORLEANS, MAY 4, 1871. Messrs. A. B. Chase and Rev. C. W. Hilton: GENTLEMEN—We, the undersigned, desire to express to you our admiration of the great success of the Floral Opera of the FLOWER QUEEN, performed under your charge and direction on Monday and Tuesday evenings, by the members of Christ Church Sunday School. As the entertainment proved truly beautiful and interesting to every lover of good harmony, we are convinced that it had been more generally known, and its object—the benefit of Christ Church Parochial school—more deeply appreciated, the pecuniary success would have been greatly enhanced.

MISCELLANEOUS.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE WATERBURY, No. 61 Front street, having been closed for repairs, will open THIS DAY, May 12, with lunch, as usual, from nine o'clock A. M. until two o'clock P. M. M. H. WATERBURY.

GOVERNOR DUNN'S REPLY.

THE LAW MUST TAKE ITS COURSE.

We have already stated that an effort to avert the death penalty from Bayoune and Abriel, who are condemned to expiate their crime on the gallows, has been in progress for the past few days. The following petition, which was deposited in the gubernatorial office, and the subjoined reply of Lieutenant Governor Dunn, in the absence of Governor Warmoth, shows that the acting executive is firm in his determination not to interfere with the course of the law.

THE CONDEMNED MURDERERS.

PETITION FOR COMMUTATION.

GOVERNOR DUNN'S REPLY.

We believe that every thinking man, who sees the necessity of checking, by every legal means, the prevalence of murder, violence and the reckless disregard of law and human life among us, will approve the firm stand taken by Governor Dunn in refusing to interfere in a case which has none of the exceptional features such as would warrant the interposition of executive clemency.

THE CONDEMNED MURDERERS.

PETITION FOR COMMUTATION.

We do not propose to say anything to palliate their crimes; but the spectacle of hanging three men in one day is a horrible one. Believing that the law is equally effective for the prevention of crime, that hanging tends to harden and deprave the public feelings, and to destroy that sympathy with the wrongdoings of our fellow creatures which is the true basis of the effect of this kind of law, it is counteracted in some measure by its own design, by shaking men's abhorrence of the crime in their own minds, and by causing them to humbly pray that you will commute the sentence of these convicts to imprisonment for life, or reprieve them until the meeting and adjournment of the next General Assembly, that you may be authorized to change the death penalty.

THE CONDEMNED MURDERERS.

PETITION FOR COMMUTATION.

Academy of Music. "The Two Roses," a very pretty and well written comedy, was given last night by the Wyndham Comedy Company, and like all their other productions, distinguished by most of the good qualities that make comedy enjoyable. The piece was produced at the Varieties Theatre early in the season, after much elaborate preparation, and it was then intended for a run. Of course considerable expense was gone to by that management.

WARNING A SCHOOL TEACHER.

What is to Come Next?

We copy the following from the Columbus Press of the sixth instant, and withhold comment until we can learn further facts in connection therewith. We have long been cognizant of the fact that opposition existed of the most unrelenting character against the free school system, but we did not suppose it had become so bitter as to awaken in the bosom of those who opposed it, a bitter hatred and animosity toward the teachers in those schools.

What is to Come Next?

Mr. Phillips replied that he was "well," was the reply, "we are going to pay taxes to support you in teaching those d-d niggers, and we think you had better leave the country. If you haven't got the money," says the spokesman for the crowd, "I'll furnish you with the funds. We want men of good character and not carpet-baggers and thieves from the North."

WARNING A SCHOOL TEACHER.

What is to Come Next?

Mr. Phillips had been acquainted with Mr. Phillips for over a year and had never known of one single act of his during that time that would mark him as other than an honorable, upright, and conscientious citizen. He came from Memphis, where he was formerly superintendent of a white Sabbath school, and was engaged in the manufacturing business in connection with Mr. John M. White, of that city, who is a deacon in the Cumberland church, a man of probity, and well known as one of the leading citizens of the city of Memphis, who, in fact, knowing that his conduct from a long and intimate acquaintance with him) would always be above reproach or invasions criticism.
