THE METAIRIE RACES.

Opening Day. A large attendance greeted the opening day at the Metairie Race Course yesterday. The skies threatened but kept no promises of rain, and the guests that in the small hours of the afternoon, began to look small, changed as the time wore on, swelling to immense proportions. Canal street showed a stream of carriages pouring out toward the course, all the cars being filled, and every vehicle containing its full complement.

No special feature which would attract the eye of the stranger beyond what belongs to all races was evident. There were the same crowds, which became more and more interested as the time for the commencement approached, the usual number of handsome vehicles with ladies, the grand stand filled with an expectant throng. The opening day is not the one in which all the best points of the races are evident.

The first race for four-year-olds developed little sensation. The start was fair, and it was noticed that Salina led off having the advantage of the inside track, and this nag, with Nellie Ransom, got away in front rank, the others in close order. Just on the curve, and before reaching the leader, Nellie got alongside the leader, and ran past the half mile in that fix, these two seeming bent on taking the lead, though the speed was not fast enough for a test. Wilkes, Stockwood and Hollywood ran in even order along the stretch, and so passed the half mile. Sancebox and Creole Dance were thrown to the rear, which position they held to the end of the race. The mile was made in 1:34.

On the second trip Salina, was seen leading still, and it was even noted her rider was using some force to restrain her; Nellie Ransom and Wilkes still side by side. Hollywood found, though in a good place, the line being strung out to a considerable extent. On the turn Ransom got away from Wilkes, and passed the quarter pole leading a length. Here Salina began to leave them, and soon it became a matter of fact the race was her own, she coming in at the finish an easy winner in 3:32, coming in according to the following string: Salina, Ransom, Wilkes, Hollywood, Sancebox, Creole Dance and Stockwood.

Mayor Fianders, who is slightly ill, was not at the City Hall yesterday. Administrator Bonzano was still detained at home by a severe attack of rheumatism.

Dr. White, the president of the Board of Health, is endeavoring to enforce the sanitary ordinances requiring land-owners in the rear of the city to fill up their lots. Dr. White reiterates his inquiry, addressed to the Mayor, relative to the manner in which owners of lots are to obtain the earth dug out of the Galvee draining canal.

The thermometer at Louis Gerardo's, No. 53 Charter street, yesterday stood as follows: At 8 A. M., 71; at 10 P. M., 71; at 6 P. M., 70. Lowest point during the night of March 29, 57.

The Academy star has had it all its own way during the past week. "The Boy Detective" in the hands of Percy Roselle, having proved a genuine success. To-night the piece will be withdrawn in order to give place to an original drama, in four acts, having the old title of "The Comedy of Errors." The new play, "What? That's the question—one which the audience evidently meant to be settled by the audience. It is quite suggestive enough as it is. We look with interest for its first production. The young star plays Hyacinth. As the character is not proven, we suppose it has other elements of strength. But perhaps the most notable announcement for the week is that this young master of art will perform his celebrated character of Prince Arthur, in Shakespeare's King John, which, we are told by competent authority, was a marvelous success at Drury Lane, London, on the occasion of its lengthened run at that house. When it is remembered that James Anderson, Phelps and Barry Sullivan were in the cast, it will seem incredible that Percy Roselle, or any other youth, could carry off the honors.

As the Lenten season is now quite over, and the festivities of Easter in the ascendant, there will doubtless be a general theatrical reaction. The popularity of the Academy, and the success of the past week—considered the worst of the whole year—give promise of a succession of crowded houses. This is Percy Roselle's last week.

By reference to the advertisement in another column it will be observed that there will be a change of schedule on this road to-morrow. Express and mail trains will leave for Mobile at 5:30 P. M. daily, and arrive at Mobile at 11:30 A. M. daily, stopping only at Rigoletto, Bay St. Louis, Pass Christian, Mississippi City, Biloxi, Ocean Springs, East Passacouanna and St. Elmo, and arrive at Mobile at 11 P. M. The coast accommodation train will leave daily for Ocean Springs and intermediate stations at 1 P. M., and arrive at Ocean Springs at 8 P. M. Donalsonville trains are unchanged. See advertisement for freight arrangements.

Miss John Wood is to be succeeded at Nibbs's Garden by the new society drama, in three acts, and an episode not entitled "Black Friday." In addition to the attraction, elements of some interest is added a very strong and characteristic cast. Rob King, the counterpart of James Pick, is to be played by J. W. Cullier, whose general appearance clearly resembles that of the late departed Dick Robinson (Stokes) by McKee Rankin; the gushing Maudie (McNee) by Violet Spearman; by Pessy Mordant, late of Wallace's San Sana; a Heath reporter and representative of a class, by John K. Mordimer, an eccentric comedian of position. One of the salient points of the piece is the introduction of several prominent characters well known to New York—August Belmont, Daniel Drew, Henry Clegg, Horace Greeley, Vanderbilt and Jay Gould.

THE CITY HALL. The news in and around the "Hall" yesterday was exceedingly scant. The Administrators as well as the rest of "man-kind" were all absorbed in speculation upon the races.

The only matter of interest to be picked up was in reference to the Board of Health, which reports to the Department of Police that at a meeting held on the eighth instant the office of Sanitary Inspector was declared vacant; also, that the resignation of Dr. Charles Ames as Sanitary Inspector of the Fifth District was accepted, and that he has drawn no salary since the tenth day of January, 1872, the date of his appointment, and that the following assignments were made by the board at the meeting:

Dr. Julius S. Clark, to be inspector of the First District, at a salary of $300 per annum. Dr. F. B. Albers, to the Second District, at a similar salary. Dr. Alfred W. Perry, to the Fourth and Sixth Districts, at $300, also. Dr. Julius A. Mathieu, to the Fifth District, at $150 per annum—$100 to be paid by the city of New Orleans, and $50 by the parish of Jefferson.

This redistribution of the inspectors economizes $150 to the city yearly. The shellroads have again been put in excellent order. The following is the result of the sale of the revenues of the city markets for the month of April:

Table with 3 columns: Purchaser, Amount. Includes entries like 'M. H. Safford's SALINA, 3 y. o. by Lexington, 14 pounds, Colors—Red and black cap, $1,100' and others.

Table with 3 columns: Purchaser, Amount. Includes entries like 'The Binghamum stake, for four year olds, $50 entrance, p. p. to receive $1,000 added; second horse to receive $200; third horse to receive $100' and others.

THE PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

[Brief Communications Published—Long One Invariably Rejected.—The Editor not Responsible for the Sentiments Expressed in the Communications.] A MID PLOTT.

The letter of Mr. McGloin, published in the Republican of the twenty-eighth instant, recalls to my mind the criticism which you thought proper to apply to an uncalculated revival of a distinction between a native and foreign born citizen. Since Mr. McGloin has expunged himself in his letter from all such intentions, it strikes me to be now the part of the Republican to take away the unfavorable impression, his own critic, under the head of "A Bad Idea," in the Republican of the twenty-sixth instant, must have created in all those of your fellow-citizens and readers who have not had the good fortune to be protected in their cradle by the American eagle. As often as I read that article the impression remained unaltered that the Republican is far worse afflicted with nativism than the man who was unjustly accused of it. The foreign born citizen, you say, are "guests, not owners and controllers, of the government. The people of this country are amply qualified to take care of their institutions, and they have the courage and ability to do it. We can certainly live together in harmony, but it must be with a due recognition of the privileges accorded the foreigner—not by any means the admission of his right to govern and control."

The idea of being a guest struck me to be so original, that, doubting of my knowledge of the English sufficiently, I had recourse to Webster, and there I found the definition of guest—"A visitor or friend received and entertained for a short time; a visitor entertained without pay; a lodger at a hotel, lodging or boarding-house."

Now, it is a fact that about twenty-one years ago I came to this country with the intention of becoming a worthy citizen. That I had been friendly received or entertained I can not say exactly, because I never got anything unless I paid for it; and if the State of Louisiana or the city of New Orleans is a boarding-house, and I lodger, I must say, in looking at the taxes, that I have to pay yearly for taxes, that it is quite an extravagant and costly establishment.

You content to live with us in harmony, "but with a due recognition of the privileges accorded the foreigner." Why, really Mr. Editor, from had you got to worse.

I was under the impression that I had ceased to be a foreigner, about sixteen years ago, when I took the oath of allegiance to the government of the United States. Still, modestly doubting my knowledge of the English, I had again recourse to friend Webster to give me the proper definition of a foreigner, and Webster gives it: "A person belonging to a foreign country, or without the country or jurisdiction under consideration." So Webster bears me out, the abler editor of the Republican to the contrary notwithstanding.

If the distinction which you draw between a native and foreign born is wrong and odious, your blunder becomes still more aggravated by the political position of serdom to which you condemn the "foreigner" in assigning him a place even below the native negro.

To claim all the honesty, sagacity, courage, the governing and controlling faculties for the native is so narrow and ridiculous an idea, I had never thought to find espoused with the logical and enlightened editor of the Republican.

I will leave the Irish and other foreign born citizens to fight their own battles, but for the German element let me tell you, Mr. Editor, that were it possible that your ideas were incorporated in the Republican party, self-reproach would force every naturalized citizen to avoid an affiliation with such a party.

Most respectfully, yours, M. SCHAFFNER, M. D.
