Benefit of Mr. Blum. The Opera House was crowded last night with the friends of Mr. Blum, who took his benefit in Weber's opera of "Le Freyschutz."

We noticed a large number of our wealthiest Germans in the audience; indeed, the majority present, we should say, were the countrymen of Weber, the great composer of the opera of "Le Freyschutz," and doubtless many who are not enthusiastic over Mr. Blum were attracted by the programme, it being the finest representation of this opera in New Orleans for many years.

It was a happy selection for the beneficiary, securing him one of the largest and handsomest houses of the season.

He was well received, and amid the usual clapping of hands, bowed his thanks for a number of presents, some of them quite extensive. Among other floral offerings was a huge basket or pyramid of flowers, brought in from the wing of the stage suspended on a pole resting on the shoulders of two men.

Considerable merriment was occasioned by the astonishment of Mr. Blum at this giant bouquet, and evidently he was puzzled what disposition to make of it, and seemed relieved when the attendants carried it back.

We were rejoiced at the success of his benefit, and feel that he deserved all the attention bestowed on him. He has grown steadily in popular favor, and with those whom quality of voice is more desired than mere volume, Mr. Blum is a great favorite.

He was in good voice last evening, and delivered the sweet notes of his role in charming style. There is a tender, sympathetic sentiment in his voice which touches the heart and delights the ear, while at times a power and compass are developed not usually found in light tenors.

We have not time to speak as fully of the performance as it deserves, but we assure our musical people it was one of the most delightful of the whole season.

Mr. Milleville, as Agathe, sang in splendid style the difficult and thrilling music of the role, and seemed constrained and embarrassed in the stage business. M. Perie distinguished himself as Gaspard, receiving a handsome recall at the close of the first act for his masterly manner of singing and acting in a very difficult solo.

The scene where Gaspard, at midnight, melts the three charmed life balls, assisted by his Satanic majesty, was one of the finest things ever given at the Opera. It is impossible to describe it, but certainly it should be witnessed by all who delight in fine scenic effects.

The Honoree's chorus was well rendered, and elicited a hearty encore. This opera is to be repeated on Saturday night, and doubtless, will go off more smoothly than can be expected of a first representation.

Those who wish to spend a charming evening had better secure seats at once.

New Orleans to Baton Rouge by Daylight. The readers of the REPUBLICAN are referred to the advertisement of the Louisiana division of the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas railroad, by which it will be seen that passengers may leave New Orleans at 8:15 A. M., and taking the steamer Baton Rouge by daylight.

Passengers from Baton Rouge and intermediate landings beyond Donaldsonville, will take the train at the latter place and come through by daylight.

On Sundays the fast steam ferryboat Frances, formerly of Morgan's lake coast and Mobile line, will make excursion trips on the river to and from Carrollton. Fare only twenty-five cents each way.

Holly System at Shreveport. The Board of Trade and the municipal authorities have under consideration a proposition of the Holly Waterworks Company to put up waterworks in that city.

The company propose to lay five miles of piping and forty or fifty hydrants, for fire purposes, for $250,000, payable in forty year city bonds, bearing eight per cent interest. The Times urges the adoption of the proposition, and recommends the organization of a local joint stock company to take charge of the works.

Reformers' Parish Committee. The Parish Executive Committee of the Reform party held a meeting last night at the headquarters of the Citizens' Committee of Fifty-one, and elected a temporary organization. Mr. Samuel Miller presided, and after the transaction of some unimportant business, the meeting adjourned to effect a permanent organization on Saturday.

The Hernandez Troupe. The programme at this popular place of amusement was filled with a select audience last evening to witness the many attractions offered. Mr. Collins has lost none of his popularity, and was encored as usual.

"The Hindle" was attractive as ever. She sang with elegance, and by so doing elicited deafening rounds of applause.

The Italian Opera Troupe. The Italian Opera troupe will commence a season of five operas at the Varieties Theatre on Wednesday evening, May 15. The following operas will be performed in the order of their mention: "Lucia di Lammermoor," "La Traviata," "Norma," and "Il Trovatore." Full particulars will be given in future advertisements.

The Temperature. The thermometer at Louis Frigerio's, No. 50 Chartres street, yesterday stood as follows: At 8 A. M., 69; at 2 P. M., 77; at 6 P. M., 74. Lowest point during the night of May 1, 67.

A strawberry festival will be given to-day and to-morrow at the Free Mission Baptist church, Common street, between Claiborne and Derbigny, by the Social Circle of New Orleans. Among the lady managers are Mrs. Weeks, Mrs. Davis, Miss Perkins, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Stronger, Miss Lewis and Miss Satchell. Admittance twenty-five cents.

A party of colonists who recently left Lawrence, Massachusetts, for a home at Detroit Lake, Minnesota, write back that they were duped. They say, however, that the assurance that every quarter section contained a stream or lake is quite true, for one-fifth of the township is swamp and water.

THE FEMALE DELEGATE NOT ADMITTED. Cause, Want of Credentials.

CONWAY'S CIVIL RIGHTS RESOLUTION. ITS PASSAGE UNANIMOUSLY.

HON. G. H. BRAUGHN ADVOCATES IT. [Special to the New Orleans Republican.]

[FIRST DISPATCH.] CINCINNATI, May 2, 1872. The Liberal Republican Convention was permanently organized to-day by the election of Hon. Carl Schurz as president.

His speech on taking the chair was loudly applauded. The report of the committee on permanent organization was adopted.

The committee on credentials reported against admitting Miss Laura E. Gordon as a delegate from California in consequence of her having no credentials.

Since the election of Carl Schurz, the convention appears to be more orderly and attentive. [SECOND DISPATCH.] CINCINNATI, May 2, 1872.

Mr. Conway's civil rights resolution, presented to the Louisiana delegation, finally passed unanimously after considerable opposition. Hon. G. H. Braughn spoke strongly in its favor.

The resolution is not Sumner's civil rights bill. It is a declaration of equal rights to all citizens, without distinction of color, and says nothing of compulsory social equality. BROADWAY.

Washington, May 2.—The President has made the following nominations: Thomas B. Shannon, collector of customs, San Francisco; William D. Knight, collector of the First South Carolina District.

Senators.—Mr. Sumner presented a petition signed by Wendell Phillips, and others, against repealing the eight hour law. Mr. Sumner stated he was in full accord with the petitioners.

Post-office appropriations were considered, when a long executive session over Arkansas affairs occurred.

House.—The bill giving the people of Galatia Valley, Montana, 1000 rifles for defense against Indians passed.

The bill establishing the tribal relations of the Miami Indians passed.

The bill for commencing Indian annuities passed.

The consideration of the tariff bill was resumed.

A formal message was received from the President, read, announcing his approval of the bill abolishing the duty on tea and coffee.

business to the people, but if Mr. Greeley should not be nominated, they say that they will insist on a declaration as explicit as that of the New York call. There is a strong feeling that the difference will be safely bridged over.

Thirty-one members of the New York delegation signed a protest against the action of the delegation regarding Mr. Greeley. The committee on rules elected Theodore Tilton, of New York, chairman, and Vice President.

Only three States are unrepresented. Each delegate shall vote his preference, but through the chairman of his delegation. A majority of all the votes shall be necessary to the choice for President and Vice President. The year and days are forbidden, but a division may be had upon a call of a majority of the States. A motion in the convention to proceed to ballot was tabled.

By a vote of 557 to 148 a motion passed forbidding balloting until the platform and principles had been declared, when the convention adjourned until three o'clock.

When the convention re-assembled at three o'clock, Carl Schurz was elected permanent president, and a vice president from each State and Territory.

Amid great applause, Mr. Schurz announced that he would "Hail to the Chief," after which he made a speech.

The vice presidents from the South are as follows: Alabama, Thomas Lamert; Arkansas, Underwood; Georgia, Mott; Louisiana, Delassie; North Carolina, Helper; South Carolina, Wheeler; Tennessee, Mayer; Texas, Hamilton; Virginia, Rye; West Virginia, Leonard.

The committee on credentials reported against the New York contestants, and against the ladies who claimed the privileges of delegates, but as a courtesy assigned them to seats.

The night session opened at half-past seven. The committee on platform were unable to agree, and Mr. Schurz says they will make no report tonight.

It is believed that balloting will be proceeded with to-night.

It is said that Grant Brown will be here to-night, and will deliver his name for the Presidency. This programme is probably with a view to securing the Vice President of Mr. Brown.
