THE ELECTION.

What Has Been Done, What May Be Done, and What Ought Not to Have Been Done.
Of course, the undisturbed condition of political matters gives satisfaction to none, and the delay in furnishing results of any sort arouses all kinds of suspicion of foul play. Developments of illegal and fraudulent proceedings are being brought to light, however, and the proper parties are collating evidence to be used before the returning officers and the courts.
Such assertions as these are made: "A boss brewer voted his fifteen employees at every poll of the ward in which they lived." "This dodge was generally practiced, it is asserted."
"The State Supervisor, after receiving from the police the lists of voters removed, dead and not found, submitted them to a committee of fusionists for revision." "We do not know that there is a law against this, but, if true, it will have weight in making up the case for the general contest which seems unavoidable."

In Jefferson parish, at a strong Republican poll, where 400 men are ready to swear they balloted Republican tickets, the box was sealed and the United States supervisor excluded from the carriage in which it was taken to the State House. When he got in sight of it again and it was opened, not a single Republican vote was found in the box. All who participated in the plot will find the inside of the Parish Prison to-day, and in the end, perhaps, get a free ride to Baton Rouge. In fact, we begin to think our prophecy, that a hundred and fifty persons, high and low, will be sent to the Penitentiary as the result of election frauds, will fall below the truth.

How will a contest be made up is a question which puzzles the minds of many. Can two separate governments be erected and the question of legitimacy decided by the recognition and support of one of them by the federal government?
If the questions involved should be brought for decision into the State courts, would the Governor and members of the Legislature be reached?
In deciding the question of conspiracy to deprive voters of their rights, is it not, in common to show not that registration was refused, but that effort to vote was made and refused by the election commissioners? In other words, must not every means provided by law be exhausted before the courts can be appealed to?

What will the thirteen Republican Senators holding over do in case of rival governments?
These are not to be cracked.

AVOULETS.
We some time ago urged the Republicans of this parish to reunite or disinter without result. The old Warmoth-Pinckney Republican committee and the regular parish committee could never arrange satisfactory terms of compromise, and the nomination of rival tickets followed. The consequence is that the parish gives McEnery the astounding majority of nearly one thousand. The only ray of consolation lies in the fact that even the Democrats so appointed the services of Hon. L. J. Somer in the last Legislature that they have returned him by a handsome majority, notwithstanding his pronounced Republicanism.

This is a high compliment, but not undervalued, as Mr. Somer has done well for the interests of his constituents, particularly in the matter of public schools.
The vote of this parish gives the district judgeship and attorneyship to the fusionists.

WEST BATON ROUGE.
The Republican defeat in this parish is ascribed to the following cause: T. A. Alain, a colored man, and the nominee for Representative, entered into a bargain with the fusionists to trade off the Republican vote for the State ticket provided the Democrats voted for Grant and himself. The fusionists acted in good faith so far as the President is concerned, but played him false on that point in which he was most nearly interested. Grant carries the parish by 200 majority, and McEnery and the Democratic candidate for the House by 700.

Mr. Alain will probably have a long ascension from official life in which to meditate upon the results of his political strategy and party treachery.

ASSOCIATION.
This parish is legitimately Republican by about 300 votes, but has given a small fusion majority. Senator Somer attributes this disastrous result to the earnest efforts of Mr. Escheverie, the tax collector, who has turned Liberal, and the lack of organization. Sheriff Tom Divine was a Liberal at first, but returned to his old faith in time to be nominated for recorder by the Republicans. By refraining from active work in the canvass, he secured enough fusion votes to secure his election.

EAST BATON ROUGE.
The Republican chiefs claim that notwithstanding the reports to the State authorities, this parish voted in their favor. A majority of 187 Republican votes is claimed to have been cast, no matter what may be counted out of the boxes. J. Henri Burch claims the Senatorship.

The name of every voter and how he voted is said to be a matter of record, and affidavits to the number of 300, prepared in accordance with the enforcement act, of parties who were refused registration are in the hands of the United States marshal. Most of these have registry papers of 1870 attached, also Republican tickets, which the affidavits would have cast if permitted.

POINTE CADET.
It almost took our breath away to hear that General B. R. Simmes had telegraphed Governor Warmoth that this parish had given 250 majority for the fusion ticket by official count. It is claimed that the old and bitter feud between the mulatto or old freed colored class on the one side and the freedmen on the other, so demoralized the Republican vote as to have produced this astonishing result; but this theory is by no means satisfactory to the Republican leaders. General Simmes is suspected of "leathen Chinee" practices, and 500 affidavits in Marshal Packard's hands of persons denied registration seem to support this suspicion.
An old maid suggests that when men break their hearts, it is just the same as when a lobster breaks one of his claws; another sprouts out immediately, and grows in its place.

PARISH ELECTION RETURNS.

The official returns from poll one of all the city wards was made yesterday, though certain discrepancies exist in several instances requiring more delay before completion. The count closed yesterday at midnight. In the eighth, eleventh, thirteenth, fourteenth, and fifteenth the count of poll two has been closed and only awaits certification.

Subjoined are complete returns from the second, fifth, seventh and ninth wards, poll one, fifteenth ward poll two, and partial returns from the first, fourth and eleventh wards, poll one.

St. James parish will give about 1500 Republican majority. Up to twelve o'clock Wednesday, 1223 Republican and 570 fusion votes had been counted. Adolphe Turand and John Hedgepath have been elected Representatives, both Republicans.

The Temperature.
The thermometer at Louis Frigerio's, No. 59 Chartres street, yesterday stood as follows: At 8 A. M., 61°; at 2 P. M., 67°; at 8 P. M., 61°. Lowest point during the night of November 6, 60°. Rain during the night of November 6, one-sixth of an inch. Rain, November 7, one-tenth of an inch.

A Beautiful Stock of Goods.
We are pleased to announce that we have a beautiful stock of goods, including French and English dry goods, No. 51 Old Levee street, and notwithstanding the fact that we had long known that the direct importation of dry goods was an important branch of the business of our city, we confess that we had no idea of to what extent the people of this country were indebted to France and England for the fine things they wear and use in housekeeping. Mr. Bechet's specialty is the importation of cloths and cassimeres and other such manufactures, and in making up the dresses of gentlemen. And we found that his stock of these goods was not only every large, but comprised some of the most beautiful fabrics we had ever seen. There were cloths for coats fit for an emperor, so fine and soft, that it resembled some web of silk rather than wool; cassimeres for pants which would make the heart of Count D'Orsay himself swell with delight, and vestings fit to cover the breast of even President Grant these happy days.

The assortment was both large and varied, and as one saw one pattern after another, he could only express wonder at the skill of the weaver and the taste of the designer of the patterns and combinations of colors. Besides these goods, which are strictly in his line, Mr. Bechet has imported many beautiful specimens of French and English shirts from the great factory of Charvet, of Paris; woolen jackets, which, judging from their texture and beauty, must have been knit by fairy hands; waterproof silk overcoats for the pocket in fair and to be worn in foul weather; clocks of most wonderful mechanism, and in fact, a thousand things which everybody will want as soon as they see them. We advise our readers to visit Mr. Bechet's call.

Valuable Improved Real Estate at Auction by the Sheriff.
Particular attention is called to the sale at auction to be made this day at noon, at the St. Louis Auction Exchange, St. Louis street, by the sheriff of the parish of Orleans, of two lots of ground, with all the buildings and improvements thereon, situated in the Second District of this city, faubourg Trempe, on Claiborne street, between St. Philip and Damane streets. For full particulars, see advertisement.

State Returns by Telegraph.

We have returns this morning from St. Landry parish, which gives 1924 majority for Greeley. The Democratic majority in 1870 was 1870, so that there is now a Republican gain of 554. This is good for St. Landry.
In Vermilion parish the vote for McEnery is 596, for Kelllogg 228; fusion majority 427. The Democratic majority in 1870 was 490, a Republican gain of three.
Ascension parish shows a Republican gain of 215 over 1870, which is very pleasant to contemplate. And so we have in Ascension, St. Landry and Vermilion parishes a Republican gain of 724 votes.

"This shows how much credit the state's men of the fusionists, that they have carried the State and defeated Kelllogg, are entitled to."
AMUSEMENTS.
Academy of Music.
Nothing gratifying can be said of the attendance at the theatres during the rainy weather. Mlle. Marietta Ravel played last night to a fair audience in the "Waltz-Rope" and the "Dumb Girl of Genoa." She will take her farewell benefit this evening in the drama of the "Broken Sword" and the "Dumb Boy of Manches." Tomorrow, at twelve o'clock, last Ravel will appear. Monday evening, the Japanese.

Mr. Charles Theatro.
A dull, dreary, gloomy, wet night, and a respectably small audience, yet Mr. Murphy was just as fine as ever in the drama of "Heli," which will be produced again for his benefit this evening. Tomorrow at twelve o'clock first grand "Heli" matinee.

Opera House.
Last night the initial performance of the season at the Opera House was witnessed by a brilliant audience, notwithstanding the severity of the weather. The drama of "La Closerie des Genets" ("The Willow Cove"), was produced with excellent effect, and to the delight of those who have witnessed the efforts of the storm, and were rejoiced that they did so.

Land Office Report.
This is a special from Washington to the Cincinnati Gazette.
The report of General Drummond, of the Land Office, shows the back work of that office brought up to the last of September. Total number of acres sold for cash, 1,370,328; located with notes, 488,000; historical surveys, 4,500; agricultural college scrip, 684,031; certified to railroads, 3,554,887. And other minor items, make the total disposed of, 11,664,575, and the amount of land reserved, 1,270,254, 657,420 acres of the public domain yet remaining unsurveyed. The progress of the few remaining land grant railroads toward completion is most gratifying. 1700 miles have been completed within a year. Tree culture receives considerable attention, and the commissioner recommends that it be obligatory on settlers under it to cultivate a certain number of acres in trees for three years.

Texas Railroads.
A recent number of the San Antonio, Texas, Herald says:
We were shown yesterday a private letter written from New Orleans to a friend in this city, which contained the following interesting news item. We hope it is correct, and believe it to be so:
"While en route from Pierce in his car, he received a dispatch from Pierce in which he states that there is no doubt but that he will succeed in getting funds to complete the extension of the Texas and New Orleans, and also stated that when once commenced, the road would be completed in twelve months."
The same gentleman in the letter to his friend, Mr. Pierce had gone to Europe to raise funds, but this is the first intimation we have had of his success in the matter.

The same gentleman in the letter to his friend, Mr. Pierce had gone to Europe to raise funds, but this is the first intimation we have had of his success in the matter.

We give these items for what they are worth. The gentleman who wrote the letter is a wealthy resident of our city and it is likely he is well posted in railroad matters in our State, meeting and conversing as he does with the great capitalists of the South, who have their money invested in Southern railroads.

The Breville News of the second instant says:
We are gratified to know that work has been recommenced on the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas railroad, and are assured that there will be no relaxation of labor on this great enterprise until the work is finally completed. Captain Perkins arrived on the steamer Natchez last Sunday with a party of several gentlemen, who proceeded immediately to the neighborhood of the Grand river crossing to begin the work of grading. We understand that negotiations are being conducted for the purchase of the land, and that the work will be commenced in a few days.

There is one universal cry throughout the city and country against the low level of water that the river affords. If our citizens will render some assistance to the closing of Tom's bayou they will have no cause to complain that the stream is filled up. The volume of water which would be suddenly thrown into the channel of Red river would increase the depth of water from here out to the mouth to three or four feet. Upon the depth of water our lightest boats could carry 250 or 300 tons, and make the trip from New Orleans here in six days, which would be a great improvement on the present regime.

This is a dispatch published last Tuesday in papers that take the Associated Press dispatches.
New Orleans, November 1--The election throughout the State passed quietly. The official returns have been received. The Republicans claim that they are 9000 ahead in the registration, and claim that they have carried the State by 30,000. The Democratic State Central Committee claim the State by 20,000, and the city by 10,000 to 15,000.

The misery of being called on suddenly to make a speech was got over by a mathematician, who delivered himself in this fashion: "Gentlemen, a morbid desire for originality prevents me from saying 'this is the proudest moment of my life,' and it does not occur to me to say anything else."

The New York confederator who a few years ago taught his parrot to say "pretty creature" to every lady who entered his store, is now very rich.
