THE STATE HOUSE.

In the Senate yesterday Senator Anderson, chairman of the Judiciary Committee, reported favorably on the bill for the relief of the homestead of Oscar J. Dunn. The Committee on Drainage, Canals and Inland Navigation reported unfavorably on the bill to incorporate the North Louisiana Navigation Company. Senator Brewster introduced a bill creating the parish of Evergreen; also, a bill to incorporate the Monroe Bridge Company. Senator Burch introduced a bill to establish an institution for the deaf and dumb. Senator Merrill introduced a bill authorizing State tax collectors to cash the warrants of parish and district judges. Senator Burch introduced a resolution authorizing the recently elected Senators to receive mileage and per diem for the entire session. The following bills finally passed the Senate:

The bill appropriating the sum of $95,000 to pay the outstanding expenses of the General Assembly.
The bill providing for the formation, organization and government of the military forces of the State.
After executive session, the Senate adjourned, in consequence of Saturday being Washington's birthday, until Monday next at twelve o'clock M.

In the House yesterday, Mr. Dewees, of Red River, moved and obtained a suspension of the rules in order to take up House bill No. 162, an act for the relief of taxpayers, remitting all penalties and interest to all delinquent taxpayers, provided said back taxes are paid within ninety days from and after the passage of this bill. A reading of the bill being called for, the Speaker instructed the Clerk to read it. Mr. Dewees moved the final passage of the bill. Mr. Mathews desired to amend the bill as follows:

"Provided, That this shall only apply to taxes due for the year 1872."
Mr. Dewees objected to the amendment. Mr. Mathews said then he would be compelled to oppose the final passage of the bill, which he gave relief to the wealthy, who had neglected or refused to pay their taxes. These back taxes amounted to over $2,000,000; and while he was willing to do something to relieve this class of taxpayers, he was not willing to pass the bill for their relief as it now stands. If this money had been paid into the public treasury, the poor men who have paid their taxes faithfully in the past might have been relieved this year of some of the burdens of taxation. Mr. Mathews concluded by moving the indefinite postponement of the bill.

Mr. Dewees said that if the gentleman from Texas would withdraw his motion he would accept of his amendment. Mr. Mathews assented. Mr. Gair obtained the floor and opposed on the same grounds assumed by Mr. Mathews and concluded by moving that bill and amendment be laid upon the table. The yeas and nays were demanded on this motion, and the whole subject was tabled by a vote of forty yeas to twenty-five nays.

Mr. Devezin, of Orleans, called up the following resolution, previously introduced by him, and moved its adoption:

Resolved, That the Committee on Charitable and Public Institutions be and the same is hereby authorized to visit the different charitable institutions of the State and examine the same, and ascertain the condition of the same, and make a report to this House of the same. And the Committee on Contingent Expenses of the House be authorized to issue the mileage to the said committee.

Mr. Benham, of Carroll, opposed the resolution for reasons of economy. These committees, he said, were calculated to exhaust the treasury and leave the State without the means to pay its necessary current expenses. Mr. Young, of Concordia, thought these committees necessary. The Legislature appropriated millions of dollars for the relief of charitable institutions, and it was right for the State to know what became of the money. It should know the condition of these institutions, and what amount of money will be necessary to keep them going during the present year. It had been customary to have these committees, and he should therefore move the adoption of the resolution. Mr. Gair was opposed to having any considerable number of committees appointed to travel over the State in the capacity of traveling committees after the Legislature adjourned, but he was in favor of the resolution before the House, and would offer the following amendment to it:

That the sum of $5000 is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated to pay the mileage of the members of the committee.

Mr. Devezin moved to lay the amendment upon the table. He was not inclined to view it as friendly to the resolution. Mr. Murrell, of Madison, took the same view of the amendment. He thought it was intended to kill the resolution, and moved to lay it upon the table. Mr. Devezin withdrew his resolution, stating that he felt convinced the House did not want to know how the money appropriated for charitable institutions was being spent. Mr. Montaldo, of Orleans, called up the following preamble and resolution previously introduced by himself, and moved its adoption:

WHEREAS, It is the general opinion that the Auditor of Public Accounts has been partial in the disbursement of the appropriation of $75,000 for the extra session of 1872; and
Whereas, The action of the Auditor has been detrimental to the interest of the holders of certificates issued by the proper officers of the General Assembly; therefore be it
Resolved, That the Speaker of the House of Representatives be directed to appoint a committee of three to investigate the action of the Auditor in the premises.

Mr. Mahony, of Plaquemine, offered the following amendment: "That the said committee be also directed to investigate the books of the Committee on Contingent Expenses of the House, for the purpose of ascertaining what amount of vouchers have been issued, to whom, and for what purposes."
Mr. Young moved to lay the resolution and amendment upon the table, but withdrew his motion temporarily, in order to have the matter discussed. Mr. Madison, of Livingston, was surprised at the remarks made by the member

GLEANINGS.

It was not a good day for installing judges opposite Jackson square. Yesterday morning the clans gathered in strength, according to orders, but the proximity of a large force of police in the adjoining station, exercised a repressing effect upon their warlike ardor, and soon an adjournment to Old Fellows' Hall for consultation was ordered. One of the leaders read aloud to a select circle the morning REPUBLICAN, an article in which elicited earnest discussion. The conclusions arrived at were that "Warmoth had better come down here and do his own fighting, or pay to have it done," and that the REPUBLICAN reporter who says the patriotic attaches and followers of the McEnery government "cannot wish Longstreet and his nagur police" is a deep-dyed liar and villain. Under these distressing circumstances we can only suggest that Longstreet and the "nagurs" will give these gentlemen a good square chase to test the question if they will violate the law or the public peace.

We are assured that by dint of hard drumming, Colonel Waggoner has got up quite a respectable militia force—that is in point of numbers. Another informant insists that his force are, not like Falstaff's robbers in luckram, but on paper merely. Three companies, at least, are enrolled, and "Colonel" Waggoner is their immediate commander. What the fustianists most lack is a General. They can find no one to command their army whom they dare pit against Longstreet. At a meeting yesterday, called to consider this perplexity, it was determined to solicit General H. J. Campbell to assume the delicate and responsible duty. Which is a sad commentary, the circumstances all considered, on the bad effects of evil associations.

The Procyon and the Old Fellows' Hall clique grew sensitive over the statement of the REPUBLICAN that the solid men of New Orleans had decided to go back on McEnery and his so-called government if he resorted to mob demonstrations or other violations of the law. In order to furnish a pretext for a denial, we were misrepresented as saying that necessary funds for carrying on the innocent farce of failing to elect a Senator, were refused them. We reiterate our first statement, with the addition that since out of ten of the citizens' committee even, will vote to discontinue—much less pay the expenses—of a riotous movement.

Not that we fear such a movement is at all likely to take place. Our conviction is that the division on this subject, which has grown up among the leaders, is regarded as a fortunate circumstance, affording a happy escape from the awkward predicament which a proneness to boasting and a certain stilted idea of dignity has placed them in. The peace men can blame the warriors with being the cause of failure through their rashness; the belligerently inclined may retaliate on their more timid associates with want of courage for the emergency; and each party can thus peacefully fall back upon opposite inclines of opinion, while the world moves on and forgets them.

In the meantime, and for whatever time may be necessary, the State government will continue on the alert, and remain prepared to preserve the public tranquility if it has to kick up the devil of a row to do it.

We may add here that Senator Finckhberg telegraphs his belief to Hon. A. B. Harris that Congress will be unable to reach our case, and the maintenance of our government will remain with the President. Non-acceptance of the adoption of the Morton report are the only contingencies, we think.

McENERY INTERVIEWED.

He Will Endeavor to Carry Out the Programme of His Legislature.

"Governor" McEnery was "interviewed" yesterday morning with relation to the revolutionary action likely to be taken by his Legislature, in compliance with the suggestions of their Washington correspondent, ex-Governor H. C. Warmoth. The "Governor" was surrounded by his staff and a large force of hangers-on—gentlemanly persons, and of a class entirely distinct from the needy and unfringed crowd basking on the staircase. In reply to his interrogator's first question, the "Governor" strenuously denied receiving any dispatch from Warmoth advising physical aggression. The following conversation ensued:

Reporter—Well, sir, do you intend to carry out the resolutions yesterday adopted by the House and Senate looking to the forcible installation of your judicial officers in their contested positions?
"Governor" McEnery—Certainly I do. I shall carry out the suggestion of the Legislature, and our judges must and shall be recognized.
Reporter—But the resolutions imply the use of physical force to carry them out.
"Governor" McEnery—Perhaps they may.
Reporter—Suppose that, in pursuance of its policy, the Kellogg Legislature should become more aggressive in its action?
"Governor" McEnery (with meaning)—We shall be just as aggressive, sir.
Reporter—Then I suppose you will at once perfect the executive machinery of your government?
"Governor" McEnery—At once, sir.
Reporter—I understand that the Legislature intends to pass its appropriation bill.
"Governor" McEnery (angrily)—Impossible! They can never get a cent out of the people here.
Reporter—Will the community resist the collectors of Governor Kellogg?
"Governor" McEnery—Of course they will. This is a resolute and determined people. They will never contribute a cent toward the Kellogg crowd. Kellogg knows it, and dare not send his collectors out. The people would sooner break out into revolution than pay a penny. No, sir, the attempt would be resisted to the death.
Reporter—Would it be an individual or a concerted resistance?
"Governor" McEnery—A concerted resistance. The people would stand by each other and defy the world before submitting to this outrage.
Reporter—Of course you would take part in the struggle?
"Governor" McEnery—The moment they dare to attempt this I shall protect the citizens to the best of my power. I shall not stop at bloodshed to protect them.
Reporter—But what would the United States troops be doing in the meanwhile?
"Governor" McEnery (excitedly)—They would not dare meddle with us. There are not enough of them to take part in the struggle. No, sir, there are not enough regulars in the State to whip us.
Several gentlemen appearing at this point, the "Governor," who had been studiously courteous, took leave of the reporter.

Present—Dr. C. B. White, president; Dr. S. C. Russell, secretary; and Drs. A. W. Snyth, B. Mass and W. H. Hise, and Mr. J. S. Walton.

The monthly reports of the sanitary inspectors were received and filed. They contain many interesting details of public health and of sanitary precautions taken. It was shown that since the first of January, and up to the sixteenth of February, there had been ninety-seven deaths from small-pox, of which eighty were of colored persons and seventeen of white.

Much stress was laid upon the necessity of a general system of vaccination, and the indifference of the City Council thereto.

Attention was called to the neglect of the Administrator of Police to provide sufficient means for transportation of the indigent sick afflicted with the small-pox to the hospital, as well as his neglect to supply the vehicles used with mattresses and blankets.

A large number of nuisances were reported and ordered to be abated; among them a building situated on Dryades street, owned by Patrick Lewis, and occupied as a dwelling house, the roof of which is broken in, the plastering and weatherboarding broken, and the floor in such a condition that the mud oozes up through the cracks. This building was ordered by the board to be vacated until rendered habitable and healthy.

A communication was received from the City Council, through the Administrator of Police, signed by a large number of the residents of the neighborhood, complaining of a dike located on Chestnut street, between Toledano street and Louisiana avenue, as an intolerable nuisance. The same was ordered to be returned to the Council, with information that dikes located in thickly settled neighborhoods are, in the opinion of the board, deleterious to health, and should be removed by act of the Council.

A communication was received from Dr. John M. Woodworth, of Washington, transmitting a copy of the Marine Hospital services for the past year.

Dr. How, quarantine surgeon of the Mississippi station, having appointed a steward, at a salary of $150 per month without authority of the board, the appointment was ordered to be canceled.

The board have taken steps to obtain a correct list of the number of births in the city in the year 1872, no record of the same being kept.

A report was received that a thorough examination of the public schools showed that all children attending them, have been vaccinated.

After transacting other business, of no public interest, the board adjourned.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., February 21.—Court land block, consisting of thirteen first class residences, was burned to-day. Loss $375,000. During the fire the snow was falling furiously.
CINCINNATI, February 21.—The steamer Dare No. 2 was snagged and sunk in the Kentucky river last night. It is thought that she will prove a total loss. The boat is valued at $10,000; is insured for $6000. The cargo—2700 sacks wheat—will be a total loss.
GALVESTON, February 21.—A fire at Wax abate this morning destroyed the stores of E. H. Parks, Compton & Son, A. Trippe & Son, J. E. Smith, A. Miller, Jesse Wiley, the Democrat office and the carriage shop of Kennedy & Co. The amount of insurance is not known. Nothing was saved, and a heavy north wind was prevailing at the time.
LOUISVILLE, February 21.—Representative Franke, representative from Fayette county, was robbed and murdered at Austin last night. It is the impression that Sergeant-at-Arms Kholon was the man the assassin lay in wait for, as he had been paying members their per diem and had on his person some $5000.
SAN FRANCISCO, February 21.—The steamer Nevada, from Australia, so long overdue, arrived here this evening. Within ten days from Honolulu, her supply of coal run so short that she had to put back to sea coast. The steamer is all right.
MONTGOMERY, February 21.—The House passed a bill authorizing the Governor to issue $1,500,000 of bonds to pay the outstanding liabilities, including past due taxes; but one negative vote, and that by Millen, Republican.
The Russell county bill, increasing the rate of taxation fifty per cent, also passed both houses, and was approved by the Governor.
Judge Busted, of the United States District Court, was arrested.

The monthly reports of the sanitary inspectors were received and filed. They contain many interesting details of public health and of sanitary precautions taken. It was shown that since the first of January, and up to the sixteenth of February, there had been ninety-seven deaths from small-pox, of which eighty were of colored persons and seventeen of white.

Much stress was laid upon the necessity of a general system of vaccination, and the indifference of the City Council thereto.

Attention was called to the neglect of the Administrator of Police to provide sufficient means for transportation of the indigent sick afflicted with the small-pox to the hospital, as well as his neglect to supply the vehicles used with mattresses and blankets.

A large number of nuisances were reported and ordered to be abated; among them a building situated on Dryades street, owned by Patrick Lewis, and occupied as a dwelling house, the roof of which is broken in, the plastering and weatherboarding broken, and the floor in such a condition that the mud oozes up through the cracks. This building was ordered by the board to be vacated until rendered habitable and healthy.

A communication was received from the City Council, through the Administrator of Police, signed by a large number of the residents of the neighborhood, complaining of a dike located on Chestnut street, between Toledano street and Louisiana avenue, as an intolerable nuisance. The same was ordered to be returned to the Council, with information that dikes located in thickly settled neighborhoods are, in the opinion of the board, deleter
