Board of Health.

We are authorized to say that the rumor concerning the removal of most of the members of the Board of Health is entirely without foundation.

The regular weekly meeting of the Board of Health was held last evening.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted.

In regard to the rumor of cholera being brought to the city by a vessel from Odessa, Dr. White showed that no vessel had come to this port from the Baltic or Black Sea for several years.

Dr. Howe reported that no vessel with cholera on board had passed the quarantine station since January 1, 1873.

Mr. Schmidt appeared before the board with a grievance. It appeared that a year since one of his houses was reported as untenable and he repaired it.

Dr. Beach had been called to attend the deceased, and stated that death was not caused by the accident, but by apoplexy.

The jury was questioned individually as to their opinion, and were unanimous in rendering the following verdict:

After a careful examination of the body, and from testimony elicited, we find that the deceased came to his death from apoplexy.

Dr. Drew reported a number of nuisances in the First District, and Dr. Clark made a special report on a number of nuisances in the Second District, which were ordered abated.

Dr. White suggested that the men engaged in throwing mud out of the gutters be employed in that duty.

The board ordered the city to fill up these lots, and gave it twenty days to commence.

Dr. Newman, acting inspector of the Fifth District, reported that the sanitary condition of the district had been greatly overlooked.

Mr. Bailey said if the city would stop giving away the sand from the batture and use it for filling these lots, and others, it would be very easily done.

Dr. White suggested that the men engaged in throwing mud out of the gutters be employed in that duty.

The Late Fatal Accident on Canal Street.

Considerable variance existing between the published statement of Mr. Thomas L. Court on the cause of the death of Mr. M. O. Larsen and the verdict of the coroner's jury, the following facts are submitted, that the public may "readily arrive at a conclusion."

Mr. Court's statement was taken soon after and while suffering from the effects of his fall. No doubt he was somewhat bewildered, for his testimony, given before the coroner's jury, was very different.

The inquest was held at Mr. Larsen's home, No. 394 Canal street, at 2:30 A. M. Mr. Court then stated, on oath, that at the time of the accident he did not know what caused it.

He and Mr. Larsen had started for the lake, taking one drink first. Arriving there they took several more. On the way back they took one at the Half Way House. He was not drunk.

The jury viewed the body of Mr. Larsen, and found unmistakable evidence that the deceased had been drinking, and his clothes showed very plainly he had been sick.

There was no mark or bruise on the body. Dr. Beach had been called to attend the deceased, and stated that death was not caused by the accident, but by apoplexy.

The jury was questioned individually as to their opinion, and were unanimous in rendering the following verdict:

After a careful examination of the body, and from testimony elicited, we find that the deceased came to his death from apoplexy.

Not Quite Treasurer.

The uncontradicted statement of the Herald of Thursday evening, that Auditor Clinton had inherited Mr. Newgass's functions of State Treasurer, seemed corroborated by numerous reports from holders of State paper; and when Mr. Newgass, it was known, had cashed the warrants, the public had a right to presume that in performing a portion to the functions of the State Treasurer, he might as properly perform others—that while he was cashing warrants of the Auditor, it was supposed—and the supposition was permitted to obtain—that the Auditor had supplied Mr. Newgass with the funds wherewith to perform this work.

In the evening papers of yesterday, however, Mr. Clinton denies having turned over any funds to Mr. Newgass, and states that that gentleman "took up the warrants at the purchaser price, giving his own money in payment."

It is generally believed, however, notwithstanding the denial of Mr. Clinton, that he had stepped thus far outside of the law, that Mr. Newgass was not using his own funds thus freely for the disinterested good of the State; and that Mr. Clinton, feeling he had gone too far, receded from his former action so far as to secure himself from any penalties the law can inflict, and at the same time materially elevate Mr. Newgass's reputation for philanthropy.

Delinquent Tax List. We reproduce this morning the list of delinquent taxpayers to the State. The time is rapidly approaching when the penalties against delinquents prescribed in act No. 72 of 1873 will be rigidly enforced.

What the World Says. If there is anything that surpasses the ignorance of some of the Northern papers of Louisiana affairs, it is the earnestness with which they thrust their ignorance and facts and unripe conclusions upon their readers.

Naval Cadetship. Having at his disposal an appointment to the Naval School at Annapolis, Congressman Darrall opened the same to competition among the young men of his district.

Fatal Accident at Hot Springs. The account of the death of John K. Wilson, of New Orleans, which we copied from the St. Louis Republican, is pronounced by the friends of the deceased inaccurate in some important details.
