

New Orleans Republican.

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE UNITED STATES.

AUCTION SALES TO-MORROW.

BY CONSTABLE JOHN McCOY, at 10 o'clock, at Merchants and Auctioneers Exchange, on the premises of the late J. B. Wagon.

Local Intelligence.

BRILLIANT DETECTIVE EXPLOIT.—Vigilant and effective is the term applied by a contemporary to one of the special agents of the Postoffice Department at New Orleans.

THE WONDERFUL TACT AND DETECTIVE SKILL OF THE SPECIAL AGENT IN BRINGING THE CULPRIT TO JUSTICE is ably and elaborately set forth in the columns of a morning paper, and indicates somewhat the same high order of talent which some months ago the same official employed in the case of James Buckman.

THE WONDERFUL TACT AND DETECTIVE SKILL OF THE SPECIAL AGENT IN BRINGING THE CULPRIT TO JUSTICE is ably and elaborately set forth in the columns of a morning paper, and indicates somewhat the same high order of talent which some months ago the same official employed in the case of James Buckman.

COURT RECORD.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1873.

Superior District Courts.—Julius Socha vs. city of New Orleans and Board of Metropolitan Police.—Motion of G. E. Lacey, city attorney, the court maintained the rule and dissolved the injunction.

Justice Stiles Court.—The case of Fanny Scott was tried yesterday, but the decision was reserved. The defendant keeps a house on Burgundy street, frequented by unscrupulous characters.

Stealing a Jewel and Hiding a Bell.—Some after dark Friday night a man was seen returning from the levee, who he had, as he makes the report himself—and when passing a Common street grocery, carried off by him a quantity of articles of merchandise hanging on a wire stretched in front of the store.

An Opening for Old and Young.—A neatly printed card informs the reporter that Mr. Jacob Fink has made an opening for all openings under the human nose, and in a house in the corner of Orleans and Royal streets, in the place formerly kept by Hypolite Perceval as a noted confectionery.

The Ball.—The Violet Social Club treated its friends to a pleasant party last night, in the Sixth District. As nearly all the guests were intimately acquainted, nothing less than a fine time could have been expected.

Cane Planters.—All who cultivate the sugar cane should read an advertisement in their interest.

For the Sufferers.—On the twenty-first and twenty-sixth instant the Magnolia Garden will be enlivened by the play of exploding rifles. Major Shibley, hoping to send a little relief to the suffering cities of Shreveport and Natchez, has arranged to give an extraordinary shooting match for some rare prizes.

A CONSURDER.—Why are Socha, Shoehausen & Co. like a shipwrecked schooner? Because it is difficult to bail them out.

Base Ball.—Unless the moisture is too severe to-day the Lone Stars and the Howards will meet in mortal combat in the park in a friendly game of base ball.

Will Try Again.—The ardent members of Fire Company No. 9 will this morning take their engine out for one more trial, and the horizontal boiler will surely take the horns. The judges are good ones, viz: Pat Swan, John No. 3, M. Rain, of No. 13, and Billy Johnson, of No. 6.

An Appointment.—Judge Stiles informs us that he requested the police board to detail Officer Haberlin to the city in his recent date stood with the justice in his acquaintances, but his finger having been caught in the beehive robbery, he is now doubted.

How Strangers are Not Robbed of Impossible Sums.—Metropolitan detectives are as liable to err as other specimens of frail humanity, and they have accepted the vivid story of a "young mobliar" as to how he was robbed, perhaps they were not altogether wrong, considering how many queer tales are doled out to them.

A banker in Paris lost a valuable diamond pin and offered a reward for its recovery. The thief had a face simile made, substituting paste for stones, and presented the pin to the loser, who paid the handsome sum. The original pin he sold to a jeweler.

OUR AMATEUR CLUBS.

Variety Dramatic Club.

I have long thought it would be of interest to your readers to have presented to them, through the columns of your paper, a short sketch of the history of the amateur dramatic clubs of our city, and so I propose, with your approval, to write such sketches.

Possibly it would be more in regis to begin with the oldest club, but as there seems to be some difference as to which is the oldest, and as we have just witnessed a very meritorious performance, for an object he can work his way through the world by attempting to create sympathy for the veritable sympathizers deserve all they get.

CHARGE AND CONSPIRACY.—B. Landrum, clerk of the arrested for a street fight Thursday night, was released on $3000 bonds. He immediately made an affidavit sworn to by his accusers, James Roberts, that official with having caused the fire.

LAD WOUNDED.—John Livingston was experimenting with metallic cartridges yesterday, and can relate the result of his investigations by showing an unbelieved wound in his leg.

COURT RECORD.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1873.

Superior District Courts.—Julius Socha vs. city of New Orleans and Board of Metropolitan Police.—Motion of G. E. Lacey, city attorney, the court maintained the rule and dissolved the injunction.

Justice Stiles Court.—The case of Fanny Scott was tried yesterday, but the decision was reserved. The defendant keeps a house on Burgundy street, frequented by unscrupulous characters.

Stealing a Jewel and Hiding a Bell.—Some after dark Friday night a man was seen returning from the levee, who he had, as he makes the report himself—and when passing a Common street grocery, carried off by him a quantity of articles of merchandise hanging on a wire stretched in front of the store.

An Opening for Old and Young.—A neatly printed card informs the reporter that Mr. Jacob Fink has made an opening for all openings under the human nose, and in a house in the corner of Orleans and Royal streets, in the place formerly kept by Hypolite Perceval as a noted confectionery.

The Ball.—The Violet Social Club treated its friends to a pleasant party last night, in the Sixth District. As nearly all the guests were intimately acquainted, nothing less than a fine time could have been expected.

Cane Planters.—All who cultivate the sugar cane should read an advertisement in their interest.

For the Sufferers.—On the twenty-first and twenty-sixth instant the Magnolia Garden will be enlivened by the play of exploding rifles. Major Shibley, hoping to send a little relief to the suffering cities of Shreveport and Natchez, has arranged to give an extraordinary shooting match for some rare prizes.

A CONSURDER.—Why are Socha, Shoehausen & Co. like a shipwrecked schooner? Because it is difficult to bail them out.

Base Ball.—Unless the moisture is too severe to-day the Lone Stars and the Howards will meet in mortal combat in the park in a friendly game of base ball.

Will Try Again.—The ardent members of Fire Company No. 9 will this morning take their engine out for one more trial, and the horizontal boiler will surely take the horns. The judges are good ones, viz: Pat Swan, John No. 3, M. Rain, of No. 13, and Billy Johnson, of No. 6.

An Appointment.—Judge Stiles informs us that he requested the police board to detail Officer Haberlin to the city in his recent date stood with the justice in his acquaintances, but his finger having been caught in the beehive robbery, he is now doubted.

How Strangers are Not Robbed of Impossible Sums.—Metropolitan detectives are as liable to err as other specimens of frail humanity, and they have accepted the vivid story of a "young mobliar" as to how he was robbed, perhaps they were not altogether wrong, considering how many queer tales are doled out to them.

A banker in Paris lost a valuable diamond pin and offered a reward for its recovery. The thief had a face simile made, substituting paste for stones, and presented the pin to the loser, who paid the handsome sum. The original pin he sold to a jeweler.

Resolutions of the New York Colored men's Convention—Senator Burch's Labors.

At a meeting of the New York State convention of colored men, held on the eighth instant, in New York city, the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That we, the colored men of the State of New York, in convention assembled, view with horror and condemnation the many trials and persecutions under which our Republican brethren in Louisiana have labored previous to and since the late election; and also the efforts of our life-long enemies—the Democratic Party of Louisiana—to obtain possession of that State government; and, furthermore, that we hold the administration of William Pitt Kellogg to be the undoubted choice of the State, and legally so by the courts, acknowledged by President Grant and secured beyond doubt by the recent acknowledged frauds practiced by the Fusionists.

Resolved, That the colored men of the State of New York tender to the Hon. P. R. Pinchback, United States Senator from Louisiana, and elected to the Senate of the United States, and to the Hon. E. H. Dyer, District Judge of the District of Louisiana, and the proper legal State authority, under Governor Kellogg, was permanently and positively secured; and secondly, to Hon. E. H. Dyer, District Judge of the District of Louisiana, and the proper legal State authority, under Governor Kellogg, was permanently and positively secured; and secondly, to Hon. E. H. Dyer, District Judge of the District of Louisiana, and the proper legal State authority, under Governor Kellogg, was permanently and positively secured.

Resolved, That the colored men of the State of New York tender to the Hon. P. R. Pinchback, United States Senator from Louisiana, and elected to the Senate of the United States, and to the Hon. E. H. Dyer, District Judge of the District of Louisiana, and the proper legal State authority, under Governor Kellogg, was permanently and positively secured; and secondly, to Hon. E. H. Dyer, District Judge of the District of Louisiana, and the proper legal State authority, under Governor Kellogg, was permanently and positively secured.

Resolved, That the colored men of the State of New York tender to the Hon. P. R. Pinchback, United States Senator from Louisiana, and elected to the Senate of the United States, and to the Hon. E. H. Dyer, District Judge of the District of Louisiana, and the proper legal State authority, under Governor Kellogg, was permanently and positively secured; and secondly, to Hon. E. H. Dyer, District Judge of the District of Louisiana, and the proper legal State authority, under Governor Kellogg, was permanently and positively secured.

Resolved, That the colored men of the State of New York tender to the Hon. P. R. Pinchback, United States Senator from Louisiana, and elected to the Senate of the United States, and to the Hon. E. H. Dyer, District Judge of the District of Louisiana, and the proper legal State authority, under Governor Kellogg, was permanently and positively secured; and secondly, to Hon. E. H. Dyer, District Judge of the District of Louisiana, and the proper legal State authority, under Governor Kellogg, was permanently and positively secured.

Resolved, That the colored men of the State of New York tender to the Hon. P. R. Pinchback, United States Senator from Louisiana, and elected to the Senate of the United States, and to the Hon. E. H. Dyer, District Judge of the District of Louisiana, and the proper legal State authority, under Governor Kellogg, was permanently and positively secured; and secondly, to Hon. E. H. Dyer, District Judge of the District of Louisiana, and the proper legal State authority, under Governor Kellogg, was permanently and positively secured.

Resolved, That the colored men of the State of New York tender to the Hon. P. R. Pinchback, United States Senator from Louisiana, and elected to the Senate of the United States, and to the Hon. E. H. Dyer, District Judge of the District of Louisiana, and the proper legal State authority, under Governor Kellogg, was permanently and positively secured; and secondly, to Hon. E. H. Dyer, District Judge of the District of Louisiana, and the proper legal State authority, under Governor Kellogg, was permanently and positively secured.

Resolved, That the colored men of the State of New York tender to the Hon. P. R. Pinchback, United States Senator from Louisiana, and elected to the Senate of the United States, and to the Hon. E. H. Dyer, District Judge of the District of Louisiana, and the proper legal State authority, under Governor Kellogg, was permanently and positively secured; and secondly, to Hon. E. H. Dyer, District Judge of the District of Louisiana, and the proper legal State authority, under Governor Kellogg, was permanently and positively secured.

Resolved, That the colored men of the State of New York tender to the Hon. P. R. Pinchback, United States Senator from Louisiana, and elected to the Senate of the United States, and to the Hon. E. H. Dyer, District Judge of the District of Louisiana, and the proper legal State authority, under Governor Kellogg, was permanently and positively secured; and secondly, to Hon. E. H. Dyer, District Judge of the District of Louisiana, and the proper legal State authority, under Governor Kellogg, was permanently and positively secured.

RECENT PUBLICATIONS.

OUT OF SWEET SLEEP.

OUT OF SWEET SLEEP. By Eleanor C. Donnelly. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia. For sale by George Ellis & Brother, No. 82 Camp street, New Orleans.

THE BOOK BEARING THE TITLE AS ABOVE is a collection of poems, sacred legends, poems of the civil war, and miscellaneous. The author claims no particular merit for them, and she brings them out of sweet solitude for preservation, and for an admiring few. Many of the poems will be remembered as old newspaper travelers. Of those suggested by war incidents, "Missing" is best:

"God pity the bride who waits at home,
With her eyes fixed on her soldier's eye,
While the lover is walking in paradise!"

Are lines that found response in many hearts in those sad days, and we are glad to see them preserved in the elegant form which the publishers have given this book.

OLD MEN'S TRAVELS OF THE CONTINENT. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia. For sale by George Ellis & Brother, No. 82 Camp street, New Orleans.

UNDER THE SURFACE. By Emma M. Conroy. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia. For sale by George Ellis & Brother, No. 82 Camp street, New Orleans.

THE NOVEL BEARING THE ABOVE TITLE is a story with a moral. The hero is a young man of good family, possessing all advantages of education and careful training, but who, by intemperance and dissipation in his early life, disappoints the hopes of his friends. For the purposes of the story, however, he reforms, becomes brilliant and able, and plays an important part in the war against rebellion, wins fame, and wins back the esteem of friends and the love of one ready to "ever forgive." From a hasty glance it appears to be well written and readable.

THE GIRL'S WARNING. By Miss Eliza A. Dupuy. Published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia. For sale by Kain & Co., No. 130 Canal street, New Orleans.

THE MASTER OF GREYLANDS. By Mrs. Mackenzie Daniel. Published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia. For sale by Kain & Co., No. 130 Canal street, New Orleans.

THE HEIRSS IN THE FAMILY. By Mrs. Mackenzie Daniel. Published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia. For sale by Kain & Co., No. 130 Canal street, New Orleans.

THE HEIRSS IN THE FAMILY. By Mrs. Mackenzie Daniel. Published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia. For sale by Kain & Co., No. 130 Canal street, New Orleans.

THE HEIRSS IN THE FAMILY. By Mrs. Mackenzie Daniel. Published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia. For sale by Kain & Co., No. 130 Canal street, New Orleans.

THE HEIRSS IN THE FAMILY. By Mrs. Mackenzie Daniel. Published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia. For sale by Kain & Co., No. 130 Canal street, New Orleans.

THE HEIRSS IN THE FAMILY. By Mrs. Mackenzie Daniel. Published by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia. For sale by Kain & Co., No. 130 Canal street, New Orleans.

THE COTTON CROP.

The Washington correspondent of the St. Louis Republican, under date of the eleventh, says:

A prominent citizen of New Orleans who has for years paid close attention to the product of cotton and sugar raising, writes to an official here that a good deal of inconvenience and loss to trade will be occasioned by the lateness of crops of cotton and sugar, although the crops of both will be a good deal larger than last year.

The writer estimates the cotton crop of this year to be about 4,000,000 bales. He says that from the reports received by him and the subject of cotton and sugar raising, writes to an official here that a good deal of inconvenience and loss to trade will be occasioned by the lateness of crops of cotton and sugar, although the crops of both will be a good deal larger than last year.

The writer estimates the cotton crop of this year to be about 4,000,000 bales. He says that from the reports received by him and the subject of cotton and sugar raising, writes to an official here that a good deal of inconvenience and loss to trade will be occasioned by the lateness of crops of cotton and sugar, although the crops of both will be a good deal larger than last year.

The writer estimates the cotton crop of this year to be about 4,000,000 bales. He says that from the reports received by him and the subject of cotton and sugar raising, writes to an official here that a good deal of inconvenience and loss to trade will be occasioned by the lateness of crops of cotton and sugar, although the crops of both will be a good deal larger than last year.

The writer estimates the cotton crop of this year to be about 4,000,000 bales. He says that from the reports received by him and the subject of cotton and sugar raising, writes to an official here that a good deal of inconvenience and loss to trade will be occasioned by the lateness of crops of cotton and sugar, although the crops of both will be a good deal larger than last year.

The writer estimates the cotton crop of this year to be about 4,000,000 bales. He says that from the reports received by him and the subject of cotton and sugar raising, writes to an official here that a good deal of inconvenience and loss to trade will be occasioned by the lateness of crops of cotton and sugar, although the crops of both will be a good deal larger than last year.

The writer estimates the cotton crop of this year to be about 4,000,000 bales. He says that from the reports received by him and the subject of cotton and sugar raising, writes to an official here that a good deal of inconvenience and loss to trade will be occasioned by the lateness of crops of cotton and sugar, although the crops of both will be a good deal larger than last year.

The writer estimates the cotton crop of this year to be about 4,000,000 bales. He says that from the reports received by him and the subject of cotton and sugar raising, writes to an official here that a good deal of inconvenience and loss to trade will be occasioned by the lateness of crops of cotton and sugar, although the crops of both will be a good deal larger than last year.

The writer estimates the cotton crop of this year to be about 4,000,000 bales. He says that from the reports received by him and the subject of cotton and sugar raising, writes to an official here that a good deal of inconvenience and loss to trade will be occasioned by the lateness of crops of cotton and sugar, although the crops of both will be a good deal larger than last year.

The writer estimates the cotton crop of this year to be about 4,000,000 bales. He says that from the reports received by him and the subject of cotton and sugar raising, writes to an official here that a good deal of inconvenience and loss to trade will be occasioned by the lateness of crops of cotton and sugar, although the crops of both will be a good deal larger than last year.

The writer estimates the cotton crop of this year to be about 4,000,000 bales. He says that from the reports received by him and the subject of cotton and sugar raising, writes to an official here that a good deal of inconvenience and loss to trade will be occasioned by the lateness of crops of cotton and sugar, although the crops of both will be a good deal larger than last year.

The writer estimates the cotton crop of this year to be about 4,000,000 bales. He says that from the reports received by him and the subject of cotton and sugar raising, writes to an official here that a good deal of inconvenience and loss to trade will be occasioned by the lateness of crops of cotton and sugar, although the crops of both will be a good deal larger than last year.

Bourbon Liberty.

FRANKLIN, La., October 14, 1876.

The recorder of St. Mary parish, Mr. J. G. Parkerson, and the clerk of court, Daniel B. Allison, some time since issued a circular to the recorders and clerks of courts throughout the State, requesting them to meet in New Orleans in December, with a view of taking the necessary steps looking to the revision of the present fee bill by the Legislature; they claiming that the bill, as it now stands, is unjust and discriminating in its clauses. Whether their objections are well founded or not is a matter of no consequence, it being a subject for the consideration of the legislative and executive departments of the State. This circular was seized upon by the Breasler News as a pretext for an aggravated assault upon the gentlemen named, in which their motives were impugned, and both themselves and the Legislature subjected to scurrilous abuse. The News is yet a youngling in the field of journalism, and its proprietor and ostensible editor a raw recruit in the ranks of the Democracy, anxious to be received in full fellowship, and to be classed as the "goblet among them all." Here was the coveted opportunity, but Merchant's skin had not attained that chincorose-like thickness so soon obtained by some journalists, and he refused to father the delectable article. It was finally traced to Colonel A. L. Tucker, of this place, who courageously acknowledged its authorship.

Mr. Parkerson wrote a prompt reply, which he forwarded to the News, naturally supposing that if that paper was simply working in the cause of justice it would hesitatingly present both sides of the question. But if Merchant displayed any squeamishness regarding the authorship of the article, he made ample amends by the promptness with which he refused Mr. Parkerson a hearing. He declared, however, that the article was not intended as a personal assault on Mr. Parkerson, whom he acknowledged was "an efficient officer and a genial gentleman." Here occurs a slight discrepancy. Tucker, with the consent of Merchant, asserts that Messrs. Parkerson and Allison are a "worthy pair," deserving of a "brazen statue at the hands of their fellow-leeches;" intimates that they mean to bribe the Legislature, and derisively speaks of them as "noble characters" and "disinterested patriots," who "clamor for an increase of pay, though the unfortunate people on whom the exaction is levied go without bread and their children are starving." These are the attributes of a gentleman, according to the opinions of Messrs. Merchant and Tucker. Verily, our judgment is often warped by prejudice, and prejudice strengthened by our associations, and these views speak ill for the associates of the gentlemanly (3) editors, ostensible and real, of the News.

In legal jurisprudence when there is a question of veracity it is customary to analyze the past lives of the conflicting witnesses, in order to ascertain which is most worthy of credence. This will add good in the present instance. Mr. Parkerson shouldered the burden of defense of the Confederacy, and did all a brave man could do in aid of what proved a false theory. He accepted the situation at the close of the war, and has since acted with the Republicans. During his whole life he has always been regarded as an upright, conscientious man. Colonel Tucker fought a brave fight, in the House of Representatives, and when Banks invaded the Red river country, made a gallant stand—in Texas. He accuses Messrs. Parkerson and Allison of a desire to increase their salaries, but fails to add that as mayor of Franklin, he did the same thing, or that through his efforts attorneys' fees were made a first priority against the property of the client, whereby he, as one of the legal fraternity, was benefited. Evidently the Colfax has not for his motto the old and homely adage of "people who live in glass houses," etc.

THE FIRST SUGAR FROM ATTAKAPAS. On the seventh of this month the steamer brought to this place the first load of sugar and two half barrels of molasses made in the Attakapas parishes this year, and we believe throughout the State. It was made by Messrs. E. M. H. H. and J. H. H. of Indian Bend, and was shipped to Robert Hare, sugar factor, New Orleans. The sugar was made by the Escuderie process, classified as No. 1, and weighed eleven casks, and the molasses classed prime and sold for ninety cents per gallon. The Messrs. Hare are both experienced and very successful planters. They own a small plantation, in which they make good crops every year, and have managed so well as to be above want, and are entirely out of the clutches of the merchants of New Orleans.

IN 1872 they shipped the first sugar of the season, but it was a week later than the present shipment. The cause used in making this sugar was the fact that the steamer was satisfactory, being about a headlong to the apt—Brashear News.

SPECIAL NOTICES. Notice.—New Orleans, October 17, 1873.—After SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, the steamer will be in our respective roads must be paid in full with currency. We are anxious to this time close all our connecting roads refusing to receive any more of our business, and by the urgent wants of our employees. Superintendent New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Railroad. E. D. FROST.

General Manager New Orleans and Great Northern Railroad. Notice.—Northern Bank, New Orleans, July 12, 1873.—Notice is hereby given that the undredged notes issued by this bank, which have been presented for payment within one year from the first publication of this notice, at the office of the Auditor of this bank, at New Orleans, Louisiana, are hereby notified to make their checks PAYABLE THROUGH THE BANK OF NEW ORLEANS, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 11 A. M.

Notice.—New Orleans Clearing House, September 26, 1873.—Whereas, the certification of checks issued by this clearing house, which have been presented for payment within one year from the first publication of this notice, at the office of the Auditor of this clearing house, at New Orleans, Louisiana, are hereby notified to make their checks PAYABLE THROUGH THE BANK OF NEW ORLEANS, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 11 A. M.

Notice.—New Orleans Clearing House, September 26, 1873.—Whereas, the certification of checks issued by this clearing house, which have been presented for payment within one year from the first publication of this notice, at the office of the Auditor of this clearing house, at New Orleans, Louisiana, are hereby notified to make their checks PAYABLE THROUGH THE BANK OF NEW ORLEANS, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 11 A. M.

Notice.—New Orleans Clearing House, September 26, 1873.—Whereas, the certification of checks issued by this clearing house, which have been presented for payment within one year from the first publication of this notice, at the office of the Auditor of this clearing house, at New Orleans, Louisiana, are hereby notified to make their checks PAYABLE THROUGH THE BANK OF NEW ORLEANS, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 11 A. M.

Notice.—New Orleans Clearing House, September 26, 1873.—Whereas, the certification of checks issued by this clearing house, which have been presented for payment within one year from the first publication of this notice, at the office of the Auditor of this clearing house, at New Orleans, Louisiana, are hereby notified to make their checks PAYABLE THROUGH THE BANK OF NEW ORLEANS, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 11 A. M.

Notice.—New Orleans Clearing House, September 26, 1873.—Whereas, the certification of checks issued by this clearing house, which have been presented for payment within one year from the first publication of this notice, at the office of the Auditor of this clearing house, at New Orleans, Louisiana, are hereby notified to make their checks PAYABLE THROUGH THE BANK OF NEW ORLEANS, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 11 A. M.

Notice.—New Orleans Clearing House, September 26, 1873.—Whereas, the certification of checks issued by this clearing house, which have been presented for payment within one year from the first publication of this notice, at the office of the Auditor of this clearing house, at New Orleans, Louisiana, are hereby notified to make their checks PAYABLE THROUGH THE BANK OF NEW ORLEANS, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 11 A. M.

AUCTION SALES.

BY C. E. GIRARDEY, AUCTIONEER.—Office No. 178 Exchange street, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants and Auctioneers Exchange, on the premises of the late J. B. Wagon, a quantity of large invoices of Kentucky and Indiana Sugar, which will be sold on the above named date without limit. C. E. GIRARDEY, Auctioneer.

BY C. E. GIRARDEY, AUCTIONEER.—Office No. 178 Exchange street, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants and Auctioneers Exchange, on the premises of the late J. B. Wagon, a quantity of large invoices of Kentucky and Indiana Sugar, which will be sold on the above named date without limit. C. E. GIRARDEY, Auctioneer.

BY C. E. GIRARDEY, AUCTIONEER.—Office No. 178 Exchange street, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants and Auctioneers Exchange, on the premises of the late J. B. Wagon, a quantity of large invoices of Kentucky and Indiana Sugar, which will be sold on the above named date without limit. C. E. GIRARDEY, Auctioneer.

BY C. E. GIRARDEY, AUCTIONEER.—Office No. 178 Exchange street, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants and Auctioneers Exchange, on the premises of the late J. B. Wagon, a quantity of large invoices of Kentucky and Indiana Sugar, which will be sold on the above named date without limit. C. E. GIRARDEY, Auctioneer.

BY C. E. GIRARDEY, AUCTIONEER.—Office No. 178 Exchange street, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants and Auctioneers Exchange, on the premises of the late J. B. Wagon, a quantity of large invoices of Kentucky and Indiana Sugar, which will be sold on the above named date without limit. C. E. GIRARDEY, Auctioneer.

BY C. E. GIRARDEY, AUCTIONEER.—Office No. 178 Exchange street, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants and Auctioneers Exchange, on the premises of the late J. B. Wagon, a quantity of large invoices of Kentucky and Indiana Sugar, which will be sold on the above named date without limit. C. E. GIRARDEY, Auctioneer.

BY C. E. GIRARDEY, AUCTIONEER.—Office No. 178 Exchange street, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants and Auctioneers Exchange, on the premises of the late J. B. Wagon, a quantity of large invoices of Kentucky and Indiana Sugar, which will be sold on the above named date without limit. C. E. GIRARDEY, Auctioneer.

BY C. E. GIRARDEY, AUCTIONEER.—Office No. 178 Exchange street, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants and Auctioneers Exchange, on the premises of the late J. B. Wagon, a quantity of large invoices of Kentucky and Indiana Sugar, which will be sold on the above named date without limit. C. E. GIRARDEY, Auctioneer.

BY C. E. GIRARDEY, AUCTIONEER.—Office No. 178 Exchange street, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants and Auctioneers Exchange, on the premises of the late J. B. Wagon, a quantity of large invoices of Kentucky and Indiana Sugar, which will be sold on the above named date without limit. C. E. GIRARDEY, Auctioneer.

BY C. E. GIRARDEY, AUCTIONEER.—Office No. 178 Exchange street, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants and Auctioneers Exchange, on the premises of the late J. B. Wagon, a quantity of large invoices of Kentucky and Indiana Sugar, which will be sold on the above named date without limit. C. E. GIRARDEY, Auctioneer.

BY C. E. GIRARDEY, AUCTIONEER.—Office No. 178 Exchange street, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants and Auctioneers Exchange, on the premises of the late J. B. Wagon, a quantity of large invoices of Kentucky and Indiana Sugar, which will be sold on the above named date without limit. C. E. GIRARDEY, Auctioneer.

BY C. E. GIRARDEY, AUCTIONEER.—Office No. 178 Exchange street, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants and Auctioneers Exchange, on the premises of the late J. B. Wagon, a quantity of large invoices of Kentucky and Indiana Sugar, which will be sold on the above named date without limit. C. E. GIRARDEY, Auctioneer.

BY C. E. GIRARDEY, AUCTIONEER.—Office No. 178 Exchange street, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants and Auctioneers Exchange, on the premises of the late J. B. Wagon, a quantity of large invoices of Kentucky and Indiana Sugar, which will be sold on the above named date without limit. C. E. GIRARDEY, Auctioneer.

BY C. E. GIRARDEY, AUCTIONEER.—Office No. 178 Exchange street, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1873, at 12 o'clock, at the Merchants and Auctioneers Exchange, on the premises of the late J. B. Wagon, a quantity of large invoices of Kentucky and Indiana Sugar, which will be sold on the above named date without limit. C. E. GIRARDEY, Auctioneer.