Something must have disagreed with the digestion of the Bulletin yesterday. In the court column it comments on the effect of the well known and deserved popularity of Judge Cullem in crowding his docket with cases.

On the editorial page appears an article on "Partisan Judges," which is claimed to have been suggested by the decision in the challenge to the array of jurors in the case of Getworth vs. Teutonia Insurance Company. We believe a second reading of that decision will convince the Bulletin that there is nothing in it to warrant such an article. We presume what the Bulletin misinterprets is the reason assigned for ordering Sheriff Savinnet to make a list in December. There is nothing in this remark of a partisan nature, but certainly made are to be considered in determining whether it is sufficient under the law to answer the present requirements.

It is true the suit was a petition of white people against a corporation, and negroes had nothing to do with the question between them. But when the defendant's counsel seek to make a point under the law which first admitted negroes to the jury box, a reference to them is neither inapposite nor does it turn a decision into a "harangue." Judge Cullem's opinion may be erroneous, but that of the Bulletin is the only adverse authority so far, and we rely confidently on the result of his study and experience. We have, also, such faith in the good sense of the fledgling of Gravier street as to believe, as we first suggested, that abdominal and not cerebral excitement produced the article.

Irregular Proceedings in Behalf of the Grant Parish Prisoners.

A committee, composed of Messrs. J. P. B. Wilmer, bishop of Louisiana, W. B. Schmidt, L. J. Webster, John Phelps, Am. Fortier, Jules Taves and I. N. Marks presented a petition to Judge Woods in chambers yesterday.

It details how they supposed the jury voted; that the prisoners did not gather their crops last year, and would be unable to plant them unless released; that their families will suffer; that the accused did not avoid arrest, and if bailed will not run away.

Judge Woods simply stated he was compelled to refuse to admit to bail, but that if any delay in the case postponed its trial beyond the second Monday of May, he should admit to bail.

The petition is signed by N. J. Perche, archbishop of New Orleans; J. P. B. Wilmer, bishop of Louisiana; Linnus Parker, presiding elder Methodist Episcopal Church South; Rev. James K. Gaudin, minister Temple Sinai; B. M. Palmer, pastor First Presbyterian Church, New Orleans; W. T. Leacock, pastor Christ Church; A. J. Witherspoon, city missionary; B. J. Casey, Sam Boyd, A. M. Holbrook, John F. West, George Jonas, Hugh McCloskey, F. O. Trepagnier, Louis A. Wiltz, B. M. Turnbull, P. Fourchy, James A. Fodick, E. P. Rashed, C. Hunt, James M. Walsh, John G. Fleming, and 350 others.

The absence of the signatures of any of the counsel of the accused is noticed.

School Matters.

Yesterday the exercises at the Girls' High School were varied by recitations as follows: Miss Jordan recited "Rienzi's Address to the Romans;" Miss Durbridge recited "Lady Clare;" Miss De Castro, "The Crippled Boy;" Miss Deady, "Passing Away;" and Miss M. E. Spearing, "The Polish Boy." Several members of the school board were present and quite a number of visitors, who congratulated Mrs. McDonald, her assistants and pupils on the fine condition and progress made in the school.

Superintendents Brown and Boothby yesterday visited the public schools in Carrollton, lately annexed to the city and coming within the jurisdiction of the city school board. There are now three schools in that portion of the city, one of which, a normal school, it is proposed to continue as a high school. The schools visited were found to be in a fair condition, though the schoolhouses are in need of immediate repairs.

Owing to some delay in settling the accounts of the sheriff with the treasurer of the school board the teachers will not be paid to-day, as was proposed. Next Saturday, however, the rolls for October will be cashed, and there seems to be no doubt but payments will continue to be made twice a month thereafter, until all arrearages are settled.

Since it has become known that a few new appointments are to be made on the school board on the first of the month, quite a number of candidates have presented themselves. Under the new school law the directors will not have so easy a time of it as they have had in the past. The new law requires them to visit the schools regularly every month, and it is clearly not the intention of the State board to elect any members who will fail in their duty. The State board has a wide field from which to make selections, and it is evident that volunteer candidates will have no preference.

Mrs. Van Cott's Meetings. The wonderful success attending the labors of Mrs. Van Cott's meetings in Ames Church continues unabated. The large audience room is thronged every night. Meeting is held every day at twelve o'clock. Up to this time a large number have been converted, and scores have been and are seeking Christ. Mrs. Van Cott is a woman of remarkable power, and is thoroughly inspired for her work. The good influence of the meetings is extending to other churches, and we understand revival meetings have begun elsewhere. To-day the noon meeting will no doubt be largely attended, as our public school teachers will be at liberty to attend. We understand they are specially invited. To-night Mrs. Van Cott has a meeting for men exclusively, in the main room of the church, commencing at half-past seven, and there will be a meeting exclusively for ladies in the Sunday school room.

Services will be held to-morrow at the regular hours, and during next week, day and evening.

The Water on the Bar.

A dispatch received on Thursday, from Captain C. H. Elwell, master of the Essayons, by Major Howell, states that the depth of water in the channel at Pass-a-l'Outre at extreme low tide was sixteen and a half feet; at high tide, same day, eighteen and a half feet. The width of the channel at its narrowest point at extreme low tide, for full depth reported above, was stated at forty feet.

To-day, at the matinee, will be presented the grand opera, "La Favorite." Messrs. Gurgandy, Devoyot, Magan and Feitinger will appear, as will also Mlle. Desain. This evening the one act opera, "Les Noces de Jeannette," will be given, followed by the popular burlesque, "La Fille de Mme. Angot."

The schooner George H. Mills, Captain Tillotson, which arrived at Providence March 21, from New Orleans, had heavy weather during most of the voyage. On the eighth instant, between the Belize and Tortugas, she encountered a heavy gale from the north, during which she was compelled to throw overboard a portion of her cotton seed.

The General Howard Inquiry. The readers of the Chronicle will have observed from a perusal of the testimony taken before the committee on the charges against General O. O. Howard, that no fraud, corruption or defalcation has been proven against him in person. The court has, up to Monday, been inquiring into his legal responsibility for the acts and failures of his subordinates. The accounting officers of the treasury have testified that General Howard's accounts for personal disbursements have been fully settled and balanced. But it is still doubtful whether the law authorizing the appointment of a committee of inquiry into the charges against Howard is still in force, and whether the law authorizing the appointment of a committee of inquiry into the charges against Howard is still in force.

Conduct at Large. The following is a list of naval cadets at large appointed by the President:

John G. Quimby, of New York, son of General Quimby, United States Army; Spencer Middle, of Pennsylvania, a grandson of General Middle, of the same army; George A. New York, son of General Hillier; George A. R. Probie, son of Captain George H. Probie, United States Army; Percival Drayton, son of General Drayton, United States Army; William J. Maxwell, son of Medical Director Maxwell, United States Army; J. M. Cunningham, of Illinois; William White, of the Soldiers' Orphan Home, Normal, Illinois; F. H. Dier, son of Commodore Dier, United States Navy; C. C. Conkner, of Virginia, son of Colonel Cook, United States Army.

The Levee Company and the Levees. The Madison Journal makes the following pertinent suggestions:

Speaking of the crevasse at Bass, it does seem to us that somebody has been unparadoxically negligent. How a four foot levee, with not more than two feet of water against it, within a few hundred yards of the levee Company's force of eighty or one hundred hands, should be permitted to break, we can not say. It is a pity, however, that General M. Jeff Thompson, of Duncan F. Kenner's Levee Company can explain satisfactorily to the Legislature and retain their mortgage of three mills on the dollar of all the taxable property of the State of Louisiana.

House Breaking. On last Saturday night the residence of Colonel John McHenry was entered—no one living on the premises at present—and some blankets, quilts and pillows carried off. The thief also carried a marble top table and a heavy iron safe, and a trunk containing put them away in a stable on the premises, doubtless to enable him to come back at some other time and carry them off. Dave Wood was arrested on suspicion Sunday morning and confessed to having taken the things. Dave only returned from Baton Rouge a short time ago, and doubtless will be sent to the State some more service.—Monroe Intelligencer.

More New Cardinals. The Pope, it is said, has intimated that at the next Consistory, Archbishop Manning and nine other archbishops will be created cardinals. The sacred college is gradually being filled up. The Roman curia are doing their work cautiously, but, no doubt, from their own point of view, effectively. All things are being well arranged for the next papal election. Bismarck thinks that the Pope is the only man in Europe who could at the present moment give cause for a European war. Who is to be the next Pope, and what is to be his policy, are to many persons questions of much greater importance than whether or not the present Pope could or would make a European war. He is the next Pope to be an Englishman.—New York Herald.

New Internal Revenue Decision. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue addressed a circular letter to all collectors of internal revenue, calling their attention to a recent decision of the Supreme Court, in which it is held that the government may bring an action for the recovery of taxes, not only such as are assessed, but also of those which are not assessed, and likewise of those which on account of the statute of limitations, are not assessable.

The commissioner says: "I desire that you will exercise yourself to discover all cases in your districts where any taxes can not now be assessed owing to the limitation of section twenty, act of June 30, 1864, amended, and section five, act of March 2, 1867, which is a waiver of those limitations by the taxpayer. In all these cases you will notify the delinquents that if they make a written waiver of their legal rights, in these matters, across the face of their returns, the taxes will be assessed without penalty; but in cases where the delinquents neglect or refuse to do so, the government will resort to the facts to the proper United States district attorney, referring to him at the same time the terms of the above mentioned decision of the Supreme Court. In view of the importance of action in this matter, collectors are urged to prompt action."
