

AMUSEMENTS.

NEWELL'S ACADEMY OF MUSIC. MISS LILLIE ELDREDGE. MISS LILLIE ELDREDGE.

CHARLES THEATRE. BEN DE BAIL. FOR ONE WEEK ONLY.

THEATRE. FRENCH OPERA BOUFFE. TWO PERFORMANCES TO-DAY.

THEATRE. LA JOLIE PARFUMEUSE. LA JOLIE PARFUMEUSE.

(Special correspondence of the Republic.)

NORTHERN POLITICS.

New England and the Protestant Cause. New England in the next Presidential Election—Will she be found on the side of the Cause of Humanity?

First—For the Evangelical Protest: and Second—For the republican idea of popular self-government.

Third—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Fourth—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Fifth—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Sixth—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Seventh—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Eighth—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Ninth—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Tenth—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Eleventh—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Twelfth—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Thirteenth—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Fourteenth—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Fifteenth—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Sixteenth—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Seventeenth—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Eighteenth—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Nineteenth—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Twentieth—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Twenty-first—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Twenty-second—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Twenty-third—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Twenty-fourth—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Twenty-fifth—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Twenty-sixth—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Twenty-seventh—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

Twenty-eighth—For the cause of the political brotherhood of man.

A Republican Protest in North Carolina.

The Wilmington Post of November 12, contains a protest of the Republican delegates to the constitutional convention against the action of the revolutionary majority of that body, which sets forth:

1. That the convention was called without the wish of the people and in opposition to their will, the voters having previously declared their opposition to change in the fundamental law.

2. That the voters have declared against the convention, and that the minority in it represents a majority of at least six thousand of the voters.

3. That it is not entirely composed of delegates of the people, three seats being unlawfully held.

4. That the will of the majority of the voters of Robeson county has been defeated by unlawful rejection of four townships by the Democratic commissioners and sheriff.

5. That the members from Robeson county are allowed to retain their seats against the protest of the minority, voting in their own interest.

6. That the convention is used as a party machine, and measures forced without protest of deliberation.

7. That every act has been in defiance and subversion of the will of the people.

8. That it is obliterating the lines that mark the jurisdiction of the various courts, incurring the necessity of a multiplicity of tribunals, uncertainty in the people as to their rights, and another long and tedious litigation to settle the jurisdiction.

9. That the justice of the peace are abolished, leaving the Legislatures to create other courts in their stead.

10. Protests against the election of inferior judges by the Legislature.

11. That one system of justice is established in one county and a different one in another.

12. Protests against abolishing courts of probate, the simplest, cheapest, and most expeditious method of dispatching business ever invented.

13. Protests against different systems of county government.

14. Protests against the Legislature having the power to abolish the township system, deeming it an institution peculiarly essential to a State, one-third of whose voters were slaves and three-fifths of whose voters can not read the ballot which they cast.

15. Protests against leaving to the Legislature what should be done by the convention.

16. Protests against the abolition of the office of Lieutenant Governor, and giving its functions to a president of the Senate, elected by that body, as simply a scheme to elect an infamous gerrymandered State to elect a Democratic Governor, when a majority of the State would have decided otherwise.

Lastly, they protest against the constitutional spirit and action of the convention.

The protest is signed by forty-nine members.

The Circus.

A circus is the people's entertainment. It is democratic, taking in the poor and rich, ignorant and learned.

At the circus the laborer with his clogs and blouse is as good as the aristocrat in evening dress.

The language of the arena is universal, coming to the minds of men through their eyes, and to children as well as the aged.

A good circus is sure to draw its crowd. Howes' London Circus and Sanger's menagerie must be called a good show, for last night the big oxen was filled with well-to-do people.

In order to obtain a lot of sufficient size, the proprietors were obliged to locate their show as far out as Kolchaba street, but the circus patrons found the place and were made happy.

The performances in the ring were all good, and the Indian troupe was a novelty. The menagerie department is perhaps the largest and most complete ever brought to New Orleans, with animals enough to stock three good shows.

The exhibitions will continue to-day and tomorrow, noon and night.

Court Items.

In the Supreme Court the argument on the intervention of Williams & Guion will probably be finished to-day.

The case of Monaco vs. Dabnet will be argued to-day.

Report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has completed his report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1875. The document is voluminous. The commissioner says it may be some consolation to know that the revenue laws, the British public, unburdened by one-fourth of our own people, paid under their excise laws during the year ending March 31, 1875, $28,000,000.

The collections for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1875, $110,545,154. The increase during the last fiscal year is owing in part to the increase of the duties paid by the revenue laws.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The number of distilleries registered during the year was 4736, and the number operated 4608. Of the number operated, 550 were in the State of North Carolina, 2943 in other States.

The Stone Wall Statue a British Blunder.

'J. S. W.' the well known London correspondent of the New York Tribune, writes as follows to that paper under date of October 30:

A brief cable dispatch to the Times of Thursday announced the unveiling of the Stone Wall Statue at Richmond. The announcement is described as imposing, the demonstration the greatest ever seen there, the city decorated, 'the British colors being prominent.' The announcement has a certain sensation; not altogether of an agreeable kind.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Whether the South may do—the whole country will spring from a gift from England honor of a man who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South, and who has done so much for the cause of the South.

Gubernatorial Probabilities.

'General Observer,' the well-informed New Orleans correspondent of the Donald, writes as follows to that paper under date of October 30:

A strong inducement in our local politics is the movement of aspirants and their friends for gubernatorial honors in 1876. Several individuals are announced as the 'coming man.' For long it remains a quiet undercurrent producing little or no jar or collision of opposing forces, it is well enough; but if the pretensions of a candidate would be leaders should develop a war of factions, it will be broken among themselves.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service. It is not best time to make pledges for candidates to be elected a year hence; but it is eminently wise to discuss the qualifications of all candidates.

Repugnance should be among themselves the fitness of the men who are named in this connection, and be prepared to negative the pretensions of those who are ever ready to magnify the weight of their influence or party service