TESTING HOSE RELIEF AND STOP VALVES.—Three steam fire engines were on Canal street yesterday to experiment or test the merits of three kinds of hose relief and stop valves. The engines were Volunteer No. 1, Cecile No. 3, and Louisiana No. 2. The steamers each had a water pressure of sixty pounds on their hose, with seventy or eighty pounds of steam. The trial was superintended by Chief Engineer O'Connor, attended by a number of friends, all well known firemen, and members of the Board of Underwriters. When all was in readiness the chief gave a signal to start, but something was wrong with No. 3's machinery, and she withdrew. The other two engines started in finely, first testing stop nozzles, No. 1 using the invention of Mr. J. T. Condon. The spray nozzles were then tried, but Louisiana hose became disordered, and the trial was then postponed. Volunteer appeared to work the most satisfactorily to those interested. By using these patents, firemen when entering a burning building, are enabled to stop the flow of water from the nozzle, in case they do not wish to throw a stream. As this trial was not satisfactory, each of the improvements will be tested again shortly.

FIRE IN THE FOURTH DISTRICT.—About a quarter past one o'clock, Thursday morning, a fire broke out in the rear of the double two-story frame house No. 34 Second, between Baronne and Dryades streets, owned by P. J. Sanders, and one-half occupied by P. J. Sanders, as a barber shop and dwelling, the other half vacant. The building, which was entirely destroyed, is said to have been covered by insurance. Mr. Sanders was insured in the Firemen's Insurance Company for $600. The fire was discovered by Officer Pons who turned in the alarm from No. 21, corner St. Charles and First streets. The cause of the fire was not ascertained. Loss about $3000.

GOOD.—Joseph Donahue was arrested last night at the corner of Royal and Customhouse streets by Mr. John L. Barringer, who charged him with obtaining money under false pretense. The cause of the arrest was the selling of copies of the following bogus slip of paper for five cents:

EXTRA-LATEST DISPATCHES FROM WASHINGTON.—Senator West to the front—he cast his vote against Pinchback's admission.

A terrible row in the Radical camp. Kellogg's impudent certainty. Antoine hands in his resignation. Grant says the Radicals in Louisiana must take care of themselves.

Mr. Barringer, as general in chief of his department in the Bulletin office, naturally resented this imposition on the public, as every reporter as good as he is would, and made the arrest on sight.

POISONED.—On Wednesday two ladies named Mrs. Marie Louise Vincent and Mrs. H. B. Myer, both aged seventy-two years, residing on Morales, between Spain and Mandeville streets, while cooking their dinner mistook poison for cooking salt. This they put in the dish of tripe which they partook freely, when they were suddenly taken sick and died yesterday morning. Coroner DeBlanc and Dr. Schumacher held the inquest. The intestines were sent to Dr. Henry E. Turpin, chemist, to be analyzed.

STREAK THIEVES.—About half-past seven o'clock last night three gold watches, valued at $325, were stolen from the show window of Mr. Auguste Baumann's jewelry store, at the corner of Poydras and Annunciation streets, by three young men, who the proprietor saw standing on the outside. One of them rolled his hat around his hand and broke the window, snatched up the three watches and made his escape.

A NEW REPUBLICAN CLUB.—There was a large and enthusiastic meeting held last night in Exchange alley, for the purpose of organizing a Republican club under the name of the Young Men's Centennial Republican Club. The following officers were elected: President, G. R. Gathe; first vice president, W. Seelhorst, second vice president, John Kueck; secretary, W. Delaney; treasurer, Frank Otto; sergeant-at-arms, J. J. McCann.

There being no further business the club adjourned to meet next Tuesday, at 7:30 P. M.

BRIEF MENTION.—The inquest in the case of J. C. Costley, Jr., will be held this morning at ten o'clock. Coroner Chastant intended to hold the inquest yesterday, but circumstances prevented. T. J. Newhouse, as principal, and his brother Adolphe, as accessory before and after the fact, were committed to prison by Judge Terbonne, of the Fourth Municipal Police Court, for the killing of Costley.

He must have been terribly hard-up, the blooming fellow who snatched a shawl off of the shoulders of Mrs. Fisher as she was walking near the corner of Camp and St. Mary streets yesterday morning. As soon as she became aware that somebody was robbing her, she turned and saw a man running away. Other persons noticed the transaction and chased the miscreant, but he proved too fast a runner for all, and escaped.

There are desperate men at large in our city just now—men who are willing to risk their liberty and lives for a few dollars. Three of the tribe were in a Teohupitoulas street car Wednesday night, and two of them attempted to get up an argument with the driver on the front platform, but he suspected that there was a little job in the affair, therefore kept one eye on the inside man. The rascal was trying to break the fare box, and as soon as the driver discovered the situation he blew a police whistle, which frightened the freebooters off.

One of the fellows who stole half a dozen new shirts from a store on Royal street is named Patrick Kelly, who is now located in the Parish Prison, Special Officer Stalberger having captured him.

Bobby Simpson had no money of his own, which made him covet his neighbor's wealth—that of Mrs. Dupassier, corner of Gaucquet and Liberty streets. He saw the woman deposit some currency in her store till, and when her back was turned a second he dove into the drawer just in time to be caught in the act.

On the way to the fire Thursday morning the engine of Washington No. 20 broke down on Carondelet, near First street, and was badly damaged.

Officers Adams and Fenne yesterday morning found a coil of rope and a snatch block on Teohupitoulas, near Thalia street, and carried the same to the second police stationhouse.

Edward Johnson and William Kelly always get redheaded when they meet at the corner of Louisiana avenue and Chipewake streets, and on the last meeting Kelly got out second best; indeed, Johnson pounded him as if he were patty. The assailant was arrested.

West Feliciana Finances. NEW ORLEANS, February 17, 1876. EDITOR REPUBLICAN: To show this morning's Democrat that Dr. E. Ryland, of West Feliciana, attempts to bring the charges made by me against the police jury of said parish, have no foundation in truth, I propose to set the false position in which Dr. Ryland has placed himself, by using his own words.

On two separate occasions Dr. Ryland informed me that while a member of the police jury it came to his personal knowledge that the parish auditor was issuing large amounts of parish warrants, without the least evidence being furnished thereof. One instance the doctor cited, where Benjamin Lavergne, jailor, had received $500, and the other Dr. Ryland cited, where the auditor of said parish had furnished any proof of the validity of his claim, and that he had been assented in the negative. Now, what I did charge I repeat, that a member of the police jury, Dr. Ryland, failed to discharge his duty toward the people of West Feliciana, in this: That he permitted claims to be audited which he knew to be fraudulent, and which, according to the law, should have been audited before warrants were issued for the same. Dr. Ryland, as a member of the police jury, being in possession of all these facts, should have sought to prevent the issue of the warrants, or explained of the records of the police jury proceedings do not show that Dr. Ryland ever uttered one word against this mode of proceeding.

Dr. Ryland, who is a highly honorable gentleman, I will state that his intention, I have no doubt, was not to countenance any irregularity on the part of any officer, but to show that the police jury were responsible for the errors of Dr. Ryland and some of his friends who responded to the call of the Republican administration, which only came in power in the early part of 1873, when a debt of $26,000 was already saddled on the parish of West Feliciana.

How Hambleton was Appointed. A Washington special to the New York Tribune says: Now that Dr. Hambleton, clerk of Mr. Morrison's committee, has resigned, and his resignation has been accepted, a great deal of inquiry is being made as to how he was appointed. It seems that Dr. Hambleton was recommended by Speaker Kerr and ex-Congressman Beck of Kentucky. In the canvass which preceded the election of Mr. Morrison, Dr. Hambleton took a very active part in favor of Mr. Kerr, and is said to have influenced the votes of several Democratic members by representing Mr. Morrison to be in favor of the Texas Pacific interest. After the Ways and Means Committee was appointed, and at one of its early meetings, the resignation of its former clerk, Mr. Bennett, was recommended to him for the place, who was said to be fully competent to fill it. He had known him for some time, though not very intimately, but that if no objection was made he should appoint Dr. J. P. Hambleton to be clerk of the committee.

Mr. Hancock, of Texas, is reported to have said if this was the same Dr. Hambleton who had been several years about Washington, and was interested in large cotton claims; if so, he was generally regarded as a lobbyist by his friends, and that he understood Dr. Hambleton had formerly been interested in a claim, but that he no longer had anything to do with it. Mr. Hill, of Georgia, is said to have remarked that he would be pleased to have a Georgian appointed to the position; that he knew Dr. Hambleton, and if he could do it conscientiously, he would be very glad to recommend him, but he could not do so. General Garfield said that while he did not wish to interfere in the selection of a clerk by the committee, he would suggest that it would be very convenient for the members of the committee, and especially for its chairman, to appoint some one who was a shorthand writer, and who would be able to take testimony whenever an occasion arose, and to write from dictation anything which the chairman might wish to preserve. After this Mr. Morrison said that if no objection was made he would appoint Mr. Hambleton.

It is generally understood in Washington that Dr. Hambleton was appointed at the request of Mr. Kerr, and that while he was not selected by Mr. Morrison, the latter had not apparently courage enough to remove, though he appeared to the Scottish duke. In consequence of the above restrictions as to religion and royalty, the members of the reigning family of England have to look abroad for Protestant alliances. With the exception of two marriages, with a Danish and a Russian Princess, Germany has supplied Protestant bachelors and maidens. It has been recently reported that the late husband of the Princess Beatrice is "the Prince Louis of Battenberg, now in India with the Prince of Wales," and although the London Telegraph has contradicted this report, contradiction from such a source is not conclusive. We do not recollect that any such young gentleman was a member of the Prince's suite, or that he was mentioned among Murray's Hand Books, the Almanach de

Coke; and an old volume of German genealogy, we discovered, in Lippincott's Gazetteer, that there is a town called Battenberg in Hesse Darmstadt, with a population of 9500— a place so small that it is not even mentioned by Murray; and in an old volume of the Almanach de Gorka we found that a cadet of the Hesse-Darmstadt house had married, in 1841, Julie, Princess de Battenberg, daughter of the late Count de Hauke, and that Louis Alexandre, born in May, 1854, was the eldest of four sons thereof. This young man is probably the designated husband of the Princess Beatrice. It may be assumed that, whatever his descent, he is not overstocked with wealth; but this does not matter much, seeing that Parliament will provide a large annual allowance, that Victoria will give "the happy couple" a rent-free furnished palace, and that the Emperor Leopold, her Majesty's uncle, married the Princess Charlotte, then her apparent to the British crown, his worldly possessions consisted of an allowance of $1500 a year from his father, the Grand Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Saalfeld.
