Local Intelligence.

HOMICIDE IN THE COURTHOUSE.—At noon yesterday Etienne Carion was shot in the courthouse, Jackson square, and quarreled over a succession case in the Second District Court; in fact, it was a second edition of a controversy between the two persons, they only held over the same subject. It was yesterday generally believed among the friends of both parties that they were unarmed when the quarrel broke out, but that the men separated, and it was supposed that there would be no further trouble. Mr. Guinault stepped into one of the court rooms and Mr. Carion followed him. Immediately afterward Mr. Guinault stood in the large passage way talking to Mr. Walter Rogers and another gentleman, when it is said that Carion stepped between them and struck Mr. Guinault with an umbrella. They thereupon clinched, and a shot was fired by Guinault at close range. The contents of the pistol separated, and Guinault emptied his pistol at Carion, shooting quite deliberately. Three bullets entered the chest, and others on the hands and arms would have caused death. Carion died almost as soon as the firing ceased, and the body was sent to the police station near by. Officer Vanhoren appeared and immediately ordered the men to be taken to the morgue to prevent a collision, but his efforts were unavailing. However, he arrested Mr. Guinault and did not deny having done the shooting, and claims that before he drew his pistol he saw Carion have a dirk in one of his hands, and that shot was fired. Carion's pocket after death, and the cylinders were all loaded. Carion was a mulatto, about fifty-five years old, and owned some property in the succession of the Bouttes.

The affair created considerable excitement in and around the courthouse, and it was well known to the frequenters of that building.

TRouble IN COURT AND OUT OF IT.—Last Monday evening Judge Falls of the Seventh District Court, had some trouble with Charles Lemaitre, his half brother, and William Hollie. The last named was arrested by a court officer for disturbing the peace, but finally released after he furnished the required bond. Before Hollie was committed to prison Lemaitre acted rudely, for which he also was committed, but was soon released. Judge Falls and Lemaitre met Mr. Mandel, one of the court clerks, and knocked him down, and then pursued him to the courtroom. Judge Falls witnessed the action of the two men, and Lemaitre dared him to stop into the street.

Yesterday morning both accused were arraigned before the judge. While the court room Lemaitre was very excited and attempted to draw a revolver, intending to shoot the judge, but before he could get his weapon out several persons had hold of him and prevented him from doing so. Judge Falls rushed to his private room to secure a weapon, and was followed by one of his friends. The judge, not seeing who the person was and believing it to be his half brother, fired a shot and struck Mr. Mandel, missing Mr. Garry. By that time Lemaitre was secured and sent to prison, but Hollie escaped. On a former occasion Lemaitre attempted to shoot Judge Falls, but his pistol fortunately did not go off. The entire trouble, it is said, grew out of a family difficulty, the particulars of which have not been revealed. The affair of yesterday brought out the full force of the Ninth Street Market. It must be remembered that the seventh justice court has the powers of a Municipal Police Court, as well as its regular jurisdiction over criminal cases.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY COMMITTEE.—This body held a regular session last night, and it was understood for the purpose, at least in part, to settle some misunderstanding which seemed likely to cause a lively split. The doors were closed, but that individual had not to be at the adjournment. Mr. Carter, the president, gave out such portions of the proceedings as he was authorized to furnish.

THE HOWARD LEGION.—The residents of this ward in the district of them seem to have jumped headlong into the political arena. Outside of the clubs already in active operation, two more were formed last night, and two more are to be formed to-morrow night. The Howard Old Stop Guards—have their uniforms, and to parade to-morrow night in Lafayette square, at the ratification meeting. The two clubs are the Howard Old Stop Guards and the Howard Old Stop Guards—have their uniforms, and to parade to-morrow night in Lafayette square, at the ratification meeting. The two clubs are the Howard Old Stop Guards and the Howard Old Stop Guards—have their uniforms, and to parade to-morrow night in Lafayette square, at the ratification meeting.

PLENTY OF DEMOCRACY, BUT NO "REFORM."—Last night about 100 citizens of the sixth ward met at the corner of Bayou road and Tremé street for the purpose of organizing a sixth ward reform club in pursuance to a call signed by Messrs. M. Musson, W. A. Bell, and others. Mr. Bell called the meeting to order, and Mr. M. Musson was chosen secretary. After the calling of the roll the president handed the secretary a communication from himself stating that he was not in favor of the communication being made to its being received by several members. Some desired that the words "class" and "color" be inserted, so as not to exclude any one from being a member, while others thought it was time enough to think of that when the club was fully organized, and then they could look out for the colored Democrats. Mr. E. D. White objected to the adoption of the communication or resolution, as it would do the club more injury than good. After some more discussion by several members the communication was received.

The club then went into permanent organization, and after trying for some time to get some one to act as president, the club succeeded in coaxing Mr. Musson to accept the position, and he was elected by acclamation, together with Mr. J. P. Guinault as vice president. Mr. J. T. Meunier was then elected secretary by acclamation. There were some eight or ten members were nominated for the office of clerk, but at last they succeeded in getting Mr. Victor Vallou to accept the position. Mr. E. D. White then offered resolutions, endorsing the St. Bernard and Rodeo Platform and Tilden and Hendricks, and Nicholas and Wiltz, and calling the club the Tilden Democratic and Conservative Club of the Sixth Ward.

Mr. Bell moved that the word reform be added to the name of the club, which was unanimously objected to by Mr. White, who stated that to do the word would be to give the club a bad name, and that this club would be getting out of "line. The resolutions were finally adopted. After giving the president power to adjourn, the general committee the club adjourned.

WOMAN BEATING.—A difficulty occurred at the residence of a lady known as Girard, between Basin and Franklin streets, between Bill Nelson and May Hamilton, during which May was struck on the right side of the head by the male brute, resulting in a permanent injury to the spine, and perhaps permanently injuring her. Nelson made his escape.

Democrat's Conviction.—The case of the Democrat, ever since the existence of the Democratic party, that party has at no time changed in its aspects, aims and purposes, and the same to-day as it was yesterday, neither progressing nor retreating. Whether in the councils of the nation or in State or local affairs the same spirit manifests itself, always pretending, but never changing, to be a Confederate-Democratic or Representative clothed with brief authority, and then it becomes aggressive, insolent, proud, and arrogant, and then it becomes a rebel, profligate by turning out the nation's Union soldiers and turns its malignant hatred upon a Republican President for no other reason than having by superior military and naval ability, perseverance compelled the surrender of the adulated idol of rebellion, proving thereby the insincere professions of renewed loyalty to the government.

In the State nominating convention the same insincerity is practiced. While professing conservative doctrines, it spurs itself to elect a man who is known to be a traitor to the ticket for Governor, stultifying itself and insulting the mercantile community of Louisiana. It remains but to be seen whether the same conservatism will be shown in the selection of a man to the yoke their White League masters may choose to put thereon.

Their nominee for President quarrels and quarrels, and quarrels, and quarrels, and at last, with mock sincerity, publishes a letter of acceptance filled with abuse, slang phrases and vituperation of his opponents, ashamed of preventing facts of their own making from being forgotten, at the same time, that it was the same Democratic party, which, rebelling against the government, caused a bloody war, created the present national debt, and is now endeavoring to bring about a new era of slavery, and to the yoke their White League masters may choose to put thereon.

How Philadelphia Remembers her Chief Magistrate.—The portrait gallery of the mayors of Philadelphia from 1776 to 1876, now being arranged in the mayor's office, received an addition this afternoon from a picture of Joseph Watson, who was mayor in 1821 to 1823. This was painted by E. H. Hart from an original portrait by J. M. W. Turner. The picture is a full-length one, and is a very fine one. It is a full-length one, and is a very fine one.
