Kalamazoo's Leading Beauty Makes Serious Charges

AGAINST HER RICH HUSBAND

She Accuses Him of Infidelity and Cruelty, and Wants Alimony and Her Children.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., April 25.—A sensational divorce case has been commenced here by Mrs. Joseph Israel against her husband, in which she charges him with infidelity and cruelty, and asks for alimony and the custody of her two children.

SLEPT 38 DAYS

The Strange Case of Miss May White of Ingham, Mich.

JACKSON, Mich., April 25.—Miss May White, the 26-year-old daughter of Palmer White, of Ingham, has been sleeping since Sunday, June 21, 1891, just 308 days. At one time she weighed but fifty pounds. Before she was stricken down she weighed 126 pounds. The cause of her malady is a fall received while attending a business college in Ypsilanti in 1890. Her hip was injured and an abscess formed. She recovered from this and prepared to return to school again, when what is scientifically called hysterical epilepsy seized her, and on some days she had as many as fifty convulsions. The sleepy feeling then came over her, and she remained in that condition for twenty-six hours before she could be awakened at all. From a few moments at a time at first her waking hours have at last been lengthened to from six to sometimes ten hours per day. Last Saturday she sat up for the first time in almost two years. The doctor says he will try to wake her a well girl.

Lumbering Active on the Menominee.

MENOMINEE, Mich., April 25.—The season's lumbering operations are now fully inaugurated. All the mills on the river are running full crews, many of them night and day. Late rains have swollen the upper streams, and now logs in abundance are now being received into the driving booms. During the first two weeks 12,500,000 feet of lumber has been shipped by water from this port. Every thing points to the liveliest season for many years.

Five Deaths in One House.

DETROIT, April 25.—Scarlet fever has made terrible ravages in two families living in a small house at No. 225 Thirty-third street. In the front part of the house lives a family named Sucha. The disease carried off three children in one week in this family, and then spread to the family of Michael Furtak, who lived in the rear. Three days ago the mother of this family died and yesterday an 8-year-old daughter died. Furtak himself and two of his children are ill with the disease.

Want Local Option.

IOXIA, Mich., April 25.—The local option fever has struck Ionia county and petitions are being thick and fast among the voters for the proper number of autographs to make the thing a go. Not content with this and the raising of the liquor bonds in this city to the very highest notch allowed by law, the Ladies' Weekly Sewing Circle and News Dispensary has taken to agitating the closing of all tobacco and candy stores on Sunday.

Freight Agents Organize.

SAGINAW, Mich., April 25.—Saturday afternoon freight agents representing the several railroads centering in the Saginaw valley met in this city, and the result is a new organization, to be known as the Saginaw Valley Local Freight Agents' association. By this movement the freight agents of the Saginaw valley become members of the National Association of Freight Agents, which meets at Louisville, Ky., June 13, and at which it is expected the new organization will be represented.

Whisky Made Him Tired of Life.

SOUTH LYONS, Mich., April 25.—Jacob Schoaff, an aged German farmer, committed suicide last night by taking Paris green. He was a single man and made his home with a sister who lives about five miles east of this village. Dependancy, induced by the excessive use of liquor, was the cause.

Items of State News

Arthur W. Hurst of the Shepherd News, is dead. He was born at Germantown, Pa., a suburb of Philadelphia, February 29, 1855. He learned the printers' trade in the office of the Germantown Chronicle and afterwards worked for The News in the same town. Coming to Michigan he managed the Pawamo Plaindealer and subsequently the Bancroft Advertiser. His next task was the establishment of the Owosso News, and after selling that paper he went to the Owosso Saturday Night, leaving that sheet to take a reporter's beat on the Saginaw Courier. From Saginaw he went to Shepardsville, Ind., and established The News, which paper he was conducting at the time of his death.

Melvin Zavits, the fireman who was fatally injured in a collision on the Chicago & Grand Trunk road, near Elba, Saturday night, exhibited the most heroic courage. The wreckage and coal held fast his lower limbs and the steam from the boiler slowly cooked his chest and arms, but during the two hours that ensued before he was liberated he talked with those about him and drank what was given him. He died after being released, leaving a wife and three children.

No. 51, the first of four government lightships building at Wheeler & Co.'s yards at Bay City, was successfully launched Saturday. A spectator launched at the same moment, but escaped with a cold plunge. Government Inspector Hastings was thrown on the deck and falling he dislocated his left arm near the elbow, and also bruised his shoulder badly.

THE MODUS VIVENDI.

A Statement Regarding the Treaty Made in the House of Commons.

LONDON, April 25.—The house of commons resumed its session upon the expiration of the adjournment for the Easter holidays. In reply to a question asked by Mr. James Erice, the well-known parliamentary secretary of the foreign office, stated that a complete accord had been arrived at with the United States in regard to the Behring sea modus vivendi. The convention, he said, had been signed at Washington, but the terms of the convention had not yet reached England. Mr. Lowther added that the government was taking steps to consult Canada regarding the persons by whom Canada wishes to be represented in the arbitration. The names of the British arbitrators have not yet been decided upon.

THIRTY SOLDIERS DROWNED.

A French Vessel Used as a Troop Transport Goes to the Bottom.

PARIS, April 25.—Advices received from Tonquin are to the effect that the sloop Mesageries Fluviales, used as a troop transport, has gone down in the Clairhue river. Thirty soldiers and the captain were drowned. Fifteen men are said to have escaped. One account says that the sloop's boiler exploded and the vessel was burned; another that the vessel ran on a snag, which tore a hole in her bottom, and she sank. Both agree that she was unseaworthy and had been condemned by a French engineer.

LOST IN A SNOWSTORM.

Two Men Lost Their Way and Die in a Drift—One is Saved.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., April 25.—Three Mexicans left Pueblo on the 15th inst. for Thurlow's ranch, near Colon, where they were to have gone to work as herders. During the day it commenced to rain, completely saturating their clothing. The weather turned cold, turning the rain into snow, and the men lost the trail. Two of the men became so cold that they were unable to follow the horses with them and were left to perish. The third managed to keep pace with the animals, and they led him to a camp about daybreak. The next day a searching party found the two dead bodies of the missing men 12 miles from Thurlow's ranch. One of them was about 15 years old and the other a middle-aged man.
