

THEY FIX THE FEES

Schedule of Licenses Agreed Upon Last Night

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEES

General Routine Business Transacted by the Council Committee—Recommendations Made by Them.

The council committee on licenses met last night and prepared a schedule of miscellaneous license fees and considered the advisability of refusing several applications, but took no definite action.

Notion peddlers by this schedule will pay a license fee of $300 a year; berry peddlers, $2.50 a month; balloons, $5 a week; candy peddlers carrying stands, $25 a year; dry goods or draperies, $50 a year each; fish, $3 a year; fruit wagons, $40 a year; fruit stands, $50 a year; fruit baskets, $15 a year; fortune telling birds, $2.50 a week; accordions, $5.50 a week; brooms, $3 a year; blueing, $1.50 a year; blacking, $1.50 a year; cloth, $5 a week; corn medicine, $5 a week; embroidery, $5 a month; leather duster, $1 a month; groceries, $25 a year; handkerchiefs, $2.50 a week; ink, $1 for three months; images, $2.50 a week; ice cream stand, $1 a month; ice cream wagon, $5 for six months; jewelry $40 a month; knives, $3 a month; lemonade, $1 a month; lamp chimneys, $1.50 a month; lifting machines, $5 a month; microscopes, $3.50 per week; carry-uggs-round, $2 a week; moxie, $1 a month; medicine, $1.50 a week; museums $2 to $25 per week.

Medicine advertising, giving entertainments, etc., $5 to $25 per week; oil, $2 a year; oilcloth, $2 a month; prayer books, $2.50 a month; picture frames, $1.50 a week; potato peelers, $2 a week; photographs, $3 a week; plaster paris goods $3 a month; puzzles, $1 a week; perfumery, $3 a month; peanuts, etc., $1.50 a month; popcorn, $3 a year; pillow sham holders, $1.50 a month; pens and pencils, $3 a year; rags and tin, $3 a year; radio work, $2 a month; renovators, $3 a year; rugs, $2 a month; shirts, etc., $2 a month; soap, see notions; spices and extracts, see groceries; spectacles, $3 per month; shooting galleries, $1.50 a week; straw, $3 a year; suspenders, see notions; washing machines, $3 a week; sheet music, $1 a week; tooth powder, $2.50 a week; tea and coffee, $3 for three months; whistles, $3 a week.

Miscellaneous Committees. The ways and means committee received communications from the board of equalization and review, and will report in favor of allowing additional help to the board during the pressure of business.

The fire department committee decided to report favorably on the petition of the Telephone and Telegraph Construction company which desires to erect poles on Fairbanks street.

The committee on parks held an informal discussion on the petition for the commission on sewers decided to report favorably on the petition for a sewer in the alley between Ottawa and Iowa streets, from Newberry to Mason streets.

The committee on lamps acted upon minor matters only and received numerous petitions for lamps. The committee on streets discussed the petition for paving Ottawa street with asphalt from Louis to Pearl streets, and will probably report favorably.

Ten committees on sidewalks received half a dozen communications from property owners protesting against certain grades. They will make a personal inspection of the grades today.

HAS SUED THE SHERIFF

Another Outcome of the Owashtanong Trouble.

The affairs of the Owashtanong club continue to be expensive luxuries. Sheriff McQueen has had control of the club's property for several months and considerable expense has been incurred. The sheriff placed Constable Charles E. Morgan of East Grand Rapids in charge of the club house at Reed's lake. The constable wants his salary which he claims amounts to $190, and seeing no available source from which to get it, began suit in Justice DeWolf's court yesterday against Sheriff McQueen to recover the amount.

Writ of Garnishment Issued.

A declaration was filed with the clerk of the courts yesterday wherein the Benedict Furniture Clamp company of Chicago through its attorneys, Taggart & Dennison, bring suit against the Chicago Parlor Frame company, to recover the sum of $112.50 balance due on a note. A writ of garnishment was issued against Boltwood & Boltwood, who are said to have money and effects in their hands belonging to the defendants.

Sale of Property Ordered.

Judge Adair granted a decree in the case of the Fuller & Rice Lumber and Manufacturing company vs. Jacob Henn et al. in favor of claimant establishing a lien against certain property in Stewart's addition in this city, and authorizing the sale of the property to satisfy the amount due the claimant, which is $225.

Confessed the Theft.

Leonard, the Bridge Street House barman, had an examination before Judge Haggerty yesterday. The prisoner confessed his crime to several of the witnesses examined. After the testimony was in the case was adjourned over until next Monday, when the evidence will be read.

Police Court Notes.

Sarah Langley was charged with assault and battery on complaint of Letitia Marr, and a warrant was issued. Before the officer could make the arrest Mrs. Langley appeared at headquarters and demanded to know why a warrant was issued, waived the reading and demanded a jury trial.

Hyman Brown, Louis Sandler, Harry Newman and Philip Sherman, clothiers, who violated the Sunday agreement entered into by the Grand Rapids clothiers, appeared by their attorneys at the police court this morning and put in a plea of not guilty. The examination was set for May 19.

In a suit before the circuit court commissioner Reinhard Ross obtained a judgment against Henry Brock and received certain city property in payment. Ross is not satisfied and has filed an appeal.

E. K. Spafford was fined $3.85 by Judge Haggerty yesterday for being drunk.

Charles E. Judd has entered suit against Henry Hanson for the possession of property from which he claims he has been unlawfully ejected, and also asking damages to the amount of $1000.

Tony Gherki, up for assault and battery on a charge of his landlord, Nick Schenkhafen, who had asked for his back rent. Case adjourned until May 17.

Charles Burns, arrested for being drunk, paid $3.85 in police court yesterday.

Late Police Items.

Harry H. Dyer, charged with obtaining goods under false pretenses, was arrested yesterday on a telegram from Lansing. Last evening Constable McKale took charge of the prisoner and returned to Lansing with him.

Officer Frank Barber arrested Abram Hartzel, suspected of larceny, last evening.

LAW AND LAWYERS.

Circuit Court—Part I. JUDGE GROVE.

In re James W. Hawkins vs. The Michigan Central Railway company, suit in trespass on the case.

In re Thomas J. Hopkins vs. Loomis K. Bishop, suit in reply. Continued by consent without costs.

Circuit Court—Part II. JUDGE ADIST.

In re C. and A. Poits & Co. vs. Robert J. Kennedy, suit in assumpsit. Judgment for plaintiff $564.42.

In re Will Burdett vs. Jarvis C. Train, suit in assumpsit. Stay extended thirty days.

In re Hannah S. Bower vs. Frank W. Curtis et al., suit in chancery. Decree for complainant.

In re Hannah S. Bower vs. Jesse O. Belden, case in chancery. Decree for complainant.

In re the estate of Frederick Schindler, deceased, appeal of Carl Scharlerber, appeal from probate court. Proceedings stayed twenty days and sixty days to settle bill of exceptions.

In re Thomas Connally vs. Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance company of Kent county, case in assumpsit. Stay extended ninety days.

In re Joseph S. Reed and David Reed vs. William Geisick, Charles Kusterer and G. Adolph Kusterer, case in assumpsit. Judgment for plaintiff $306.73 and costs by consent against G. Adolph Kusterer.

Superior Court. JUDGE BURLINGAME.

People vs. Alonzo Warner, embezzlement and larceny; on trial.

Probate Court. JUDGE PERKINS.

Estate of Christian Bonzhelm, deceased. Petition for administration filed. Hearing June 3.

Estate of Kansom Rolf, deceased. Report of commissioners on claims filed. Administrator's annual account filed. Hearing May 31.

Estate of Daniel H. Hamilton, deceased. Report of commissioners on claims filed.

Estate of Moses Livingston, deceased. Inventory filed.

Estate of Andrew Sibbold, deceased. Report of commissioners on claims filed.

Estate of Simon Sandyk, mentally incompetent. Petition for appointment of guardian filed. Hearing June 7.

A PLAIN COUNTRY HOUSE.

It Has Four Rooms and Can Be Built for $600.

[Copyright, 1922, by American Press Association.]

The accompanying plans are for a story and a half cottage with two rooms and a pantry, under the stairs, in the first story. The front door is protected by a porch.

which improves the appearance of the exterior. There is a collar under the building, and the foundations consist of cedar or locust posts set upon flat stones at a depth of three feet below the grade line. The framing timber and rough lumber is of hemlock. The side walls are not sheathed, but a heavy thickness of tarred paper is nailed upon the sheathing and covered with "drip" or "water" siding, which serves the double purpose of sheathing and siding.

The roof is shingled with 16-inch white pine shingles, securely nailed to shingle lath. The sills are firmly spiked to the posts and the studding nailed in place, and all is made secure from winds, which in a flat country are at times exceedingly violent. The projections of the roof are heavy enough to give a good effect, but are finished exceedingly plain, being what is known as "Baltic cornice."

The house is 18 feet wide and 26 feet deep, leaving the dining room 15 feet 19 inches square. The parlor and chamber above it are heated by a Baltimore heater, and the dining room, which improves the appearance of the exterior. There is a collar under the building, and the foundations consist of cedar or locust posts set upon flat stones at a depth of three feet below the grade line. The framing timber and rough lumber is of hemlock. The side walls are not sheathed, but a heavy thickness of tarred paper is nailed upon the sheathing and covered with "drip" or "water" siding, which serves the double purpose of sheathing and siding.

The roof is shingled with 16-inch white pine shingles, securely nailed to shingle lath. The sills are firmly spiked to the posts and the studding nailed in place, and all is made secure from winds, which in a flat country are at times exceedingly violent. The projections of the roof are heavy enough to give a good effect, but are finished exceedingly plain, being what is known as "Baltic cornice."

The house is 18 feet wide and 26 feet deep, leaving the dining room 15 feet 19 inches square. The parlor and chamber above it are heated by a Baltimore heater, and the dining room, which improves the appearance of the exterior. There is a collar under the building, and the foundations consist of cedar or locust posts set upon flat stones at a depth of three feet below the grade line. The framing timber and rough lumber is of hemlock. The side walls are not sheathed, but a heavy thickness of tarred paper is nailed upon the sheathing and covered with "drip" or "water" siding, which serves the double purpose of sheathing and siding.

The roof is shingled with 16-inch white pine shingles, securely nailed to shingle lath. The sills are firmly spiked to the posts and the studding nailed in place, and all is made secure from winds, which in a flat country are at times exceedingly violent. The projections of the roof are heavy enough to give a good effect, but are finished exceedingly plain, being what is known as "Baltic cornice."

The house is 18 feet wide and 26 feet deep, leaving the dining room 15 feet 19 inches square. The parlor and chamber above it are heated by a Baltimore heater, and the dining room, which improves the appearance of the exterior. There is a collar under the building, and the foundations consist of cedar or locust posts set upon flat stones at a depth of three feet below the grade line. The framing timber and rough lumber is of hemlock. The side walls are not sheathed, but a heavy thickness of tarred paper is nailed upon the sheathing and covered with "drip" or "water" siding, which serves the double purpose of sheathing and siding.

The roof is shingled with 16-inch white pine shingles, securely nailed to shingle lath. The sills are firmly spiked to the posts and the studding nailed in place, and all is made secure from winds, which in a flat country are at times exceedingly violent. The projections of the roof are heavy enough to give a good effect, but are finished exceedingly plain, being what is known as "Baltic cornice."

The house is 18 feet wide and 26 feet deep, leaving the dining room 15 feet 19 inches square. The parlor and chamber above it are heated by a Baltimore heater, and the dining room, which improves the appearance of the exterior. There is a collar under the building, and the foundations consist of cedar or locust posts set upon flat stones at a depth of three feet below the grade line. The framing timber and rough lumber is of hemlock. The side walls are not sheathed, but a heavy thickness of tarred paper is nailed upon the sheathing and covered with "drip" or "water" siding, which serves the double purpose of sheathing and siding.

The roof is shingled with 16-inch white pine shingles, securely nailed to shingle lath. The sills are firmly spiked to the posts and the studding nailed in place, and all is made secure from winds, which in a flat country are at times exceedingly violent. The projections of the roof are heavy enough to give a good effect, but are finished exceedingly plain, being what is known as "Baltic cornice."

The house is 18 feet wide and 26 feet deep, leaving the dining room 15 feet 19 inches square. The parlor and chamber above it are heated by a Baltimore heater, and the dining room, which improves the appearance of the exterior. There is a collar under the building, and the foundations consist of cedar or locust posts set upon flat stones at a depth of three feet below the grade line. The framing timber and rough lumber is of hemlock. The side walls are not sheathed, but a heavy thickness of tarred paper is nailed upon the sheathing and covered with "drip" or "water" siding, which serves the double purpose of sheathing and siding.

The roof is shingled with 16-inch white pine shingles, securely nailed to shingle lath. The sills are firmly spiked to the posts and the studding nailed in place, and all is made secure from winds, which in a flat country are at times exceedingly violent. The projections of the roof are heavy enough to give a good effect, but are finished exceedingly plain, being what is known as "Baltic cornice."

The house is 18 feet wide and 26 feet deep, leaving the dining room 15 feet 19 inches square. The parlor and chamber above it are heated by a Baltimore heater, and the dining room, which improves the appearance of the exterior. There is a collar under the building, and the foundations consist of cedar or locust posts set upon flat stones at a depth of three feet below the grade line. The framing timber and rough lumber is of hemlock. The side walls are not sheathed, but a heavy thickness of tarred paper is nailed upon the sheathing and covered with "drip" or "water" siding, which serves the double purpose of sheathing and siding.

The roof is shingled with 16-inch white pine shingles, securely nailed to shingle lath. The sills are firmly spiked to the posts and the studding nailed in place, and all is made secure from winds, which in a flat country are at times exceedingly violent. The projections of the roof are heavy enough to give a good effect, but are finished exceedingly plain, being what is known as "Baltic cornice."

The house is 18 feet wide and 26 feet deep, leaving the dining room 15 feet 19 inches square. The parlor and chamber above it are heated by a Baltimore heater, and the dining room, which improves the appearance of the exterior. There is a collar under the building, and the foundations consist of cedar or locust posts set upon flat stones at a depth of three feet below the grade line. The framing timber and rough lumber is of hemlock. The side walls are not sheathed, but a heavy thickness of tarred paper is nailed upon the sheathing and covered with "drip" or "water" siding, which serves the double purpose of sheathing and siding.

The roof is shingled with 16-inch white pine shingles, securely nailed to shingle lath. The sills are firmly spiked to the posts and the studding nailed in place, and all is made secure from winds, which in a flat country are at times exceedingly violent. The projections of the roof are heavy enough to give a good effect, but are finished exceedingly plain, being what is known as "Baltic cornice."

The house is 18 feet wide and 26 feet deep, leaving the dining room 15 feet 19 inches square. The parlor and chamber above it are heated by a Baltimore heater, and the dining room, which improves the appearance of the exterior. There is a collar under the building, and the foundations consist of cedar or locust posts set upon flat stones at a depth of three feet below the grade line. The framing timber and rough lumber is of hemlock. The side walls are not sheathed, but a heavy thickness of tarred paper is nailed upon the sheathing and covered with "drip" or "water" siding, which serves the double purpose of sheathing and siding.

infect dry spruce, tongued and grooved and well driven together and blind nailed. The doors and all interior woodwork are of white pine, painted two coats. The front door has brass faced mortise lock, white butts, all other doors to have bronze faced iron mortise locks, brown iron faced knobs and black japanned iron butts, etc. The kitchen is wainscoted three feet in height, with a suitable cap and core molding. The stairs have a polished ash rail, supported upon wrought iron brackets. The chimney is of hard brick laid up in lime mortar to the roof, and topped out with selected hard brick laid in cement.

SECOND STORY.

While this house is plain, it affords a great deal of room and many conveniences for the amount of money invested, and I venture to say that whoever may be fortunate enough to possess such a cottage will consider the comforts received greater perhaps than he could get for a rental of double the amount of interest upon the investment.

This little cottage can be erected for $600, and perhaps less in some localities where labor and materials are cheap.

FOSTER THORPE.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Siberia signifies "thirsty."

Buttons are made from blood.

If choked, get upon all fours and cough.

There are 30,000 miles of electric railways in the world.

The itch for gold doesn't belong to the seven year variety.

It is a mistaken idea that loud talk gives tone to society.

A show of opposition is very apt to be an exhibition of folly.

When angry the rhodive tape impatiently with his left foot.

The income of the Church of England is about $1,000,000 per week.

Guido Reni was incapable of inspiration unless magnificently dressed.

In 1899 well drillers found a stone idol 330 feet below the surface at Boise City.

A little Philadelphia boy has a pet rabbit which he has trained to draw a small wagon.

William Sharpless, Goeben, has a lamb two months old which weighs sixty pounds.

Have we not as much cause to be thankful for what we have not as for what we have?

By mixing with people you find out how much you know and how much you don't know.

The majority of people think that their favorite quack holds a patent on the elixir of life.

Montaigne, when a widower, said he would not marry again "though it were to wisdom itself."

If the color has been taken out of silks by fruit stains ammonia will usually restore the color.

The Tartars have a species of hairless horses, which all have beautifully striped white and brown hoofs and "glass eyes."

The captain of an Italian steamer has discovered a ledge of coal of excellent quality in Shagret bay, Straits of Magellan.

The highest clouds, the cirrus and cirro-stratus, sometimes rise to an altitude of 30,000 feet, or six miles above the earth's surface.

During a masked ball at Covent Garden theater, thieves made off with valuable diamonds and jewelry, which they are said to have cut from the ladies' dresses.

A woman who lives at Concord, N. C., the other night dreamed that she saw her husband cut in two by a circular saw. The next day, it is related, her dream came true.

One Kind of a President.

A cooking lecturer, who has brushed against the world long enough not to be surprised at strange things in business, received a letter the other day which made her confess to astonishment. She had planned to bring over her Philadelphia class of cooking teachers to visit the food show. Intending to remain in the city two days with the class, she wrote to various makers of food staples, expressing a wish that she might visit their factories with her class.

From one of them came this answer: "If you will call at our office we will be glad to furnish, as an escort to your party for a visit to our factory, our president, who has never yet visited it." The factory had been running three years, and it was started and equipped with more than $500,000 of the president's personal fortune.—New York Times.

A Zenon's Advice.

Mr. Zenon, through once played game of billiards in an asylum with one of the patients. He concluded his adversary twenty-five prizes, with the result that he was hopelessly beaten. Then the patient took him quietly on one-armed and said:

"Look here, if you go on giving points so much as that, you'll be in the asylum instead of me!"—London Tri-Delta.

A Man of Adventure.

John Sutherland, who now lives within one mile of Paradise, thirty-six years ago saved the lives of thirty persons at the Canadian on the north side of the Columbia river, at a place at that time called the Upper Cascades. John is now called the Upper Cascades. John is now called the Upper Cascades. John is now called the Upper Cascades.

making thirty persons safe to run the gauntlet for a mile with other parties, some of whom were wounded, while others were killed by the Yakima and Kikhtai Indians. Yet he arrived at the fort safe and sound and in time to care for the wounded in the fort, where twelve soldiers were imprisoned three days and nights.—East Oregonian.

Crowfoot's Nicknames.

Crowfoot, of all men, has perhaps had most nicknames applied to him. He was known as "Old Copperface," "The Barrow," "His Necessity," "Old Noll," "Stool" and a score of others.—St. Louis Republic.

Peach Trees.

Peach trees, etc. choice, in fine condition for setting out. Call or address, N. P. HURD & CO., Lowell, Mich.

Ex-Priest Slattery Here.

Hastman's hall will be crowded on Sunday and Monday afternoons and evenings at 5:30 and 7:45 to hear the lectures of Fr. Slattery and his wife, the ex-nun of the convent. The Boston News says: "Fr. Slattery is a man of unusual presence. Tall and straight as an arrow, with kindly face and mild blue eyes." Admission to public lectures, 15 cents; to private lectures, 25 cents; reserved seats, 10 cents extra. Ladies and gentlemen are admitted to both Sunday lectures. Come early as Mr. Slattery always has crowded houses.

For banjos, guitars, mandolins, flutes, drums, violins, horns, concertinas, pianos, organs, other instruments call upon Friedrich, the Canal street music dealer.

DON'T GET LEFT.

Commencing Monday, May 16, the morning train for Detroit, on the Detroit, Lansing & Northern railroad, will leave Grand Rapids at 6:25 a. m., arriving at Detroit at 10:30 a. m., connecting with all trains for the east. No change in other trains.

On the Chicago & West Michigan railway no change in the departure of trains will be made. Morning train from Chicago will arrive Grand Rapids at 3:15 p. m., instead of 3:55.

DON'T GET LEFT.

George DeHaven, G. P. A.

The reputation of Garfield Tea is extending to the far corners of the world, it is not only from Europe, but far India.

Every sack of LILY WHITE FLOUR has a picture of our mill. None genuine without it. VALLEY CITY MILLING CO.

Change of Time on L. S. & M. S. Ry.

On the 15th inst. the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway will change time. For particulars call on C. S. Rogers, agent.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Grand Rapids Mutual Building and Loan association, for the election of directors and the transaction of such other business as may come before them will be held at the office of the association, room 43 Widdicombs building, on Monday, May 16, at 7:30 o'clock p. m.

F. O. CUTLER, Secretary.

Grand Rapids, Mich., May 11, 1922.

See the famous Fisher pianos at Friedrich's, before buying. You will do yourself a great favor in so doing.

Lily White Flour. Makes finest pastry, bread or biscuit. The best is most satisfactory.

All kinds of fine musical instruments at Friedrich's, the Canal street music dealer.

Garfield Tea cures constipation, dyspepsia and sick headache; restores the complexion and saves doctor's bills.

Unprecedented Horse Sale.

On Saturday, May 14, at 10 o'clock a. m., the Consolidated Street Car company will put up at auction fifty of its best horses, all of which will be positively sold to the highest bidder. The sale is made to dispose of stock which is rendered useless by the recent operation of West Side lines by the electric method. These horses are all in prime condition, are sound in wind and limb, are good travelers, and were bought with reference to performing the severe service of street car service. They are far above the average service horse in all particulars. They are just the kind of stock that will best furnish the best general purpose horse. Farmers, teamsters, and others, should not miss this opportunity of securing a good horse or a good pair. The sale will take place at Shavers' livery stable, on Kent street, between Bridge street and Crescent avenue.

G. R. Ice and Coal company. Telephone 159.

Good Cooking.

Is one of the chief blessings of every home. To always insure good custards, puddings, sauces, etc. use Gail Borden "Eagle" brand condensed milk. Directions on the label. Sold by your grocer and druggist.

Special Notices.

Bicycle and sporting goods department will be open every evening during the week except Tuesday and Friday during the bicycle season. Remember we are headquarters for all kinds of sporting goods.

STREPLEY & BARCLAY, No. 4 Monroe street.

Whether on pleasure bent, or business, take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly & effectively on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fevers, headaches and other forms of sickness. For sale in 50 cents and $1 bottles by all leading druggists.

For musical merchandise, musical literature, instruction books, band outfits and all kinds of instruments call upon Friedrich, the Canal street music dealer.

Order of GRANT ICE CO. Phone Ice of 238.

"Royal Ruby" Fort Wine.

The term "delicate health" is used to express a physical condition, in which the powers of nature appear to be partially exhausted, and the system is peculiarly sensitive to all morbid influences.

The Change of Life.

The sole aim of women nearing this critical period should be to keep well, strong, and cheerful.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is peculiarly adapted to this condition. Girls about to enter womanhood find its assistance invaluable.

It cures the worst cases of Female Complaint, Bearing-down Feeling, Weak Back, Lassitude, Pining and Displacement of the Womb, Indigestion, Constipation, Headache, and all Organic Disorders of the Uterus or Vagina, Bleeding, and all other ailments of the Female System. It is a safe and reliable remedy for all the above ailments. It is sold in 50-cent and $1.00 bottles. Address: LYDIA E. PINKHAM MED. CO., LOWELL, MASS.

Outfit that very properly contains a supply of Hires' Root Beer which adds to the enjoyment of all the other dainties, and makes a picnic indeed. A 25 cent package makes 5 gallons of this very popular beverage.

Don't be deceived if a dealer, for the sake of larger profit, tells you some other kind of "root beer" is as good as the genuine Hires'. No limitation is so good as the genuine Hires'.

ALL DISEASES OF MEN

Our treatment positively and radically cures