

from money lost in speculation previous to the night. He thought the total amount would not be more than $11,000. He said the young man fled Saturday night. The matter was placed in Chief Clerk's hands and he at once telegraphed all over the country authorizing the arrest of the fugitive. If the young man started Saturday night this would give them Sunday and Monday, the bank being closed on the 2nd, two days, and they could easily have reached Mexico before their absence was suspected.

CRIME OF A NEGRO

Crazed With Suspicion of His Wife's Infidelity

GORDON KILLS HER LITTLE GIRL

And Shoots the Cause of His Jealousy.

Last Addition to Detroit's Long List of Awful Murders.

DETROIT, July 7.—Joseph Gordon, an old colored man who worked as porter at Haigh's drug store, and who resided at No. 508 Hastings street, shot and killed his 6-year-old stepdaughter last night, and shot Wesley Robinson, a younger man, who boarded with him. The bullet struck Robinson in the nose. He was taken to Harper hospital, where he is lying in a very critical condition. The bullet has not yet been found, but it is believed to have taken a downward course and to have lodged in or near the stomach. The girl was shot in the head and lived only two hours. The murderer escaped, but gave himself up at the Garfield avenue police station at 3:30 o'clock this morning. Gordon has long suspected his wife of holding improper relations with the boarder, Robinson, and has frequently threatened to kill both of them.

It is thought that he became insanely jealous last night. He had been pleasant enough in the evening to buy a watermelon, between 9 and 10 o'clock, and to invite Robinson to partake of it with the family. The little girl started for bed and Mrs. Gordon went into the kitchen. Presently she heard the report of a revolver. It was the shot aimed at Robinson's nose. The mother entered the sitting room from the kitchen just as the little girl, in a night dress, entered from the bedroom. Mrs. Gordon saw her husband place a revolver at the head of her daughter. The woman ran to a neighbor's house, and Gordon made no attempt to murder her, but he fled and roamed the city until he concluded to surrender to the law.

Deputy Superintendent Starkweather has forbidden newspaper reporters an audience with Gordon. He believes the old man was under the influence of liquor at the time of the shooting, and wants him to sober up before giving him an opportunity to tell his story.

DELEGATES ELECTED

In Several Counties to the Republican State Convention.

HOGAN, Mich., July 7.—The following delegates to Saginaw were elected at the republican county convention yesterday: John S. Dymock, W. H. Hosking, Charles A. Wright, F. A. Douglas, J. W. Wright, William Harry, R. M. Hoar, Thomas B. Dunston and O. W. Robinson. A resolution instructing for John T. Rich was voted down.

NEWARK, Mich., July 7.—At the republican county convention held here yesterday the following uninstructed delegates were elected to the state convention: J. M. Wilkinson, Gad Smith, S. M. Billings and George A. Boyce, Marquette; C. G. Griffey, Negaunee; W. F. Swift, H. O. Young, John Jones and Neils Clifton of Ishpeming and Peter Pascoe of Republic.

LAPORTE, Mich., July 7.—The Lapeer county republican convention yesterday elected the following delegates to the state convention: Judge J. B. Moore, Willard Harwood, George Davenport, Charles R. Ferguson, Frank McElroy, Harrison Bradshaw, John L. Preston, J. Merritt Lamb, Reuben Gould, J. M. Sheppard and George P. Chapman. Resolutions instructing the delegates to vote for John T. Rich were adopted.

REED CITY, July 7.—Oscoda county republicans yesterday elected the following delegates to the Saginaw convention: William Rogers, J. F. Radcliffe, J. C. Holden, Charles F. Waidin and three unnamed. The delegates were not instructed.

She Wants Her Old Job. ADRIAN, Mich., July 7.—Margaret Scott, whose methods while in charge of the industrial home for girls were the subject of much unfavorable comment, and which, apparently showed a total lack of the qualities most likely to give success in the ticklish business of reforming girls, still has her eagle eye on her former job and the comfortable salary attached thereto. A number of her friends, chiefly residents of Grand Rapids, are working hard to secure her reinstatement.

Old Man Crippled. OKEMOS, Mich., July 7.—Mitchell and Smith, farm hands who are in the employ of Freeman Bray of Meridian, were running horses through the village of Okemos, with two large loads of hay, when one load capsize, seriously injuring William Turner, an old and respected resident of this county. His thigh was broken near the hip joint. He is 71 years old. Dr. A. F. Ferguson, the attending physician, thinks he will be a cripple for life, if he recovers.

Calhoun County Vets. ALBION, Mich., July 7.—A parade of vets at 10:30 and an address at 11 a. m. by the Rev. George B. Simmons of Grand Rapids, were the forenoon's feature of the Calhoun county battalion encampment. This afternoon there was a ball game between Albion and Battle Creek teams, bicycle races and other sports.

Madman's Victim Dying. DURAND, Mich., July 7.—Miss Matenhoff, who was kicked in the abdomen by William J. Farley, chief of the Merchants' night watch of Chicago, who went insane on a Detroit, Grand rapids, Mich., July 7.—There was a spirited debate in the senate today on the question of investigating the causes of the Homestead, Pa., riots and the employment of the Pinkertons. Mr. Palmer of Illinois gave expression to some very advanced views on the relations of labor and capital, and there was a very warm political discussion between Messrs. Voorhees and Hale of Maine. The question as to whether an investigation should be ordered was referred to the committee on contingent expenses, with a request that they report tomorrow. The balance of the day was devoted to the consideration of the sundry civil bill.

Latest Michigan Pensions. Original—Lewis G. Smith, Hiram H. Webb, David Tate, William P. Pollock, Gerrit VanSchoven, Lucius S. Reed, Robert Shannon, William E. Haysme, Lewis Margerum, Nelson Barcome, William Ayers, Emanuel Scott, William Powers, George W. Birdsell, Benjamin F. Hatcher, William H. Drew, Joseph Boyer, Frank H. Hungerford, Franklin Terry, James C. Rogers, David Savage, Theodore Packer, Frederick Jones, Ready Stahler, John W. Robinson, Daniel C. Roscoe, George Korten, Warren Miner, Charles E. Dille, Benjamin F. Newhouse, Additional—Robert W. Parkinson, Jacob Steel, William H. Allen, Martin M. Andrews, Herman Wolf, Peter Russell, William L. Knapp, Restoration and Increase—Herman Allen, Increase—James Brower, Charles F. Caldwell, Original, widows, etc.—Sophia J. Farand, Mary Ann Mosher, Loretta McEwen.

Senate Proceedings. WASHINGTON, July 7.—There was a spirited debate in the senate today on the question of investigating the causes of the Homestead, Pa., riots and the employment of the Pinkertons. Mr. Palmer of Illinois gave expression to some very advanced views on the relations of labor and capital, and there was a very warm political discussion between Messrs. Voorhees and Hale of Maine. The question as to whether an investigation should be ordered was referred to the committee on contingent expenses, with a request that they report tomorrow. The balance of the day was devoted to the consideration of the sundry civil bill.

ALL IS QUIET. (Continued from First Page.)

hundred in number, calling on them to act as a posse attending the sheriff in keeping the peace at Homestead. Up to 5:30 o'clock this evening the responses numbered thirty-six. The sheriff said to a reporter: "I will go up to Homestead tomorrow with a posse. What time the train will leave I cannot say, but I will go in the morning sometime and I do not anticipate any further trouble at Homestead."

SETTLEMENT IS PROBABLE. Concessions Likely to Be Made to the Manufacturers.

PRITTSBURG, July 7.—A conference was held this afternoon between the iron and steel manufacturers and the wage committee of the Amalgamated association on the western scale. An adjournment was taken at 6 o'clock this evening until 2 p. m. tomorrow. At the adjournment tonight the prospects were more favorable than at any time since the conference began. It is stated that the matter will be adjusted by a compromise in scaling down the wages of the heaters and rollers as a concession to the manufacturers.

WITHOUT ANY TURMOIL. The Men Remain at Their Posts Firm and Determined.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 7.—The situation today is very quiet of several thousand strikers watching for several thousand rats to appear. There is slim prospect from present indications of the "rats," or Pinkerton men, who are referred to as rodents, giving the strikers an opportunity to use their fangs again. The next enemy to combat will be the regular state militia, and the 4,000 Carnegie strikers and their 4,000 friends, who made up the resisting and victorious force of yesterday, say they are ready for them and that they will give battle to any and all opponents. The strikers have everything their own way today. A body of determined men surrounds the mill and challenge the approach of every man who ventures too close to an imaginary "death line," a hundred yards away from the mill fences. Three thousand men are distributed all over the town, and so carefully are these lookouts deployed that not a soul can enter or leave the town without giving an account of himself.

ALL QUIET in the Mills. Within the mills, whose contents, including valuable machinery that could not be replaced, are valued at over $8,000,000, are in the employ of a dozen men who are in the control of the owners, who resist with a resistance to the visits of the strikers. The watchmen are old employees and the strikers have not interfered with them in the performance of their duty. No one is permitted to enter the mill and no striking movers in the strike may do damage to the contents of the contents unless there is further bloodshed, and then the leaders will not be responsible for the outcome. The executive committee of the strikers, who are very well organized, is in session almost all the time directing the movements of the various sub-committees.

Forecasting Quiet. A quiet that is forbidding reigns throughout the town, and the only movement is in the direction of the homes where the bodies of the six strikers victims await burial. The funeral of one occurred yesterday, and the six men already accounted for is the complete number of dead strikers. Two of the eleven wounded may die. The identities of these eleven have not been clearly established. A committee is attending to their care and all the available physicians in Homestead and vicinity have been pressed into service. At the river front a couple of hundred men are watching the approaches from Pittsburgh and sending messages to the strikers. A committee in Pittsburgh is keeping the leaders informed of the outlook there by means of a telegraph wire leading into their rooms. Pickets are watching the river and railroads and suspicious persons are subjected to constant surveillance.

ALL IS QUIET.

Haven't Milwaukee train and now lies at a hotel here in a dying condition.

Editor Wants Cash. Onosco, Mich., July 7.—George W. Owen, editor of the Shiawassee American, has sued E. O. Dewey and J. N. McBride for $15,000 damages for an alleged libelous article appearing in the Times in connection with the alleged attempt to bribe Senator Wilcox during the last legislative session.

Aged Woman's Violent Death. CALDWELL, Mich., July 7.—An old lady named Mrs. Carr, a resident of Lake Linden, was thrown out of a carriage this morning and almost instantly killed. She was the mother-in-law of Joseph Crose of Houghton.

He Wants More. LANSING, Mich., July 7.—Auditor General Stone has changed his mind and will try to get a reappointment for his office as well as an indorsement from the people's party.

Hillsdale Pioneer Dead. HUDSON, July 7.—J. L. Williams of Wheatland, Hillsdale county, a leading citizen and member of a family of original settlers in this county, after a long illness from consumption.

Chose But One. GLADWIN, Mich., July 7.—The Gladwin county republican convention chose Senator F. L. Friddle as delegate to the state convention.

Old Detroitier Dies. DETROIT, July 7.—Henry Glover, one of Detroit's oldest and most highly respected pioneers, died this afternoon.

Penitential Paragraphs. A smooth young man worked a new racket at Port Huron. He went from one load of wool to another, taking a handful from each for "a world's fair exhibit." When he had accumulated fifty pounds in this way he sold it, disappeared and was seen no more.

The 3-year-old daughter of A. A. Gordon of Jackson was almost pecked to death by a fox hawk. The vicious fowl's sharp beak penetrated the child's tender body in thirteen places and its pointed spurs tore the little one's clothing into shreds.

Senator McMillan's horses became frightened in Washington Wednesday and he jumped out of the carriage. He was hurt, not fatally, and the Detroit newspapers sensationalized the mishap and sold lots of extras in consequence.

Rheumatism, neuralgia, bronchitis and consumption caused the most sickness during the week ending July 2. Diphtheria was reported from twenty-four places, scarlet fever from thirty, typhoid fever from sixteen and measles from ten.

Ray Donaldson, the lovesick St. Joseph boy who shot himself in the right breast because his girl soured on him, is not dead, but is recovering, who dug out the bullet thinks that he may get well. The girl is all right.

H. W. Johnston tapped a gas man at Grand Haven in an unworkmanlike manner. He came to in three hours and the doctors say his chances for a long life are good.

A. S. Whitney of Mt. Clemens will be superintendent of the Saginaw schools this year at a salary of $2,400. Prof. Kendall threw up the job to engage in trade in Chicago.

The State Miller's association will meet in Lansing July 14, when it is expected it will unite with the Ohio and Indiana association, forming a tri-state organization.

A lumberman named Northrup fell from a drive of logs up the Manistee river and immediately disappeared in a bed of quicksand. His body cannot be found.

The governor has decreed Lieutenant Colonel McGurkin to assume command of the state troops until Colonel Irish's successor has been elected.

The steamer Pilgrim was sold at Holland to Thompson Bros. of Cleveland. She will hereafter run between Cleveland and Oscoda.

A. D. Deming, an old farmer living near Freepport, hung himself to the rafters of a sugar shanty in a lonely way.

H. M. Hanson's 7-months-old baby was thrown from a buggy by a frightened horse at Lime Lake and killed.

International convention of the Baptist Young People's union will be held in Detroit, July 14 to 17.

Charles Barnard, a farmer near Three Rivers, was fatally pierced by an automatic hay fork.

It looks as though the machine will be knocked out at the Macomb county convention Friday.

The Salvation Army's two weeks' encampment will begin July 21 at Wenona Beach.

The home of Mrs. Betsey E. Eaton at Jackson was burglarized by two 12-year-old girls.

Nicholas Lawless of Portland will die from the result of injuries sustained in a runaway.

Saginaw has decided to get along without a law and order league.

Kalamazoo is aching for a paper box factory, the Gazette says.

At Hillman a girl who chewed match tips will be buried today.

A mean cow at Lakeview poisoned cows with Paris green.

Clare is threatened with a female base ball nine.

Latest Michigan Pensions. Original—Lewis G. Smith, Hiram H. Webb, David Tate, William P. Pollock, Gerrit VanSchoven, Lucius S. Reed, Robert Shannon, William E. Haysme, Lewis Margerum, Nelson Barcome, William Ayers, Emanuel Scott, William Powers, George W. Birdsell, Benjamin F. Hatcher, William H. Drew, Joseph Boyer, Frank H. Hungerford, Franklin Terry, James C. Rogers, David Savage, Theodore Packer, Frederick Jones, Ready Stahler, John W. Robinson, Daniel C. Roscoe, George Korten, Warren Miner, Charles E. Dille, Benjamin F. Newhouse, Additional—Robert W. Parkinson, Jacob Steel, William H. Allen, Martin M. Andrews, Herman Wolf, Peter Russell, William L. Knapp, Restoration and Increase—Herman Allen, Increase—James Brower, Charles F. Caldwell, Original, widows, etc.—Sophia J. Farand, Mary Ann Mosher, Loretta McEwen.

Senate Proceedings. WASHINGTON, July 7.—There was a spirited debate in the senate today on the question of investigating the causes of the Homestead, Pa., riots and the employment of the Pinkertons. Mr. Palmer of Illinois gave expression to some very advanced views on the relations of labor and capital, and there was a very warm political discussion between Messrs. Voorhees and Hale of Maine. The question as to whether an investigation should be ordered was referred to the committee on contingent expenses, with a request that they report tomorrow. The balance of the day was devoted to the consideration of the sundry civil bill.

ALL IS QUIET. (Continued from First Page.)

hundred in number, calling on them to act as a posse attending the sheriff in keeping the peace at Homestead. Up to 5:30 o'clock this evening the responses numbered thirty-six. The sheriff said to a reporter: "I will go up to Homestead tomorrow with a posse. What time the train will leave I cannot say, but I will go in the morning sometime and I do not anticipate any further trouble at Homestead."

SETTLEMENT IS PROBABLE. Concessions Likely to Be Made to the Manufacturers.

PRITTSBURG, July 7.—A conference was held this afternoon between the iron and steel manufacturers and the wage committee of the Amalgamated association on the western scale. An adjournment was taken at 6 o'clock this evening until 2 p. m. tomorrow. At the adjournment tonight the prospects were more favorable than at any time since the conference began. It is stated that the matter will be adjusted by a compromise in scaling down the wages of the heaters and rollers as a concession to the manufacturers.

WITHOUT ANY TURMOIL. The Men Remain at Their Posts Firm and Determined.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 7.—The situation today is very quiet of several thousand strikers watching for several thousand rats to appear. There is slim prospect from present indications of the "rats," or Pinkerton men, who are referred to as rodents, giving the strikers an opportunity to use their fangs again. The next enemy to combat will be the regular state militia, and the 4,000 Carnegie strikers and their 4,000 friends, who made up the resisting and victorious force of yesterday, say they are ready for them and that they will give battle to any and all opponents. The strikers have everything their own way today. A body of determined men surrounds the mill and challenge the approach of every man who ventures too close to an imaginary "death line," a hundred yards away from the mill fences. Three thousand men are distributed all over the town, and so carefully are these lookouts deployed that not a soul can enter or leave the town without giving an account of himself.

ALL QUIET in the Mills. Within the mills, whose contents, including valuable machinery that could not be replaced, are valued at over $8,000,000, are in the employ of a dozen men who are in the control of the owners, who resist with a resistance to the visits of the strikers. The watchmen are old employees and the strikers have not interfered with them in the performance of their duty. No one is permitted to enter the mill and no striking movers in the strike may do damage to the contents of the contents unless there is further bloodshed, and then the leaders will not be responsible for the outcome. The executive committee of the strikers, who are very well organized, is in session almost all the time directing the movements of the various sub-committees.

Forecasting Quiet. A quiet that is forbidding reigns throughout the town, and the only movement is in the direction of the homes where the bodies of the six strikers victims await burial. The funeral of one occurred yesterday, and the six men already accounted for is the complete number of dead strikers. Two of the eleven wounded may die. The identities of these eleven have not been clearly established. A committee is attending to their care and all the available physicians in Homestead and vicinity have been pressed into service. At the river front a couple of hundred men are watching the approaches from Pittsburgh and sending messages to the strikers. A committee in Pittsburgh is keeping the leaders informed of the outlook there by means of a telegraph wire leading into their rooms. Pickets are watching the river and railroads and suspicious persons are subjected to constant surveillance.

ALL IS QUIET.

Haven't Milwaukee train and now lies at a hotel here in a dying condition.

Editor Wants Cash. Onosco, Mich., July 7.—George W. Owen, editor of the Shiawassee American, has sued E. O. Dewey and J. N. McBride for $15,000 damages for an alleged libelous article appearing in the Times in connection with the alleged attempt to bribe Senator Wilcox during the last legislative session.

Aged Woman's Violent Death. CALDWELL, Mich., July 7.—An old lady named Mrs. Carr, a resident of Lake Linden, was thrown out of a carriage this morning and almost instantly killed. She was the mother-in-law of Joseph Crose of Houghton.

He Wants More. LANSING, Mich., July 7.—Auditor General Stone has changed his mind and will try to get a reappointment for his office as well as an indorsement from the people's party.

Hillsdale Pioneer Dead. HUDSON, July 7.—J. L. Williams of Wheatland, Hillsdale county, a leading citizen and member of a family of original settlers in this county, after a long illness from consumption.

Chose But One. GLADWIN, Mich., July 7.—The Gladwin county republican convention chose Senator F. L. Friddle as delegate to the state convention.

Old Detroitier Dies. DETROIT, July 7.—Henry Glover, one of Detroit's oldest and most highly respected pioneers, died this afternoon.

Penitential Paragraphs. A smooth young man worked a new racket at Port Huron. He went from one load of wool to another, taking a handful from each for "a world's fair exhibit." When he had accumulated fifty pounds in this way he sold it, disappeared and was seen no more.

The 3-year-old daughter of A. A. Gordon of Jackson was almost pecked to death by a fox hawk. The vicious fowl's sharp beak penetrated the child's tender body in thirteen places and its pointed spurs tore the little one's clothing into shreds.

Senator McMillan's horses became frightened in Washington Wednesday and he jumped out of the carriage. He was hurt, not fatally, and the Detroit newspapers sensationalized the mishap and sold lots of extras in consequence.

Rheumatism, neuralgia, bronchitis and consumption caused the most sickness during the week ending July 2. Diphtheria was reported from twenty-four places, scarlet fever from thirty, typhoid fever from sixteen and measles from ten.

Ray Donaldson, the lovesick St. Joseph boy who shot himself in the right breast because his girl soured on him, is not dead, but is recovering, who dug out the bullet thinks that he may get well. The girl is all right.

H. W. Johnston tapped a gas man at Grand Haven in an unworkmanlike manner. He came to in three hours and the doctors say his chances for a long life are good.

A. S. Whitney of Mt. Clemens will be superintendent of the Saginaw schools this year at a salary of $2,400. Prof. Kendall threw up the job to engage in trade in Chicago.

The State Miller's association will meet in Lansing July 14, when it is expected it will unite with the Ohio and Indiana association, forming a tri-state organization.

A lumberman named Northrup fell from a drive of logs up the Manistee river and immediately disappeared in a bed of quicksand. His body cannot be found.

The governor has decreed Lieutenant Colonel McGurkin to assume command of the state troops until Colonel Irish's successor has been elected.

The steamer Pilgrim was sold at Holland to Thompson Bros. of Cleveland. She will hereafter run between Cleveland and Oscoda.

A. D. Deming, an old farmer living near Freepport, hung himself to the rafters of a sugar shanty in a lonely way.

H. M. Hanson's 7-months-old baby was thrown from a buggy by a frightened horse at Lime Lake and killed.

International convention of the Baptist Young People's union will be held in Detroit, July 14 to 17.

Charles Barnard, a farmer near Three Rivers, was fatally pierced by an automatic hay fork.

It looks as though the machine will be knocked out at the Macomb county convention Friday.

The Salvation Army's two weeks' encampment will begin July 21 at Wenona Beach.

The home of Mrs. Betsey E. Eaton at Jackson was burglarized by two 12-year-old girls.

Nicholas Lawless of Portland will die from the result of injuries sustained in a runaway.

Saginaw has decided to get along without a law and order league.

Kalamazoo is aching for a paper box factory, the Gazette says.

At Hillman a girl who chewed match tips will be buried today.

A mean cow at Lakeview poisoned cows with Paris green.

Clare is threatened with a female base ball nine.

Latest Michigan Pensions. Original—Lewis G. Smith, Hiram H. Webb, David Tate, William P. Pollock, Gerrit VanSchoven, Lucius S. Reed, Robert Shannon, William E. Haysme, Lewis Margerum, Nelson Barcome, William Ayers, Emanuel Scott, William Powers, George W. Birdsell, Benjamin F. Hatcher, William H. Drew, Joseph Boyer, Frank H. Hungerford, Franklin Terry, James C. Rogers, David Savage, Theodore Packer, Frederick Jones, Ready Stahler, John W. Robinson, Daniel C. Roscoe, George Korten, Warren Miner, Charles E. Dille, Benjamin F. Newhouse, Additional—Robert W. Parkinson, Jacob Steel, William H. Allen, Martin M. Andrews, Herman Wolf, Peter Russell, William L. Knapp, Restoration and Increase—Herman Allen, Increase—James Brower, Charles F. Caldwell, Original, widows, etc.—Sophia J. Farand, Mary Ann Mosher, Loretta McEwen.

Senate Proceedings. WASHINGTON, July 7.—There was a spirited debate in the senate today on the question of investigating the causes of the Homestead, Pa., riots and the employment of the Pinkertons. Mr. Palmer of Illinois gave expression to some very advanced views on the relations of labor and capital, and there was a very warm political discussion between Messrs. Voorhees and Hale of Maine. The question as to whether an investigation should be ordered was referred to the committee on contingent expenses, with a request that they report tomorrow. The balance of the day was devoted to the consideration of the sundry civil bill.

ALL IS QUIET. (Continued from First Page.)

hundred in number, calling on them to act as a posse attending the sheriff in keeping the peace at Homestead. Up to 5:30 o'clock this evening the responses numbered thirty-six. The sheriff said to a reporter: "I will go up to Homestead tomorrow with a posse. What time the train will leave I cannot say, but I will go in the morning sometime and I do not anticipate any further trouble at Homestead."

SETTLEMENT IS PROBABLE. Concessions Likely to Be Made to the Manufacturers.

PRITTSBURG, July 7.—A conference was held this afternoon between the iron and steel manufacturers and the wage committee of the Amalgamated association on the western scale. An adjournment was taken at 6 o'clock this evening until 2 p. m. tomorrow. At the adjournment tonight the prospects were more favorable than at any time since the conference began. It is stated that the matter will be adjusted by a compromise in scaling down the wages of the heaters and rollers as a concession to the manufacturers.

WITHOUT ANY TURMOIL. The Men Remain at Their Posts Firm and Determined.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., July 7.—The situation today is very quiet of several thousand strikers watching for several thousand rats to appear. There is slim prospect from present indications of the "rats," or Pinkerton men, who are referred to as rodents, giving the strikers an opportunity to use their fangs again. The next enemy to combat will be the regular state militia, and the 4,000 Carnegie strikers and their 4,000 friends, who made up the resisting and victorious force of yesterday, say they are ready for them and that they will give battle to any and all opponents. The strikers have everything their own way today. A body of determined men surrounds the mill and challenge the approach of every man who ventures too close to an imaginary "death line," a hundred yards away from the mill fences. Three thousand men are distributed all over the town, and so carefully are these lookouts deployed that not a soul can enter or leave the town without giving an account of himself.

ALL QUIET in the Mills. Within the mills, whose contents, including valuable machinery that could not be replaced, are valued at over $8,000,000, are in the employ of a dozen men who are in the control of the owners, who resist with a resistance to the visits of the strikers. The watchmen are old employees and the strikers have not interfered with them in the performance of their duty. No one is permitted to enter the mill and no striking movers in the strike may do damage to the contents of the contents unless there is further bloodshed, and then the leaders will not be responsible for the outcome. The executive committee of the strikers, who are very well organized, is in session almost all the time directing the movements of the various sub-committees.

Forecasting Quiet. A quiet that is forbidding reigns throughout the town, and the only movement is in the direction of the homes where the bodies of the six strikers victims await burial. The funeral of one occurred yesterday, and the six men already accounted for is the complete number of dead strikers. Two of the eleven wounded may die. The identities of these eleven have not been clearly established. A committee is attending to their care and all the available physicians in Homestead and vicinity have been pressed into service. At the river front a couple of hundred men are watching the approaches from Pittsburgh and sending messages to the strikers. A committee in Pittsburgh is keeping the leaders informed of the outlook there by means of a telegraph wire leading into their rooms. Pickets are watching the river and railroads and suspicious persons are subjected to constant surveillance.

ALL IS QUIET.

Haven't Milwaukee train and now lies at a hotel here in a dying condition.

Editor Wants Cash. Onosco, Mich., July 7.—George W. Owen, editor of the Shiawassee American, has sued E. O. Dewey and J. N. McBride for $15,000 damages for an alleged libelous article appearing in the Times in connection with the alleged attempt to bribe Senator Wilcox during the last legislative session.

Aged Woman's Violent Death. CALDWELL, Mich., July 7.—An old lady named Mrs. Carr, a resident of Lake Linden, was thrown out of a carriage this morning and almost instantly killed. She was the mother-in-law of Joseph Crose of Houghton.

He Wants More. LANSING, Mich., July 7.—Auditor General Stone has changed his mind and will try to get a reappointment for his office as well as an indorsement from the people's party.

Hillsdale Pioneer Dead. HUDSON, July 7.—J. L. Williams of Wheatland, Hillsdale county, a leading citizen and member of a family of original settlers in this county, after a long illness from consumption.

Chose But One. GLADWIN, Mich., July 7.—The Gladwin county republican convention chose Senator F. L. Friddle as delegate to the state convention.

Old Detroitier Dies. DETROIT, July 7.—Henry Glover, one of Detroit's oldest and most highly respected pioneers, died this afternoon.

Penitential Paragraphs. A smooth young man worked a new racket at Port Huron. He went from one load of wool to another, taking a handful from each for "a world's fair exhibit." When he had accumulated fifty pounds in this way he sold it, disappeared and was seen no more.

The 3-year-old daughter of A. A. Gordon of Jackson was almost pecked to death by a fox hawk. The vicious fowl's sharp beak penetrated the child's tender body in thirteen places and its pointed spurs tore the little one's clothing into shreds.

Senator McMillan's horses became frightened in Washington Wednesday and he jumped out of the carriage. He was hurt, not fatally, and the Detroit newspapers sensationalized the mishap and sold lots of extras in consequence.

Rheumatism, neuralgia, bronchitis and consumption caused the most sickness during the week ending July 2. Diphtheria was reported from twenty-four places, scarlet fever from thirty, typhoid fever from sixteen and measles from ten.

Ray Donaldson, the lovesick St. Joseph boy who shot himself in the right breast because his girl soured on him, is not dead, but is recovering, who dug out the bullet thinks that he may get well. The girl is all right.

H. W. Johnston tapped a gas man at Grand Haven in an unworkmanlike manner. He came to in three hours and the doctors say his chances for a long life are good.

A. S. Whitney of Mt. Clemens will be superintendent of the Saginaw schools this year at a salary of $2,400. Prof. Kendall threw up the job to engage in trade in Chicago.

The State Miller's association will meet in Lansing July 14, when it is expected it will unite with the Ohio and Indiana association, forming a tri-state organization.

A lumberman named Northrup fell from a drive of logs up the Manistee river and immediately disappeared in a bed of quicksand. His body cannot be found.

The governor has decreed Lieutenant Colonel McGurkin to assume command of the state troops until Colonel Irish's successor has been elected.

The steamer Pilgrim was sold at Holland to Thompson Bros. of Cleveland. She will hereafter run between Cleveland and Oscoda.

A. D. Deming, an old farmer living near Freepport, hung himself to the rafters of a sugar shanty in a lonely way.

H. M. Hanson's 7-months-old baby was thrown from a buggy by a frightened horse at Lime Lake and killed.

International convention of the Baptist Young People's union will be held in Detroit, July 14 to 17.

Charles Barnard, a farmer near Three Rivers, was fatally pierced by an automatic hay fork.