Violent Fight Among English Strikers

IN NEWBRIDGE SALT WORKS

Non-Unionists Driven Off the Ground, Carrying Forty Wounded Men With Them—Military Called Out.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—A train carried off from Liverpool today 150 non-union workmen to the Newbridge salt works, where a strike is in progress. Unionist accounts in Liverpool telegraphed ahead that the non-union men were coming and when the train arrived several hundred men led by strikers had gathered to prevent the new men from leaving the carriages. Most of the men on the train had armed themselves with knives in expectation of trouble. Despite the warning shouts of the crowd about half the non-unionists left the train. They were attacked with stones and clubs, and a hand to hand fight followed between them and the front ranks of the strikers. The non-unionists drew their knives and cut right and left among the strikers, injuring some forty men severely. Two companies of military were called out before the mob could be dispersed. All the men who had remained on the train refused to leave it, and those who had left it returned to it, carrying the wounded. All the men were then taken back to Liverpool.

IN MISERABLE FLIGHT.

HAMBURG, Sept. 2.—Satan day has passed without festivities of any kind. There have been no processions, no music and no meetings. Not a flag has been displayed in the city. The promenades and the cafes have been empty. In all the churches services of prayer for statement of the plague has been held. For an hour after the services the streets were filled with sad-faced men and weeping women. At 2 o'clock they were again deserted and since then have remained bare and still. The number of fresh cases today have been 75, an increase of 32 since yesterday, the number of deaths 21, a decrease of 46 since yesterday. The decrease in the number of deaths due to the corresponding number yesterday of fresh cases. It offers little comfort, however, as the increase in the number of fresh cases will be followed undoubtedly by a longer death list tomorrow. Nevertheless there is a general feeling that the plague has been at its worst and that although it may not abate rapidly it will at least do so more gradually. The dead wagons are utterly unequal to the work of carrying the bodies of all the victims to decent burial. Unless some improvement be made at once in the system the hundreds of bodies are unburied. POPE LEO APPROVES.

Expresses Himself Well Pleased With Gladstone's Cabinet. Rome, Sept. 2.—The holy father has declared his satisfaction with the constitution of the Gladstone ministry. The Vatican is so well pleased to re-establish permanent official connection with England, but it hopes to have excellent relations with the new cabinet. Since Gladstone's ministry is a coalition of parties, the Vatican is well pleased to see the advantages of having a nuncio in London. The papacy has understood that its interest consists in breaking more directly with the bishops. The pope is satisfied with the victory of Mr. Gladstone for three reasons. First, because it is a success for home rule; second, because it is a triumph of democratic and social ideas over the old traditions of caste and historic prejudice; third, because the new cabinet will be less favorable to the triple alliance, which has become since the Crispien ministry an instrument of war against the pope. Lord Salisbury, according to news at the Vatican, represents the triple alliance and the old feudal conceptions and a monarchic policy, while Mr. Gladstone represents that democratic regime to which the pope wishes success.

CUBAN TARIFF QUESTION.

Demands Made by the United States to be Satisfied.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The Standard's Madrid correspondent says: "The government now seems disposed to satisfy the demands recently made by the United States for the revision of the new Cuban tariff on the ground that it does not contain those concessions for American imports which were agreed on in the convention of 1891." A dispatch from Madrid to Reuters' Telegram company says: "Senator Roosevelt, minister of colonies, having replied to the American ultimatum, the government considers the question in a fair way to settlement. Senator Roosevelt maintains that the Americans interpret certain clauses of the treaty unfairly. He considers that the new Cuban tariff does not overrate the American goods. He intends to uphold the new customs system by the Antilles, as defending Cuban and peninsular interests against American monopolizing intentions. The president will discuss the question fully with the American representatives." Explorations in Greenland. Copenhagen, Sept. 2.—An expedition consisting of nine members of the Dan-

NO ONE SAVED HIM

Desperado Talton Hall Hung Yesterday Noon.

HE DIED LIKE A COWARD

Shook Himself Together by the Aid of Whisky But Was Afraid the Rope Would Break.

Wise COCKEY HOBBS, W. Va., Sept. 2.—Talton Hall, the notorious desperado, was hanged at noon today. No attempt was made by his friends to rescue him. At 11:55, Hall was brought out from his cell to the front window of the court house. He had all along expressed a desire to address the people before he was hanged and said he could speak for two hours. When he reached the window, he looked over a crowd of about 500 people. Every ear was strained to catch his expected remarks. He stood motionless for some minutes the very picture of a despair and then fell back in a chair.

He Died Like a Coward. He was given a drink of whiskey and a square of meat in the window again. All he said was to ask a man near his window his name. His face was haggard and drawn and everyone expected that it would be necessary to drag him to the scaffold. He was taken to a well fitted suit of black and at 12:15 he mounted the steps to the scaffold with firm steps. As he reached the scaffold he turned to sheriff Holbrook and said: "I'm afraid that the rope will break." Guards and deputy sheriffs pressed around him and shook hands. His sister, Mrs. Bates, was brought in and bade him good bye. The back cap was removed and he turned to look at him good bye, and at 12:27 Sheriff Holbrook was crying, out the rope and the body fell four feet. The neck was broken and the body was pronounced dead in seven minutes. There was no disturbance during the day.

Sketch of His Career.

Talton Hall is credited with ninety-nine murders, and while this is probably an exaggeration, there is no doubt that he is responsible for the death of at least two score men. He was born in Letcher county, Ky., forty-six years ago, and grew up with such desperadoes as John Wright, who is credited with twenty-seven murders. They joined Guerilla Morgan's band when the war broke out, and made themselves famous as the subjects of discussion and reckless daring. When the war ended they returned to Kentucky and inaugurated a reign of terror in the mountains. Murders were the daily amusement of the gang, and although they were frequently arrested, the terror which they inspired insured their acquittal when brought to trial. Any juror who voted to convict any of the desperadoes was marked by their friends. In this way Hall was acquitted of the murder of a man named Henry Maggard in 1859. He killed Dan Frimont in 1875 and was acquitted; a cowardly jury acquitted him of Nat Baker's murder in 1881, and he went free when he murdered his brother-in-law Henry Frimont in 1882. He killed Henry Houk in 1883 and was indicted, but no officer dared arrest him, and in 1885 he killed his cousin, Mack Hall, and laughed at the sheriff who tried to arrest him. Finally, on July 14, 1891, he deliberately murdered a man named Police Hylton of Northern Va. By this time public sentiment was too strong for him, and he fled the country. He was captured at Memphis, Tenn., and was duly tried, convicted and sentenced.

SHIPWRECKED SAILORS SAFE.

Experience of the Captain and Crew of the Anna Dorothea.

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—The steamship Ebro, Captain Morgan, which reached this port from Hull, England, brought here the shipwrecked crew of the barque Anna Dorothea, of Danzig, who were rescued from the wreck of the Ebro's crew. Captain J. Eggert, of the lost vessel, told this story: "The Anna Dorothea left Harting July 2 in ballast for West Bay, N. S., with a crew of twelve hands, all told. Everything went well until August 5, when a series of westerly gales commenced. The ship began to leak and it was only through great exertion on the part of the crew that we were able to keep the water under. August 19 the water was washing up above the floorboards, but by heroic effort the ship was finally pumped almost dry. The vessel was then surveyed and it was found that water was coming in from around the sternpost. By this time the water had again risen above the floorboards and the ship rolled very heavily. The crew was kept constantly at the pumps. At 4 p. m. of the 20th, as the water continued to pour in, the boats were put over the side and fifty equipped preparatory to leaving the vessel. We eventually left her, and at daylight on the 22d saw her on her beam ends. We laid by the ship, and it was fortunate that we did so, as the heavy sea finally worked our boats and we were obliged to abandon the wreck. On the morning of the 26th the steamship Ebro came along, a life boat was launched from her and we were rescued from our perilous position. Our ship could not possibly have floated another twenty-four hours. We abandoned the ship in lat. 44, 41 N. lon. 39, 15 W."

GAUGHT BY A BLACKMAILER.

A Citizen of Memphis Falls Into a Trap Set by a Man and Wife.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 2.—The members of the upper ten in Memphis are all too apt to be the victims of a bold and partially successful attempt to blackmail James Yonce, a prominent and wealthy cotton factor, who has passed the half century mark in life, by a desperate couple named E. M. King and his wife. A day or two ago Yonce received a note from King's wife, whose name was not given, inviting him to call at her residence. Yonce accepted the invitation. When he arrived at her residence Yonce was received by Mrs. King in her private apartments. A few moments after his arrival King burst open the door and covered the intruder with a ugly looking revolver. King demanded $5,000 on the spot as a bail for his wounded honor. Yonce had no money with him, but King was determined not to be out-

EN ROUTE FOR THE BATTLE

His Journey Is Punctuated With the Pleasuries of the People at Every City.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 2.—With the coming to the approach of the Myer delegation, there was a decided change in the betting on the combination of fight for next week. Admirers of the Streater had said that when he arrived with his host of supporters there would be a decided change in the figures and accordingly they lost no time in plunging on the combination of Sullivan, Myer and Dixon. The pool rooms offered odds of thirteen to five against the three and recorded a number of such bets. The odds were maintained all day, but as the betting was too heavy the figures on Sullivan, Myer and Dixon were changed from thirteen to five to three to one. This change was made to try and coax some of the money away from the combination in which Myer figured. The figures against Corbett are still eight to five. At this price "pompador Jimmy" is freely backed. Billy Myer and his party reached the city at 11:30. The Illinois Central depot was crowded to overflowing with wishers who were eager to catch a glimpse of the young pugilist, but he was taken to Carrollton immediately upon his arrival. Billy seems to have taken his trip very kindly and looked to be in the very finest of trim. Among the recent arrivals was A. W. Davidson and a gentleman from Springfield.

JOHN AT CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 2.—John L. Sullivan's train arrived in Cincinnati this evening. The train remained in the Cincinnati depot for an hour and during all that time the throng stayed in the hope of seeing Sullivan at close quarters. They cheered at intervals through a political speaker was making good points in the course of his talk. Finally John L. came out to the rear platform of his car and shook hands with everybody within reach. About this time it was announced that Sullivan's advisors had decided that there would probably be harm in having Sullivan get into the climate of New Orleans so many days before the fight as Saturday before Wednesday and that there was no necessity of touching at the Crescent city until Sunday morning. This plan was accepted and the champion will arrive in New Orleans Sunday morning, instead of Saturday as originally intended.

RACING RECORD OF THE DAY.

Josephine and Dircum Winners at Independence—Other Turf Ticks.

INDEPENDENCE, Sept. 2.—A strong breeze blew from the south today impeding the speed to a considerable degree, but the track was in splendid shape. Two good races were billed for the day. The first race, the 2:25 class trot and ten good starters and Josephine won, driving on Sunday morning, the 3-year-old 3:00 class, alternated with the 2:25 trot and Dircum, the California stallion, won. Summaries: 2:25 trot, purse $1,000. Josephine, 1:11.1; Dircum, 1:11.1; Lavinia Wilkes, 1:11.1; Dircum, 1:11.1. Time, 2:25, 2:25, 2:25. 3-year-old, three minute trot, purse $1,000. Lavinia Wilkes, 1:11.1; Dircum, 1:11.1; Dircum, 1:11.1. Time, 2:25, 2:25, 2:25.

STABBED IN THE BACK.

Two Sweds Moulders Quarrel and One is Badly Cut.

ELK RAPIDS, Mich., Sept. 2.—A serious stabbing affray occurred here last night in the iron company's casting house. Two sweds at the company engaged in an altercation when one stabbed the other. Their names are Arnt Satten and Carl Olson. They are both top fitters and Oleon had been over to town and was filled up with 40-rd. Satten was sober. Oleon was picking on Satten and followed up his abuse by stabbing him on the left arm and in the back. Satten bled profusely, but the local physician thinks he may pull through. After the affray the police captured the offender and locked him up in jail.

BANK ROBBERS FOILED.

Raid in a California Town Frustrated by a Warning From One of the Gang.

CAYCE, Cal., Sept. 2.—The attempted bank robbery here was one of the worst fiascos ever seen in the state. The officers were warned of the contemplated crime by C. A. Dun, one of the four robbers, yet when the shooting began they allowed all the money to be taken. Dun was the only one who gave himself up. Jap Brown was arrested, Bill Brown is dead, and the fourth man named Goss is at large in the hills. There is evidence that the gang had committed several burglaries in the county and expected to raid other places after robbing the bank, which they knew contained $10,000. All the robbers have criminal records.

TELEGRAPHERS IN SESSION.

Not Engineering a Strike, But Want Better Wages.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 2.—The telegraphers had two meetings today, but the number present was so small that little was done towards organizing and all business was postponed until tomorrow, when it is expected that a much larger number will be present. Those who went into Wins' hall were compelled to sign an affidavit that they would never reveal the names of those present or repeat to any person anything that was done at any of the meetings. This was signed by nineteen men and several who were there refused to sign and were barred out. The men who are engineering the scheme say they don't intend to form a striking organization at all, but will place the telegraph operators of the country in such position that they will have better wages. It is expected that they will demand that they be paid to let the companies get hold of what they are doing in the secret meetings and the door of the hall is guarded by men who know every rooper in the city.

Telegraphers in Session.

Not Engineering a Strike, But Want Better Wages.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 2.—The telegraphers had two meetings today, but the number present was so small that little was done towards organizing and all business was postponed until tomorrow, when it is expected that a much larger number will be present. Those who went into Wins' hall were compelled to sign an affidavit that they would never reveal the names of those present or repeat to any person anything that was done at any of the meetings. This was signed by nineteen men and several who were there refused to sign and were barred out. The men who are engineering the scheme say they don't intend to form a striking organization at all, but will place the telegraph operators of the country in such position that they will have better wages. It is expected that they will demand that they be paid to let the companies get hold of what they are doing in the secret meetings and the door of the hall is guarded by men who know every rooper in the city.

Closing of a Nebraska Bank.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 2.—The Nebraska State bank of this city closed its doors today. The bank's capital was $50,000 and was recently reorganized. George D. Stephens, the former cashier, had the controlling interest. He left for Chicago August 22 and has not been seen since. His present whereabouts are unknown.

DUN & CO.'S REVIEW

Will Show Clearly Better Prospects Than Last Week.

EFFECTS OF THE PESTILENCE

Will Be Salutory Upon Business—Europe Will Not Buy so Much, But Higher Prices Will Rule.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—B. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade will say: Business prospects are clearly better than last week. Oats have declined half cent, pork 50 cents per barrel, lard 37 cents and hogs 90. The greater part of these changes come from unusual conditions of markets for some time held up in spite of extraordinary stocks in sight. Wheat receipts in four days were 4,852,560 bushels, but exports only 965,415. Stocks of cotton on hand in this country equal two months' consumption and in Europe about three months. The probability of a general decline in current estimates of the coming crop are constantly rising.
