

STOPS TO BE SHORT

If Made on Monroe Street and Canal Street.

A NEW ORDINANCE PASSED

The War of the Auctioneers Brought Into the Council—Referred to the Police Department for Investigation.

The only heavy discussion last night in the council was in regard to the ordinance relative to the hitching of teams on Monroe and Canal streets.

Mr. Papozinski stated that the class of people who frequent his saloon on Blaworth avenue does not suit him and he wishes to go to No. 363 East street.

The mayor reported back the petition of Adams & Welton to remove their saloon to the corner of Shawmut place and Grandville avenue, which was referred to him one week ago.

Comptroller's Report.

Table with financial data: General fund, Water works fund, Police department fund, etc.

Alderman Jacobs had a bill for work on the Fifth avenue and Madison avenue sewer roll struck out because the street had not been put in proper condition.

Several bills for services as clerks of election were presented at $9 each.

Albert Rietberg, clerk in the poor-master's office, asked to be allowed to draw his pay each week, at $12, instead of once each month.

Residents near East street represented that the dances in Travis' hall are a great annoyance, and asked the council to declare them a public nuisance.

Charles W. Smith asked that the amount of an assessment made on his property for the grading of South Division street be returned to him.

Albert Dodge represented that he was a lot on Corbin's addition, and finds that there is a tax title against the place.

N. L. Avery notified the council that the lease of the hay market expires December 1, and that it will be continued for the taxes and $100.

Musie & Van Orcken stated that they had found it necessary to remove the street corner track on Hall street when they were building the Hall and Buchanan street sewer at a cost of $40.

was referred the complaint of residents on Lake avenue reported that the street was still in the hands of the contractors and the board of public works.

The committee on road recommended that the White & White to furnish macadam for the city proper and accepted and that the committee be empowered to make a contract with White & White.

The committee on lamps recommended that the deduction of $301.63 be taken from the lamp bill for last month. The report was adopted.

The committee on charter amendments recommended that the clerk notify all owners of the city to notify the committee of changes needed in their departments. Adopted.

The Lyon street grade roll from Barclay street to Union street, the Logan street grade roll, the East street sewer roll, the Cass street grade roll, the North Union street sewer roll were postponed one week.

The ordinance regulating the hitching of teams and teams on the main streets was taken up and discussed.

The time fixed during which a team may stand in one place on Monroe and Canal streets was twenty minutes.

Alderman Mills wished to have Canal street struck out, as the backs could no longer stand on that street if the ordinance passed.

Mr. Mills has not forgotten his brother hackmen even if he has become the proprietor of a west side hotel since he has served as alderman.

The name of Clinton avenue in L. K. Bishop's addition was changed to Richard Terrace.

Mr. Powers, who has had some trouble with I. R. Wilson, appeared before the council and displayed a number of cheap watches which he said came from Mr. Wilson's auction shop.

He claimed that Wilson was robbing the working men of the city. The matter was referred to the committee on licenses with instructions to report at once.

Alderman Frost offered a resolution ordering the C. & W. M. to build a plank walk at its crossing with Godfrey avenue, also asking the commissioner of railroads if, in his opinion, a gate should be maintained at Godfrey avenue and watchmen kept at Second, Third and Fourth avenues.

The resolution was adopted. Alderman Harper asked to have the grade line of various outlying streets in his ward established.

The committee on licenses reported on the petition regarding the auction shop of I. R. Wilson and recommended that the matter be referred to the police department for investigation.

Overlooked by the Thanksgiving Committee, but Not Dismissed.

Mrs. Ellis J. Johnson lives in the basement of a house in the rear of No. 166 North Ionia street.

She is apparently in a low stage of bronchial consumption, and her daughter, who lives with her, has almost lost the use of her voice, besides having partially lost the use of her limbs.

Her complaint is that she had received nothing from the citizens' Thanksgiving committee, notwithstanding that she and her daughter have both been on the city poor list for years.

The daughter says she went to committee headquarters but they would do nothing for her. A year ago Mrs. Johnson was married to an old pensioner, but left him, she says, five weeks later.

She believes that the women of the committee discriminated against her, thinking she had a husband. Her rent costs $5 a month and the daughter is trying to do a little washing towards paying expenses.

The daughter will see Truant Officer Fee today. They had always hitherto received a basket from the Owashtongue on Thanksgiving, and have been badly disappointed this time.

fixed at $500, and in default he was recommended to jail. Ross was in correspondence with a sharper in New York who had "green goods" for sale.

The matter had gone so far that Ross had deposited a sum of money in a bank subject to the draft of a sharper in New York, when the postoffice detectives stopped the game.

Both Fined and Warned.

Jennie Van, charged with keeping a brothel on Island street, was arraigned in the superior court yesterday and changed the plea of "not guilty," which she made in police court, to "guilty."

Judge Burlingame said he would impose a fine this time, but as the law gave him the power to imprison for a number of years in that class of cases, he would advise Jennie not to appear before the courts again while he occupied the position of judge.

He fined her $50 and costs, amounting to $65.39.

Blankets Under Horses' Feet.

Register of Probate Adolph B. Mason spent Sunday in Chicago. He says the small fall of snow made the pavements very slippery and horses could be seen falling at any moment.

He noticed a trick of the drivers in getting the animals to their feet. As soon as a horse fell the driver would snatch his horse blanket, run to the horse and place it carefully beneath its feet.

This gave the beast a sure footing and he would raise easily.
