

GRAND RAPIDS HERALD

TELEPHONE NUMBERS: 531 Editorial Rooms, 100. THREE OF SUBSCRIPTION: ONLY ONE DOLLAR, One Year, $6.00...

Specials during THE HERALD served in their homes can be ordered by postal order...

POWERS' GRAND OPERA. MONDAY... GLEN DA LOUGH. TUESDAY... A HOLE IN THE GROUND...

WEATHER. WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—For Lower Michigan: snow; winds backing to north and west; colder.

WELSH TO THE LAST.

Joe Gould has disposed of his millions to perpetuate his name in the future of finance and stock speculation. All his vast store of securities is divided among the members of his family...

WHOLESALE ABUSE.

Were it not for the serious import of the subject the avalanche of distributive under which the democrat papers seek to bury the president's message would be grotesquely humorous. There seems to be no limit to the string of invective leveled at his head because he dared to appeal from the verdict of the people to ask that the principles of protection be not utterly condemned...

CANADA SERENE.

Canadians resent the imputation that they are plagued with inertia and stagnation. They insist their country is in a state of healthy progression and do not wish to have it said that their commercial activities are impaired by their peculiar form of government...

in all that Canada essays to do. The recent and present existing complications over tolls and other restrictions imposed upon American commerce are characteristically sluggish and unsatisfactory. Still Canadians do not wish to be considered mopeheads...

There are still two or three members of Congress that have not announced their intention of introducing an immigration bill. "Have I grown fat?" asked May Irwin when she made her entrance in "The Junior Partner" at Powers' last night...

THEY WON THE DAY.

Quoting from the Manufacturer, published in Philadelphia, the American Economist prints this significant paragraph on the late election: "It is a very large concession to admit that an actual majority of the people of the nation desire to make the venture that will now be made with free trade..."

STAY PRESS GOSSIP.

Time brings its revenge. On the 4th of March next one Adlai E. Stevenson will, as vice president of the United States, preside over a senate which refused to confirm his appointment as one of the justices of the supreme bench of the District of Columbia...

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR GRIDDINS PROMISES TO RECOGNIZE THE MAN THAT WILL INTRODUCE A BILL TO REPEAL THE MINER LAW...

Hereafter in England, according to a recent decision, a man can sue the preacher for scaring his wife into going to church instead of staying at home and cooking his dinner. It is a little difficult to tell where religion ends and intimidation begins.—New York Herald.

HIT AND MISS STORIES.

Mr. Peffer of Kansas ridicules the idea that Mrs. Lease may be chosen as his colleague in the senate, but he is afraid to bet his pocket and obtrusive whiskers on the matter. There is more in the Lease boom than its enemies care to admit.—New York Press.

POINTS ABOUT MEN.

Every president of the United States so far has been a lawyer, a soldier or both. Washington, William H. Harrison, Taylor and Grant were soldiers; Monroe, Jackson, Pierce, Hayes, Garfield and Benjamin Harrison were lawyers and soldiers, while all the rest were lawyers.

LITTLE WOMEN.

Don't you worry about the little woman! Just analyze her a bit before you waste any great amount of sympathy upon her. That baby woman whom you find in the street, or in the car, or carry her own parcels home, or get in or out of a carriage without having half a dozen men run to assist her...

BURGLES BEWARE.

Alice, Mary and Lottie Evans were sleeping together in Hazleton, Pa., when they heard a man's step on the stairs. It reached the door, and the next moment a man stood in the room. Two of the girls held the man while the third wreaked vengeance on his face and head. Citizens arrived and the culprit was taken in hand, but a posse of his friends came to his rescue...

FOR AND ABOUT WOMEN.

A Russian pailot or overcoat may be made after the accompanying model of broad and shawl trimmed with fur. This toilet as represented was composed of green and dark brown fabrics and finished with a trimming of narrow black fox fur. The front is closed with hooks and eyes. The body of this wrap is arranged in folds with back and closed by high brocade fastenings at the sleeves. The girdle is formed from folds of the material and is closed under a large clasp, which if it is desired that the toilet should be rich, is made of old silver and set with different sorts of precious stones.

WOMEN VOTERS.

It is pleasant to be able to emphasize the fact that there are 10,000 Boston women registered to vote on school matters this year. It would be pleasant, too, if these women could find the papers up to the times in speaking of them. It is rather worthy of an old-fashioned woman to stir up a southern colonel than a modern Boston editor to make that comment on the women of Boston, which says: "Perhaps the exceptionally pleasant weather we have been having during the time appointed for registration has had an influence on the women of the city. Or is it because it is leap year?"

PERSONAL MENTION.

The women of Millicent and Grace have of the Massachusetts will hold office on Saturday evening. They were obligated as ladies of the Mystic Shrine on Tuesday evening. Miss Georgia F. Kidder is doing bright and active work on the Kalamazoo Gazette as society editor. She has many friends in this city who are glad to note her success.

POINTS ABOUT WOMEN.

A daughter of the Duchesse de Lays is to be the heir of the Duc de Noailles in Paris soon. The bride's mother was left a widow at 20, her husband dying in the war. Insinuations having been made as to his courage, the duchesse had his body exhibited to show his wounds, in the hall of the splendid family seat, Damperre, about twenty-five miles from Paris, where his daughter is to be married. It is one of the half dozen remaining stately homes of France kept up to perfection in the old style.

POINTS ABOUT MEN.

Every president of the United States so far has been a lawyer, a soldier or both. Washington, William H. Harrison, Taylor and Grant were soldiers; Monroe, Jackson, Pierce, Hayes, Garfield and Benjamin Harrison were lawyers and soldiers, while all the rest were lawyers.

LITTLE WOMEN.

Don't you worry about the little woman! Just analyze her a bit before you waste any great amount of sympathy upon her. That baby woman whom you find in the street, or in the car, or carry her own parcels home, or get in or out of a carriage without having half a dozen men run to assist her...

BURGLES BEWARE.

Alice, Mary and Lottie Evans were sleeping together in Hazleton, Pa., when they heard a man's step on the stairs. It reached the door, and the next moment a man stood in the room. Two of the girls held the man while the third wreaked vengeance on his face and head. Citizens arrived and the culprit was taken in hand, but a posse of his friends came to his rescue...

FOR AND ABOUT WOMEN.

A Russian pailot or overcoat may be made after the accompanying model of broad and shawl trimmed with fur. This toilet as represented was composed of green and dark brown fabrics and finished with a trimming of narrow black fox fur. The front is closed with hooks and eyes. The body of this wrap is arranged in folds with back and closed by high brocade fastenings at the sleeves. The girdle is formed from folds of the material and is closed under a large clasp, which if it is desired that the toilet should be rich, is made of old silver and set with different sorts of precious stones.

WOMEN VOTERS.

It is pleasant to be able to emphasize the fact that there are 10,000 Boston women registered to vote on school matters this year. It would be pleasant, too, if these women could find the papers up to the times in speaking of them. It is rather worthy of an old-fashioned woman to stir up a southern colonel than a modern Boston editor to make that comment on the women of Boston, which says: "Perhaps the exceptionally pleasant weather we have been having during the time appointed for registration has had an influence on the women of the city. Or is it because it is leap year?"

PERSONAL MENTION.

The women of Millicent and Grace have of the Massachusetts will hold office on Saturday evening. They were obligated as ladies of the Mystic Shrine on Tuesday evening. Miss Georgia F. Kidder is doing bright and active work on the Kalamazoo Gazette as society editor. She has many friends in this city who are glad to note her success.

POINTS ABOUT WOMEN.

A daughter of the Duchesse de Lays is to be the heir of the Duc de Noailles in Paris soon. The bride's mother was left a widow at 20, her husband dying in the war. Insinuations having been made as to his courage, the duchesse had his body exhibited to show his wounds, in the hall of the splendid family seat, Damperre, about twenty-five miles from Paris, where his daughter is to be married. It is one of the half dozen remaining stately homes of France kept up to perfection in the old style.

POINTS ABOUT MEN.

Every president of the United States so far has been a lawyer, a soldier or both. Washington, William H. Harrison, Taylor and Grant were soldiers; Monroe, Jackson, Pierce, Hayes, Garfield and Benjamin Harrison were lawyers and soldiers, while all the rest were lawyers.

LITTLE WOMEN.

Don't you worry about the little woman! Just analyze her a bit before you waste any great amount of sympathy upon her. That baby woman whom you find in the street, or in the car, or carry her own parcels home, or get in or out of a carriage without having half a dozen men run to assist her...

BURGLES BEWARE.

Alice, Mary and Lottie Evans were sleeping together in Hazleton, Pa., when they heard a man's step on the stairs. It reached the door, and the next moment a man stood in the room. Two of the girls held the man while the third wreaked vengeance on his face and head. Citizens arrived and the culprit was taken in hand, but a posse of his friends came to his rescue...

NEWS OF THE HOTELS.

Rates Motiaw, of London, a representative of Mess. Zeno & Co., performers, is at the Morton. "You may be surprised to know that there is more money spent every year for perfumes than for any other toilet article—at least 75 per cent more than there is for soap. The trade has become an immense one. It is as great in fact that if the coming congress does not repeal the 50 per cent ad valorem, and $2 a gallon for spirits, on perfumes, our firm will probably start a branch factory in the United States for the American trade. We can do that cheaper than we can pay the duty. Few persons know just how perfumes are made. Many don't care so long as they can get their favorite. The flowers are thrown into metal tubs, and heated with a mixture of steam, tallow and olive oil. The dead flowers rise to the top of the boiling mixture, every particle of color and oil having been boiled out. The greasy mixture is run on a perforated plate into cans. After that it is distilled in high wind, and the compound is frozen for six months. The high wine does not freeze, and it absorbs all the odor from the essential oils. The fatty substances can be taken out, and the perfume remains to be further purified and bottled. The best perfumes are those that most nearly resemble the odor of the flower from which they were extracted. That is the acme of the perfumer's art. The tendency of the American manufacturer is often to outdo nature. There is a lily of the valley perfume made in this country that is so heavy as to be almost unbearable. The tastes for perfumes differ; but the better classes have struck a happy medium between the heavy overpowering scents and the delicate, almost undistinguishable odors that were affected a short time ago."

FOR WOMAN'S ENFRANCHISEMENT.

Carrie Lane Chapman addressed a fair audience at Good Templars' hall yesterday afternoon on the subject of the need and duty of women to organize in order to rectify the inequalities now existing between the sexes. She gave as illustrations some cases which had come under her own observation while a newspaper reporter in San Francisco. She showed how unfair, proportionately, are the wages of men and women. She stated that in the past that men's wages had risen in proportion as they have been enfranchised and claimed that to be enfranchised is the main remedy for the inequalities. After the lecture a short reception was held. Mrs. Chapman leaves for Battle Creek this afternoon, but will be pleased to meet any women of the city at Mrs. S. G. Ketcham's home on West Bridge street.

HENRY IV. AND HIS CHILDREN.

Henry IV. of France always insisted upon his children calling him papa, as he did not wish them to address him by the titles of sire and majesty, according to the ceremonial adopted at foreign courts. He was in the habit of taking part in the childish amusements of his little ones. One day as he was going round a room on all fours with the Dauphin, his first born, on his back, an ambassador unexpectedly entered his apartment. The king, without changing his posture, said to him: "Sir, have you children of your own?" "Yes, sire," was the reply. "Ah, well, in that case I will finish my ride around the room."

WOMAN'S PARLIAMENTARY DRILL.

A good sized class was present at the last parliamentary drill given by Mrs. Benjamin at Simmon's hall, last evening. The members of the South End Ladies' Literary club, under whose auspices the drills have been given, feel much gratification over the benefits they have received.

PERSONAL MENTION.

The women of Millicent and Grace have of the Massachusetts will hold office on Saturday evening. They were obligated as ladies of the Mystic Shrine on Tuesday evening. Miss Georgia F. Kidder is doing bright and active work on the Kalamazoo Gazette as society editor. She has many friends in this city who are glad to note her success.

POINTS ABOUT WOMEN.

A daughter of the Duchesse de Lays is to be the heir of the Duc de Noailles in Paris soon. The bride's mother was left a widow at 20, her husband dying in the war. Insinuations having been made as to his courage, the duchesse had his body exhibited to show his wounds, in the hall of the splendid family seat, Damperre, about twenty-five miles from Paris, where his daughter is to be married. It is one of the half dozen remaining stately homes of France kept up to perfection in the old style.

POINTS ABOUT MEN.

Every president of the United States so far has been a lawyer, a soldier or both. Washington, William H. Harrison, Taylor and Grant were soldiers; Monroe, Jackson, Pierce, Hayes, Garfield and Benjamin Harrison were lawyers and soldiers, while all the rest were lawyers.

LITTLE WOMEN.

Don't you worry about the little woman! Just analyze her a bit before you waste any great amount of sympathy upon her. That baby woman whom you find in the street, or in the car, or carry her own parcels home, or get in or out of a carriage without having half a dozen men run to assist her...

BURGLES BEWARE.

Alice, Mary and Lottie Evans were sleeping together in Hazleton, Pa., when they heard a man's step on the stairs. It reached the door, and the next moment a man stood in the room. Two of the girls held the man while the third wreaked vengeance on his face and head. Citizens arrived and the culprit was taken in hand, but a posse of his friends came to his rescue...

NEWS OF THE HOTELS.

Rates Motiaw, of London, a representative of Mess. Zeno & Co., performers, is at the Morton. "You may be surprised to know that there is more money spent every year for perfumes than for any other toilet article—at least 75 per cent more than there is for soap. The trade has become an immense one. It is as great in fact that if the coming congress does not repeal the 50 per cent ad valorem, and $2 a gallon for spirits, on perfumes, our firm will probably start a branch factory in the United States for the American trade. We can do that cheaper than we can pay the duty. Few persons know just how perfumes are made. Many don't care so long as they can get their favorite. The flowers are thrown into metal tubs, and heated with a mixture of steam, tallow and olive oil. The dead flowers rise to the top of the boiling mixture, every particle of color and oil having been boiled out. The greasy mixture is run on a perforated plate into cans. After that it is distilled in high wind, and the compound is frozen for six months. The high wine does not freeze, and it absorbs all the odor from the essential oils. The fatty substances can be taken out, and the perfume remains to be further purified and bottled. The best perfumes are those that most nearly resemble the odor of the flower from which they were extracted. That is the acme of the perfumer's art. The tendency of the American manufacturer is often to outdo nature. There is a lily of the valley perfume made in this country that is so heavy as to be almost unbearable. The tastes for perfumes differ; but the better classes have struck a happy medium between the heavy overpowering scents and the delicate, almost undistinguishable odors that were affected a short time ago."

FOR WOMAN'S ENFRANCHISEMENT.

Carrie Lane Chapman addressed a fair audience at Good Templars' hall yesterday afternoon on the subject of the need and duty of women to organize in order to rectify the inequalities now existing between the sexes. She gave as illustrations some cases which had come under her own observation while a newspaper reporter in San Francisco. She showed how unfair, proportionately, are the wages of men and women. She stated that in the past that men's wages had risen in proportion as they have been enfranchised and claimed that to be enfranchised is the main remedy for the inequalities. After the lecture a short reception was held. Mrs. Chapman leaves for Battle Creek this afternoon, but will be pleased to meet any women of the city at Mrs. S. G. Ketcham's home on West Bridge street.

HENRY IV. AND HIS CHILDREN.

Henry IV. of France always insisted upon his children calling him papa, as he did not wish them to address him by the titles of sire and majesty, according to the ceremonial adopted at foreign courts. He was in the habit of taking part in the childish amusements of his little ones. One day as he was going round a room on all fours with the Dauphin, his first born, on his back, an ambassador unexpectedly entered his apartment. The king, without changing his posture, said to him: "Sir, have you children of your own?" "Yes, sire," was the reply. "Ah, well, in that case I will finish my ride around the room."

WOMAN'S PARLIAMENTARY DRILL.

A good sized class was present at the last parliamentary drill given by Mrs. Benjamin at Simmon's hall, last evening. The members of the South End Ladies' Literary club, under whose auspices the drills have been given, feel much gratification over the benefits they have received.

PERSONAL MENTION.

The women of Millicent and Grace have of the Massachusetts will hold office on Saturday evening. They were obligated as ladies of the Mystic Shrine on Tuesday evening. Miss Georgia F. Kidder is doing bright and active work on the Kalamazoo Gazette as society editor. She has many friends in this city who are glad to note her success.

POINTS ABOUT WOMEN.

A daughter of the Duchesse de Lays is to be the heir of the Duc de Noailles in Paris soon. The bride's mother was left a widow at 20, her husband dying in the war. Insinuations having been made as to his courage, the duchesse had his body exhibited to show his wounds, in the hall of the splendid family seat, Damperre, about twenty-five miles from Paris, where his daughter is to be married. It is one of the half dozen remaining stately homes of France kept up to perfection in the old style.

POINTS ABOUT MEN.

Every president of the United States so far has been a lawyer, a soldier or both. Washington, William H. Harrison, Taylor and Grant were soldiers; Monroe, Jackson, Pierce, Hayes, Garfield and Benjamin Harrison were lawyers and soldiers, while all the rest were lawyers.

LITTLE WOMEN.

Don't you worry about the little woman! Just analyze her a bit before you waste any great amount of sympathy upon her. That baby woman whom you find in the street, or in the car, or carry her own parcels home, or get in or out of a carriage without having half a dozen men run to assist her...

BURGLES BEWARE.

Alice, Mary and Lottie Evans were sleeping together in Hazleton, Pa., when they heard a man's step on the stairs. It reached the door, and the next moment a man stood in the room. Two of the girls held the man while the third wreaked vengeance on his face and head. Citizens arrived and the culprit was taken in hand, but a posse of his friends came to his rescue... and if Mr. Dickinson will accept one of the most brilliant banquets the city has ever seen will be served at the Morton Friday night.

Lieutenant Governor-elect J. Wright Giddings of Cadillac arrived at the Morton yesterday. "Still at work on those committees," he said. "There are fifteen of them and it's no easy task to prepare them. Don't think I'll give them out though until they are announced in the senate. We're going to repeal the Miner law the first week. I have given official notice to the boys that the first one of them that has a bill prepared to repeal it, shall be recognized before he gets out of his chair. I understand that Joe Wynn of Detroit has a bill all ready."

ALLEGED TO BE FUNNY.

Holiday Compliment—"How do I look?" asked the turkey as he expanded his gorgeous array of feathers. "Fit to kill," replied the ardent old rooster, who is so tough he can't be eaten.—Washington Star.

A Wife's Forethought.

He—"I am going to the Old Chums' dinner tonight, love." She—"But surely not in dress suit?" He—"Of course, why not?" She—"It will look so out of place to come home in it in broad daylight."—Modern Society.

Physically Unable to Comply.

"Come and sit round the fire, Emerson," said the hospitable western relative. "There are physical limitations that will prevent me from doing so, Ann Rachel," replied the young woman from Boston, "but with your permission I will sit in front of the fire."—Chicago Tribune.

The first thing I must do, said the escaped convict, "is to get another suit. They will judge a man by his clothes in this world."—Washington Star.

Blinks—That fellow Bharpleigh is the most insufferably conceited man I ever saw.

What has he ever done to gain such a high opinion of himself? Winks—I believe he once found a mistake in a newspaper.—New York Weekly.

Mr. G. W. Ochiltree—I had a delightful vacation.

Good hotel, large rooms, comfortable bed, excellent board and no acquaintances. Mr. Berkshire Lenox (as he leaves them)—That gentleman comes of a very old family. Miss Addie Bondack—Yes, Ananias and Sapphira.—Truth.

The recently elevated Cardinal Vincent Vannutelli is a younger brother of Cardinal Serafin Vannutelli and this is said to be the first time in the history of the sacred college that seats in it have been simultaneously held by brothers.

A young theosophist came all the way from New Zealand last week for a ten-minute consultation with Mrs. Annie Besant.

He came by a steamer that arrived at New York on Friday and sailed home by another on Saturday.

MACHINISTS TOOLS 25 PER CENT OFF.

MACHINISTS TOOLS LESS THAN JOBBERS COST!

This is your golden opportunity, show your wisdom and far-sightedness by taking advantage of the bargains we offer.

To-NIGHT at Coney Island Peter Maher of Ireland and Joe Goddard of Australia will fight for a purse of $7,500. The men will enter the ring at catch weights, but it is expected that they will drop the scales at about 195 pounds each. Maher has fought with Fitzsimmons, and it is likely that the winner to-night will meet Champion Corbett next year.

Starratt's Narrow Steel Rules, Starratt's Flexible Steel Rules, Wykes' End Measure, Darling, Brown & Sharp's Steel Rules, Starratt's Straight Edges, Wykes' Straight Edges, Imported Folding Rules, Improved Scales for Draughtsmen, Kennelly's Bevel Protractors, T Squares for Draughtsmen.

Surface Gauges, Starratt's Steel Scratch Gauges, Wykes' Angle and Templot, Starratt's Combination Dividers and Calipers, Koopman's Compact Dividers, Thread Calipers, Cook's Trammel Points, Starratt's Caliper Squares, Standard Caliper Squares, D. B. & S. Caliper Squares.

Not a thing in the list but what is worth a quarter more than we will ask you. Our supply is limited and will last but a short time at the prices we are making. We have mentioned only a small portion of the line, feeling assured that we will have the pleasure of personally showing you our GENUINE BARGAINS.

