

HIS FATHER IS DEAD

Gay Bathrick, the Novi Boy, a Parricide.

HIS STORY OF THE MURDER

The Injured Man Suffered the Most Terrible Agonies Until Kindly Death Relieved Him.

Novi, Dec. 30.—Summer Bathrick is dead and his son is a parricide. And all on account of a miserable family quarrel.

The story of the shooting was told in these dispatches yesterday. Immediately after the deed Gay rushed out and sent a physician to the house to care for his father.

The condition of Mr. Bathrick was easily diagnosed by the physician. The plain work of death was on his brow. He was partially conscious and at times he would break out in incoherent exclamations, such as:

"My boy stabbed me; oh why did you do it?"

"Forgive me, oh, forgive me for all I have done," was another cry from the dying man.

The patient lingered till 4 o'clock this morning. His sufferings were terrible but spasmodic. After 12 he became a little more comfortable, and his death was comparatively painless.

The Murderer's Story.

POWERS, Dec. 30.—Gay Bathrick, who killed his father last night, was seen at the county jail this morning. He said, when asked about the unfortunate affair, that he had been at home for the past month. Previous to that he had been working for Mark Houghton, near Milford. Gay had been out hunting in the afternoon with repeating rifle, which, when he returned, he placed in the corner of the room, as usual.

Mrs. Bathrick was not at home, and Gay and his father sat down to supper about 6 o'clock. The conversation turned to Gay's going to Northville to find work at some of the factories there, which his father had before urged him to do. Some disagreement arose about this, trifling at first. Then each became more and more angry, and as to Gay's conduct ensued for a few minutes.

Gay got up from the table, as did his father. Mr. Bathrick said that he had better kill him, and picked up a knife from the table. Gay stepped to the corner, grasped the rifle, leveled it at his father, who was not more than six feet from him, and fired three shots in quick succession.

WILL RUN IT HIMSELF.

Stockbridge Hastens Home to Superintend His Campaign for Senator.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Senator Stockbridge left for Michigan this morning. He may go to Kalamazoo, but his objective point is Lansing, where he will act as president and be commander-in-chief of the Stockbridge forces in the coming senatorial battle. When the senator first reached here a month ago, he said he would probably remain in Washington and let his lieutenant look after the senatorial contest. But the spirited canvass made by the opposition has led him to change his mind.

Representative Wheeler of Michigan is quoted in the Washington Post-Gay as saying: "It looks to me very much as though Senator Stockbridge will not be elected to succeed himself. If not, I should prefer to see Congressman O'Donnell elected rather than any other man in the republican party. He is farmed out and not in the partisan and has had large and wide experience in public affairs. His election would be an honor to Michigan."

These Drew Prizes.

LANSING, Dec. 30.—The new board of state auditors today made the following appointments: Superintendent of Capitol, Thomas Hill of Lansing; assistant superintendent, W. J. Gardner of Plymouth; day policeman, J. E. Sherman of Eaton county and C. J. Wate of Calhoun county; night policeman, A. C. Cody of Livingston county and George Wilcox of Lansing; clerk board of auditors, Mark S. Peterson; assistants, Isaac M. Jackson of Detroit, Jacob Basenbark of Grand Rapids and August Osman of Lansing; legislative stationer, Charles Hasse of Lansing; carpenter, J. A. Melius of Lansing; janitor, George Prout, Shaffer and George Randall of Ingham county and J. Armstrong of Clinton county; janitor, Rebecca Patts of Ingham county.

In Dead Tongues.

ANN ARBOR, Dec. 30.—At a conference of a committee of prominent educators at Marquette last summer, it was recommended that college teachers of each principal subject be held for the discussion of the best way of instructing in such subject. At present two such conferences are being held here—one Latin and the other Greek. The most interesting and the results will be made known until it has been reported to the national committee.

Her Soft Job.

ANN ARBOR, Dec. 30.—Miss Margaret Scott, superintendent of the industrial home for girls at Adrian up to October, 1891, has gone east to accept the management of a young man's preparatory school in Eastern Pennsylvania. The terms commence January 10 and the salary is said to be $1,000.

DOCTOR'S FEES AND FREE ADVERTISING.

According to newspaper reports, a celebrated American surgeon received $1,000 for removing a tumor from a wealthy lady's ear. The papers fail to state the exact amount of the advertising the doctor received in addition. National Advertiser.

Little women together.

It is the form of one of the largest the country ever. The most recent. It has grown, day by day, through many years to greatness. This form of the newspaper's good money (temporary work, this advertising) is to sell the people that they have faith in what they sell, so much faith that they can't benefit or cure they want your money.

It is the cheapest blood-purifier sold, though druggists do not realize how many hundred doses are offered for its price ($1.00 a bottle), since you pay only for the good you get.

leged to have been drawn by the "im-bor" on his account for a period of years—also for services, etc. The commissioners allowed Anson $900. He appealed, and the circuit court yesterday awarded claimant $1,000.

Caused by a Bit of Plaster.

MUSKEGON, Dec. 30.—A two-story frame house on Southern avenue was destroyed by fire this morning. Loss, including contents, $1,000. It was owned by David Mann, and occupied by J. A. Stanton. Mrs. Stanton had just entered the kitchen with a lamp in her hand to prepare breakfast. A piece of plaster fell from the ceiling, striking the lamp, the floor, where the oil ignited, and speedily the house was in flames.

Need to Hustle.

GRAND HAVEN, Dec. 30.—Prominent agriculturists in this section of the state are sending up complaints against those in authority on world's Columbian exposition matters. They claim that unless something more is done than has been accomplished thus far, the agricultural and horticultural interests of Western Michigan will go without representation at the big show.

Makes a Good Showing.

HILLSDALE, Dec. 30.—The Hillsdale college catalogue for 1892-93 are out. The summary of attendance shows that there are in the academic department 370 students; in the theological department, 72; music department, 155; art department, 74. Deduct names noted more than once, 186, and the number of different persons enrolled is 424.

Two Small Fires.

CRYSTAL FALLS, Dec. 30.—The old opera house building was destroyed by fire this morning. It was uninsured. The postoffice, in another part of the town, was on fire at the same time, resulting in small damage to the building, fixtures and furniture. The cause of the fire was a mystery.

Students Slow Pay.

ANN ARBOR, Dec. 30.—Steffey & Service, postoffice newsmen, were closed out last night on a $500 chattel mortgage held by J. J. Thompson of New York. They claim that the stock will inventory $1,500. The cause of the difficulty is said to be slow collections.

Traveler's Home Burned.

EAST JORDAN, Dec. 30.—The "Traveler's Home," a famous trout fishing resort nine miles south of East Jordan, where the Chestonia postoffice was kept by William Coburn, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The family and several visitors lost everything.

Drugged the Whiskey.

KALAMAZOO, Dec. 30.—Mary Brown, 17, of Almena, and Lula Brown, 16, of Cedar Springs, employed in the asylum, were found drunk and asleep in a snowbank last midnight. They were arrested. As no officers are charged with furnishing the girls hot whiskey.

He Investigated.

HOOVER, Dec. 30.—John Lahby, single, aged 30 years, was blown to pieces this evening in the Osceola mine by the explosion of dynamite cartridges in two holes charged which hung fire, exploding just as he returned to investigate the cause of delay.

Just a Little Balm.

KALAMAZOO, Dec. 30.—Mrs. Lizzie Conklin of Schoolcraft, who sued the Chicago & Grand Trunk railroad for $10,000 damages, secured a judgment for $995 in the circuit court yesterday.

His Valuable Foot.

Mr. CLEMENS, Dec. 30.—Alderman Wilson, who had a foot badly crushed some time since while getting off a Grand Trunk train, sues the company for $25,000 damages.

AN INCOMPARABLE PAPER.

This is the season when everybody is selecting presents for others, and everyone is pleased to receive a kindly remembrance. It is not always an easy thing to select articles that at our own expense give and our pocket books alike, and often when these nearest and dearest to us are provided for, there is often an absence of friends or times when we are in whom we would like to send something. Here, then, is an idea at once to the rescue. To the absent friend, to the old folks at home or to the boy away, send a copy of the 52-PAGE GRAND RAPIDS HERALD.

The cost is trifling, yet the one who receives will be pleased. Those who know little of Grand Rapids can learn much by a perusal of its page. Any former resident would be delighted with its pages of illustrations and reading matter. If you have not mailed one or more, don't forget
