MOTEL CHATS.

MOTEL CHATS. B. F. Graves, the new commandant of the Soldiers' home arrived in the morning last night. The board of managers will hold its regular monthly meeting at the home today. It was expected that Mr. Graves would make his appointments there, but he has decided that he will not. "I have not come to any decision myself yet in regard to a commandant," he said last night. "There are eight or nine applicants, and all of them are good men. I want to be very careful in making my appointments. It is easier to be sure to get the right man the first time than it is to get rid of the wrong man after you have him. For that reason I shall not be in a hurry about appointing a quartermaster. So far as the office of adjutant is concerned that has already been settled. Major Long will remain. I don't know whether I shall formally announce his appointment to the board tomorrow or not. But he will remain nevertheless. The other appointments will not be made until after I take charge of the home and have become thoroughly familiar with the duties. Then I shall make such changes as I think best."

POINTS ABOUT MEN.

POINTS ABOUT MEN. The youngest man who can write his name as governor is John E. Osborne, the chief executive of Wyoming. He is only 34, a doctor by profession, very good looking, of pleasing address, and went from Vermont to the west some fourteen years ago, though a native of New York.

Prof. Virchow, the world famous pathologist, was an ardent politician in his younger years, and had many an oratorical tilt with Prince Bismarck. He invented the word "Kulturkampf," to designate the fight for culture that raged so violently in Germany some years ago.

Christian Joachim Mohu, who died recently at Naples, is said to have been the greatest linguist of his day, having been acquainted with sixty languages. He was of Norwegian birth, and was 85 years old at the time of his death.

John Hopkins university will start June, for the first time, confer the title Ph. D. upon a woman. Miss Florence Bacon, a Massachusetts girl, will at that time be so honored by that institution.

It is probably true that Hugh J. Grant will not be re-elected a sachen of Tammany hall. Mr. Croker no longer likes Mr. Grant, and will likely make him feel his displeasure.

It is the opinion of many of the more prominent democrats at Washington that ex-Secretary Whitney will yet be induced to accept a high position from Mr. Cleveland.

The late Captain Henry H. Lewis, of Baltimore, bore a strong facial and physical resemblance to George Washington, whose great grandnephew he was.

ALLEGED TO BE FUNNY.

"Mr. Gingham," said Taper, "I would like a fortnight's absence to attend the wedding of a very dear friend." "It must be a very dear friend indeed to make you want that much time. Who is it?" "Well, after the ceremony she will be my wife."—Tid-Bits.

Stranger—Suppose a policeman exceeds his authority and assaults reputable citizens, what redress have you? Mr. Gotham—Well, those of us who get killed have the privilege of swearing at him through a spiritual medium.—New York Weekly.

Mamma (reviewing Ethel's "composition")—Why, child, this is no way to spell "pincoceros." Ethel—But it does not spell it, how did you know what it was?—Indianapolis Journal.

Jaeger—Bighead is a strange man for a philosopher. Jumpuppe—Indeed! Jaeger—Yes. He said that all men are created animals, and yet got angry when I called him an ass.—Buffalo Express.

Little Dot—Why don't you read those books mamma gave you on Christmas? Little Dick—I'm afraid I get through with them when she'll give me some more next Christmas.—Street & Smith's Good News.

Kitty—Isn't it wonderful how well Jack gets along on a small salary? Tom (guardedly)—Ah, well, you see, he owes a great deal to his friends.—Brooklyn Life.

Bunting—Can't you give me back that $20 I let you have six months ago? Larkin—You surely don't expect a man to pay debts in Lent!—Detroit Free Press.

LLOYD BREEZE.

LLOYD BREEZE. The untimely taking off of Lloyd Breeze brings sorrow into the hearts of hundreds of men and women all over this broad land. No one became acquainted with the engaging personality of this brilliant man without forming an attachment that invests this sudden death with a feeling of personal bereavement.

A big man, in stature, in mind, in heart, Lloyd Breeze was first of all that best product of our civilization—a good fellow. He was cheerful under every difficulty with which his genius varied his career. He was a true Bohemian—alive to all that is good in life, unobscured by selfishness, and so generous that a recital of his innumerable deeds of kindness and charity will never be known on this earth.

He should have lived, this friend of humanity. No one better reflected in his life the qualities that make life worth the living—it is impossible even now to associate him with the thought of death.—Chicago Mail Editorial.

CORRECTS THE CORRECTOR.

EDITOR GRAND RAPIDS HERALD.—In behalf of the Grand Rapids Spiritualists, please give me space to say that that society has possibly proven its ability to take charge of its own business, and does not require the services or dictation of any special for the function of public relations of spiritualists. It seems to place before the intelligent mind some of the very best specimens of the phenomena and philosophy for which it stands having each one to sift for the truth, well knowing that it is ever the best frosted tree that gets the most clinging, and that ever a "truth is to supplant." Mrs. C. H. HERRICK.

MAY VISIT THE SHIPS.

MAY VISIT THE SHIPS. Nonavik, Va., April 4.—A number of college presidents have made arrangements to have their scholars visit Norfolk during the rendezvous of the navy of the world, as they consider such a sight an object lesson that every child should witness. Admiral Oberaur has informed the executive committee of the Nonavious association that his regulation prohibiting visitors, ladies and others on the ships during the review will not apply during the time that the fleets are in Hampton Roads.

REDUCED RAILROAD FARES.

REDUCED RAILROAD FARES. New York, April 4.—The Trunk Line association held its weekly meeting this afternoon. Commissioner Farmer presided. It was decided by the association to make a special rate of one and one-third to and from all points within 300 miles of this city, to people desiring to see the naval parade on April 27. This means that people will be brought here for the regular fare and returned to their homes for one-third the regular fare.

FOR EQUAL RIGHTS.

FOR EQUAL RIGHTS. JACKSON, Mich., April 4.—The third annual meeting of the State Equal Rights association of the colored people met at the council rooms shortly before noon. President W. M. Miller of Lansing called the meeting to order. Theodore P. Wood of Tawas was made chairman, and J. H. Gray of Saginaw secretary. Officers were elected as follows: President, F. M. Thurman; Jackson; secretary, J. H. Gray, Saginaw; vice president, Theodore P. Wood, Ingham; historian, Thomas Wallace, Leawards; committee on business investments, J. J. Evans, Battle Creek; F. M. Thurman, Jackson; W. H. Stone, Detroit; Charles E. Sargent, J. C. Ford, Grand Rapids. Adjourned to meet at Grand Rapids the second Tuesday in April, 1893.

OVER 12,000 FOR HOOKER.

OVER 12,000 FOR HOOKER. Detroit, Mich., April 4.—Michigan may be considered a republican. The indications are that Judge Hooker has won by a plurality of 10,000 or 12,000 or more over Durand, and the candidates for regents have won a still greater victory. All of the proposed constitutional amendments have undoubtedly carried, the opposition being inconsiderable. A light vote was polled throughout the state, showing that, except in localities where important local questions were involved, the people felt comparatively little interest.
