ANARCHY IN NEW YORK.

New York is threatened with an outbreak of anarchy. Large numbers of the unemployed fretted by the continued stringency seem to lend willing ears to the incendiary counsel of those who incite to violence when the hand of distress is heavy on the poor.

OUR TAXES.

Elsewhere appears a communication from the board of trade showing the relative rate of taxation in Grand Rapids and several fourth class cities of the country.

WHILE PRESIDENT INGALL'S of the Big Four road was urging Indiana tax commissioners to reduce the road's assessment, a sneak thief went into the private car and stole the only pair of trousers that Passenger Agent Pond of the Wisconsin Central possessed.

IF THERE IS anybody in Grand Rapids that doesn't know that a half-acre of gambling hell is run wide open, day and night, in this city in fearless violation of the law and defiance of decency he ought to be sent to the world's fair as an ethnological exhibit of irredeemable idiocy.

MICHIGAN will have September 13 and 14 at the world's fair. The committee has projected a program which will give all Wolverines a chance to show their state pride.

WHITEHEAD'S LOGIC.

Mr. Whitehead addressed the patrons of industry at North Park yesterday. He declared that the farmers are a unit in demanding the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

QUEEN VICTORIA is suffering from heat which is aggravated by a superfluous adipose tissue quite as pronounced as our own darling Grover's.

FRANCE will hold a general election today. There is no excitement in prospect—something quite unparalleled in a French election.

OLD GEORGIA doesn't care a continental now whether it's free silver or no silver at all. The watermelon crop has brought $200,000.

HOMEBURNERS will have a new topic for discussion in the wonderful performance of Roy Wilkes at Fort Wayne yesterday.

Mrs. FRANK LINCOLN indignantly denies that she is to marry Myron Calico. Here's congratulations to Mr. Calico.

mand would incorporate all the logic of his free coinage argument and promise the farmers immediate and permanent relief. Then the recommitment of de-moralized carrots, pigs and pumpkins could be demanded, and after awhile the workmanlike consumer would share in the general falling of commodity values.

WILLIAM ARCHER, the London Ibsenite crank has just let loose an idea that is unique and uncanny enough to be original. In a letter justifying suicide, he advocates the establishing of a lethal chamber by the state for persons who no longer desire to live.

Our little society neighbor, The Review, pays the newspaper men a pretty compliment in an attempt to bridge the gulf between them and local society. The hope is expressed that in the near future the newspaper men will be invited to the parlors of the society leaders as welcome guests.

In a speech on the silver question delivered in congress Friday, Jackson Jerry Simpson declared that the democrat party had never passed a law or repealed a law; that there is no democrat party, it is President Cleveland's party.

CARTER HARRISON was hissed at a meeting of Britons in Chicago yesterday. Carter is a pretty tough politician; but he is too good an American to be hissed by beef-eating foreigners.

THEY HAD A HOLIDAY.

Kent County Grangers Held Their Annual Picnic.

ADDRESS BY MR. WHITEHEAD

Yeomen Enjoy Themselves at North Park—The National Lecturer Mandates Financial Question.

The Kent County Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, held a grand picnic at North Park yesterday afternoon. There were about 1,000 of the sturdy yeomen, including their families, in attendance.

Mr. Whitehead said: The grange demands free and unlimited coinage of both silver and gold just as it existed from almost the foundation of the government up to 1873 when silver was demonetized, and believes that the government alone should issue money, and that a sufficiency of legal tender notes should be issued.

an attempt to discredit the "one standard" it. The result was seen first in a shrinkage of stocks and bonds. Next it affected the banks, then the importers and manufacturers; then the jobbers and retailers, and lastly the farmers and laborers were involved. The whole thing took place at the door of the democracy.

Now if the banks would quit cutting each others throats and pay each as they are abundantly able to do, in fact they would set a good example in confidence among themselves for the people to follow, they would be all right—Chicago Record.

POINTS ABOUT MEN.

Jardyns vs. Jardyns is not an impossible story. In a London police court recently two little girls, Ethel and Gertrude Hedger, were arraigned as vagrants. They are wards in chancery and heiresses to $100,000 each.

Congressman Boatner of Louisiana is the terror of the official stenographers. The rapidity of his utterance is compared to the noise of shot being poured down in tin pans. The words chase themselves out of him and crowd upon one another's heels and when they reach the air develop into a swarm that rises to the ceiling in a tangled mass.

Fink, in his new book on Wagner, just out, says that the composer's strongest affection was his love of animals, and that he was especially fond of dogs. This seems likely enough. Anyone who has heard his masterpieces will be convinced that he got his ideas of music from the animal kingdom—or from a boiler factory.

Knights—You ought not to complain now; before we were married I told you how bad I was. Mrs. Knight—Yes; but you never told me how you'd lie about it afterward—Puck.

Paterfamilias—Why did you kiss my daughter against her will, sir? Jack—Well, because—don't you see?—she changed her mind when it was too late—Kate Field's Washington.

It strikes a body as a little odd, after the democrats have been denouncing national banks for twenty years, to read in the democrat platform of Ohio a demand on congress that they be permitted to issue currency to the full par value of the United States bonds held by them. The democrat howl against bank notes was always senseless, and the action of the Ohio democracy proves the banks and locked up at the beginning of the panic. The people are commencing to see the result of their folly.—Bay City Tribune.

CHATS BY THE WAY

Fred N. Edie, a Trusted Employee of the County,

IS A THOROUGH REPUBLICAN

Joseph Houseman Thinks Good Will Comes of the Hard Times—Jail Delivery Incident—A Fake.

Fred N. Edie, the jolly looking individual in the county clerk's office who is always on duty, was born in Grand Rapids April 28, 1882, but he says that does not entitle him to draw a pension. He attended the city schools until 17 years old, when he began teaching. His first term was in the Braman district on the town line between Grand Rapids and Plainfield. In 1899 he moved to Cassopolis and engaged in the grocery business. After several years among the cracker barrels and boxes of dried herring he began selling agricultural implements and followed the business for three years. In 1900 he came to Grand Rapids and took a position as book-keeper for the Eaton Printing & Binding company. After holding this position for one year he resigned to take the position of chief working deputy in the county clerk's office.

While in Cassopolis Mr. Edie did the editorial writing for the Michigan Democrat, a paper published in the interests of the Son's of Veterans. He was elected member of the Cassopolis village council and was village clerk two terms. He was leader in the Cassopolis Fair and Driving Park association. He has been a republican every day of his life and comes from a line of staunch republicans. In 1892 he married Miss Emma A. Bradley and two little ones bless their homes.

Incident of the Jail Delivery. The detectives tell a laughable story in connection with the late jail delivery. As soon as Detectives Jakeway and Gast were detailed on the case they drove to the locality where Tonsa, Pulaski lived and got a young Poleander to show them the house where Tonsa lived. Having located the house about midnight they rapped on the door to arouse the inmates to see if Tonsa had come home. After a few moments a chamber window was raised and a twisted Polish head was thrust out into the night. One of the detectives threw his dark lantern on the fellow in the window, who, thinking that burglars had tackled the house, let loose a yell that startled the whole sixth ward. He yelled "Murder! police! fire! help!" and in less than a minute not less than fifty Poleanders had assembled around armed with anything they could find from a carving knife to a broad-axe. The detectives were afraid that a fight would occur before they could get away. The Polish boy with them was frightened to such an extent that he was no earthly good, and "Case" Gast's bald spot nearly doubled in size owing to his effort to think of enough Polish words to make a sentence. The mob quickly dispersed when it was known who the officers were.

Says It is a Fake. "That city school budget published in The Democrat last Thursday morning was a fake," said Chairman Fuller of the ways and means committee yesterday. "If you will compare the figures they published, you will find that they have simply copied last year's figures. The fact is, we made several changes from last year's budget. The aggregate amount to be raised will be about the same as last year, but the items are very different from what they were last year. A reporter for The Democrat called on me and I refused to give him the figures. I did not believe the committee should give out the figures until we had reported to the board. I do not see what good it could do a reporter to print such figures."

Says Good Will Comes of It. "This stringency in the money market will prove a blessing in many ways," said Joseph Houseman a few days ago, discussing the outlook for Grand Rapids. "While it will be hard on many, it will do away with many speculative merchants. It will force many young dudes with little cash in their hands and cigarettes in their mouths to go to work. It will give many deserving and ambitious young men a start into business and see what they can do. Above all it will give the nation a lesson in economy. Men earn good wages but their week-day trade has increased enough to make up for what they lose on Sunday. Mr. Barnard thinks Kent county should be proud of Prosecuting Attorney Wolcott, who is almost wholly responsible for closing the saloons and making Reed's lake a resort fit for any one to visit."

Says the Lake Has Improved. Senator Ed. Barnard of East Grand Rapids says to one who has not lived at Reed's lake can never hold in the city. There by closing of the Sunday saloons. He says any one may go to the lake Sunday now and be sure of meeting an orderly, well-behaved crowd. He says the saloon men are not kicking so much now because their week-day trade has increased enough to make up for what they lose on Sunday.
