NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Yellow Fever.

The spread and ravages of the yellow fever continue most fearfully. A Grenada, Miss., telegram of August 16th, says: The scenes in this plague stricken town beggars description. The strongest men and women and helpless children are sick, dying or dead. It is pitiful, indeed, to see entire families prostrated and swept away in a few brief hours. Population decreased to little over 200 whites. Not a few new cases. No material work on. The deaths are old cases. The Cabinet at Washington has considered measures of relief for the plague stricken cities and towns of the South. It is decided to give every possible aid to the afflicted cities, and Secretary McCarty's favorable response to Memphis was highly applauded by the President and cabinet. The postoffice department asks Surgeon General Barnes if he can suggest some scientific way of fumigating the mails by which all danger of transmission of yellow fever or other similar diseases can be avoided. A schooner from Cuba put into the Delaware Breakwater August 16th, with entire crew, nine in number, either dead or down with yellow fever. The only passenger, Isaac H. Warrington, of New Jersey, had died. A Washington, telegram of August 16th says the circular of instructions for marine hospitals, prepared by Dr. Woodworth relates to the rapid spread of the yellow fever, declares land quarantine ineffective, and maintains that the disease is spread by clothes and effects coming from infected districts rather than by the patients themselves. It moreover asserts that yellow fever patients cannot communicate the disease excepting through their clothing and effects. At Cairo, Ill., Memphis, Tenn., Little Rock, Ark., New Orleans, Port Eads, Miss., Vicksburg, Louisville, Ky., and other places, the plague exists with more or less violence, and rigid quarantine is being enforced. Cincinnati has established quarantine against boats from Louisville. At New York, a man arrived from New Orleans August 16th, very sick, and yellow fever being apprehended, the health authorities have taken the case in charge. The yellow fever scare in the Treasury Department at Washington has not yet passed away, and the ladies in the Redemption Bureau feel very anxious. Precaution is taken to have packages of money from the fever districts thoroughly disinfected.

English Grain.

The Mark Lane Express in its review of the British corn trade the past week says: Reports regarding the yield of wheat are various, but generally speaking, the harvest promises an improvement on last year's. There are several districts, particularly Norfolk, Cambridgeshire and parts of Essex, where the opposite opinion obtains and complaints are rife of badly filled ears, blight and rust. Further north the appearance improves. In Lancashire and Yorkshire the crops look healthier and heavier than for some years. In Scotland there are equally favorable hopes. Conflicting reports are received regarding barley, but where early sown the crop will not leave much to be desired, although it has suffered from flood and drought. Very few samples of new wheat have arrived, and until supplies come in freely little can be said regarding the quality. An occasional parcel was shown in Mark Lane for which the growers demanded fancy prices, but business will probably settle down into its ordinary course this week. Supplies of old are necessarily very light, with such modest inquiry as is to be expected during harvest time. Prices have undergone no quotable change. Imports of foreign wheat into London were very moderate. Friday's return showed only 9,510 quarters. There was a decided improvement in trade, especially of American description, for which a ready sale was experienced at one shilling increase, and in some instances a greater advance. Much of the Russian wheat recently imported arrived in a heated, unsalable condition. Advances from St. Petersburg indicate a very large proportion of the granary stocks are in a defective condition and most certain to heat during summer voyage. It is probable prices will be very low for this kind of wheat for some time to come. The somewhat unsettled weather and continued continental demand for wheat, both here and in America, have imparted a firmer tone to trade. Values have improved from six pence to a shilling for cargoes of coast, and for shipment. Malze is nearly a sixpence dearer. Barley unsettled.

President Hayes at the Minnesota State Fair.

The Chicago Times has a special from Washington, relative to the visit of President Hayes to the Northwest, the substance of which is as follows: President Hayes at the Minnesota State Fair. "One of the largest official excursions on wheels, will leave Washington the last of August for an extensive trip throughout the Northwest. This excursion is under the management of Gen. Le Duc, commissioner of agriculture. The objective point of the excursion is the State Fair at St. Paul, Minnesota, which begins upon the 24th of next September, and continues six days. The President and his cabinet are invited. The President has accepted. He will be accompanied by such of his cabinet family as can conveniently get away at the time. Besides these members of the administration family, 100 invitations are issued. These invitations are sent to the Governors of States and leading members of the House. Each invitation specifies that it will entitle the person invited to transportation for himself and lady. The invitations suggested glowing promises of entertainment at St. Paul, and a possible continuance of the trip into the Red River country, over the Northern Pacific railroad. The party will be provided with Pullman cars, which will carry the excursionists wherever they go. Mr. LeDuc is constantly telegraphing to his Minnesota friends, making arrangements for a most liberal hospitality for the official crowd. It is intended to be away from Washington a week or ten days."

Nebraska.

A Lincoln telegram of August 15th says the Greenback State convention nominated a state ticket and adopted the following platform: First, the power to create money and regulate the volume thereof belongs to the government; second, the coinage of silver should be placed on a footing with gold; third, the repeal of the national banking law and the substitution of legal greenbacks; fourth, all government paper money shall be legal tender for all debts, public and private, the government shall redeem all bonds as fast as practicable, and should issue sufficient money to supply the demand of trade; fifth, the government has power to issue absolute paper money; sixth, in favor of the improvement of the Mississippi and Missouri rivers; seventh, public lands for actual settlers; eighth, protests against convict labor; ninth, State legislation for affording a reasonable rate of transportation of our products; tenth, investigation of the finances of the State and punishment for the illegal use of public money; eleventh, demands the abolition of the importation of coolies.

Cotton.

A Washington telegram of August 14, says, August returns to the department of agriculture show the average condition of the cotton crop in ten States of 95, a decline of four. North Carolina 82, gain 1; South Carolina 97, loss 7; Georgia 93, loss 13; Florida 99, loss 1; Alabama 98, loss 4; Mississippi 92, loss 0; Louisiana 40, loss 5; Texas 108, gain 2; Arkansas 88, gain 7; Tennessee 63, loss 2. Of 390 cotton counties reporting, 63 reported 13 above and 327 below. The condition of the crop is somewhat better than at August, 1872. In the Northern portion of the cotton belt many counties complain of extreme heat and drought causing the plants to shed and bulb to open prematurely. Further South the rain-fall has been excessive, causing rust. Insect injuries at the date of correspondence were inconsiderable, but later reports of Prof. Riley, the entomologist, show considerable local injury from this source.

Colorado.

A Denver telegram of August 15th, says, the Greenback State convention, which adjourned after midnight, adopted a platform arraigning the Democrats for advocacy and support of African slavery, teaching the wild and cruel fantasy that man could hold property in man, and the Republican party for legislation in the interest of the money power; demands the issue by the government of absolute paper money as a full legal tender for all debts, public and private, in sufficient volume for the entire needs of trade and in payment of the whole of the interest bearing debt, and paid directly to the people without the intervention of banks or agents; the immediate repeal of the resumption act, and all laws authorizing national banks; an enactment by Congress prohibiting any further issue of bonds, and a constitutional amendment making such issue impossible; and an income tax on all incomes above $1,000.

Wisconsin State Fair at Madison.

Entries are coming in rapidly for the Wisconsin State fair, which commences at Madison September 9. Extensive arrangements are being made. Additional buildings will be erected, etc. All departments will be connected by bell telephones. President Hayes having signified his intention of being present at the Minnesota State fair, which occurs a week previous to the Wisconsin State fair, an invitation has been extended him by the officers of the Agricultural society, to be present at the latter place also. Several members of Congress have written him strongly urging his acceptance, which he will doubtless do.

Chicago and Northwestern Railway.

The annual report of the Chicago & Northwestern railway company shows the gross earnings for this year ending May 31st $14,751,062; total charges of operating expenses, taxes, rent of leased lines, interest, etc., $12,286,575; net earnings $2,464,487; dividends $1,956,084; leaving a surplus of $508,403; the earnings of the railway exclusive of the branches were, from passengers $2,978,725; from freights $10,016,920, and from other sources sufficient to make the aggregate $13,995,647.

Murdered For His Property.

A San Francisco telegram of August 15th, says, Troy Dye, public administrator of Sacramento county, has made a full confession concerning the recent murder of A. M. Tullis on Grand Island. He confesses to have instigated the murder for the purpose of getting control of the estate of deceased. He implicates as the perpetrator of the deed Edward Anderson, Swede, formerly in his employ, and another party, name not ascertained. Anderson was to receive $6,000 for the job.

Fatal Accident.

Michel Campion, aged 67, was killed at Marinon, Minn., on the 13th inst., in a very singular manner. While riding through his field near his house, the forward wheel sank down into a rut in the road and he was thrown violently out between the wagon box and wheel. As it crumpled it caught him by the neck and instantly broke it. His wife saw the accident and ran to him, and shook him loose and he fell, gasping only four times and he was dead.

President Hayes at the Minnesota State Fair.

President Hayes has accepted the invitation of the Minnesota State Fair association, and will attend the twentieth annual fair to be held at St. Paul from the 24th to the 7th of September. It is the intention of President Hayes to visit his home in Fremont, Ohio, the last of this month and then go to St. Paul. If agreeable to the guests of the party there will be an excursion to the Red River of the North and across the great plain of Dakota.

Indians.

Official information is received that Lieut. Wallace, of Fort Missoula, has overtaken the marauding band of Nez Perces, numbering about twenty, who have been plundering their way from Canada to Idaho and has punished them severely, killing six, wounding three and capturing most of their ponies. He had only a handful of men in his command, but used them to excellent advantage.

Detection of the Missouri State Treasury.

A statement is published showing a deficit in the funds of the State of Missouri of over half a million of dollars. This amount is alleged to have been stolen by the ring which has controlled the State treasury and the only resource the State has is the treasurer's bond, which is practically worthless and about $400,000 in bonds of the Kansas City water works, a private corporation.

A Pictic Murder.

Riley Comstock, a farmer, and L. R. Willoughby, employed in getting out railroad ties, got into an altercation at a picnic near Bunker Hill, Howard county, Missouri, on the 10th inst., which resulted in Willoughby shooting and killing Comstock. The murderer was arrested and lodged in the Buonville jail.

Shot.

An August 15th telegram from San Francisco says William English was fatally shot in the back with a shot gun by Henry Canfield. English was putting up a fence on land claimed by Canfield. The latter is a notorious desperado, and has been indicted twenty-three times, mostly for murderous attempts.

About Gen. Grant.

The Washington, D. C. Post of August 17th, publishes a statement that First Assistant Postmaster General Tyner, in conversation with some personal friends of his about his recent trip to Europe, remarked that he had conversed with several leaders of the Grant movement and that they are earnest in pushing Gen. Grant for the presidency. He stated that the choice of a man for the second place on the ticket had embarrassed the Grant managers a good deal until the name of Gen. Key was suggested, when it was adopted at once.

Powder Explosion.

At Pottsville, Pa., during a storm on the 17th of August, a powder magazine containing 1,100 kegs was struck by lightning. A terrible explosion followed, demolishing the magazine and scattering the debris in an easterly direction, making a gap in the neighboring woods fifty feet wide and killing three of a picnic party, and more or less injuring several others. John Warler, a boy named Vaughn and the son of Andrew Gallagher, were killed. Many houses in the neighborhood were badly damaged, and several cattle were so injured that they had to be killed.

Absconded.

A Chicago telegram of August 17th, gives information of the rascality of Charles W. Anzell, Secretary of the Pullman Palace Car company. He has absconded with $120,000 of the company's funds, in company with an abandoned woman, his mistress—is probably making the fashionable grand tour of Europe with his stolen money, and "soiled dove." His wife died three years ago, leaving him three young children. Hitherto he has borne the highest character for competency and integrity. He is about 40 years old.

Heavy Failure.

Einstein Bros., boot and shoe dealers, of San Francisco, suspended August 17th. Liabilities estimated at $800,000, half of which is due eastern creditors. The assets consist of a stock of goods, factory and outstanding accounts, and real estate supposed to be heavily incumbered. The failure is due to heavy losses in stock speculation carried on by two members of the firm in the firm's name, but in opposition to the other members and without their knowledge.

South Carolina.

Gov. Hampton authorizes a contradiction of the statement that a requisition has been issued for ex-Gov. Scott. A man named Loftis, who had a warrant for the arrest of Bej. Sudduth, an escaped State prisoner, was killed by a party attempting the arrest of Sudduth at his house in Greenville, La. The number of illicit distillers pleading guilty is greatly diminished. Only about fifty more are expected.

Heavy Failure.

A Pittsburg, Pa., telegram of Aug. 16, says: The Neshaanock iron works of Sharon, Pennsylvania, firm named Bradley, Reis & Co., filed a petition in bankruptcy to-day, with a schedule of liabilities amounting to nearly a million of dollars. The failure is largely the result of the failure of Himberly, Carnes & Co., of the same place, and Reese, Groff & Woods, of this city.

Convicted.

At Sunbury, Pa., August 15th the jury in the case of Peter Madus, a Mollie Maguire on trial for the past week for the murder of Coroner Hesser at Shamokin in December, 1874, returning a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. ## MINNESOTA STATE FAIR.

The twentieth annual fair of the Minnesota State Agricultural Society, to be held at the fair grounds in St. Paul, the first week in September, promises to be in all respects most creditable to the State, and to the officers at present managing the affairs of this important State society. In entering upon the preparations for the forthcoming exhibition, Mr. Geo. R. Finch, of the great dry goods house of Auerbach, Finch, Culbertson & Co., was selected to the responsible position of President. To assist Mr. Finch, Messrs. D. W. Ingersoll, Hon. Wm. Fowler and Hon. Sam. E. Adams, were elected Vice Presidents. R. C. Judson, secretary and Geo. Culver, treasurer were retained in their important positions. Those with an executive committee composed of Messrs. Jas. McHough, A. M. Fridley, J. S. Harris, F. J. Whitely, H. F. Brennan and E. C. Ingalls, constitute the working force of the society. How well each one, and especially the president and secretary, have performed their work, the great interest that has been aroused throughout the State and north-west in the success of the approaching exhibition, and the immense number of attractions that have been secured tells most forcibly.

The State Agricultural Society is emphatically a State institution, and its success is therefore a matter in which every citizen is interested. It is through this society that the advance Minnesota is making in agriculture, in manufactures, in the improvement of stock, and in all the various industries that go to make up this busy, every day world, is made known to the people of the country at large. It will therefore be a matter of general congratulation to the people of the State that the twentieth annual fair is to be such a faithful reflex of the wonderful development of Minnesota, the Empire State of the Northwest.

Although the harvest time has not been so full of promise as was expected, the exhibition of the agricultural products of the State is to be in all respects most creditable. In addition to the exhibits made by individual farmers, the different railroads centering in St. Paul, will make an extensive display of the products of the soil along their respective lines. The show of blooded horses, draft and road, fine brood cattle, sheep, swine, etc., will be superior to anything ever before seen in the Northwest. The Minnesota Horticultural Society will make a large display of plants and flowers. A massive weighing building has been erected, where several of the most important manufacturing industries of the State will be carried on daily. A building has been specially erected in which the manner of making sugar and syrups from the amber sugar cane will be carried on every day of the fair. An attractive programme of turf sports has been arranged for every day with such liberal purses as to secure the attendance of the most noted flyers in the country. The special feature of the exhibition will be the presence of Reus, the king of the turf, and the wonderful Great Eastern.

There is also an almost innumerable array of special attractions, including Dr. W. F. Carver and Capt. Borgardus, the champion rifle and wing-shots of the world, who will give all exhibitions of their wonderful skill. A great bench show of dogs, under the auspices of the Minnesota Kennel Club will be in progress in a building specially erected for that purpose, dogs being brought from all parts of the Union and others direct from England to compete for the prizes offered.

A party of gentlemen from the English colony at Fairmont, Martin county, noted for their prowess and skill in horsemanship and in the hunting field, have kindly consented to attend the exhibition with their stud of hunters and kennel of hounds and will give exhibitions of English field sports, gun fox hunting with full pack of hounds, cross country riding, hurdle racing, &c. The hunt will wear the typical red coat and complete hunting costume, and mounted upon their highbred "bang" tailed hunters following the "nozzle pack" in full cry will be an exhibition never before seen in "these parts" and worth a days travel to witness.

For the especial delight of the little ones Col. John Bishop, of Beloit, Wis., breeder of Shetland ponies is to give daily exhibition with a stud of thirty or forty trained trick ponies.

Added to the above and many other attractions, President Hayes and members of his official household, will be in attendance, and address the people. The buildings have been more than doubled in the capacity to accommodate the unparalleled rush of exhibitors. A new railroad track has been laid to the grounds, and half hourly trains of splendid passenger coaches will run to and from the grounds. Arrangements have been made with the hotels and private families for the accommodation of visitors, at moderate rates, and the railroads will sell tickets at half fare. In short nothing has been left undone to make the twentieth annual fair of the Minnesota Agricultural Society, a pattern for all future exhibitions of the kind.
