The Hungarian harvest of last year was, with the exception of that of 1891, the best for ten years. The potato crop was the best since 1882.

The census of ghosts in the old town of Alexandria, Va., numbers ten souls, the latest to be enumerated being a wraith in a white clawhammer coat.

While Mrs. Stent, of Branford, was in a New Haven lawyer's office having divorce papers made out, Mr. Stent was dying of injuries suffered in a railroad accident.

Argentina has a "wheat king"—an Italian immigrant of the name of Guazone—whose land is in the south of the province of Buenos Ayres. His last harvest crop of wheat was grown on 66,720 acres.

All authorities agree in stating that the ancient inhabitants of Ireland must have been familiar with gold and well accustomed to its use. Native gold appears in geological deposits in many parts of Ireland.

A wonderful nugget of tin has been discovered in the mines of North Dundas, Tasmania. It is estimated to weigh 5,400 pounds. The assay of a small piece shows that the large mass of ore contains 67 per cent of metallic tin.

Germany's revenue return from post-office and telegraph service and from railways during the eleven months of the current financial year show respective increases of 9,137,044 and 2,800,000 marks as compared with the same period of last year.

It was stated in a recent number of Bradstreet's that "Convicts from the New York state prison at Dannemora have constructed 3,400 feet of macadam road and 5,950 feet of cobblestone gutter, set 5,000 feet of curbstone, and made 4,050 feet of earth sidewalk since June 13 last."

Anyone may easily calculate for himself how many shingles are needed to cover a given space. As a rule, a thousand shingles laid with four inches exposed to the weather, will cover 100 square feet of surface, and five pounds of shingle nails will fasten them on. With a foot-rule and five minutes' figuring anybody can ascertain the expense of a new roof.

One secret of the willow's marvelous tenacity of life is to be found, perhaps in the fact that it sends its roots a long way in search of moisture. It was discovered, after an important aqueduct had been built, that its walls were cracked and filled for many feet with roots. These roots, it was discovered, came from willows at least thirty feet distant.

The Tyrians were the most expert dyers of ancient times. The fabrics dyed with the famous Tyrian purple did not assume their proper color until after two days' exposure to the light and air. During this time they passed through a gradation of shades of yellow, green, blue, violet and red, which the dyers understood how to arrest and fix at any moment.

The son of Count Tolstoy, who is now in Paris, has been questioned as to his father's book on the Franco-Russian fetes, which has been announced for publication. It appears that the novelist has seized this epidemic of patriotic ebullition as an excuse to exploit his ideas on patriotism, which, according to his son, he thinks inconsistent with the spirit of Christianity. This is to be the general theme of the new book.

The ice water drinker is just as much of a "fiend" as the morphine eater. In many cases the habit of the former is just as strong as that of the latter, and just as hard to break. It has been frequently demonstrated that the drinking of ice water is an acquired habit, and not one that comes naturally. Give an infant ice water and you will notice by its action that the drink is very distasteful. It usually has the same effect upon an Indian or upon any person not accustomed to it. Besides, it is very unhealthy, and any person who can avoid drinking ice water should do so.

Although the match has long since supplanted the tinder box, thousands of the antiquated light producers are still made. Adventurers often take a flint and tinder box with them on trips, knowing from experience that if slower than a match it is certainly surer, and in addition to the demand this creates, there are back country regions in Europe where the match is comparatively unknown, even now. Then again the white man with his usual ultra-sensitiveness does not see any harm in shipping tinder boxes, and even the oldest kinds of gun flints to the savages of Africa, who derive sincere delight from using them, especially as the traders are careful to explain that the one is an improvement on the match and the other a great stride toward perfection in firearms.

WORK OF CONGRESS

RESUME OF PROCEEDINGS OF THE SENATE AND HOUSE.

Condensed Record of the Important Transactions of Our National Lawmakers—The Work Done in Both Branches.

Washington, April 28.—This was a field day in the senate. There was maneuvering, marching, clashing and rapid firing. The bugle notes of defiance had sounded on both sides. Hostilities did not actually begin, but it was apparent that there was no intention that they should begin. There was counter marching, retreat and a quick reforming of lines, leaving the contending armies within the same fortifications and camping on the same grounds as before.

Mr. Aldrich demanded that Mr. Harris (Tenn.) speak for the Democratic side and say whether or not the Democrats would vote to-day on the tariff bill as it now stood. All eyes centered upon the sturdy white haired senator from Tennessee, but he did not reply. There were hurried consultations and then Mr. Harris made a proposition to vote on the senate bill, and followed it up with a request for unanimous consent for such a vote. It was at once apparent that Mr. Aldrich did not intend to accept this offer. Several Republicans objected to the unanimous consent, and Mr. Aldrich, with some difficulty, received recognition. He explained that while he had offered to vote on the house bill, he had only asked the Democratic senators if they would vote on the senate bill. Further than this he made the proposition to the senate and not to the Democratic caucus, which he intimated had been held since his proposition had been made. He was accused of backing down and quibbling, and Senator White of California intimated that he had been bluffing and had been "called," and also said that the senator from Rhode Island would probably understand the term. The senate and spectators knew, and an audible derision followed the reply. Mr. Aldrich evidently knew what was meant, and replied by saying that it was not common in places where the words were applicable to allow the adversary two hours to look over his hand before making the call, and that was what the Democratic senators had done. Senator Teller stated his objections to a vote in various terms, and in an allusion to the compromise tariff bill brought out a vigorous denial by Senator Voorhees that any such bill was in existence. But the subject of the tariff bill was dropped, the bugle sounded retreat, and the most dramatic incident of the senate tariff debate closed.

Washington, April 30.—The Democratic senators who have been engaged in preparing a tariff compromise considered the sugar duty especially to-day and decided, besides fixing a tariff of 40 per cent ad valorem on all sugar, to impose a further duty of 1 of a cent on sugar imported from countries paying a bounty to sugar producers. This last provision is supposed to be aimed especially at Germany, where a bounty is paid on beet sugar. It has been decided also to extend the time when the sugar schedule shall take effect until Jan. 1, 1895, which will insure the bounty under the McKinley law for this season's crop. It is understood that these two provisions have been inserted in response to the earnest solicitations of the Louisiana senators. The senate to-day resumed consideration of the tariff bill. There has as yet been no indication that a time will be agreed upon when a vote shall be taken.

In the house the army appropriation bill was taken up.

Washington, May 1.—Senator Harris, who is in charge of the tariff bill, lost patience to-day at the way in which progress was impeded by Senator Hale in the morning hour. As on several previous days Mr. Hale objected to giving way for special measures in the morning hour. Finally Mr. Harris abruptly moved that the senate proceed with the consideration of the tariff bill. The feeling between senators on both sides is growing bitter, and there were several severe passages at arms during the day. The house went into committee of the whole to consider the army appropriation bill. Mr. Outwater offered a committee amendment to an appointment of assistant adjutant general with rank of major should be made until the number of officers in that grade had been reduced below four, and that hereafter there should be only four officers in said grade, and that future promotions in adjutant generals, paymasters and smaller branches should be filled from the next lower grades. The next amendment was agreed to by a vote of 49 to 38. Mr. Pickler (Rep., S. D.) offered an amendment that no officer of the army should be detailed to act as Indian agent unless the president should consider it best to do so. The chairman ruled the amendment out on a point of order.

Washington, May 2.—The senate and house adjourned almost as soon as their sessions began, out of respect to Senator Stockbridge's memory.

That the rank and file of the Democratic party in the senate is becoming exasperated at the delay of consideration of the tariff bill was shown yesterday by a circular in favor of closure of debate. The paper was prepared by Senator George, and was quietly circulated during the afternoon, being handed only to the most influential senators. It was not signed by all to whom it was presented, some of the senators expressing the opinion that it was too early to attempt a closure, and others declining on principle. The paper recites that it has become apparent that the Republican opponents of the tariff are determined to resort to filibustering to prevent the proper consideration and passage of the bill, and commits the signers to a simple declaration in favor of closure. It makes no specification as to how the change shall be brought about, whether through the presiding officer or the committee on rules, leaving that point, as well as that as to whether it shall be a modified or an absolute closure, to be decided later.

Spreading Mormonism in South Seas.

San Francisco, May 2.—A band of enthusiastic Mormon missionaries have arrived here from various parts of Utah. There are fourteen in all, including two women, and they are bound to various parts of the Pacific. Three go to New Zealand, 4 to Tasmania and New South Wales, 4 to Samoa and 3 to Hawaii. Their proselyting will not be so much among the natives of the South Sea Islands as among the white residents.

HONORING A HERO.

Americans Observe the Anniversary of Gen. Grant's Birth.

New York, April 28.—In many parts of the country yesterday afternoon and evening representative Republicans gathered to do honor to the memory of Gen. Grant. Seventy-two years ago yesterday he who was fated to become twice president of the United States and among the greatest of its generals, was born in a little farm house at Point Pleasant, in Clermont county, Ohio. A few months after his death in 1885 a number of his friends came together and decided to annually celebrate his birthday, with a view not only of keeping his memory alive, but of fostering the spirit of patriotism. The suggestion rapidly spread, and yesterday the number of celebrations arranged for was largely in excess of last year, and stretched, in a measure, across the country.

Galena, Ill., April 28.—The old home of Gen. Grant paid appropriate tribute yesterday to the anniversary of his birth. In no part of the United States is occurring anniversary marked by more spontaneous enthusiasm and tokens of respect. Business was generally suspended, and there was a parade of citizens, the municipal departments, secret and patriotic societies, and the G. A. R. from neighboring towns. The formal exercises were held at Grant Park, which was dedicated a year ago by Gov. McKinley. The oration was delivered by Hon. Luther Laflin Mills of Chicago.

DICK MOORE WHIPPED.

The St. Paul Boy Knocked Out by Dan Creedon.

Minneapolis, April 28.—Dan Creedon defeated Dick Moore, knocking him out in the ninth round. From the start the men came together hard, and during the twenty-five minutes which Moore was allowed to fight the pace was continuous. The fight was a good one, although it was apparent from the outset that Creedon was too strong for the St. Paul boy. Moore landed plenty of good ones, but Creedon was not worried. Moore secured first blood from the cheek in the third round. Creedon played for the stomach. Moore was very tired after the fifth round, and at the end of the sixth his right eye was closed. As the seventh opened it was plain to be seen that Creedon was fiddling, waiting for a knock-out blow. Moore was victorious and tried to land his right with a quibus, but failed. In the eighth Creedon pushed Moore all over the ropes, jabbing him, and at the close found the spot and felled Moore to his side with a short-arm right. Time saved him. The ninth was Moore's Waterloo. Moore came up strong and rushed Dan, who promptly felled him again. Moore half-ducked, and Dan gave a short upper-cut with the left on the point of the jaw. Moore went down on his side and as the fatal ten was counted rolled over on his back and spread out his hands, defeated.

Saloon Wrecked.

Logansport, Ind., April 28.—The notorious saloon which has been the cause of several sensational incidents at Burlington was literally wiped out of existence last night by mob violence. A crowd of 100 men battered in the front doors, emptied the liquors into the gutter and burned the furniture. The proprietor, Bert Willis, and his bartender were held, bound and blindfolded, while the work was done.

Death of H. H. Eddy.

Howard, S. D., April 28.—H. W. Eddy, a prominent citizen, died of paralysis at his home at Canova, this county, this morning. He was county commissioner several terms, a member of the constitutional convention in 1880, and formerly a prominent New York capitalist; later he was a member of the Oregon legislature. He was father of ex-Congressman Eddy of Colorado, and father-in-law of L. W. Aldrich of this state.

J. C. Ryan Disappears.

White Lake, S. D., April 28.—J. C. Ryan, formerly treasurer of White Lake township and president of the White Lake bank, and who was recently arrested and placed under bonds to appear before the grand jury to answer to a charge of embezzlement, is missing. A bench warrant was issued by Judge Haney, but all attempts to run him in have so far proved futile.

Grant and Chase Squeezed Out.

Duluth, Minn., April 28.—News leaked out here last night that the minority interest of K. D. Chase, Donald Grant and others on the Mesabi mines controlled by the Consolidated mines, has been purchased by John D. Rockefeller. The price paid is $500,000, or about the same rate per share as was paid the Merritts when Mr. Rockefeller acquired his control.

Obscenity and Suicide.

Creston, Iowa, April 28.—United States Marshal Richards arrested Fred Grubb yesterday for sending obscene letters to a school teacher at Creston. He was placed in jail and confessed. This morning he was found dead in jail. He hung himself last night with a portion of his bed clothing. He leaves a wife and one child.

Le Mars, Iowa, April 28.—The Le Mars city council has ordered a special election in order to establish the fact of 5,000 inhabitants and come under the provisions of the Martin liquor law.

Tug Disappears.

Sheboygan, Wis., April 28.—The tug boat Artie Ward, valued at $7,000, belonging to Gunderson Bros., has mysteriously disappeared.

Burned to Death.

Fairmont, Minn., April 28.—N. P. Lund, a prominent citizen, was burned to death while fighting prairie fire.

Jelle Plaine, Minn., April 28.—August J. Plaine, a farmer living one mile south of here, committed suicide Thursday by hanging.

TOWN SWEEP AWAY

DISASTROUS AND FATAL FLOOD NEAR QUEBEC, ONT.

Land Slides Into the River, causing a Flood—Many Houses Are Swept Away and Twelve of the Occupants Are Drowned.

Quebec, May 1.—News has reached here from St. Alban, situated about forty miles west of here, that on Friday a tremendous landslide occurred at a waterfall rising 100 feet above the River St. Arne. Land a mile in length with some houses and their occupants was thrown into the river bed. The sides of the river which are composed of clay and 150 feet high, caved in, blocking up the natural channel for a distance of five miles and to a depth of seventeen feet, making the water rise a hundred feet above the earth walls that were supposed to hold it back. The walls were not strong enough to keep in check the fury of the stream, and with a terrible roar and rush the water came down upon the unprotected village, carrying away many houses.

The accident has been especially severe on the dumb animals. Hundreds of cattle, horses, sheep and pigs have perished, and in the wreck that flows past the poor brutes can be seen struggling, apparently alive, and making an effort to reach the shore which their exhaustion renders abortive.

River Noire, the exact place of the accident, is not anywhere near a telegraph station, and no information as to the exact number and names of the dead can yet be had with certainty. The people of all the surrounding districts are panic stricken, and on account of the altered condition of the country it is very difficult to reach the scene and return. The piece of land which slid into the river is about a mile long and four miles wide. The latest information received is to the effect that $500,000 worth of property has been destroyed and twelve people killed.

MISS BAINE WEDS.

Third Daughter of the Late Secretary the Bride of Truxton Beale.

Washington, May 1.—Only the intimate friends of the two families attended the wedding to-day of Miss Hattie Blaine, third daughter of the late ex-Secretary James G. Blaine, and Hon. Truxton Beale, ex-minister to Persia and only son of the late Gen. Edward L. Beale. The ceremony was solemnized without ostentation at the Blaine residence, Rev. Dr. Walker, the Episcopal rector of St. Johns, officiating. It had been first announced that Rev. Dr. Hamlin, who preached Mr. Blaine's funeral sermon, would be the officiating minister, but the change was made at the suggestion of the bride, who is the only Episcopalian in the family. Miss Blaine, or Mrs. Beale, is a bright and attractive girl, has traveled considerably and is well read. The groom is the brother of Mrs. J. S. McLean of Cincinnati, and of Mue. Baknetieff, whose husband is minister to Greece. He came into a large fortune by the death of his father, and has an extensive ranch in California.

New Yorkers Arrested.

London, May 1.—Adolph and Montagu Bernhard, two New Yorkers, were arrested yesterday near Finsbury Square by Detectives Frost and Howland and were brought up this morning at Bow street police station. The prisoners were arrested on extradition papers charging them with larceny and embezzlement of a large quantity of valuable furs from their employer, Isaac Levi, a furrier of New York. At the prisoners' lodgings a large quantity of valuable property, said to belong to Mr. Levi, was seized. The total amount involved is said to be about $25,000. The prisoners were remanded.

Cut in Wages.

Toledo, Ohio, May 1.—General Manager Ferris, of the Ohio Central, has issued an order to cut the pay of all salaried men 23 1/2 per cent, beginning to-day. This affects all of the officers from general manager down, station agents, telegraphers and clerks in the general offices. Mr. Ferris says it is a temporary reduction, rendered necessary by the coal strike, as half the road's business is coal traffic. It is understood that a cut will soon be made on the Hocking Valley. The road made one general reduction on Jan. 15.

Chinese Customs Don't Go.

San Francisco, May 1.—An arrest has been made here for the purpose of obtaining a legal decision as to whether a resident Chinese shall be allowed to deform the feet of their female children, according to Chinese custom. Officers of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children arrested Ching Say, a baby street merchant, for bandaging his baby daughter's feet to keep them from growing. The officers are going to make a test case, and if successful, prosecute other Mongolian offenders.

One Strike Ends.
