REPUBLICAN RALLY.

Hon. Wm. H. Eustis, Mayor of Minneapolis, Fires the First Gun.

LARGE AUDIENCE PRESENT.

Five Hundred People at the Opera House, Monday, Listen to the Great Speaker.

Hon. Wm. H. Eustis came in Monday afternoon on the Eastern Minnesota train from Minneapolis. It was not definitely known whether he would reach Princeton on that train or the evening train, so that no particular demonstration could be made for his reception at the depot. R. C. Dunn was on hand however, and took care that Mr. Eustis was well provided for during his stay in the village. At 7:30 the cornet band, heading a torch light procession, repaired to the residence of Mr. Dunn, where the speaker of the evening, in company with Mr. Dunn, was waiting to be escorted to the Opera House. A large concourse of people of both sexes had gathered from town and country, on Main street in the vicinity of the hall. At the conclusion of the street parade, several hundred people filed into the hall and remained almost without exception to the close. On the platform with Mayor Eustis were R. C. Dunn, H. R. Mallette and L. S. Briggs. Mr. Dunn acted as chairman, and introduced Mr. Mallette as one of the Republican nominees from this district for the next legislature. Mr. Mallette replied in a brief but neat speech, thanking the people for the honor conferred upon him, and pledging himself, if elected, to do his best for the interests of his constituents. Mr. Dunn then introduced the speaker of the evening, Hon. Wm. H. Eustis, Mayor of Minneapolis, prefacing the introduction by complimenting Mr. Eustis on his straightforward, clear-headed administration of the city affairs of Minneapolis. Mr. Eustis has few equals as a speaker. He held the closest attention of the large audience for nearly two hours. His opening remarks were mainly devoted to the thrift, energy and public spirit of our citizens as displayed in the public buildings and fine business blocks recently constructed here. Factories must be erected to insure permanent prosperity; they are needed and must be built before any town or city can feel that it is on a safe basis. The speaker then explained the necessity of protection to develop such enterprises, showing in the course of his remarks the manner in which all the great industries of this country have developed under a protective policy, and illustrating beyond contradiction by referring to Minneapolis, how quickly those same industries had collapsed under the uncertainty and doubt thrown upon the people of that city by the tariff tinkering of the party now in power. All over this great country from ocean to ocean from the Gulf to the northern boundary line, the same distress prevails, forced upon the people by the change of policy of the present administration. The speaker predicted that the voters at the polls at the next election would bury the ideas of free trade so deep that Gabriel's trumpet would fail to resurrect them. Great applause, and shouts of "You bet we will," came up from the audience.

The Populists with their theories claimed the attention of the speaker for a brief time. He demonstrated clearly the fallacy of their position, and asked them to consider without prejudice the present status of affairs, and then vote to correct the evils. He felt sure their ballots would help to assert the supremacy of the Republican party. In closing, the speaker paid a glowing tribute to the sterling qualities of Gov. Knute Nelson, and other candidates on the State ticket. H. R. Mallette was not forgotten, and the speaker called attention to the fact that a senator was to be elected by the coming legislature, hence the necessity of sending Republican members to the legislature of 1895, who would see that Hon. W. D. Washburn be elected to succeed himself in the senate of the United States.

NOTES FROM THE SPEAKER.
Mind married to matter is wealth.

Indians are good of examples of free trade existence.

Democrats do not know where to put the hole in the eveners.

The higher the thought in the work, the greater the wealth.

Our first flag was made from cloth imported from England.

Wales' factories are opening up, while ours are shutting down.

No wealth is added to a country unless the labor is performed in that country.

Patriotism is strong in the average American, but he will buy where he can buy the cheapest.

$40,000,000 worth of linen annually imported to this country. Flax straw enough is burned every year in this country to supply that amount.

THE MILACA SUFFERERS.

Grateful for Aid Extended by Princeton and Its Citizens.

Editor Princeton Union:

The local relief committee of Milaca have received the following donations from the people of Princeton and vicinity for the fire sufferers at this place:

Sept. 4. One-half car load of clothing, provisions and bedding.....
" 7. One sack flour and one sack potatoes, H. Holthus.....
" 10. R. C. Dunn, agt. relief committee, Princeton, check.....	$150 00
" 11. R. C. Dunn, agt. relief committee, Princeton, 45 kegs of nails.....	108 00
" 13. L. S. Briggs, cash.....	1 00
" 13. H. C. Dunn, cash.....	1 00
" 24. R. C. Dunn, agt. relief committee, Princeton, check.....	100 00
" 23. R. M. Neely, order on A. B. Matthews for flour.....	7 90

" 2. R. F. McClellan, donations from exhibition at fair of flour, beans, vegetables and clothing.....
" 2. R. C. Dunn, agt. relief committee, Princeton, check.....	100 00

On behalf of the fire sufferers here we wish to express our earnest and heartfelt thanks for the generous and prompt assistance which the good people of Princeton cheerfully gave in our time of great need. Eighty people were entirely burned out—losing everything, and in addition to these, 242 people lost so heavily that they have had to have assistance. Some of these, while saving their houses and contents, lost their barns, hay, cows, pigs, chickens, and the larger part of their crop and garden vegetables, wood, ties, logs, in fact, everything upon which they depended for a living during the coming winter. Had it not been for the substantial aid given by Princeton great suffering for food and clothing would have ensued immediately after the fire. We wish especially to thank Bob Dunn for the zeal and activity displayed in awakening interest in our people both by his personal efforts and through his paper, the Princeton Union. Mr. T. H. Caley has also rendered many favors, and has furnished nails, beds, bedding and household furniture at actual cost price. Our county commissioners—George Buck, John McCool and A. J. Barrett—are deserving of especial credit for their generosity in donating $500 for fire relief here, which is being expended under the direction of A. J. Barrett, and is going where it is needed the most. There are many others in Princeton whose names we do not know, but whose donations have been received and distributed among the fire sufferers, and if they could see the thankfulness with which they were accepted it would well repay for the gift.

G. B. WALKER,
Treasurer Local Relief Committee of Milaca.

Oct. 6th, 1894.

In this connection, the following disposition was made of the $500 placed in my hands for distribution:

Sept. 4. Spaulding & Newton for beef and pork.....	$30 00
" 8. T. H. Caley, for nails.....	108 00
" 10. G. B. Walker, Treas. Milaca committee.....	150 00
" 22. G. B. Walker, Treas. Milaca committee.....	100 00
Oct. 1. G. B. Walker, Treas. Milaca committee.....	100 00
	$473 00
Balance on hand.....	$27 00

R. C. DUNN,
Ag't. Princeton Relief Com.

The address of welcome by past commander, J. M. McKinstry, was followed by the address of the evening in the interest of the order by the Hon. D. P. Markey, who demonstrated himself as not only master of the situation but master of the English language. It has been a frequent pleasure to listen to many addresses on like subjects, but the subject of fraternal co-operation has never been better presented here. The Maccabees have the right man in the right place.—Marquette, (Wis.) Menominee Herald.

C. A. TOWNE.

Our Next Congressman at Milaca, Tuesday Night.

Republicans, Democrats and Populists gathered in force at Milaca, Tuesday night to hear Hon. C. A. Towne, of Duluth, candidate for congress, expound the principles of Republicanism, and explain the issues of the present campaign. Clerk of Court Briggs, chairman of the evening, introduced Hon. H. R. Mallette, who spoke for a short time. Mr. Mallette was roundly applauded at the close of his speech. Hon. C. A. Towne was then introduced. His two hours' speech was replete with bristling points of argument that are cold hard facts, and as presented by Mr. Towne, carry conviction with them. A young man of ability, clean, clear-cut and close shaven, just what candid men like to see in other men—but not the shadow or semblance of the dude in his make-up. Such is the impression of the writer, who saw Mr. Towne for the first time Tuesday night, and such must be the version of every person who hears the eloquent next congressman, from the Sixth district, in one of his powerful speeches. The dude racket is an evidence of senility or imbecility on the part of Mr. Towne's opponents and should be entirely lost sight of during the rest of the campaign.

Around the World.

It was nearly three hundred years after Columbus discovered the New World, that the first voyage around the globe was made. April 13, 1769, the already celebrated English navigator, Captain Cook, sailed from the tight little isle on a voyage of discovery. His ship was the "Endeavor," of 370 tons, about one-thirtieth the size of the largest ocean-going steamers of the present day, and yet he sailed away as confidently as our summer tourists now start for a tour of Europe. June 11, 1771, he returned to England to be knighted, and to have his name written on the undying roll of fame. Eight years later, he was killed by the natives of Hawaii, while attempting to regain his boat after a slight misunderstanding with the dusky islanders. Contrast his laborious and dangerous journeys, with the trips lately made by Nellie Bly and Elizabeth Bisland, who realized Verne's fiction of "Around the World in Eighty Days." Not all of us have the time or money to go around the world, yet we may see something of our own country. A tour only over the lines of the Burlington system, will take the traveler through the greater part of eleven great states in the west and show him all varieties of scenery and all degrees of development in communities. Tickets, rates, maps and information about the Burlington Route can be obtained from your home ticket agent, or you can address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn.

The many readers of the UNION in the Mille Lacs lake region will be pained to learn of the death of Mrs. A. B. Barrett at Owatonna on the 26th ult. She with her husband and family resided in the town of Robbins for several years, and while there acted as the UNION's correspondent. The following is from the People's Press of Owatonna:

Mrs. Ellen Archer Barrett, beloved wife of A. B. Barrett, Esq., died of dropsy at her home in this city, Wednesday, September 26, at 4:45 P. M., after an illness of ten months, aged 46 years, 7 months and 18 days. The deceased was taken sick the day before Thanksgiving last year and had never been well since. About four weeks before her death she took to her bed. During her entire illness she was very patient and often spoke of the good attention she had received and of the kindness of her neighbors. She was doctored by a number of physicians but medical skill was of no avail. During her illness she suffered little pain and her end was quiet and peaceful. She was a good wife, a good housekeeper, a kind mother and in all the relations of life she bore her part well. She has gone to her reward. Mrs. Barrett was born at Crown Point, N. Y., February 8th, 1848. She was married at the same place to Mr. A. B. Barrett twenty-eight years ago. Eleven years ago last spring the family moved to Owatonna where they lived ever since excepting for three years when they lived in Mille Lacs county, Minn. Mrs. Barrett was a hard worker, especially when the family lived on a farm. Her daughters are: Mrs. C. N. Archer, Mrs. E. F. Swanson and Mrs. W. E. Finley.

Four hunters were returning Sunday night from Stanchfield lake, when one of the horses sheered from the track and brought the wheel of the buggy in contact with a large stump. The buggy was broken in several places, the occupants were thrown out, the horses strung out the harness and got home some time during the night. The damage will probably amount to $20.
