Queen Vic has prevented Anna Gould from marrying a prince. The queen is entitled to a vote of thanks from American mothers.

It is said that while 150 feet is the limit at which diving work can be carried on safely under water, a depth of 201 feet has been attained by a "helmet diver"—a diver who descends by himself and not in a diving bell.

It is proposed to erect a statue of Cromwell in England as one of the chancellor of the exchequer has promised to make the necessary provision series of historical personages. The in the estimates for next year.

Solitary confinement is calculated, doctors state, to produce melancholia, suicidal mania and loss of reason. Nine months of absolutely solitary confinement are almost certain to result in the mental ruin of the convict.

London had its last total eclipse of the sun in 1715, and the next is not due until the twenty-first century. Notwithstanding this astronomical fact, the Londoners will manage to worry along with their daily showers, coal smoke and occasional pea-green fogs.

As part of the defense of the lower Thames, a boom is soon to be stretched across the Medway at Sheerness. Four obsolete gunboats will be used in the construction, which will cost many thousand pounds, the shore anchorages alone requiring $30,000.

A patent has just been taken out for glasses and mugs with a quicksilver thermometer, in order to enable the drinker to determine which temperature of the liquid will be most agreeable to his taste and most beneficial for his health.

The Hungarian count who comes to this country to begin life with a wife and children he was disowned for legally acknowledging is a welcome addition to our population. Men of that stamp are preferable to the impetuous possessors of titles who come to our shores to pick up heiresses.

Inquiry into the mutiny of eight soldiers of the German army who attacked a captain with swords at Hofheim will probably develop another case of brutality by officials. The German soldier isn't a saint, but he has a better average record than the German officer.

The latest reports from Hawarden state that Mr. Gladstone is still able to see with the eye which was not operated on sufficiently to read and write. The other eye is not serviceable at present, but there is every hope that the sight of that one will ultimately be recovered.

Jim Root, the engineer who saved the train in the recent forest fires, gained fame by that heroic action, and now he has gained fortune. A New York theatrical manager has signed him for $500 per week to take the hero's part in a play called "The Ride for Life," and Jim is now playing to packed houses in New York.

Terrence V. Powderly is said to be a candidate for general master workman of the K. of L. again. The general assembly will meet in New Orleans on Nov. 13. Sovereign will be a candidate for re-election, and the battle between his friends and those of Powderly is expected to be a terrific one.

The Japanese advance into China continues. Everything at the present time seems to be favorable to victory for the "Japs." But numbers sometimes count more than skill or science, and it will be time to predict final defeat for Chinese when that defeat is virtually accomplished.

The general decrease in the death rate this year is attributed to hard times, which are said to induce a more frugal mode of living. But New York reports an increase of 5,112 in births. The figures will have to be referred back to the professors of statistics with a request for a more comprehensive theory.

Five thousand French and British soldiers in 1860 captured the city of Tsin and the Taku forts, destroyed the summer palace of the Chinese emperor and took possession of Peking. China then signed the treaty desired. The warning counted for little, as she is still the largest and the feeblest of nations.

It is authoritatively stated that the czar of Russia has been informed that he cannot hope to live more than a few months longer. If he has profited by his experience he will leave as a legacy to the czar with the good advice to inaugurate a more liberal policy in the government of his empire, looking toward the ultimate granting of a constitutional form of government.

The rumored sale of the Huron copper mine and mill to the Atlantic Mining Company for $40,000 and the assumption of heavy liabilities of the Huron mine by the latter company cannot be authenticated at Houghton but such transfer would probably be a benefit to both parties and is not improbable. Huron works 400 men when running but has been idle for two years.

DANIEL WEBSTER'S SMALL FEES

The Great Lawyer's Income Was Unusually Limited Even for His Day.

One of our correspondents has been so lucky as to fall in with a little leather-covered book, like those of bank depositors, which contains Daniel Webster's autograph record of legal receipts, says the New York Evening Post. This chronicle fills twenty-eight pages, and extends a little more than from 1833 to 1836 inclusive. The first entry, dated September in the former year, is of $50 and the second of $20, for retainers on the New Hampshire circuit. The first fee of $1,000 was paid in May, 1834, by a Mr. Badger. Services regarding Cilley's will commanded $800. The total amount for the first year was footed up as $13,140, with the remark, "Sept. 22, 1834, thus done and concluded." A similar summing up appears at the close of each other year. The second total is $15,153.74; the third is $21,793. The first entry of $2,000 was in 1835, March 7; the first of $3,000 Dec. 7 in the same year. This last payment was in respect to Florida land. The largest single honorarium was $7,500. In February of the fourth year $5,000 is set down as bestowed in a case of Trinity church, New York. In turning over this record metropolitan and even provincial lawyers are astonished that Webster, although twenty years in Boston, so undervalued his services. He learned better at last. When Robert C. Winthrop looked at the earliest date he said: "That's just the time when I was ending my studies in Webster's office," and the chronology led him to add that Webster never wrote a firm hand. Nobody has surveyed the relic with more interest than Dr. O. W. Holmes. Among other things, he said: "Had the inflex been tenfold, Webster's purse would have remained empty still. Had its capacity received like the sea, whatever entered there would have run off like water from the back of a duck."

MADE BY THE TWO SESSIONS OF THE FIFTY-THIRD CONGRESS.

Washington, Oct. 18.—The annual volume of appropriations, new offices, etc., required by law to be prepared under the direction of the committee on appropriations, has just been completed by T. P. Cleaves and J. C. Courts, clerks respectively of the senate and house committees. It shows that the total specific appropriations made at the first and second sessions of the Fifty-third congress amount to $391,156,000; permanent appropriation, $101,074,680, making a grand total of $492,230,680.

The appropriation bills are as follows: Agricultural, $3,223,623; army, $23,292,884; diplomatic and consular, $1,563,918; District of Columbia, $5,545,678; fortifications, $2,427,004; Indian, $10,659,565; legislative, executive and judicial, $21,305,533; military academy, $406,535; naval, $25,327,126; pensions, $151,581,570; postoffice, $87,236,593; rivers and harbors, $11,643,180; sundry civil, $34,252,775; deficiencies, $11,511,004; miscellaneous, $377,656; permanent appropriations, $101,074,680.

The new offices created are 474 in number at an annual cost of $654,712.50, and the offices abolished and omitted are 923 in number, at an annual cost of $1,235,992.40, showing a net reduction in number of 449 and in amount, $581,179.90.

HIS MEMORY HONORED.

A Monument to Emperor William I. Unveiled.

Wiesbaden, Prussia, Oct. 18.—This society watering place, at the foot of the Taunus mountains, was crowded with loyal and enthusiastic Germans to-day, and the town itself was brilliant with holiday bunting in honor of the visit of Emperor William, who arrived here to-day and unveiled the monument to the memory of his grandfather, Emperor William I., and opened the splendid Royal theater. The latter, which has been erected by the enterprising town, is one of the finest in Germany. It is built of yellow sandstone and is surmounted by statues, the work of celebrated sculptors. Inside the new theater the decorations are beautiful. They were designed by some of the best German artists. Off the royal box is a little room made to resemble the cabin of the emperor on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern. This little apartment is the emperor's own idea. The Royal theater of Wiesbaden cost 4,000,000 marks and his majesty grants it an annual subsidy of 250,000 marks.

HIT WITH A HATCHET.

Bloody Work of a Burglar in Alameda, Cal.

Oakland, Cal., Oct. 18.—A burglar did bloody work with a hatchet at the residence of Rev. F. E. Wolfe, in Alameda, early this morning. Mrs. Wolfe was awakened by the presence of a man in the bed room where she and her husband slept. She rose in bed and was struck down with the hatchet. Her husband, awakened by her cry, attempted to rise. He, too, was struck. In their struggle with the burglar the Wolfes screamed lustily, arousing the neighbors. When succor came both were lying unconscious in their blood-stained bed. On the floor lay the hatchet where it had been dropped by the escaped robber. Mrs. Wolfe has regained consciousness and will probably recover, though she has bad wounds about the skull. Mr. Wolfe is mortally wounded. The hatchet pierced his skull on the right side, severing the temporal artery. One of his cheeks is terribly gashed and his head is badly battered. Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe are missionaries who lately returned from Alaska.

OVER TWO MILLIONS.

The N. P. Company Petitions for Suits for $2,000,000.

Milwaukee, Oct. 18.—It has developed in the proceedings in the United States court that the Northern Pacific company, through Brayton Ives, has made good its threat and has petitioned Judge Jenkins to instruct the receivers to bring suits against Henry Villard, Colgate Hoyt and Charles L. Colby to recover nearly $2,000,000 alleged to have been made unlawfully through Northern Pacific deals. The matter was a surprise and was made public through a reference which Judge Jenkins made in his decision in the Oakes matter. The petition refers to the report of Master Cary, and charges that Hoyt and Colby were associated with Villard in his alleged illegal deals. Beside the $995,191, alleged to have been made out of the transactions of the Oregon and Transcontinental company, in connection with the Chicago terminus deal, about $400,000 is alleged to have been made out of the acquisition of the Chicago, Harlem & Batavia property, and $670,000 from the purchase of the Bridgeport and South Chicago property. From the bond distribution by the Oregon and Transcontinental company the defendants are said to have made $40,000, and from the sale of the Chicago & Northern Pacific bonds, by the same company, $1,060,000. Still another bond sale is alleged to have netted $1
