J. C. Herdliska brought a copy of a Japanese paper to the Union office the other day, the copy having been packed with some Japanese goods he had received. The paper consisted of four pages, but we have so far been unable to get head nor tail to the thing. It contains some clever cartoons, but we failed to find the Port Arthur bottle or any of the Russian curios. We noticed two cigarette and one beer ad in the paper which shows that the little empire is right abreast of the times. Any parties proficient in Japanese literature can have the copy by calling at the Union office.
