Clyde Robideau and Sam Shaw spent last Sunday and Monday at Elk lake. A good time is reported.

The dance which was to be held at Alex Blair's last Friday was put off in consequence of the small crowd.

Two of Greenbush's comely matrons were seen in Princeton making purchases, with smiling faces, last week.

A picnic dinner was given at R. A. Ross' last Saturday. The day was pleasantly spent and all had a good time.

Will DeFore of South Stillwater spent a few days at Pine Grove farm visiting his aunt, Mrs. Peter Brochman.

George Christopherson, who has been working at Mapleton, N. D., returned home last week. Mr. Christopherson expects to go back in a short time.

Greenbush will play ball with Estes Brook next Saturday on the grounds of the latter. Leander will do the twirling for Greenbush, so a good game is expected.

Sees Mother Grow Young.

"It would be hard to overstate the wonderful change in my mother since she began to use Electric Bitters," writes Mrs. W. L. Gilpatrick of Danforth, Me. "Although past 70 she seems really to be growing young again. She suffered untold misery from dyspepsia for 20 years. At last she could neither eat, drink nor sleep. Doctors gave her up and all remedies failed till Electric Bitters worked such wonders for her health." They invigorate all vital organs, cure liver and kidney troubles, induce sleep, impart strength and appetite. Only 50c at C. A. Jack's.

Life 100,000 Years Ago.

Scientists have found in a cave in Switzerland bones of men who lived 100,000 years ago, when life was in constant danger from wild beasts. Today the danger, as shown by A. W. Brown of Alexander, Me., is largely from deadly disease. "If it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, which cured me, I could not have lived," he writes, "suffering as I did from a severe lung trouble and stubborn cough." To cure sore lungs, colds, obstinate coughs, and prevent pneumonia, its the best medicine on earth. 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by C. A. Jack. Trial bottle free.

Mr. and Mrs. Lennie Bockoven, Val Mott, Miss Annie Balfanz, Thomas and James Tomlinson and Dale Francis attended a dance at Bogus on Monday night.

The dance at the M. B. A. hall last Saturday night was attended by nearly all of the young people of this neighborhood except a few who do not dance. All report a general good time.

The Woman's Auxiliary met at the home of Miss Helga Chalstrom last Thursday afternoon. There was not a large attendance but the work progressed finely and the ice cream and cake served by Miss Helga and her sister, Mrs. Ed. Larson, were of the very best. The club will meet July 15 with Mrs. Carl Dehn.

"The best laid plans of mice and men gang aft aglee," and the picnic planned by the Woman's Auxiliary was given up but not in time to give notice in last week's paper. Notice was given out as far as possible and the ladies hope that few were disappointed by the failure of their plans. Lack of means of transportation and lack of time to be spared from the fields were the reasons given for the members and their families not being able to go. Just wait until the farmers all have automobiles or flying machines and we shall try it once more.

Where and when some Oxbow residents celebrated the Fourth: On Saturday P. O. Anderson had a family picnic at Stanchfield lake, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Tomlinson took dinner at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Arthur Steeves, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Radeke entertained Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gerth, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Carr and Miss Myrtle Carr. Jim Johnson and Mamie Howard of Princeton spent part of Monday at Mr. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Johnson, and from there went to Elk Lake park to celebrate the rest of the day.

A party of young men who had been to Santiago celebrating on July 3 treated the people along the road to a sample of "vocal music" while going home about midnight. It would seem evident that Santiago water must be exhilarating.

We are glad to be able to state that quite a large number of Blue Hill people attended the bee at the Blue Hill cemetery last Tuesday and cleaned up quite a portion of the grounds, but there is yet a lot of work that could be done. It was decided to erect a woven wire fence around the cemetery, and anyone wishing to contribute toward the fund for this purpose will please send the money to James Stevenson, Zimmerman, Route 2, the treasurer of the association.

WIND AND WAVES.

A Gale's Action Upon Water, Desert Sand and Prairie Snow.

There are wind waves in the water, sand and snow. The great sea waves are produced at that part of a cyclone where the direction of the wind coincides with the direction of advance of the depression. Along this line of advance the waves in their progress are accompanied by a strong wind blowing across their ridges as long as the atmospheric depression is maintained. So the waves are developed until they become steep. The average height in feet is about half the velocity of the wind in miles.

A wind of fifty-two miles an hour gives waves of an average height of twenty-six feet, although individual waves will attain a height of forty feet. The prevailing wind in all longitudes is westerly, so wherever a westerly wind springs up it finds a long westerly swell, the effect of a previous wind still running, and the principal effect of the newly born wind is to increase the steepness of the already running long swell so as to form majestic storm waves, which sometimes attain a length of 1,200 feet from crest to crest. The longest swells due to wind are almost invisible during storms, for they are masked by the shorter and steeper waves, but they emerge into view after or beyond the storm.

The action of the wind to drift dry sand in a procession of waves is seen in the deserts. As the sand waves cannot travel by gravitation, their movements are entirely controlled by the wind, and they are therefore much simpler and more regular in form and movement than ocean waves. In their greatest heights of several hundred feet the former become more complex owing to the partial consolidation of the lower layers of sand by pressure, but they still have the characteristic wave features.

In the Winnipeg prairies of Canada freshly fallen snow is drifted by wind in a procession of regular waves, progressing with a visible and ghostlike motion. They are similar to desert sand waves, but less than half as steep, the wave length being fifty times as great as the height. The fitness of the wind formed snow waves affords a valuable indication of the great distance to which hills shelter from the wind.—Chicago Tribune.
