

Perfumes That Last

The real quality of a perfume is determined by its lasting qualities as well as its delicacy. Be sure of such perfume quality. Our perfumes are delicate and lasting. They are fascinating, sweet odors that represent the true perfume of the flower. We have a rare choice of odors, representing the best products of American and Foreign manufacturers. One half a drop of these delicate odors is sufficient. That is why it pays to buy a good full strength perfume. Any particular odor that you are fond of will be found in our stock.
