Watch for the Ewing Music store ad in next week's Union. 41-1tc

The fall term of the district court will convene at Princeton on Tuesday, October 21.

Edison and Victor phonographs, all styles, and the new blue Amberol records, at Ewings' Music Store. 1tc

Miss Mary Newbert, who has been visiting relatives at Mora, returned to Princeton on Monday morning.

It will be necessary to subpoena a grand jury for the October term of the district court to be held here.

A. E. Allen & Co. will on Saturday give away a suit case to every lady purchasing a suit. Read ad elsewhere in this number.

Frank Kuperus came down from Pease yesterday and the Union acknowledges a call from that prosperous farmer and dairyman.

The Silver lake road from the East Branch bridge to Stover Rines' place is being graded and graveled. It was badly in need of repair.

If looking for a serviceable sewing machine examine the White and New Home makes—the finest in the market—at Ewings' Music Store. 1tc

Mr. J. O. Odegard was in from Santiago yesterday with a load of potatoes. He reports crops as good in that vicinity and the farmers all happy.

A large stock of new pianos of the best makes and of all grades is being shown at Ewings' Music store. Fifty free lessons with every new piano or organ sold. 41-1tc

The new workmen's compensation law went into effect yesterday, and it would be well for employers who are ignorant of its provisions to post themselves thereon.

Princeton is the best and largest primary potato market in the Northwest. The competition between buyers is keener here than in any other town in Minnesota.

I have for years done the majority of the work in my line in your vicinity. That is another reason why you should write me for designs and prices. J. N. Westlund, Center City, Minn. 41-1tc

On Saturday Otto Polsfuss, Carl Boxhammer, Johnson Bros., Chas. Shaw and Richard Steinbach straddled the Boyn road in the town of Princeton and effected a great improvement thereby.

We are informed that the Princeton high school boys will have no football team this season. This is regrettable. They had a first-class eleven last year and we were looking forward to some scrappy contests this season.

P. W. Jensen of Bogus Brook will shortly hold an auction for the purpose of selling his fine herd of grade Holstein-Friesians, about 36 head. All except his thoroughbreds will be offered. Mr. Jensen's continued ill health is his reason for selling.

Florence Gerrish gave a picnic in honor of her birthday anniversary to a number of her little playmates in Umbecker's grove on Saturday afternoon and the gathering passed a very happy time. They roasted marshmallows, dainty refreshments were served and games played.

W. C. Doane and Otto Henschel, with their wives and families, passed Sunday at Berg's place, Green lake. Bill and Otto tried their utmost to land a fish or two but their efforts proved futile. The best they could do was to capture a clam and a snail with their spoon-hooks.

Milaca people are pleased to have their old capable hotel men, M. I. Clark and Fred Warner, back with them once more. The lease of the Arlington hotel to A. Gooley & Co. having expired, Messrs. Clark and Warner, the owners of the building, have taken charge and, as they are experienced in the business, they will conduct a first-class place.

It stands to reason that I can cut you a better monument at a lower price than what some dealers can. I cut more monuments in one month than the majority of dealers do in a year. Write me for designs and prices and see how much you can save on the price, and then you will get the best of work if I cut your monument. J. N. Westlund, Center City, Minn. 41-1tc

One day last week on the Greenbush road, near the M. E. church, Dr. Cooney broke an axle of his automobile. He was driving at a very moderate speed when he ran into a deep depression in the center of the road. There was water in the road and the chuck-hole was not discernible until the machine bumped into it. It is disgraceful that one of the oldest and most important roads in the county should be in such a deplorable condition. The accident will cost the doctor fifty or sixty dollars.

Burrell & Warren have opened a potato warehouse at Onamia. Some splendid potatoes are grown in the lake country as was made manifest by the varieties placed on exhibition at the Mille Lacs County fair by A. P. Jorgensen of Vineland.

The farmers in district No. 50, town of Baldwin, are somewhat disappointed in not getting a sidetrack established. But a good gravel or rock-surfaced wagon road into Princeton and Zimmerman—and we hope to see such a road constructed next year—would be worth more to the farmers of that vicinity than a sidetrack.

One of our county contemporaries contains a patriotic appeal to farmers to stand by a Minneapolis insurance company because it is a western company and its principal object is to keep western money in the west. The principal object of the benevolent insurance company in question, and all other insurance companies for that matter, is to put money in the pockets of its stockholders.

Sheriff Shockley and C. A. Dickey have been summoned to appear in the United States district court, Minneapolis, in the case of Emily Miller against Anthony Deusterhoff. Miss Miller was teaching school at Foreston last spring when Deusterhoff appeared and threatened to kill her. He was afterwards arrested by the United States authorities for sending obscene letters to Miss Miller through the mails.

Many Indians from the Mille Lacs lake country are employed in this vicinity picking up potatoes for the farmers. They work industriously and are a very respectable looking lot of reds. The daily wage paid them is two dollars apiece, and it must be handed to them at the close of each day's labor to insure their return upon the next morning. They refuse to trust the white man and, of course, they have their reasons.

Andrew Sjoblom and Frank Bibeau, while hunting at one of the lakes the other evening in the twilight, sat down upon a bank of guano deposited by loons, and both of them for a moment imagined they were on a toboggan slide. When they gathered themselves up they were sitting in the lake. Before they started for town they were compelled to borrow clothing from a farmer as that in which they made the slide smelled worse than if forty skunks had come into contact with them.

The removal of Guy Ewing's office to other quarters was made necessary, says Mrs. Ewing, by the fact that the music business has grown to such proportions that she needed the space for the display of instruments.

Mrs. Edward McDonnell, jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward McDonnell, sr., and Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Neumann take this means of extending thanks to the kind neighbors who extended to them sympathy in their recent bereavement.

At a meeting of the M. E. Ladies' Aid society yesterday afternoon Mrs. Sylvia Hatcher was elected president, Mrs. Annie Ewing first vice president, Mrs. Daisy Mudgett second vice president, Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman secretary, Mrs. Esther Larson treasurer. Mrs. F. C. Foltz served a delectable luncheon after the election.

J. J. Skahen, accompanied by D. E. Welch of Minneapolis, was in Aitkin county for nearly a week looking over various tracts of land, including forest and swamp. When Mr. Skahen arrived in Princeton on Tuesday evening he was pretty well tired out from the efforts which it was necessary for him to put forth in order to penetrate the jungles. He and Mr. Welch found no land in the territory which they traversed which appealed to them as being desirable for investment.

Sweeping Minneapolis All Right.

The Minneapolis Journal says "a wave of crime is sweeping the nation," and a glance through the news columns of the Journal shows that it is mistaking the city of Minneapolis for the nation, as usual.—Red Wing Eagle.

Notice to Contractors.

The plans and specifications for the barn at the county farm are now at the auditor's office in the court house, where they may be seen by contractors who contemplate figuring on the erection of said barn. By order of F. C. Cater. 41-1tc

Cement and Concrete Work.

I am now prepared to do your cement and concrete work, barn floors, foundations, etc., at reasonable prices. Wm. G. Drescher, Tri-State phone 241, Princeton. 41-tfc

Special to Farmers.

Wanted, cream, poultry and veal. Highest market prices. Give me a trial. One door south of Princeton laundry. 41-2tc J. L. Townsend.

The Hansmann Corn Husker

THIS is an implement that is designed especially for the individual farmer who raises ten or more acres of corn. It husks the corn out of the shock or stack, stripping the ear from the stalk and the husks from the ear. Can be operated with a 2½ to 4 h. p. gasoline engine and with three men will husk about 50 bushels per hour. We guarantee this machine and ask you to come and see it in operation any day at our store.
