TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Dan Rollins, the Minneapolis lumberman, passed through town yesterday on his way to camp.

Editorial: When an ass in the Legislature wishes to distinguish himself he gives notice of debate or moves to adjourn.

In the divorce proceedings of Isaac Prr of Milo vs. Mary Prr, judgment was entered last Saturday granting said divorce.

Miss Myrtle Love gave a party at her parents' residence last Friday evening which was largely attended by the young people.

It is generally conceded that Wm. Cordiner will have no opposition for the position of chairman of the board of supervisors of Princeton.

Next Sunday evening at the M. E. church the regular quarterly meeting will be held. Dr. Stafford, the presiding elder, will be present and will preach the evening sermon.

Campbell & Woodcock have about completed their contract and will break up camp this week. They have banked about 1,700,000 feet, hauling the same from six to eight miles.

C. L. Smith of Minneapolis was here several days last week making arrangements for the organization of a lodge of Good Templars. He will return in a few weeks to perfect the organization and give several lectures.

Shall cattle be permitted to run at large in the township is a question for the farmers themselves to decide. Residents of the village should not vote on the proposition. Let the wishes of the people directly interested prevail.

Warren Vose, who for the past three months has been at Itaska station learning telegraphy, spent several days in town this week visiting friends. Warren is a good boy and will make an able and efficient operator.

M. H. Crawford and wife of St. Paul were here visiting relatives and friends the first of the week. Mr. Crawford is interested in a barber shop in St. Paul and thinks of selling out and purchasing Proctor's shop and bath rooms at this place.

A merry party of about thirty of the young people of this village went up to Soule's crossing last Friday evening on the accommodation train. A social hop was indulged in and a nice lunch was served at midnight. Dancing was kept up with spirit until the arrival of the down train, Saturday morning. One and all of the participants vowed they had had a jolly time.

Sol Parrott's hotel, at the mouth of Bradbury brook, caught fire Monday evening, and came very near being reduced to ashes. Mr. Parrott and the hostler were alone at the time, and it was with difficulty that they succeeded in squelching the fiery monster. A ten-foot hole in the roof of the main building resulted. Fire caught by a stovepipe becoming unjoined in the upper story.

Messrs. Rines and Caley have returned from their southern trip. They visited Washington, viewed several of the old battle fields in Virginia, among which was the crater at Petersburg, where Mr. Caley succeeded in finding some of the ruins of his old camp. He brought home with him as a relic one of the bricks he had placed on the ground as a fire bed during the campaign. They visited parts of Georgia, Alabama and Florida, but found no place like home.
