TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The river is rising fast and lumbermen are almost ready to commence driving logs.

The village doctors have more business than they can attend to these days. Never in the history of Princeton has there been so much sickness prevalent as at present.

Charley Martin and Dan Rollins were in town Saturday on their way home to Minneapolis from their deserted lumber camps. They seemed to be well pleased with their winter's work.

Spencer Brook correspondence: The Union is right in advocating lower rates of interest. The banks would charge a poor devil 25 per cent if the law permitted it.

Porreston Correspondence: Our streets are in a deplorable condition these days. It's to be hoped the new council will hustle around and do something to pull us out of the mud.

Milaca correspondence: The citizens of our town evidently have a great faith in pork. One cannot walk out on a dark night without stumbling over a half dozen of these porcine critters.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather and the la grippe, there was a large crowd at the April fool party at Smith Soule's residence last evening, and the Dorcas society realized a handsome sum.

Invitations have been issued announcing the marriage of Miss Belle Plummer to Mr. Patrick Connor which will be performed at the church of the Immaculate Conception, Pine City, on Tuesday, April 7.

Editorial: For the second time the mortgage taxation bill was killed in the state senate Tuesday. Give us the Bull six and eight per cent interest bill, pave the way for the repeal of the law taxing mortgages, and the people will say well done.

The fair and supper at G. A. R. hall last Friday evening netted the woman's Relief corps the snug sum of $36. The ball, the same evening at Jesmer's hall, by the Sons of Veterans, added considerable wealth to that organization. The success of the ball is due in a great measure to the indefatigable efforts of Mr. Dan Spalding.

Mr. James Peters, the Stanford school director who showed his appreciation of a little Yankee school-ma'am by increasing her wages because she threshed a refractory pupil, and who received a copy of the Union one year free for his manly act, was in town today and had his name enrolled among the permanent subscribers of the Union.

Capt. Jonathan Chase of Minneapolis was in town for the first time in several years last Monday evening. Jock Chase, as he is familiarly called, is known to all the old settlers in this vicinity. He was one of the pioneer Rum river lumbermen, and every man who ever worked for him or had dealings with him, swears by him. He visited Princeton for the first time 34 years ago, and then the only building in town was a little log shanty on the site of the present North Star hotel. Mr. Chase is aging fast, but his numerous friends hope he will weather the gale for many years to come.

BROOKS PATENT Concrete Stave Silo

THE BEST—BECAUSE—

It is a permanent, air-tight, water-tight structure. It is Wind, Fire, Acid, Rot, Vermin and Disease-proof. It's walls are rigid, perfectly smooth, and form a true circle as staves are curved to fit the circumference. Expansion and contraction of steel and concrete are the same—it does not shrink, swell or warp. No tightening of hoops, painting or rebuilding as with wood silos.

FIRST COST — ONLY COST

See our Sample Silo at Hunt's Feed Stable Main Street, Princeton. A postal will bring us to see you personally. If you intend building a Silo, give our proposition a thorough investigation.
