This is a critical time. It is our duty to elect our ablest and squarest men. Minnesota is justly proud of its famous citizen, Frank B. Kellogg.

Guaranteed to the voters by Minnesota's leading newspapers. Kellogg is patriotic, brainy and influential. If elected Senator, he will give the people ALL of his time.

Free School.
Professor V. O. Cudd of Kansas City, Mo., lecturer from the Graham Scientific Breeding school, will be in Princeton on June 14, 15, and 16, and will give lectures, demonstrations and clinics regarding the different diseases of horses, their cause, effect and cure.
On Wednesday the opening lecture will be given, and men, women and children are invited. Picture slides will be used to illustrate the topics under discussion.
The 15th will be taken up with the examination of shy breeding mares. Every farmer or horse raiser in this section who has not been getting the percentage of colts he should have is urged to attend, and bring his animals with him for examination. This subject is of vital importance and we cannot urge you too strongly to be in attendance. Prof. Cudd will give an illustrated lecture on Jannets and artificial breeding will also be demonstrated. Friday, the 16th, will be devoted to an illustrated picture lecture.
This will be the greatest school ever held for stock raisers, and everything is free. Practically every subject that applies to the care and breeding of livestock will be gone into thoroughly, and it will give the farmers and breeders of this section an opportunity to learn more in three days than they have learned in a life time. The Graham Scientific Breeding school is the only institution of its kind in the world. Farmers, stockmen and breeders, you cannot afford to miss this opportunity.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO!

Princeton looks her best at present. June is a royal month, and Princeton is a royal little town.
Charles Keith left on a visit to his old home in Maine last Thursday and will be gone a couple or three weeks.
A dozen new dwelling houses are in course of construction in Princeton at present and the demand for sites is good.
Boys, don't get up a Fourth of July celebration for the benefit of a few dead-heads. If you have a celebration arrange it so that the dead-heads will not make a cent.
The advertisement soliciting bids for the erection of a $15,000 brick schoolhouse appears in this issue of the Union. The school trustees propose to erect a building that will be an ornament to the place.
It will be worth the price of admission to Jesmer's hall tomorrow evening to get a glimpse of the beautiful new drop curtain that Mrs. Rose Patterson has painted. It is an artistic piece of work.
Fred McClellan, town assessor, says he finds that people are in a better shape financially than they were when he was making his rounds a year ago. Farmers, especially, are feeling more hopeful in the expectation of fair crops and better prices.
The East Branch drive is "hung up" for the present owing to a scarcity of driving fluid. The rear of the drive is about three miles below Milaca. Charley Page, look out or you will have to buy that hat. The Fourth of July draws near and the Anoka boom limits are more than a hundred miles away.
Milaca Correspondence: About a week ago several Indians came into town, and soon were seen walking west on the railroad. The next day they returned rather the worse for booze, and we cannot believe that they got it in the "hollow stumps" of Milaca. Meanwhile, where did they get it?
We are glad to note that an effort is being made to improve the streets of the village. One thousand dollars could be judiciously expended to good advantage on the village streets. In this connection the attention of the village authorities is called to the unsafe condition of the West Branch bridge. That bridge is as full of holes as a sieve, the northern approach in particular being positively dangerous for teams and pedestrians. A few planks may save a big bill of damages.
An Ungallant Hobo.
A hobo knocked on the back door of a suburban home, which was opened by a large, muscular, hard-faced woman.
"Get out of here you miserable tramp!" exclaimed the woman, in a screechy voice, at the first sight of the hobo. "If you don't march straight for the back gate I will call my husband."
"I guess not," was the calm response of the tramp; "he ain't home."
"Is that so, Mr. Tramp?" was the scornful rejoinder of the large lady. "How do you know he isn't at home?"
"Because," grinned the hobo, backing toward the aforesaid gate, "when a man marries a woman like you he is home only at meal time."—Philadelphia Telegraph.
