TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

There will be plenty of new potatoes for sale in Princeton by the "glorious Fourth."

James Brown and Miss Hattie Pendleton of Baldwin were united in marriage by Justice Dickey a week ago Sunday.

Last Saturday was a scorcher, 95 in the shade. But it was a great growing day. Yesterday a fire in the stove was not uncomfortable. Variety is the spice of life.

Hon. D. M. Clough has the thanks of the editor and his family for a good milk cow, a present to our better half. May your herd of Short-horns continue to multiply and replenish the earth, Dave.

A man and boy were drowned in the Rum river at Cambridge last week while in bathing. The boy got into a whirlpool, and the man while attempting to save him was taken with cramps and both drowned.

There has been enough rain lately to help the crops in this vicinity, but not enough to assist the lumbermen in getting their logs into the boom. The indications are that the boys on the Rum are as near the boom now as they will be for several months, perhaps until next spring.

Spencer Brook correspondence: The ball boys at the Brook claim that it was the Union devil's mouth that defeated them last Sunday.

Mille Lacs Lake correspondence: The Indians are gathering for a grand dance at Mosomony Point. A gentleman who came from there informed the writer that there were six or seven hundred Indians there, and more coming. Looks favorable for getting rid of the pests, eh?

Probate Judge Dickey assumed extra judicial airs last Saturday as he strutted around town and informed his friends he was the proud possessor of twin calves. He was offered a gold watch, a suit of clothes and a bull pup in exchange for his precious twins, but he scornfully refused all offers to trade. He said he intended to raise the calves and exhibit them at the World's Fair in Chicago. When the judge discovered that his near neighbor, Abe Orr, had borrowed one of the calves for the occasion from L. D. Douglas, he invested a five dollar bill in soda water for the boys and bribed the knowing ones to keep quiet.
