TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Who does our Milaca correspondent refer to when he talks about lazy county officers.

The cold backward weather has retarded the growth of early potatoes. There will be very few of the succulent tubers fit for eating on the 4th.

Work has commenced on the excavation for the new $15,000 school house. When the building is completed it will be a credit to our town and county.

Frank Hense is back from New York, and will leave for the west the latter part of the week. Mr. Hense says he enjoyed his trip to New York and his sojourn in that city greatly.

There is too much promiscuous shooting in the village. Fire-arms, especially when loaded with bullets, should be handled cautiously. Last Sunday bullets flew thick and fast in the south end of the village.

There is every prospect of a good crop of wheat in the vicinity of Princeton. The flour mill project should not be allowed to die. The offer of a $2,000 bonus and a site is still open for some responsible man to accept. There is no better location for a modern mill of moderate capacity than right here in Princeton. Come and look us over.

The recent rains have benefited crops greatly, but there has not been sufficient rain to help out the log drivers. From present indications it looks as if the logs on Rum river would stay where they are until next spring. However, it is possible but hardly probable that there may be water sufficient to float them into the boom next fall.

A building for the manufacture of tin-lined butter boxes is in course of erection at the creamery. Manager Chadbourne says the increase in prices he receives for butter packed in air-tight tin-lined boxes will pay for the factory in a short time. When the factory is completed and in running order the use of butter tubs will be discarded altogether at the creamery. Butter packed in tin-lined boxes will keep fresh and sweet for six months or longer. The best is none too good for the Princeton creamery.

Prof. Raftery of St. Paul has been engaged as principal of the village schools for the ensuing year at a salary of $1,400. Mr. Raftery is a graduate of Andover college and also of the Columbia law school. He is a man advanced in years and has been engaged in educational work for a long time. He has testimonials and letters from men of high character including State Superintendent Kiehle and the St. Louis county superintendent. Great things are expected of Mr. Raftery and we feel certain that he will not disappoint his friends in their expectations.

Mille Lacs Lake correspondence: The Indians are still dancing their medicine dance. You can hear the drum every night for miles. * * * The assessor visited us this week. He reports 40 families in the town of Robbins.

Milaca correspondence: The depot is undergoing a thorough renovation. The waiting room has been made larger, and a ladies' waiting room added. It now looks several centuries more modern than it has in the past.

TRAVELED BY PARCEL POST

Englishman Duly Forwarded to His Destination on the Payment of a Small Sum.

The parcel post has made its usefulness felt in many ways, unexpected as well as foreseen. But the English parcel post does one surprising thing that has not yet been introduced into our own system.

An Englishman wished to reach a customer living in a remote part of Balham, one of the suburbs of London, and it was very necessary that he find him quickly. Knowing nothing of the district, he called at the general post office at St. Martins-le-Grand to consult a directory. On explaining his case to a clerk he was amazed to learn that he could be sent to the address by parcel post by paying a fee of six cents a mile.

The gentleman had never heard of such a thing, and it is said that very few persons in England know that it can be done. He was placed in charge of a messenger who was familiar with all parts of the city, and was soon on his way. The boy carried a printed slip on which was written a description of the "parcel" in charge, under the heading, "Article required to be delivered," and before leaving the customer's house both the customer and the gentleman had to put their signatures on the paper. The limit in weight for anything delivered by parcel post in England is generally understood to be eleven pounds, but there is one clause that reads: "A person may be conducted by express messenger to any address on payment of the mileage fee."—Youth's Companion.
