The above is a likeness of R. R. Frazier, Eye Specialist of Minneapolis, who has enjoyed nearly fifteen years practice in his chosen profession and fitted over 10,000 patients. Here is his creed:
I take off my hat to a worthy competitor who may be more successful than I. By worthy competitor I mean an Eye Specialist who does good work and charges a reasonable fee for his services. He is my co-worker. But language fails to express my contempt for the grafter who, posing as an Eye Specialist, whether he does good work or otherwise, charges his clients exorbitant prices.
My prices are from $5.00 to $10.00 for glasses complete including examination, except for Kriptoks, therefore when patients come to me and with the first breath say, "Now, I would like to know what this is going to cost me?" I know at once that they or some of their friends have fallen victims to some highway robber posing as an Eye Specialist, and have been bled to a fare-you-well.
You and I are entitled to a just compensation for efficient service rendered, and every dollar we receive above a just compensation is graft and thievery.
I visit your city two days each month. My next date will be Saturday and Sunday, November 4 and 5, at the Merchants Hotel, and if you are a believer in a square deal your boost will be appreciated and I shall be glad to serve you and your friends.
R. R. FRAZIER.
