Secret Service Par Excellence.

We cannot end without a word of admiration for the extraordinary effectiveness of the American secret service. It has always stood high in repute for professional skill. It will now stand higher than ever. The Germans, we fancy, hardly dare to deny any new charge against them, because they know that the means of exposure is probably lying in Mr. Lansing's lucky bag. He has only to dip in his hand and pull it out.—London Spectator.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

The dam at Bradley Brook is reported to be nearly destroyed by fire. Benjamin Soule and wife, who spent several weeks in the east, returned home last week. H. R. Mallette was in town on Monday. He reports Mrs. Mallette is slowly improving. Thousands of bushels of potatoes are coming in every day and the very best prices are being paid for them. Geese are beginning to come in and hunters will turn their attention to them for a few days before the final freeze up. Several of the boys who went to Dakota to work this fall have returned. Dakota did not make a very favorable impression on them. Mr. Phillips, an old gentleman living in the north part of the village, died on Sunday and was buried at Oak Knoll the following day. The rigorous climate of our latitude is manifesting its presence by heavy frosts. Get in your wood and coal for winter will soon be here. The W. C. T. U. of this place is a strong organization and has come to stay. It is a good body in any community and should be firmly sustained. Large numbers of men have gone to the lumbering regions to make camps, swamp roads, etc. This winter promises to be a prosperous one in the woods. A number of citizens are buying three and five acre lots on the east side of Rum river and several dwellings have been erected with more to follow. Hon. Frank Searle and the republicans candidates for the legislature—Lee, Fleming and Fuller—will address the voters at Jesmer's hall on Monday evening. The bicycle boom has taken hold of the town and it will be only a little while ere fair girls and brawny boys will fit hither and thither on their tireless steeds. P. J. Henschel and Otilie Hoeft were married at the residence of the bride's parents on Sunday evening. The German Lutheran minister performed the ceremony. Commissioner Hall is at Mille Lacs lake trying once more to persuade the Indians to go to White Earth. A few have already gone, but it is a difficult matter to persuade an Indian to leave his habitat.

A Truly Patriotic Family.

Mother may have played on their love for her. She might have persuaded them to stay at home on the farm with her—but she did not. Mother simply isn't built like that, and neither are the boys. So the six of them are now "fighting men."

They are all farmer boys—had all the chance to escape with honor the trials of army life in war time, and chance of death. They might have "enlisted in the industrial army," but they didn't.

Mother, that is, Mrs. Agnes Champion, goes back to the farm tonight. She and father, John Champion, have 160 acres 12 miles out of Rochester, Minn. She has been visiting in Chicago with the boys for a week.

Walter, and Clair, and Gerald will take mother to the train tonight. She'll cry just a little; she admits it. "I just can't hold it all inside me, you know; I'm their mother," she explains. And then she'll go back to the farm and pray for them.

The farm's a long way from town and sometimes of nights when she's alone and lonesome for the noise of them around the house, and she gets to thinking how she used to tuck 'em in bed and help 'em say their prayers, she may wipe away a tear or two.

"I'm glad to send them," she says. "We've all got to bear our little part of the burden. Then, of course, there's the boys' father. He was anxious for them to go; wouldn't hear of any of them staying behind. But, then, the boys all felt the same as he did about it."

"We had a hard time keeping the little fellows—that's Howard and Matthew—at home. They are under 18; Howard may go, though, when it gets so they need him bad."

Paul, who is 29, belongs to the navy; William, 27, is a private enlisted in the Fourth Minnesota infantry at Minneapolis; Walter, 26, goes to Rockford with the next batch from Chicago; Gerald, 25, will report to his camp at Sioux City, Iowa; Clair and Clarence are twins, 23 years old. Clair has been at Camp Grant the past two months. Clarence is drafted out of Rochester, Minn.

That takes care of all of them except the girls—Elizabeth, who is a school teacher, and Margaret, who "stays at home." They're knitting for the soldiers.

Sometimes women's complaints are imaginary; again they are a form of dreadful disease. In any event, Holter's Rocky Mountain Tea has helped thousands of women. It has relieved their constipation. Women swear by it. 35c. C. A. Jack Drug Co. Adv.

A Story From Paris.

A correspondent writes to the American press as follows:

One place which many American soldiers visit in Paris is the British "Blighty Corner," officially known as the "Foyer du Soldat Anglais." It is conducted by a group of English and American women as a place where Canadian, Australian and New Zealand soldiers who cannot go home for their ten days' leave may find a welcome. It has all the facilities of an up-to-date club, with perhaps a little more of the air of "home" than an ordinary club. Tea is served every afternoon to all comers by the wives of British officers, and there is every afternoon and evening a program of music and entertainment.

On the occasion of the Duke of Connaught's visit the cheers of the Canadian soldiers were so lusty as to offend the ears of some of the residents of a fashionable hotel in the Place Vendome nearby. They filed a complaint with the police, but the police replied: "They are authorized to make as much noise as they please. The British soldiers were not told to make less noise when they blew up the mines at Messines."

Twice a week the men at "Blighty Corner" are taken to visit the old corners of Paris. An interesting incident occurred this week when a party visited the church of Jeanne d'Arc. The priest presented them with souvenir medals representing Joan of Arc. "But there are only three Catholics among them," he was told. "It does not matter," replied the broad-minded priest. "They all serve the same master and general."

Transcontinental Aerial Highway.

President Wilson is said to be favorably impressed by a suggestion made by the Aero Club of America for the establishment of an aerial highway (highway seems to be an especially happy name in this connection) from New York to San Francisco, with branches running (or rather flying) to important centers north and south of the main line. It is to be called the "Woodrow Wilson Aerial Highway." Airplanes have already been built of sufficient stability and carrying capacity to make the project entirely feasible, and the perfection of the Liberty motor insures a satisfactory power unit.

The pioneer aerial liners would not do much with freight, but for the carrying of mail, including parcel post, would prove highly valuable. A limited number of passengers would also be carried. The air line is indeed no dream. The belligerents are spending millions on aircraft, and the United States has appropriated over $600,000,000 for aviation purposes—a sum twice the cost of the Panama canal. Once the war is over, an immense number of high-powered planes of great lifting capacity will be available for peaceful uses.

The air age is already here; and we shall see the practical results of the knowledge acquired during the war utilized in peaceful pursuits as soon as it is possible to turn from destruction to construction. Large numbers of trained airmen will find positions in the service, and a new era will dawn. —Minneapolis Journal.

WHY WOMEN SUFFER.

Many Princeton Women Are Learning the Cause.

Women often suffer, not knowing the cause.

Backache, headache, dizziness, nervousness.

Irregular urinary passages, weakness, languor.

Each a torture of itself.

Together hint at weakened kidneys.

Strike at the root—get to the cause.

Quickly help the kidneys if they need it.

No more other remedy more highly endorsed than Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here's convincing testimony from this locality.

Mrs. R. H. Reed, St. Cloud, Minn., says: "I suffered from a severe pain in my back and through my hips. My back was lame and weak and it hurt me to do any hard work or bend over. When I tried to stoop, it would be like tearing me in two. I had dizzy headaches and my sight was poor. The trouble made me very sick and nervous. Doan's kidney pills gave me relief. They drove the pains away and made me able to do my work."
