

Insure Against Influenza And Similar Ailments

The influenza epidemic seems to be abating, but you should still take every precaution to ward off an attack. We have all the best solutions for spraying the throat and nostrils, and excellent atomizers with which to apply them.

We also sell all of the popular and well-known remedies for treating influenza, grippe, tonsillitis and similar ailments.

Better heed the old saying about an ounce of prevention being worth a pound of cure and use precautionary methods now.

On Monday Louis Normandin of Greenbush shipped 10 May pigs which averaged in weight 240 pounds each.

Leading a procession around town on Monday with a snare drum, little Joe Armitage certainly had a grand and glorious time.

"Vell, das is goot," said an old lady on the street Monday, "der kaiser hass deglared bease alretty yet? Der kaiser iss a goot mans."

The Ladies' Aid of the Swedish Lutheran church, Greenbush, will meet with Mrs. Andrew Stark on November 21. All are welcome.

Mrs. H. M. Farnham phones us that her son, Kenneth, has received orders to go east and ship to France. He is in the United States navy.

There are several scattering cases of influenza in Princeton and adjacent territory, and people should take every precaution to avoid colds.

Dr. J. F. Kothman, optometrist, will be in town on Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 27 and 28. Eyes examined and glasses fitted. Office at Merchants' hotel. 27-tfc

Allen Hayes, who was operated upon at the Northwestern hospital for appendicitis recently, returned to his home in Minneapolis yesterday, accompanied by his wife and daughter.

Bennie Soule was up from Minneapolis over Saturday. He is a member of the national guard and is on duty at the Pillsbury mills. Ben was recently in a hospital with an attack of influenza.

Influenza cases are fast decreasing in Princeton and surrounding country—the germs seem to have gone over the top and are in the descendency. However, be cautious—do not expose yourselves unnecessarily.

Odin Odegard was here over Sunday. When he left he said he intended pulling off a regulation anvil chorus in his copper shop at Dunwoody, and the fire in his eyes was a strong indication that he would do it at all hazards.

Prof. Hayes was home over Sunday. He is in the war camp community service and his headquarters are at the Paul Soldiers' and Sailors' club. Mr. Hayes has been visiting various camps gathering influenza statistics, and he is a particularly busy man.

The Battle Brook Sunday school was reopened last Sunday by Rev. James A. Geer and the following officers elected: Mrs. Carl Bender, superintendent; Miss Ena Mattson, assistant, and Ralph Durbin, secretary-treasurer. The school will run till Christmas and reopen in the spring.

Lieutenant Colonel Carleton, who is now at Waco, Texas, has been promoted to colonel. For some time Colonel Carleton was in the trenches in France, where he was in command of Americans on a three-mile front. The colonel's Princeton friends will be pleased to learn of his promotion.

Geo. Meyer of the United States navy, who has been home on a furlough, returned to his station at Det. Mich., on Tuesday. George has just done his share of war work, being assisted when on a destroyer putting half a dozen submarines out of commission, but he would like to explode depth "pills" on a few more.

Northern Produce Co., St. Paul, wants live poultry. Write for prices, tags, etc. 42-tfc

St. Cloud Business College opened November 11. Large attendance. Enroll now. Vath & Ahles. 47-3c

Keep the home fires burning but skimp on coal—the fuel administration reports a scarcity of black diamonds.

Mrs. George Ross, who is visiting her parents in Red Wing, is suffering from an attack of influenza. At last reports she was fast improving.

Miss Grace Randall, one of the organizers of the Minnesota Suffrage association, was here on Tuesday on behalf of the amendment pending in the United States senate.

The nine men who left here on Monday for training camp reached only so far as St. Paul, where W. C. Doane, who accompanied them, received orders to return the men to their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Tice take this means of sincerely thanking the kind friends for so readily assisting them, financially and otherwise, during the illness and at the obsequies of their beloved son and daughter.

The government advises people to buy their holiday goods early. Now is the time to do so and the Fair store (Klatt's) is the place. There you will find the largest and best variety ever brought to Princeton. 1c

A large number of Mille Lacs county boys, including many from Princeton, are hunting deer, and, it goes without saying, that nothing but deer will they bag—not cows, calves, hogs, sheep, etc., or human beings, as will the city dudes.

While many papers swallowed the German peace dope last Thursday and spread big headlines over their front page announcing the kaiser's surrender, the Union turned a deaf ear to the rumor, and failed to fall for the story which later proved to be a fake.

Mrs. Frank Henschel recently received a letter from Ray Leach, who is in France. In it he sends his regards to all his friends in Princeton. He is a splendid specimen of American manhood and has done his part to compel the Beast of Berlin to, figuratively speaking, bite the dust.

Many of the boys who took active part in Monday's celebration presented a more or less ragged and tired appearance on Tuesday. Take Calvin Olson, for instance. He came into contact with the big circular saw while it was revolving and the result was a disorganization of his Sunday suit of clothes.

The Enterprise suggests that steps be immediately taken to designate the federal highway passing through Mille Lacs county as the "Dunn highway." Mr. Dunn put forth every possible effort to secure the choice of this route, and it is surely fitting that it bear his name as a permanent recognition of his efforts in its behalf.—Wahkon Enterprise.

On Tuesday Rev. Father Willenbrink left for his new charge at Perham, this state, and his parishioners—in fact all the people of Princeton and vicinity—are sorry indeed that he has been transferred. The best wishes of all go with him, and we feel confident that the people of Perham will like him as do those of Princeton.

Lloyd Briggs, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, is now slowly recovering. He is stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind., and was taken ill on his way from Camp Lewis, Wash., to where he is now located. Lloyd belongs to the engineering corps. He speaks very highly of Camp Lewis and says it is the best camp in the United States in consequence of the healthy climate.

Ship your poultry to the Northern Produce Co., St. Paul. 42-tfc

Billy Doane is in the north woods taking a well-earned rest and incidentally trying to shoot a deer or cottontail.

Mrs. Percy Harter kindly thanks those who assisted her at the death and funeral of her beloved husband and daughter.

"Cap" Armitage sends a postal that he has imbibed the first glass of real French wine since landing in the champagne country. Here's ho, Cap!

Tommy Caley, who left last Monday for Camp Sheridan to join a motor truck transportation corps, has returned in consequence of all calls being declared off.

The drive is on by the Y. M. C. A. and six other associated organizations in behalf of the boys overseas. Contribute to the great cause as much as you can possibly afford.

The holidays are fast approaching and the merchants of Princeton should awaken to the fact and advertise their wares so that people may prepare to do their Christmas shopping early.

The local board has received orders to send out questionnaires to September, 1918, registrants. It is believed from this that draftees now in this country will be sent across to relieve those who have been in active service and permit them to return. This will answer a double purpose—give the boys in this country an opportunity to see France, of which they are anxious to do, while those overseas will be glad to return home.

A Tribute From Soldier Boys. Camp Cody, N. M., Nov. 8, 1918. Dear Mr. Prowse:

The last issue of the Princeton Union was received yesterday and, to my surprise and great sorrow, read of the passing away of our dear old friend, Senator Bob Dunn.

There are a few of us old Company G boys from Princeton here who want to express our sympathy for the relatives and friends of our late Senator. We, as soldiers, know the loss of our dear friend in this present crisis, and will miss the warm welcome and hearty handshake on our return home after the war is over. Senator Dunn was always ready to help anyone in need, and in the eyes of the soldier boys was a very generous supporter, and as a loyal American citizen was 100 per cent. We wish to express our sympathy to the Dunn family in their great hour of sorrow.

Roy Wilkes, Albert Rocheford, George Briggs, Oscar Nelson, Sergt. Albert Satterstrom.

Belgian King to Enter Brussels. King Albert, at the head of his army, is expected to enter the capital of his country tomorrow. Vive la Belgium!

TELL OF ENEMY'S APPROACH

Certain Birds and Animals Make the Best Kind of Sentinels That an Army Can Employ.

A wounded soldier, asked what had surprised him most in the battle zone, told of finding a robin's nest in an empty shell case.

As a rule birds are the finest sentinels in the animal kingdom. They become aware of approaching aircraft long before man hears anything. Early in the war parrots were kept at the Eiffel tower as sentinels, but they grew accustomed to the sound of enemy planes and were no longer of use. Pheasants always grow restless and chatter noisily if Zeppelins are approaching, even when they are far away, so far that man can hear no sound.

What is perhaps stranger is the fact that such ordinary creatures as pigs should sight a balloon when it is coming over. The "blister" makes no sound, yet, should one appear against the sky, miles from a farmyard, the farmer will be made aware of the fact by the curious antics of his pigs and the clucking of his hens.

Toy dogs always are susceptible to the presence of danger, and many a pet shows uneasiness before a raid. Cats, too, show fear of gunfire and seem to know when danger threatens.

Dogs, birds and horses are very sensitive to sound. Watch the birds during a daylight raid, listen to the dogs, and visit the stable where the horse restively stamps up and down. But that all animals can accustom themselves to sounds that cause fear is proved by our cavalry horses, dogs that accompany their masters into the firing line, and the robin's nest in the empty shell case.

St. Michel Party.

One infantry company at the end of several hours' advance found that it had cut off several score of Germans in a wood. The Germans didn't show any fight. Most of them didn't even exhibit enough nerve to come out and surrender. When it came time for the captain to make his periodical report to his battalion P. O., this sentence concluded the message he sent back: "Have about a hundred friendly troops in woods on my right."—Paris Stars and Stripes.

BENJAMIN SOULE, Manager

Good Advice. In this time of sorrow and joy it behooves us to listen to wise council. We were glad to hear the words spoken by Mr. E. L. McMillan to our people last Monday, and to see the kindly way in which they were received. I think many others who were not there ought to have heard the message. A few of his points, if I caught his thought, were:

"Those who do not like our institutions, and our ways of doing let them go back to the land from whence they came."

"No more Swedish-Americans, no more Norwegian-Americans, no more German-Americans, but America for Americans."

"We today can let pandemonium run loose, but don't let us do anything through the power of hate."

There is a lot for us to do if America is to be for Americans. Perhaps we all have different ideas in regard to how it is to be made so, and will give varied suggestions.

Whatever we do in justice must be tempered with mercy. We are told that to put a bad man into heaven where all are good would be hell for him. In justice to the good and in mercy to the bad he should be removed and placed among his own kind.

In America this war has taught us that there are many who do not feel at home here. They do not like our institutions. They do not like our ways. They do not like our form of government. There is only one thing they do like that is American and that is the dollar. What should be done with them?

In justice to the boys who have fought, bled and died, to ourselves, and in mercy to them, they should be sent to their beloved fatherlands across the sea.

Every congressman and senator in the United States should be requested by his people to see to it that those people are helped to reach the homeland which they love so well. We will not be bestowing upon them any great favor perhaps, but we will be doing our christian duty. "America for Americans" should be our slogan.

W. B. Milne.

BLUE HILL

Warren Kisner, wife and son, visited at the Fred Briggs home in Zimmerman last Sunday.

The Joe and Ollie Sproessig families have recovered from the influenza.

Mr. and Mrs. Brisbane are recovering from the influenza.

H. B. Hoehn has been a very sick man, but is better at this writing. Mrs. Hoehn and children have recovered from the influenza.

Mrs. John Boehm has been quite sick but is better.

Erma Briggs of Zimmerman is visiting relatives in Blue Hill.

Miss O'Connor of Anoka returned last week and commenced her school in the Bragg district again. She boards at the Warren Kisner home.

Speaking of patriotic young men there's Hank Olson, professor of ton-sorialogy in Earley's fix-up parlors. On Monday Hank was cutting his brother's hair and had finished one side of his head when the tidings came that Beastly Bill Hohenzollern had abdicated and that Max, the pseudo-pacifist, had signed the armistice proposal. Hank instantaneously threw his scissors on the floor, told his brother to come back tomorrow and made his exit. Probably you noticed the boy running around town with a long side and a short side to his hirsutial covering. Next!
