

For Your Benefit

THERE must be progress in all things, even in portraiture. THE BUTLER SUPER-POWER LAMP is the latest development in Artificial Lighting for the Portrait Studio.

There is only one grade of daylight EQUAL to the BUTLER SUPER-POWER LAMP, and that is from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. with clear sky in the summer time. We have installed one of these lights and are forever independent of light conditions.

Give Them Good Winter Quarters

The summer and fall selling season for hogs is just about over. Of course, you will keep some of the best stock to make a start next year.

See that the hog house is comfortable for these money-makers during the cold winter months. Good buildings are a short-cut to greater profit whether you raise fancy or ordinary stock.

And don't forget that fall is the ideal season to make a start on any farm building—whether it's a new barn, new corn crib or machine shed. It will pay you to do your repair work, too.

A few cents now saves dollars next year.

School News Budget.

Most of the influenza patients and "afraid-they-might-be-patients" have returned to school, so the number of absentees have been greatly decreased.

Speaking of school spirit, the male students of the Princeton high school have just begun to realize the lack of it in their school, so they are making up for the deficit by wearing orange and black ties, which float proudly in front of them as they go marching to their classes. A rumor is afloat that they intend to raid Jack's drug store and deprive the said store of its remaining stock. If this is true it is common opinion that the fair sex should also invest in a little enthusiasm, although we all realize that some of them exhibited a fair amount at the basket ball game last Friday night, and we are prone to say that their supply is not so readily exhausted as that of the opposite sex.

Last Wednesday evening after basketball practice the girls had an exciting experience. One of them turned the hot water faucet of the shower on as far as it would go, and when she tried to turn it off it was so hot she couldn't turn it. One of the girls went out in search of a board, but finding none, brought a map. It was suggested that water might ruin the map, so finally a plank was found. The steam was filling the hall and class rooms, and after half an hour's hard work the water was shut off and the girls went home, sadder but wiser.

The girls usually come up from cooking class with the expression of the "angel cat that ate the angel canary," for they cook the most delicious things ever concocted. At least, that is the impression we less fortunate ones get from their glowing accounts of their several successes.

The Milaca boys and girls, after meeting with a sad defeat at Princeton, started for home about midnight in cars. They shoveled snow for several miles but gave it up as a hopeless task. With the aid of a skeleton key they entered a school house nearby, stayed until morning and were then taken home in a bobsled. The cars, or part of them, can still be seen in a snowbank a few miles north of Princeton.

Scenes have changed a little in the high school assembly room. During the first fifteen minutes in the afternoon we are allowed to sit and study with the latest tunes from the victrola floating around us. The only trouble is that the music doesn't last long enough and most of the pupils forget to study while listening to it.

The juniors are studying Plot Sequence in English, and are very busy outlining sketches and the play of Macbeth. The character sketches are wonderful; of course you know we are not to be classed as equals with Shakespeare, but we might be classed with Alger.

The sophomores are learning to beat time to poetry. With the approaching spring weather, and all the technicalities of meter which the English II classes are rapidly acquiring, we look for some real poetry.

Several chemistry students have suffered embarrassing moments when their classmates got the laugh on them when they were unfortunate in not reading the experiment right and got the scare of their lives. Chemicals are rather particular in how they want to be handled and sometimes they revolt against the actions of the experimenter. So far, we are glad to note, none of these revolutions proved serious. Students' Press Committee.

Will Ship Livestock.

We will take in livestock on Monday, March 1, for shipment. Persons desiring to ship should list their stock with us on Friday, February 27.

A WOMAN'S BACK.

The Advice of This Princeton Woman is of Certain Value.

Many a woman's back has many aches and pains.

Ofttimes 'tis the kidneys' fault. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective.

Many Princeton women know this. Read what one has to say about it:

Mrs. Nels Olson, says: "I began having a great deal of bother with my kidneys. My kidneys acted irregularly and I had bladder complaint. My back was awfully painful, especially after I had been walking or when I lifted anything. When I sat down a few minutes, my back became so stiff, I could hardly get up again. My limbs throbbed with pain and I felt tired and weak. At times, everything would whirl before my eyes, when I got up from a chair. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got from the Princeton Drug Co., soon put me in good health and whenever I have felt the trouble coming on since, Doan's have given me quick relief."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Olson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y. Adv.

GLENDORADO & SANTIAGO

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Guy Keeler, last week, a son.

Tom Maberry of Santiago is very ill. Mr. Maberry has been for a number of years the assessor in Santiago and is well known.
