COMMON WITCHHAZEL FINE FOR SORE EYES.
 It is surprising how quickly eye inflammation is helped by common witchhazel, camphor, hydrastis, etc., as mixed in Lavoptik eye wash. One elderly lady, who had been troubled with chronic eye inflammation for many years, was greatly helped in two days. We guarantee a small bottle of Lavoptik to help any case of weak, strained or inflamed eyes. Aluminum eye cup free. Princeton Drug Co. 5-1c

High School News Budget.
 The work on the Annual, which is to be put out this year, has begun in earnest. Juniors, seniors and sophomores are flocking with pictures of the days of innocence and bliss. Papers, magazines and everything available are being perused and clippings are being brought forth every day. We have decided to make this something really worth while.

Have our paternal relatives made any remarks about an increase in the electric light bill? If so, it is because we are about to take final examinations, and, as usual on such occasions, we all realize how very little we know.
 Work on the Annual! Work on class essays! Work on school dresses! Work! Work! Work! Beyond a doubt, progressive men and women are coming from the Princeton high school.
 Miss Reycraft usually has help when it comes to tasting the sample cooking. All the teachers come down and help her so she will not have so much to do.

Princeton H. S. Basketball team plays Anoka next Thursday at Anoka. A fast game is expected as both teams are about even.
 The physics class has been studying distillation. We expect to make some home brew some day. No visitors allowed.

Alma Larson, one of our sophomore girls, is having a severe attack of tonsillitis and has been absent during the last week.

Princeton may have been beaten by some towns but how about Milaca? Milaca and everyone else concerned seemed to think that all Milaca had to do was to play for fun and still beat Princeton. Princeton got her spunk up and showed her worth. Oh, you Princeton!

The juniors and seniors are busy taking pictures for the high school annual. Friday afternoon, after school, there was a rush to the photographer's. The room was kept full with barely space to stand in and still more kept coming. Motto: Come early next Friday to avoid the rush.

It is said that a good looking baby develops into a homely person and vice versa. If this interests you be prepared to enjoy a thorough investigation in the annual of 1921. Baby pictures are now being filed for the infant section.

Notice.
 To the Patrons of Princeton Co-operative Creamery:
 You are cordially invited to attend the annual meeting of the creamery and talk over the business of 1920 and discuss plans for the future. This is your creamery and you should be interested enough to look into its business affairs and know if things are being run right. Let's all come and make this a big meeting.
 The meeting will be held in the armory on Tuesday, January 25, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

"LOOK OLDER THAN LONDON"

Many American Cities Suggest Age and Permanence, Says E. V. Lucas, Visitor From Europe.

Looking back on it all, I realize that America never struck me as a new country, although its inhabitants often seemed to be a new people, writes E. V. Lucas in the Outlook. The cities are more mature than the citizens. New York, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington—all have an air of permanence and age. The buildings, even when most fantastic, suggest indigenity or at least stability; nor would the presence of more ancient structures increase this effect.

To the eye of the ordinary Englishman, accustomed to work in what we call the city, in Fleet street, in the Strand, in Piccadilly or in Oxford street, New York would not appear to be a younger place than London, and Boston might easily strike him as older. Nor is London more than a little older, except in spots, such as the Tower, and the Temple and the Abbey and that little Tudor row in Holborn, all separated by vast tracts of modernity.

Indeed, I would almost go further and say that London sets up an illusion of being newer even than New York, by reason of its more disturbing street traffic, both in the roads and on the footways, and the prevalence of the gayly colored omnibus which thunders along so many thoroughfares, in notable contrast to the sedate and sober vehicles that serve Fifth avenue and are hardly seen elsewhere.

LEARNED SECRET OF INDIANS

Boy's Chance Discovery Revealed How Aborigines Constructed Their Bone Arrow Heads.

Cushing, an eminent authority in matters pertaining to the Indians, has told us how, as a boy, he learned the way Indians made their flint arrow heads.
 He had unearthed a beautiful harpoon of bone. He had a toothbrush with him, and the bone handle of this he chipped off and ground down on a piece of sandstone to make a harpoon of his own; but he could not grind such clean-cut barbs as those of the relic.

The boy then took his flint-scaler and chips and set to work with them. The flint cut the bones away, but left the work rough. Then accidentally he made a discovery, for no sooner had he begun to rub the bone transversely on the flint than the bone cut the flint away. Not jaggedly, as his hammer-stone would have chipped it, but in long, continuously narrow surface furrows wherever the edge was caught in the bone at a certain angle.
 He never finished that harpoon. He turned it about and used it as an arrow cutter, by tying it to a little rod of wood with a shoestring. He had found out how the Indians made arrow heads.

 "Because her son never sets."
