TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

W. P. Chase will hereafter have charge of the Foley-Bean lumber business in this village.

Joe Craig is visiting the scenes of his boyhood in Pittsburg and other points in Pennsylvania. It is not often that he gets away, but when he does he has an enjoyable time.

The upper dam across Rum River at Milaca has been completed and the crew is now at work on the Whitney brook dam.

The West Branch bridge will not be open for travel until spring, the council having decided to grade the street approaches prior to opening, and this cannot be done until the frost is out of the ground.

The county commissioners have decided to make a change in the method of caring for the poor. Hereafter no bills for goods or other aid will be allowed except upon order of the commissioner from the district where the charge resides.

The residence of Ambrose Stanley on the north side was burned yesterday morning, the destruction being total.

Thompson and family have been spending the vacation with relatives near Minneapolis. Wm. Bay has arrived with his stock of merchandise for the Cove store and is now ready for business. C. L. Freer attended the farm bureau convention at St. Paul last week as a delegate from this county. Thos. Anderson was quite severely injured a few days ago while butchering. A stick slipped and struck his collarbone, fracturing it. Mrs. Wescot has been laid up with a lame back for some time. Roy Lukehart is helping Al. Frank at Onamia with his harvest. A number of young people gathered at the C. L. Freer home Friday evening, spending their time on the toboggan slide and playing games indoors. The League of Women Voters met with Mrs. Elsie Coffman on December 29 with a good attendance. They will meet with Mrs. P. M. Woodward on January 25. The ladies are making a study of our government so as to be able to vote more intelligently. We would suggest that the men brighten up a little on this subject or the ladies will be more capable of acting their part in solving the problems of government than some of the men are. A card party was given at the Ed. Bauer home Saturday evening. Martha Woodward returned to St. Paul Monday, after spending her vacation at her home here. Mrs. Geo. Stetzer returned from the city Tuesday after spending several days visiting relatives. Mrs. Griffith visited school Monday. The Ed. Wahkon

Charles A. Benzanson. The entire community was shocked and saddened Thursday afternoon to hear of the sudden death of Charles Benzanson, who was accidentally electrocuted while employed as tinner on a school house at Hibbing. His left hand came in contact with a live wire, causing almost instant death. Charles Amos Benzanson was born in Minneapolis on February 15, 1897. About fifteen years ago he came to Wahkon with his parents. He was the first pupil to graduate from the local high school. After graduating here he attended the state college of agriculture for one year. When war was declared he was among the first to answer his country's call, enlisting in the 135th Minnesota infantry, Co. E, he served in different organizations until he returned from France and was mustered out about July 1, 1919. He remained home for about a year then went to the range, where he worked until he was killed. He leaves to mourn his unexpected departure besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Benzanson, one brother, Donald; three sisters, Mrs. N. A. Kinney of Virginia, Minn.; Misses Edna, Hazel, and Helen of Wahkon. Funeral services were conducted on Sunday afternoon at the Presbyterian church, with which the deceased united when a very young man. Rev. Owens of Onamia conducted the services. The Odd Fellows attended in a body and interment was made at Isle cemetery. The numerous beautiful floral offerings gave proof of the affection and esteem in which Charlie was held, as did the large number of people who attended the funeral and accompanied the body to its last resting place, waiting while the legion bugler from Isle sounded taps over the grave of a departed buddy. The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the family in their hour of sorrow. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wagner and daughter, Grace, returned from their visit to Northfield Saturday night. Miss Frances MacDonald spent a few days last week shopping in Duluth. Miss Edna Benzanson came home from Glenwood Friday night. Stanley Johnson and Lionel Guyer came down from Hibbing Saturday night. Miss Frances MacDonald spent a few days last week shopping in Duluth. Miss Edna Benzanson came home from Glenwood Friday night. down from Virginia to attend the funeral of Mrs. Kinney's brother.

James Quist was in town Saturday. Emil Hallett came home from Swatara Friday. Percy Bezanson is here from Minneapolis. Rev. Owens from Onamia preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening. No services were held in the morning to allow time to prepare the building for the services in the afternoon. Wm. Lind went to Onamia one day last week.
