TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Born, on January 22, to the wife of C. A. Dickey, a daughter.

The usual number of grotesque and spectacular measures have failed to show up so far at this session of the legislature.

M. S. Rutherford has gone to Iowa, having accompanied the body of his brother's wife to that state.

J. A. Ross of Chatfield was one of the lucky ones who passed the examination of the state board of pharmacy.

The recent snow storms have put an end to the pleasure of the school children on their ice-covered pond in the school yard.

Several farmers from southern Minnesota have purchased large tracts of land above Bridgeman and will open stock farms in the spring.

One farmer brought in several head of young stock on Monday for shipment which he had blanketed. That man's heart is in the right place.

Two more arrests were made in Isanti county last week on complaint of F. H. Douglas, who is looking up stolen logs for down-river lumbermen.

Wesley Page fell down the wood chute at the school house and is suffering from a severely sprained ankle.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Calley will leave Monday morning for a trip to Mexico which will cover about 7,000 miles.

March 1 Dan Spaulding is making a crusade against owners who let their horses stand on the street unblanketed. He has the right idea and doesn't hesitate to carry it out.

With the thermometer registering from 26 to 36 degrees below zero at night and 20 throughout the day, life is not altogether a pleasant dream.

Sid Craven came down from Foley's ten-mile camp on Friday. The blizzard was too much for the lumbermen and they were forced to suspend operations.

There has always been an irregularity in the title to property in the original townsite of Princeton owing to an error in one of the early deeds. The instrument neglected to state whether one of the granting parties was married or single and it was only through persistent correspondence that the matter was straightened out. Register Goulding has finally secured the correction which removes the title objection.

Mrs. Esther D. Northway, aged 83 year, died at the home of her son, Myron, in Milo on January 27, aged 83 years.

Give Lunch at Creamery Meeting.

O. J. Odegard and Ed. Nelson volunteered to solicit the funds for the lunch. The following is a list of the donations of the various business houses and professional men:

High School News Budget.

The boys' and girls' basketball teams are planning to go to Cambridge Friday.

The new semester started Monday. Much confusion was noted in the hall when pupils got to the wrong class and many inquiries were made by some as to which room to go to. Nevertheless they all got there. The pupils who took American history last semester will take civil government this semester and the ones who took physiology last semester will take zoology.

Hot lunches were served to the pupils from the country for the first time Monday. This is something which is very good for the pupils that live out of town.

To show the pupils in shorthand how nerve-wrecking it is to be teacher, Miss McDonnell is going to have each one teach for just one day. She thinks it is a better plan for the pupils and then they will have pity on her and get their lessons.

Monday, in music, Miss Snyder told us the story of "Carmen" and played selections from it on the phonograph. Everyone enjoyed it because it was so interesting, and we wish that we could have that every day. It reminds us of the fairy tales that we were told of in the garden.

We are studying the different forms of the verb "to be" in English four and we are plowing through hard ground. Although we have had this before, it seems that by some terrible mistake we have forgotten just when to use the right form. Miss Anderson is giving us special drills and getting us in trim.

Miss Barsky, the county nurse, is giving physical examinations to many pupils who wish them to see if there has been any improvement in some and to check up on the condition of others.

Tests were given in silent reading to the pupils of the third, fourth and fifth grades by Supt. Hall and the teachers. The third grade is considerably above the standard third grade of the United States as a whole, while the other two grades are slightly below the rate of reading. There were many pupils in both grades who were considerably above the standard for their grade. Silent reading is very
