A Christmas Message.
Through the courtesy of the Princeton Union we desire at this time to express to all our sincere gratitude and thanks for the many tokens of love and kindness shown to us during the past year.

Especially do we wish to express our hearty thanks to the Princeton Union for its willingness to print all of our church notices throughout the whole year free of charge.

May now the Christmas spirit of love and peace and goodwill be allowed to enter our hearts and our homes and fill our lives with cheer and happiness. N. A. Almer.

Recount to Begin.
W. C. Doane has filed a petition for the inspection of the election ballots with reference to the Morton-Deans legislative contest. Judge John A. Roesser of St. Cloud today issued the order, and the recount will commence at Milaca tomorrow morning. Ira G. Stanley has been chosen to represent Rufus P. Morton. P. C. Lynch will look after Mr. Deans' interests, and M. K. Rudd of Milaca has been named as the third party.

The results in Mille Laes county will be determined before the recount is carried into the other two counties in the district.

B. F. Hall's Brother Honored.
Judge Charles F. Hall of Granite Falls has been appointed director of the child welfare department in this state. Judge Hall has been probate judge of Yellow Medicine county for 12 years and has been much interested in the juvenile court work. He has also served as director of the state Red Cross chapter.

Judge Hall is a brother of Superintendent B. F. Hall of this place.

NOON LUNCHEONS - NEW FEATURE and its general equipment as added, it is the belief of the board that the state will reimburse the army board in its expenditures. A committee consisting of Wm. C. Doane and Fred Newton was named to investigate the matter. This committee was also instructed to look after such legislation as would need attention during the coming session of the state lawmakers.

Archie Jones, manager of the Princeton Co-operative creamery, was present and called attention to the fact that the new creamery would soon be ready for use and that plans were in the forming for dedication exercises. No date had yet been selected for the big event but it was thought that all work would be completed by the first part of January. This building is one of the finest creameries in this section of Minnesota and ranks with the best in the state. The club endorsed Mr. Jones' remarks and assured him of loyal support in making the dedication event a success.

Another important matter which has had the attention of the club and will likely require still greater consideration is the hard-surfacing of the Scenic highway. There has been some talk that the highway from Elk River to Grand Rapids may receive consideration this coming year. Should the hard-surfacing or paving be instituted along this section next year chances are that the entire route would not be attempted at one time. Demonstration meetings endorsing the plan have already been held in a number of the towns north of this place and it is quite evident that when the time approaches for the work to begin other towns will hold like events. Princeton will not be backward when the time is ripe to do its share in helping along the good roads movement. The club endorsed the good work of Chas. M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, and will continue to support him in his untiring efforts in placing Minnesota on the map as one of the leading good roads states in the union.

Several other matters of importance were up for discussion which entertained the members until a late hour.

Masons Attend in Body.

The local Masonic lodge members attended special St. John's Day services at the M. E. church Sunday evening. They gathered at the lodge hall and marched to the church in a body. Rev. S. A. Lumb, local pastor of the M. E. congregation preached the sermon. There was special music by the orchestra.

As St. John, the evangelist, is one of the patron saints of free-masonry, Dr. Lumb gave a brief sketch of his life as recorded in the Bible, showing how he had learned to subdue his passions and to improve himself.

"In his early life, John," said Rev. Lumb, "was not necessarily lovable, but potentially detestable and actually disagreeable. He was headstrong, pettish, vain; a typical mother-spoiled boy. However, his evening beautifully belied his morning. The sunset of his life proved to be a saint-hood."

"He, who had his mother seek first place for him, came to give the mother of Jesus first place in his life. The one who wanted to call down fire from heaven to consume the Samaritans who closed the gates of their city against Christ, grew so in self-restraint that though he personally executed Judas Iscariot, he met him continually in a brotherly way, hoping against hope that he might ultimately be turned from his evil way and open the gate of his heart for the admittance of Jesus.

"This man who, in his early life, forbade one doing good works in the name of the Lord Jesus, because he belonged not to his clique, wrote an epistle exhorting love for one another of all men. Saying none could love God who loved not man.

"So vain and self-conscious was John when we first meet him that he himself asked of Jesus Christ the right hand seat to His throne in His kingdom. But so wonderfully does he grow in grace that he pens a whole gospel without once mentioning his own name. Hiding under anonymity as: "The disciple whom Jesus loved!"

ST. PAUL - MINN.

Mrs. D. Erickson.
Louis Peterson of Wyanett received word Tuesday announcing the death of his sister, Mrs. D. Erickson, who resided in Minneapolis, and accompanied by his daughter, Miss Mathilda Peterson, left for that place Wednesday to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Erickson was born in Sweden in 1863 and came to America in 1882 with her family. Mr. Erickson purchased a farm near Lake George and resided there until his death several years ago. Mrs. Erickson continued her residence on the farm until two years ago, when she moved to Minneapolis.

She is survived by a brother, Mr. Peterson, and a sister, Mrs. John R. Erickson of Minneapolis. The funeral is to be conducted today and burial will take place in that city.

Amos Thompson.
Amos Thompson passed away early Wednesday morning, after a long illness. Mr. Thompson was born in Norway, 82 year old, and has been a resident of Blue Hill for about 40 years. Funeral services were conducted in the Lutheran church in Orrock on Friday afternoon and interment made in the Orrock cemetery. His death is mourned by many friends and a daughter, Sena, who is the only near relative surviving.

In Appreciation.
To the many big-hearted patrons of rural route No. 1 from the Princeton postoffice, who so generously contributed to the load of oats and corn, given me as a Christmas gift, I wish to express my deepest gratitude. It was indeed a valuable gift, but the expression of good will and friendship is by far the most valuable part of it to me. May Christmas be merry and New Year happy and prosperous to you all is the wish of your carrier, John Bishop.

Below is appended the names of those who contributed to the load: Einar Anderson, Lee Shirkey, Gordon Robideau, Ed. Gilbertson, Arthur Stay, James Devine, Nels J. Nelson, T. W. At The Movies.
The Strand Theater is to show Sunday evening "Where is My Wandering Boy Tonight." This is to be a strong attraction on the screen. The production was suggested by the famous hymn of the same name and tells a beautiful story. Few finer stories of mother love have been shown on the screen. It has won endorsement in many cities in which it has been shown and the people of Princeton will enjoy this appealing story as other towns have.

The serial picture, "Hurricane Hutch," which is being shown at the Strand Tuesday evening each week, is certainly a thrilling picture, each episode giving intense entertainment for movie fans.

"One a Minute" is a comedy story that will please the movie fans at the Strand next Friday and Saturday night. It is exciting and one of Douglas McLean's new productions. It has plenty of love; lots of politics and business. It is a picture that will drive any fair sized grouch into a well balanced smile.

There will be a program and basket social at the Battle Brook school house, Dist. 7, Sherburne county, Friday evening, December 22. Jose Anderson, teacher.
