I. If President Harrison pays no attention to his petition then the Lord help all the other Colored applicants. Mr. Benjamin is eminently fitted to fill the position for which he applies and we hope he will be appointed.

All our Colored exchanges are bittered in the denunciation of the policy foreshadowed by President Harrison in his treatment of Colored men who apply to him for their just share of the offices at his disposal. If there are any members of the Republican party who deserve recognition they are found among the Colored members.

The Colored voters of Desha County Ark., stuck to their candidate Hon. J. Penney Jones and the result was his election as County Judge, though there were three tickets in the field. We have known Judge Jones for a number of years and for pluck and energy he cannot be beaten.

If there is a visible admixture of African blood in your composition you need not expect much from the Harrison administration. You must root hog or die.

After the close of the services at St. Stephens A. M. E. Church Sunday eve: A disorderly young man caused a disturbance in the vestibule of the church. The officers of the church endeavored to chastize him but they were soon surrounded by a number of his associates who made such vile threats and caused such a disorder in general that one of the officers went to turn in the alarm while one of the others held the fellow. After arriving at the central box he discovered that he had lost his key in a scuffle with the boys. The boys escaped. Warrants will be issued for their arrest.

Obituary.

Joseph R. Barbor died last Tuesday at the residence of his sister Mrs. John Curry 3737 Cottage Grove ave. Mr. Barbor had but recently returned to our city from Los Angeles to where both parental and medical care could be given him. Dr. D. H. Williams was called and by a careful examination pronounced his condition beyond hope. His death though not unexpected was sudden. By consent of family and a few friends, a post mortem examination was held Wednesday morning by Drs. Dan H. Williams and J. N. Cooker, who soon discovered that his immediate death was caused by heart clot between left auricle and ventricle. It is a great comfort to know he had given his heart to the Savior and so promptly attended to the ordinance of God's house, while he has missed life's opportunities, he has escaped life's sorrow and sufferings and has laid down life's responsibilities and gone to heaven where sufferings, sickness and sorrow can never come. The funeral services took place at his sisters residence, conducted by Rev. Jordan Chavis. His remarks were appropriate and a more impressive scene could scarcely be conceived than was witnessed.

St. George Commandery entertainment will be a hummer and don't you forget it.

A Dog Uncerths a Murder.

Zebulon, Ga., April 15.—Three miles from this place, several months ago, a traveler on the Barnsville road, saw his dog run into the woods, and emerge a moment later with a bone. Something prompted the traveler to examine the bone which proved to be a jaw bone, with two teeth in it. They were certainly human teeth. Going on a little further he met Emma Jenkins, to whom he showed the bone. The sight of it drew her into a convulsion. She then told a strange story. She had been visiting at the house of Green Griffith in 1887. One day a strange Colored man came by, who gave his name as Evans. He had never been seen before. He asked if he could stay all night and was given an affirmative answer. He was sitting by the fire when Griffith entered. The latter didn't speak a word to him. In a few minutes Griffith went out, and returning directly with an ax, he went up to Evans and burying the ax in Evans' head, said:

"What in the devil are you doing here?"

Griffith then compelled his wife and Emma Jenkins to help him carry the body into the woods, where it was covered with leaves and left. Griffith was arrested and placed in jail yesterday for the murder of Evans and convicted. He will be hanged in June.

House Cleaning.

Nothing, perhaps, is such a wear and tear upon the system and disposition as the process of house cleaning. The chaos it brings, added to the many unpleasant phases and experiences are most annoying, but they are inevitable, for the house must be cleaned, every so often, especially in the spring. Wives and husbands like to have neat homes, whatever comes. They like good rail-roads, too, and therefore every sensible person takes the Saint Paul & Duluth Railroad, the "Duluth Short Line," and from St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, West Superior, and other points. In-Plough, General Passenger Agent, St. Paul, Minn., or by ticket agents.

Looked Like a Laundry Check.

It is a well known fact that a majority of professional men write very badly, so badly, in fact, that sometimes the writers themselves cannot decipher their hieroglyphics when they get cold. Dr. Daniel H. Williams doesn't write such a bad hand, but either bad writing or the peculiar appearance of all physicians' prescriptions is responsible for the following story which the Doctor tells. Last week a small boy called at his office to get a prescription for his mother. The prescription was written as usual in Latin with apothecaries signs affixed. The little fellow as soon as he left the office called to his "chum" who was waiting outside and they tried to read what was written; of course they made an ignominious failure, and, as usual with human nature, they proceeded to shift the blame for their failure off their shoulders. Said the little fellow: "Gee whizz! dis is de tuffest writin' I've seen lately. Nobody can't understand dis. Dis is to git medicine wid; but I'll bet if I tuck it to a Chinaman, he'd break his neck gitten to a bundle of washin'."

Chicago House Cleaning Co.

One of the dreads of housekeepers is house-cleaning time, and as that time will shortly arrive THE APPEAL calls the attention of the public to the Chicago House Cleaning Company which has recently been organized by Messrs. James C. Battles and Payton Randolph. They employ the latest and best known materials and tools and only experienced, reliable workmen capable of executing their work in a most thorough and superior manner. They do general house cleaning; chimney sweeping; dusting, wiping and cleaning papered walls; oiling and polishing woodwork and floors; clean wood-work, painted walls, windows, lights, mirrors, globes, mantles etc., cleaning yards and cellars, removing rubbish. Fumigate and whitewash cellars, carpets taken up and cleaned by steam. Also clean carpets on the floors. Carpets taken up, altered made over and relaid. They give their personal supervision to all work placed in their hands. In short they fill a long felt want. Leave orders at their office No. 182 State street Room 66.

ple of these United States to scratch their heads and pronounce us a problem. We are a problem because we are here to stay. We are a problem because against almost insurmountable obstacles we have advanced, and to such a degree that our friends cry, "If we don't get rid of the negro, he will soon take our place and nation." This is where the problem comes in; this problem like all others has a key; this we hold, let us use it well, unlock, solve, as the omnipotent ruler would have us. Patiently constantly, truthfully, show to the rest of mankind that we will be a people; will respect ourselves, and therefore command the respect of others.
