In the articles for the Bethesda church banquet in our last issue the name of Mr. H. W. Davis, a very prominent man one who has done very effective work in their church and community was unintentionally omitted. Owing to an oversight on our part in our last issue we failed to correct a statement appearing in our previous issue relative to the Walters picnic held at Lake Minnetonka Aug. 21st. At Montecello, Ky., a Colored boy was burned at the stake for an alleged assault on a white girl. Troy Deacon a Colored man of Cincinnati, who has delusions about religion, has been committed to Longview asylum. Edmund Pettiford, Colored, doubtless the oldest man in Northern Indiana, died Saturday morning at Marion at the age of 104 years. Gus. Witherspoon, whose habitation was Yorkville, S. C., bet a dollar that he could eat seven dozen fried eggs at one sitting. He won the bet, but did not live long enough to spend the money. Robert Johnson a Colored convict, at a railroad camp on the Kentucky Midland road near Georgetown, was cut eleven times with a barlow knife and killed last Saturday. Ralph Adams, white, was the murderer. He claims that Johnson cursed him. Cliff Courtney, aged 21, Colored, of Cincinnati, while standing at the corner of Fifth and McAllister streets Tuesday evening, was approached by a Colored man named Johnson, who mistook him for another person with whom he had trouble about a woman. Johnson had a knife in his hand and slashed Courtney with it, cutting a gash several inches in length. He will recover. An ingenious scheme for obtaining firewood was worked for a time by a Colored resident of Starke, Fla. He put a pair of vicious curs in his yard and allowed them to run out and attack pedestrians. The latter, for defense, would never pass the place unless they were provided with an armful of pine knots to chuck the dogs with. At night the man gathered up the dogs' earnings for the day, and found fuel not only enough for the home department, but a surplus to lay up for winter. But now his curs are both poisoned, and their owner sits on a stump beneath a wide-spreading Jerusalem oak lamenting his loss. General Hippolyte, the new leader in Haytian affairs, is about 50 years of age, tall and heavily built. His hair has whitened somewhat, but his mustache and goatee are still dark in color. His lips are small and well defined, and his nose almost Grecian in form. He is, upon the whole, a fine, intelligent-looking man, and it is expected will make an excellent ruler. He has been in command of the Northern forces since Legitime's treachery, and has fought his way gradually to the position which he now occupies. Hippolyte is friendly to the United States, and will cultivate commercial relations with this country. Wood River Baptists. Decatur, Ill., Sept. 2.—The Ministerial Union of the Wood River Baptist Association decided to meet next year at Quincy, "Nature and Extent of the Atonement" and "Conditions and Prerequisites of Ministerial Success" were among the questions discussed at length by the union. Sunday the Rev. S. T. Clinton, of New Orleans; the Rev. R. DeCapitate, of Galesburg; the Rev. J. L. Nunley, of Springfield; and the Rev. J. Chavis, of Chicago, delivered sermons at Oakland Park and at the Baptist and Methodist Churches. The annual meeting has been one of the best ever held by the association, which includes sixty ministers from all parts of Illinois. It was voted that each church shall pay an annual membership fee of $3, this sum not to relieve the churches from paying assessments for the home and foreign missions and for educational purposes. Hanging by Her Bustle. Bolivar, Miss., Sep. 1.—A singular accident occurred to a well-known young lady of this county. The young lady had climbed onto an apple tree, and while leaning out for a luscious specimen of the fruit, her bustle got caught in the branches. In trying to disengage herself she lost her hold, and hung suspended in a dangerous position by her bustle. The cries of the young lady attracted the attention of some passers-by, who assisted in extricating her from the perilous situation, and saved her from a frightful fall. Important! Read! Here is a chance for you to make big money. No humbug, no chestnut, but BUSINESS! We pay salary or give commission. If you are not satisfied with your present business, write and get our terms. Enclose postage stamp for reply. Address—TAYLOR'S NEW ELECTRO-OLIV PHOTOGRAPH CO., Box 812, Austin, Minn. Humane Mr. Keenan. The Humane Society succeeded in having J. A. Dent fined $25 last week and recommended the shooting of his horses to relieve them of suffering. Bro. Keenan can add more scalps to his belt by visiting the 22d street station of the I. C. R. R. and note some of the horses that come there pulling express-wagons. Oh! these are horses of white men and they are all right. Humanity makes no distinction on account of color and we trust Bro. Keenan will not.

The old No. 3 School has been abolished. Messrs. Eddie James and Frank Robertson of St. Paul are visiting in the city. Lott returned to the city several days ago, having had a fine time with his friends in eastern Kansas. Mr. Lott has made a nice record in charge of the Carondelet School. We have a complete power printing establishment and can neatly and promptly execute any work, from a visiting card to a big poster. Misses Edith Mordecai and Stella Hickman returned Saturday having been out of the city several weeks. They report the kindest sort of treatment at the hands of their friends wherever they went and a fine time generally. Both of these ladies teach in the No. 1 School. The principals of the city schools had a meeting last Saturday, preparatory to the opening of the schools the following Monday. About 78 of these educators were out, Supt. Long presided. The usual greetings and a few instructions constituted the minutes of the meeting. The twelve Colored principals of St. Louis were present. It is definitely decided that Principal A. D. Langston will not move to Washington to take the splendid position tendered him in the High School of that city, much pressure was brought to bear but Mr. Langston finally decided in favor of the Future Great. Mr. L. fully appreciates the great honor done him by the Washingtonians. The people of St. Louis are anxious to know what course Hon. John M. Langston will pursue in the Virginia campaign. Mr. Langston is a stalwart Republican, but can he support Mahone for Governor? And it is quite sure that the little General cannot be elected without the brainy Langston's help. Of course we shall soon see what we will see; but meantime, this community is all curiosity to know what to expect. Grand Reception.
