Last Sunday's "Sun gave Harris" theatre a deserved roasting. Whatever may be the statements made by parties connected with the theatre declaring that Colored people receive the same treatment that others do, the fact remains that several Colored people have been insulted and outraged at Harris' theatre. The thing to do is not to stop going there but to continue to go and to demand the same treatment that others receive and nothing less.

The Festival and drill by the Young Masters Cadets drew a large crowd to Pilgrim Baptist church Thursday evening. The evolutions of the youngsters were well executed and elicited much applause. In the competitive drill between Elmer Bowman, Willie Williams, Andrew Combs and John Kelly the first two were the victors. The tableaux were not so well managed, but afforded some pleasure. After the conclusion of the programme the festival began and lasted until noon at night, all having a highly delightful time.

"Bob" was taken by surprise but managed to express his thanks and appreciation. Then after a general good time the happy Professor left with his valuable present, highly delighted.

The interest of our people in the St. Paul Choral Club remains unabated as is evidenced by the increased attendance at each meeting. Mr. Swasey's unavoidable absence from the city was a disappointment to the club, however, it resolved itself into extensive session and transacted some necessary business. The constitution was amended so as to admit of four instead of two meetings a month. The promoters of the enterprise have borne in mind the fact that the musical talent of the city is connected with the various organizations of both religious and charitable characters, and have endeavored to avoid a clashing interest. The club stands alone upon a musical basis and it remains to be seen whether it will succeed upon that basis. This being clearly and irrefragably stated, let our music loving people rally to its support. Its next meeting will be held at Pilgrim Baptist church Tuesday 8 p. m. October 15.

The greatest hero is perhaps the man who does his very best, and signally fails, and yet is not embittered by his failure. A life here in which you fail of every end you seek, yet which disciplines you for a better, is assuredly not a failure. The brethren and sisters gave witness, Sunday morning, of the success in the battle of life, which come from apparent failure. Sunday was a day of joy and gladness, there were more members at communion than there has ever been in the past year, nearly a hundred of itself is indication of the progress we are making. Our choir is becoming more and more attractive, the organist and chorister with their aids mean to do all within their power to give us good music. The literary society is to give an entertainment on the 28th inst. Our Sunday school is growing in strength and interest. ST. JAMES A. M. E. CHURCH.

It is remarkable what strange notions members of the "superior" (?) race have regarding Colored people. They claim to be so very intelligent; but, put them to test before a Colored audience and they stutter an stammer or sail away on some antediluvian idea that disgusts their hearers. They seem to think that they have to express themselves in some peculiar way to Colored auditors. Doubtless they mean no harm, but they certainly show an alarming lack of common sense. An exemplification of this fact occurred at St. James church last Sunday evening. The Methodist Episcopal conference was in session here last week and according to established custom the ministers present, or a portion of them, were assigned to the different pulpits of the city last Sunday. After considerable discussion in the committee as to the sort of man to send, one was selected for St. James. He came accompanied by two brothers. The sermon of the preacher was interesting and instructive, the prayer of one of the others gave evidence of his scholarly attainments. Then came some remarks by the third brother, but in the first sentence he uttered he put his foot in it, by some allusions to "Old Black Joe" and his "black mammy" etc. His remarks as a matter of course fell like a wet blanket on the audience but he seemed to be in blissful ignorance. At the close of his remarks the pastor of the church arose and in a most sarcastic but genteel manner gave the speaker something to think of for many days to come, if he had intelligence enough to notice and understand it. The audience was highly delighted at the spirited and timely remarks of the young pastor. It is hoped that the brother of the "superior" race will profit by the lesson given. Colored people have not been idle for the past twenty-seven years and in ordinary intelligence will average pretty well. Members of the "superior" race ought to be intelligent enough to remember that; and, when addressing Colored audiences, talk on such subjects, and in the same way, as if addressing whites. They need not fear not being fully understood.

Work in the West St. Paul mission to which Rev. Richmond Taylor was assigned was started last Tuesday with a prayer meeting. There was a fair turnout of the people and after a glorious heavenly feast Rev. Taylor stated that his object was to form a praying band and the first to join was a sinner, this aroused the Christians and fifteen names were added. The work is begun in earnest and will be carried forward with zeal. The mission is situated near the corner of Eaton and Chicago avenues, take Rice street car to Chicago avenue which is within one block. COLORED CONFERENCE.

Meeting of Colored Men at the State House Springfield

John G. Jones Leaves His Grip.

The conference of Colored men of Illinois was opened at the State House Monday morning, John G. Jones of Chicago presiding. Permanent organization was effected by the election of the following officers:

President, E. H. Morris; First Vice President, S. B. Turner; Second Vice President, J. J. Bird; Secretary, W. A. Joiner; Assistant Secretary, J. W. Henderson; Treasurer, H. Samuels.

Mr. Jones in calling the conference to order, made a speech of some length, speaking mainly of the reasons for calling the conference and the desirability of having a permanent organization among the Colored people of the State. The murder of Colored men, women and children in the South, he said, meant that the Colored people must organize if they would protect themselves. He thought that the condition of the Colored people in Illinois was far from what it should be. He was bitter in his attacks on the Democratic party, saying that every law against the interest of the Colored race had been enacted by that party. He said that a few Colored men in Mississippi, Louisiana and the District of Columbia set themselves up as representatives of the Colored race, but they should be given to understand that they were making a mistake.

The following were the delegates to the convention:

John G. Jones, E. H. Morris, William Baker, A. R. Ward, H. C. Carter, J. Q. Grant, J. W. Henderson, J. H. Magee, E. P. Wright, S. R. Snowdon, Rev. T. Chavis, R. M. Mitchell, Robert Waring, T. W. Jones, Richard Moore, J. W. Moore, William Rankin, I. G. Armstrong, R. S. Bryan, Chicago; Richard Blue, Bloomington; S. B. Turner, Rev. T. W. Henderson, S. H. Wright, J. W. Oglesby, Hezekiah Hicklin, Thomas Watts, Willis Smith, G. W. Birdsong, S. V. Casey, R. H. Gorum, Abner Naylor, B. Hillman, H. C. Clark, Samuel Alexander, Springfield; John J. Bird, John Gladney, Cairo; J. S. Woods, Pontiac; H. W. Samuels, Edwardsville; E. Roey, Braidwood; John H. Smith, Salem; R. S. Donaldson, W. H. H. Seals, Quincy; Fleming Gray, Decatur; Arthur Harris, Minier; H. Delaware, East St. Louis.

The result of the meeting Monday was the organization of the Colored Men's State League of Illinois, which is to meet annually in this city on the second Tuesday in October. The following permanent officers of the League were elected to serve for the term of one year: President, E. H. Morris, Chicago. First Vice President, J. G. Jones, Chicago. Second Vice President, J. J. Bird, Cairo. Secretary, E. H. Wright, Cairo. Assistant Secretary, J. W. Oglesby, Springfield.

Treasurer, E. Roey, Braidwood. Executive Committee, H. C. Carter, Chicago; John Gladney, Cairo; W. H. H. Seals, Quincy; R. H. Gorum, Rev. T. W. Henderson and S. B. Turner, Springfield; Rev. Fleming Gray, Decatur; Troy Porter, Paris; Richard Blue, Bloomington.

The executive committee was authorized to draft and adopt a constitution and by-laws for the government of the League and to appoint a person in each ward in the cities, towns and villages of the State for the purpose of organizing branch leagues.

It was proposed to invite Senator Cullom, Gov. Filer and Secretary of State Pearson, to address the conference but John G. Jones strenuously objected. Said he "This is a Colored men's conference there are Colored men of brains here and I would rather hear them talk." Dr. J. H. Magee resented the language used by the objector. The speaker expressed surprise that any man should have the audacity to object to inviting these officials, because they are white and said he "sorry we have a Colored man in the State with gall enough to do such a thing." The previous question was ordered and the motion to invite was unanimously carried except that Mr. Jones voted a solitary negative. A decided commotion was created by the discussion of a motion by J. G. Jones for the appointment of a committee to investigate alleged discriminations against Colored people in the State charitable institutions.

At night the delegates were entertained at Turner Hall by the citizens. A literary and musical programme was rendered and a banquet followed.

SECOND DAY.

When the conference opened Tuesday morning, John G. Jones the father of the affair could not be found. Searchers were sent out and after some hours returned with the information that John G. has gone to Chicago Monday night. It seems that the chagrin of defeat for the presiding of the conference together with the rebuke which Magee had administered so disheartened Mr. Jones that he rushed to the train, leaving his carpenter's behind.

The conference decided to issue a letter to the Colored people of the State, which says the league is organized to advance educational interests, to establish separate schools and secure the employment of competent Colored teachers, to encourage co-operative business enterprises with a view of stimulating business habits and concentrating capital, to formulate building and loan associations and real estate agencies, and suggest advancement in industrial education as a means of removing race prejudices. After reviewing the condition of the Colored people in the South, the outrages to which they are subjected, and saying that it is not a party, race or state question, but one of national importance, the league makes the following appeal: We appeal to the American people, to Congress, and the executive head of our government, to men of all parties, to rise above partisan hate and bitter prejudice, and bring to bear the majesty of the law to the end that the life and property of the American Colored people.

Surely the Nobility Should Be Noble.

"Noblesse oblige," the white race is under an obligation to bear with those who are still weighed down with the disadvantages of heredity and environment incident to a former state of slavery. It is a crime, when a Colored community becomes violent, for the whole citizens to become more violent, and thus stir and spur the Colored people to be still more violent. It is rather the duty of the white people to study to lead the Colored neighbors away from violence by example and by kind treatment. This is the only Christian course to take, and to take it will be effectual for good just as soon as the Southern whites come to recognize the rights of the Colored citizens to citizenship, and to exercise those rights, as shown by the wonderful progress illustrated by their foremost men. Once convince the Colored people that the whites do not wish to disfranchise them and keep them down and race prejudice will disappear from the black side, at least.
