Wm. R. Morris victorious in the suit of Brooks Bros. against the St. Peters A. M. E. Church to enforce a lien that had been assigned them by Urquhart and Balch, the contractors and builders of the church, the defendant the St. Peters church came out victorious. Brooks Bros. had employed as their attorneys Messrs. Little and Nunn, while Wm. R. Morris appeared for the church. The case was tried before Judge Young in the District Court Monday morning. After a motion for judgment on the pleadings had been overruled and leave had been given to amend, the case came on regularly for trial. The defendant introduced one witness and rested. The plaintiff introduced a witness but failed in his endeavor to introduce a scintilla of evidence on the account of the objections of attorney Morris, all of his objections being sustained by the court. The plaintiff after resorting to every art known to the profession and using most strenuous efforts to succeed in his endeavor to introduce his testimony but being foiled at every turn finally rested. Wm. R. Morris moved for a dismissal which was granted. By this success the church was saved considerable money, which is purely due to the superior ability of our esteemed and favorite attorney. This is but one of the many cases in which Mr. Morris has succeeded in proving his capability as a lawyer.

Chas. Robinson was shot by Belle Gilling at 408 27th, street, basement, residence of Mrs. M. D. Robbins. Chas. Robinson got acquainted with Belle Gilling in St. Louis where they lived together unmarried. He came to Chicago to get rid of her but she followed him here and it seems that they lived together again on Third avenue for some time. He has been a waiter on the Chicago & Alton R. R., was was 28 years old, born in Nashville and seemed to be a quiet young man. Three months ago he left her and went to room at Mrs. Smith's on twenty second street. She went there one night and asked him to come back to her. Upon his refusing she drew a knife on him to stab him to the heart. But he grabbed the knife and knocked her down. They were arrested and taken to the station. He then went to rooming with Mrs. Robbins 408 27th, street. Here he became acquainted with Miss Hattie Millington a beautiful brunette of some 20 summers. He went with Hattie too much to suit Belle so she called on Mr. Robinson last Thursday pulled him out of the house and shot him twice in the head. He died in St. Luke's hospital last Saturday.

COL. ROBERT HARLAN.

One of the Best Known and Widely Traveled Colored Men of the United States.

A Short Sketch of His Life.

Col. Robert Harlan was born in Mecklenburg county, Virginia, December 12, 1816. His father was a white man and his mother a mulatto. He came to Kentucky when eight years of age. As a boy, Mr. Harlan was bright, intelligent and ambitious; and although a slave under the law, he was allowed unusual freedom. He was taught the elements of an education by the boys of his master's family. He conducted a barber shop in Harrodsburg and a grocery in Lexington. In 1848 he went to California, where, in a short time, he amassed a fortune of forty-five thousand dollars in gold, which he brought back and invested in Cincinnati, Ohio. With his new found wealth he built two beautiful stone front houses and became the owner of Ball's photograph gallery which he fitted up in a style surpassing any similar gallery in this country.

He was trustee of the Colored schools and was elected and served as trustee of the Colored Orphan Asylum. The first school house erected in Cincinnati for the education of Colored youth, was the result mainly of his efforts. To escape the prejudice existing against Colored people, he, in 1858, took his family to England, residing there until 1868, when he returned to his native country. He has always been prominent in the councils of the Republican party and has been a delegate to the city, county and state conventions for fifteen years. During Grant's administration he was special agent-at-large of the postoffice department. In 1884 he was appointed special agent of the treasury department which position he held until removed by President Cleveland. In 1886, he was elected member of the Ohio legislature and took an active part in the abolition of the "Black Laws." Col. Harlan is well informed about county, state and national politics. The genial Colored has a big heart and enjoys sport of all kinds.

Mrs. P. Sims who is well known to many of the old citizens here is lying very ill in Williamsburg.

It is hoped now that the election of trustees for the Colored Orphan Asylum come off soon, that the same board will be retained as they are worthy men.

At the twenty-fourth annual encampment of the G. A. R. which was held here last week. Quite a number of Colored soldiers took part in the grand parade.

News Pertaining to the Colored People of the Land of the Free and Home of the Brave.

Gathered From Everywhere.

Rev. A. J. Dehart is engaged in a lawsuit to recover property.

Judge Bond in the United States Circuit Court last week at Baltimore dismissed the suit of Robert A. McGinn against the owners of the steamboat Mason L. Weems. The defendant, a Colored man, refused to eat at the second table, especially prepared for Colored people.

At Waterbury, Conn., Saturday night Arthur Jackson, Colored, of Bristol, while drunk went to the Bristol House, where his wife is a waitress, and demanded that she go home. She got up and dressed to save a scene and went home. First, he made her hold a light while he killed his dog with an ax, then, with a razor, he began operations on the woman. He cut her throat so horribly she cannot live, and also cut off several of her fingers. But for the arrival of a neighbor, Jack Fish, who found the man kicking the dying woman, he would probably have cut her in pieces. Jackson had saturated the room with kerosene oil, and it was evidently his intention to burn the house. Jealousy is said to be the cause.

For nearly two weeks Mr. A. H. Robinson, Agent for the Union ticket office and Superintendent of the Nashville City Transfer Company, has at night found his cash drawer short, varying in amounts which reached the alarming aggregate of $250 or more. Detective Carter was consulted and successfully adopted the method of marking bills, six, five dollar bills, of which the numbers and denomination had been first carefully taken, were placed in the drawer. They disappeared, and Porter at once arrested J. S. Drake the Colored porter who worked about the office. The money was found on him and he finally confessed the crime, explaining that when pretending to dust he would snatch a handful of bills when no one was looking.

Lynched In Jail.
Columbia, S. C., May 5.—Wylie Leaphart, Colored, was shot and killed in Lexington jail last night. This is the extent of the information obtained by Gov. Richards. Leaphart was convicted of rape on Rose Cannon, a young girl, at her home, while the rest of her family were gone away and was sentenced to be hanged April 16. Learning of an attempt to lynch, notwithstanding the death sentence, Leaphart was brought to Columbia for safekeeping upon the advice of the judge who tried him. The people of Lexington became greatly exasperated, and public meetings were held denouncing the governor for removal, and declaring it to be a reflection upon the dignity of the county and its ability to shield its prisoners. A strong delegation waited upon the governor and judge, and after personally pledging themselves for Leaphart's safety while in Lexington in jail, they were allowed to take him back. The governor has telegraphed for full particulars. Leaphart has been respited to allow time for a motion for a new trial, on the grounds of after-discovered evidence, deemed sufficient by the judge.

Colored Ministers Barred.
Charleston, S. C., May 6.—The centennial convention of the Episcopal Diocese of South Carolina will meet here tomorrow, and, for the first time in its history, it will meet in another church than ancient St. Philip's, which is regarded as the cathedral of the diocese. The services will be conducted in the Anglican high-church style at the Holy Communion Church. The vestry of St. Philip's, which led the revolt against the bishop several years ago, refuse to allow the convention to meet in the church. The Negro question is the apple of discord, although but one Negro preacher is involved, Rev. Mr. Pollard, of St. Mark's. Four years ago when Pollard was admitted one-half of the laymen and several clergymen seceded. The fight finally narrowed down to an agreement that Pollard is to be admitted and an amendment to the constitution is to be adopted barring Negroes in the future. Many of the seceders, however, refuse this compromise, and it is said that they will not attend the convention to-morrow. At present it looks as if the church will split into two parties.

WASHINGTON.

News Gleanings From the Capitol City of This Great and Glorious Nation.

Items of General Interest.

MRS. AMELIA A. ALLEN.

The political cat jumped again and on alighting has fastened on Mr. Jno. S. Durham of Philadelphia Penn. as Consul to San Domingo. Mr. Durham is a newspaper man, being employed on the Philadelphia Bulletin. This sidetrack, Mr. Waller of Kansas. The West has in street parlance "not been in it," during this administration. Mr. F. Parker of St. Paul was left in the Haytiscramble Messrs C. H. Tandy and O. M. Wood of St. Louis were pigeon holed. Mr. Walter S. Thomas applicant for Consul to St. Paul de Loanbo is in Chancery and a few other aspirants are now on the ragged edge of despair with fine prospects of eventually gliding gracefully into the consomme. The New York World May 4th, modestly terms Mr. Durham's appointment "a small tub thrown to the great Colored whale." It is a belief of a few that we are being "Jonah-ed."

It strikes a stranger here as being very strange, that almost under the dome of the capitol, there is so much discrimination on account of color. If you go to rent a house, the agents will graciously hand you a bulletin headed, "For Colored tenants," from which you are expected to select a suitable house, and none are very commodious. Generally the Colored tenants are colonized in some alley or short street. If you wish a cup of chocolate, or a glass of milk you are refused at the dairy lunch rooms. The white aproned peller, scrub of a water tells you that "we are sorry we cannot accommodate Colored people," you cannot even get to a drop-you-nickle-in-the-slot-and-hear-the-phonograph-tale machine and enjoy the exquisite pleasure unless it is located in a saloon. One of the theatres here, Harris' Bijou, can only accommodate you in the gallery, and it would be a penitentiary offense to place your signature on the register of most of the hotels. If the white people of this District go to heaven they will surely start some exclusion ordinance there against the Negro. If some of these Colored influential men of the District would be as persevering in breaking down these petty barriers, as they are in seeking fifth rate offices it would redounded more to their honor.

Judge J. S. Hinton of Indianapolis Ind, who was a delegate to the recent Bureau of Relief convention held in this city, was told by Marshal Ramested to find a suitable Colored man for a $40 a month position in the Court House. As this position was a very laborious one it was suitable to the ambition of a Colored man only. The Judge with scrutinizing legal ability secured a man by the name of Jackson for the place, but the "ruling passion" showed itself in the Judge by his exacting a $10 fee in lieu of his "flood-ence." This is a sample of the systematic office brokerage that is carried on by numbers of Colored men in the District and even by some of our Colored editors.

The whites of Georgia have inaugurated a scheme to divide the taxes of the state, so that the Colored schools of that state will look to the revenue derived from taxation of property owned by Colored people for their support. They intend to pledge every candidate for legislative honors, in the state to vote for such a measure upon his election.

A recent decision of the Supreme Court of Maryland in the case of McGill vs. Navigation Company holds that a
