FENWICK FIRST.

The Great Popular Preachers Contest Goes Merrily on

This Week Rev. L. M. Fenwick of Batavia Heads the Procession—Are you Working Hard for Your Pastor? Who'll Win?

The rivalry in THE APPEAL most popular preacher contest is becoming warmer. One lot of 25 ballots came for Rev. L. C. Sheafe but later on 60 ballots were received for Rev. L. M. Fenwick of Batavia, Ill., placing him at the head.

Just as we are going to press a bundle of ballots came in for Rev. F. Lomack of Duluth, Minn., changing his position on the list from near the bottom to the eighth place. The friends of Rev. Lomack have shown their fealty in a manner which the friends of other preachers would do well to emulate.

The friends of the ministers have begun to work in earnest. There is reason to believe that many will hold back votes. There is no reason for and nothing can be gained by this course. This contest is a perfectly fair one and will be to the end.

Request is made that those sending in any number of votes will please write plainly upon the outside of the envelope the number of votes sent. They will also be careful to cut out the ballot, no more and no less, trimming it neatly to the line. They will likewise avoid rolling them. Observation of these three simple injunctions will greatly abridge the labors at this office.

The interest in the result in some quarters is extraordinary. Many of the friends of the preachers are greatly concerned as though it meant a suit of clothes or a cane or portrait for them personally. They employ all their eloquence to persuade friends that their own particular candidate is the best and most deserving of popular support.

The name of the candidates appear in the order of their standing. The first in the list has received the largest number of votes, the second the next largest, and so on throughout the entire list, the one at the bottom having received the least number. If your candidate is well down on the list it indicates that it will be necessary for your friends to bestir themselves on his behalf if you would have him win.

As this is a very fatiguing post another bird ere long takes the place of the exhausted leader." Thus they place their available strength at the service of the society.

"Old Hoss" sprained his ankle and has been unable to do much kicking lately. However it is much better, and he prefaces the re-veal of his honest convictions with the following remarks: Good humor is the only shield to keep off the darts of a satirical railler. If you have a quiver well stored and are sure of hitting "Old Hoss" between the joints of the harness, do not spare him. But you had better not bend your bow than miss your aim. Be content to know that all the sense is not found in the school room, nor in possession of those who teach, especially "horse" sense.
